INTERNATIONAL EXHIBITION OE INDUSTRY, SCIENCE, AND ART.

EDINBURGH, 1886.

PROSPECTUS.

AN INTERNATIONAL EXHIBITION OF INDUSTRY, SCIENCE, AND ART will be held in Edinburgh during the summer of 1886, under the Royal Patronage of HER MOST GRACIOUS MAJESTY THE QUEEN.

This is the first INTERNATIONAL EXHIBITION ever held in Scotland. A prominent feature will be to illustrate the Material Resources, Manufactures, and Art Treasures of Scotland.

THE DEPARTMENT OF MACHINERY IN MOTION will be under the direction of eminent Engineers, a well-known local firm having generously placed at the disposal of the Executive handsome Engines for driving.

THE DEPARTMENT OF FINE ARTS, allied to Ancient Historical Treasures of Scotland will be of a peculiarly interesting character.

A SPECIAL SECTION will be devoted to Ladies' Work, embracing Embroidery, Art, Needlework, &c., &c.

THE ARTISAN SECTION is intended to evoke and afford opportunity for display of the talent and ingenuity of the Working Classes.

OLD EDINBURGH, in its historical buildings and costumes of the fourteenth, fifteenth, and sixteenth centuries, will be carefully represented.

THE TOWN COUNCIL OF EDINBURGH have placed one of the finest and most accessible parks in the City at the disposal of the Executive. A building of substantial character will be erected, and the most improved methods of lighting adopted. The beauty of the surroundings of the park, along with the usual accessories of Music and other entertainments of high-class character, cannot fail to attract the public of Scotland, England, and Ireland, while visitors from Colonial and Foreign Countries may be expected to visit the Exhibition in large numbers.

THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE reserve the right of making alterations on the following Regulations, and the decisions of the Council or its Committees shall in every case be held final.

REGULATIONS FOR EXHIBITORS.

1. AN INTERNATIONAL EXHIBITION OF INDUSTRY, SCIENCE AND ART, under the patronage of Her Majesty the Queen, will be held in Edinburgh in 1886.

Date.

2. The Exhibition will be opened on 4th May, and will be closed on 30th October 1886.

Opening.

3. Schedules of Application for Space may be had from the Secretary, Mr. JAMES MARCHBANK, 29 Hanover Street, Edinburgh. These must be filled up and returned on or before the 1st January 1886. The decision of the Space Committee will be notified as soon as possible after that date.

Applications to Exhibit.

4. No goods will be received prior to 15th March 1886, without special permission, nor after 15th April 1886; but prior arrangements may be made for Motors, Boilers, or any Exhibits requiring under-building.

Date of Reception.

5. The Classification is not exhaustive. Where there does not appear to be any head under which an Exhibit may be included, the exhibitor should apply for space, leaving the Executive Council to judge which group most nearly resembles the article he proposes to send.

Classification not exhausted.

6. Should any goods be delivered in the absence of the Exhibitor, or his Representative, the Executive Council will not be responsible for any loss or damage thereto arising from any cause whatever.

Delivery of Goods.

7. The Executive Council reserve the right to refuse any Exhibit, without stating any reason for so doing.

Right to refuse Exhibits.

8. Cases must be unpacked as soon as possible, and the empty cases removed from the ground at the expense and risk of the Exhibitor; the Executive Council will endeavour to make arrangements for the storage of these at the expense of the Exhibitor.

Empty Cases.

9. Charge will be made for space, except in special cases to be determined by the Executive Council. Exhibitors will have to pay all expenses of conveying, delivering, arranging, fixing and removing their Exhibits, and also the cost of the erection of all fixtures, screens and counters when required; and they must personally, or by a representative, superintend the transmission, reception, unpacking, installation and (at the close of the Exhibition) the removal of their goods. The Executive Council reserve to themselves the right of doing whatever may be considered necessary at the expense of the Exhibitor, unless this regulation is strictly complied with.

Expenses to be borne by Exhibitors.

10. The Executive Council will endeavour to obtain, from the various Railways and Carriers, special terms for the conveyance to and from the Exhibition; and should they succeed in doing so, such arrangements will be communicated to intending Exhibitors.

Railway Rates.

11. All packges containing goods for Exhibition must have painted on them the distinctive mark IEE 1886 together with the name and address of the Exhibitor.

Marks on Packages.

Labels for this purpose will be supplied to each Exhibitor.

12. Motive power (water, gas and steam) will be supplied under certain conditions. Exhibitors requiring this must make special application to the Secretary, stating at what speed each machine is to be driven, and power required. The furnishing of counter shafting will be at the expense of Exhibitors. All steam-boilers must be placed under efficient inspection, which will be arranged by the Executive Council at the expense of Exhibitors.

Motive Power.

Passes.

13. Passes to the Exhibition will be granted to Exhibitors and to their attendants. If it is found that they are transferred, they will be immediately cancelled.

Dangerous Substances.

14. No Explosives, or any substances which, in the judgment of the Executive, are dangerous, will be admitted, but they may be represented by Models.

Spirits, &c.

15. Spirits, Oils, Essences, Corrosive Substances, or anything likely to injure other articles or inconvenience to the Public, must be placed in strong and suitable vessels of small size.

Testing.

Damage caused by Exhibits.

16. The Executive Council reserve to themselves the right of examining, or testing, any of the Exhibits. If any damage or injury shall be occasioned during the Exhibition by any exhibited machine, implement or article, to any Visitor or other person, then the Exhibitor to whom such machinery, implement or article may belong shall indemnify and hold harmless the said Council from and against all actions, suits, expenses and claims on account or in respect of any such damage or injury which may be so caused.

Non-liability for Damage to Exhibits.

17. While the Executive Council will not be responsible for loss or damage to any Exhibit resulting from any cause whatsoever, they will nevertheless take every precaution for the care and preservation of the Exhibits.

Right of Removal.

18. The Executive Council reserve the right to remove the Exhibits of any one who does not conform to the Regulations.

Photography, &c.

19. No article exhibited may be copied, photographed, drawn or reproduced without the special permission of the Exhibitor and of the Executive Council.

Dimensions of Cases, &c.

20. All Cases, Counters, Platforms, Screens, Partitions, must not (without special permission) exceed the following dimensions :—

Show Cases and Partitions	10 feet above the floor.
Counters	2 feet 6 inches above the floor.
Platforms	1 foot above the floor.

Railings and Canopies.

21. Exhibitors may erect Railings around their stands, and provide Canopies, subject to approval; in every instance these Railings must be within the area of the space allotted. In the case of machinery in motion, it is imperative that it be sufficiently railed.

Loan Exhibits.

22. Loan Exhibits will be specially numbered and catalogued with the name of the sender. The Fine Art Exhibits will be received under special regulations, which will be supplied on application to the Convener of the Sectional Committee.

Artisan Section.

23. The Artisan Exhibits will be specially numbered and catalogued with the name of the sender. These may be located in a distinct section or otherwise, as the Executive Council may think proper.

Flooring.

24. The Flooring must not be altered, removed or strengthened, except by sanction of the Executive Council.

Obstructions.

25. No Exhibitor will be permitted to display Exhibits in such a manner as to obstruct the light, or impede the view along the open spaces, or to occasion inconvenience or injury to other Exhibitors.

Decorations.

26. In order to insure uniformity of decoration, no Exhibitor will be allowed to put up flags, banners or other kind of decoration without permission, and for covering counters, screens, or partitions, a material will be selected, which may be procured by Exhibitors at the building.

Sign-boards.

27. Signs or Name-boards must be placed to the satisfaction of the Space Committee and must in no case interfere with the lighting. They must be black, with gold letters.

28. All hand-bills, printed matter, &c., connected with Exhibits, and intended for gratuitous distribution, must first receive the approval and permission of the Executive Council, which permission may be withdrawn at any time.

Hand-bills.

29. Exhibitors will be required to provide all necessary attendance to keep their Stands and Exhibits properly cleaned and in good order during the whole period of the Exhibition.

Attendance.

30. No Exhibitor will be allowed to transfer any portion of the space allotted to him, or to allow any other than his own Exhibits to be placed thereon.

Non-transfer of Space.

Name.

31. All goods must be exhibited in the name of the Individual or Firm singing the Application Form.

Selling Price.

32. Exhibitors will be permitted to mark the selling prices of the various articles exhibited, for the information of the Juries and Visitors.

33. Exhibitors or their Attendants may explain their Exhibits to Visitors, but they will not be allowed to press Visitors to purchase the goods, the Exhibition being intended primarily for purposes of display.

Selling.

34. Diplomas for Gold, Silver, and Bronze Medals and Honourable Mention will be awarded to Exhibitors on the recommendation of Juries, to whom power will be given to make an adequate number of Awards as follows, viz.: —

Awards.

(1). Diplomas for Gold Medals.
(2). „ „ Silver „
(3). „ „ Bronze „
(4). „ „ Honourable Mention.

35. No Exhibit can be removed before the close of the Exhibition without the special permission of the Executive Council. Exhibits not removed within fifteen days after the close of the Exhibition will be warehoused at the cost and risk of the owners, and whatever remains after three months will be sold by auction, and the proceeds applied to defray expenses.

Removal.

36. All who become Exhibitors signify by so doing their compliance with the whole of these Regulations, together with such other Regulations as the Executive Council may issue from time to time.

Rules binding.

Catalogue.

37. The Executive Council reserve to themselves the sole right of compiling and printing a Catalogue of Exhibits.

38. Any Exhibitor having cause to complain regarding the conduct of any Official or Attendant must give notice in writing to the Executive Council.

Complaints by Exhibitors.

Conduct of Attendants.

39. The Executive Council reserve the right to order the removal of any Attendant whose behaviour they consider unseemly.

Right to alter Rules.

40. The right to alter, amend, add to, or cancel any of these Rules is reserved by the Executive Council.

REGULATIONS RELATIVE TO "OLD EDINBURGH."

41. As this is regarded as a special feature of the Exhibition, parties applying for spaces must carefully indicate the Corporation, Guild or Craft they desire to represent.

42. In every instance the Exhibitors will he required to arrange that their Attendants shall wear the costumes of their respective periods and crafts. Designs will be furnished by the Executive Council, or Exhibitors may submit these for approval.

43. In no instance will an Exhibitor be permitted to introduce more than one Craft into the space allotted to him.

44. Special care will be required by the Executive Council in cases where Fire or Gas is used in any portion of these premises, and a responsible officer will be appointed to carry out the injunctions of the Committee in this respect.

SPECIAL REGULATIONS AFFECTING FOREIGN EXHIBITS.

45. Applications for space from Foreign Countries will be receivad until 1st January 1886.

46. Applicants for space from Foreign Countries, where no Agent or Commissioner has been nominated, must appoint Representatives to act on their behalf.

47. Agents or Commissioners must report to the Executive Committee the particulars of all Exhibits proposed to be sent from their respective Countries, and any proposed distribution of space allotted to these Countries.

48. The letters ◇IEE◇ 1886 must be painted on all packages sent from abroad.

The name of the Country must also be put on, along with a distinctive private mark which must be intimated to the Secretary by post.

EDUCATION.

Proceedings of the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab, in the Home (Education) Department, No. 2, dated 7th January 1886.

READ—

Paragraphs 348 and 349 of the Report of the Education Commission.

Letter of the Punjab Government, to the Director of Public Instruction, No. 95, dated 20th March 1884, paragraph 4.

RESOLUTION.—The Education Commission recommended in their report that conferences (1) of Officers of the Educational Department and (2) of such Officers with Managers of Aided and Unaided Schools should be held from time to time for the discussion of questions affecting Education, the Director of Public Instruction being in each case ex-officio President of the conference.

In accordance with this recommendation it has been determined to hold annually at Lahore in the latter half of the month of April a general and a Departmental conference.

The members of the general conference will include the Director of Public Instruction, the Inspectors and Assistant Inspectors of Schools, six Managers of Mission Schools, and six Native members, who will be Managers of Schools, representatives of important Local Bodies, or other persons specially interested in Educational matters. When it is thought desirable, Government will nominate any additional members, official or non-official, whose opinion may be considered of special value with reference to the subjects to be brought under discussion.

The Director of Public Instruction and the Inspectors and Assistant Inspectors of Schools will be members of the Departmental conference, together with any other officers of the Department who possess special knowlege and experience of the subjects to be discussed and whose services can be spared for the occasion.

It is important that the Managers of Mission Schools, who attend the general conference, should be as far as possible representatives of the views and wishes of the whole body. The Director of Public Instruction will be glad to receive and submit for the consideration of the Lieutenant-Governor the names of gentlemen who are able and willing to attend.

The Native members will be nominated by Government.

The subjects for discussion, together with brief notices of any proposed changes regarding which it may be desired to consult the conference, will be fixed and circulated throughout the Province as early as possible in the cold season. This will allow ample time for consideration; it will enable Inspecting officers during their annual tours to pay special attention to facts bearing upon the subjects to be discussed; and it will afford to Managers of Schools and others interested in Education an opportunity of formulating their opinions for communication to and consideration by the conference.

The first general conference will assemble on the 26th April 1886; it may be expected to sit for about a week or ten days, and will be followed by the Departmental conference.

The subjects for discussion at the general conference are the following:—

1. New Education Code with special reference to (1) the grant-in-aid rules, (2) indigenous schools, (3) fees, (4) scholarships, (5) inspection, (6) boarding houses.

2. Revision of Primary Standards for boys.

3. Revision of Primary Standards for girls.

4. The school year determined by the month fixed for the annual inspection, and organization of classes to suit this arrangement.

5. Stagnation in the 1st class of the Lower Primary Department and how it can be prevented. In connexion with this will be considered—

(a). The introduction of an infant standard.

(b). The foundation of an Infant Department, and how it should be constituted.

6. Rules for school libraries—

(a). Books of reference not to be taken out.

(b). Books to be lent freely.

The Departmental conference will consider—

1. The redistribution of Circles of Inspection.

2. Mr. Ibbetson's proposals regarding zamíndári or village schools with special standards.

The Director of Public Instruction will be requested to take the necessary steps for giving effect to this resolution.

ORDER.—Ordered that the above Resolution be published in the Punjab Government Gazette;

Also that it be forwarded to Director of Public Instruction, Punjab, for necessary action;

And also that it be circulated to all Commissioners and Deputy Commissioners for information.

RESOLUTION.—The Government of India has had under consideration the question of the propriety of certain arrangements under which bankers are paid commission for cashing cheques or pay-bills payable by the Government at places remote from Government Treasuries. The Statement A annexed to this Resolution shows the cases in which arrangements of this nature prevail and the rate of the commission paid.

2. Inquiries have been made as to the possibility of stopping the procedure in force in those cases, or of reducing the cost of the arrangements. The local authorities consider that the existing procedure should be continued in the cases which have been brought to notice. The Governor-General in Council therefore sanctions the arrangements shown in the statement in those cases which have not already received the sanction of the Government of India, and authorises Local Governments and Administrations to sanction similar arrangements for payments in any other places where they consider such to be necessary, reporting the sanction given to the Government of India in this Department.

3. Such arrangements should, however, be sanctioned only when no more economical means of making payments can be devised, and every opportunity should be taken to discontinue them when this can be done with advantage to the Government, or to effect a reduction in the amount of commission paid.

4. In many stations remote from treasuries the Post Office or the Telegraph Department may have surplus receipts which could by arrangements with those Departments be placed at the disposal of a Department having payments to make at those stations, the amount being paid to the credit of the Post Office or Telegraph Department at the Treasury to which the surplus funds would ordinarily be remitted. Inquiry should invariably be made as to the possibility of utilising such surplus receipts before any arrangement of the kind referred to in this Resolution is sanctioned.

5. Statement B shows some cases in which remittances are made by Post Office Money Orders. The Governor-General in Council sanctions the adoption of this mode of remittance in those cases. It may also be convenient and economical to adopt this mode of remittance in instances where the payments at outlying stations are so small or uncertain as to make it undesirable to enter into an arrangement of the kind suggested in paragraph 4 of this Resolution with the Post Office or Telegraph Department. Any cases in which remittance by Money Order is sanctioned should be reported to the Government of India in this Department.

No. 192.—Notification.—In supersession of Notification No. 1741, dated the 9th of July 1884, the following Rules regarding the point in any station at which a journey shall be held to commence or end, under Section 7, Rule 2 of the Travelling Allowance Code, 2nd edition, are published for general information. Special cases in which the rules may cause any hardship can be referred to the Local Government in the usual way by the Heads of Departments as occasion may arise :—

Rule I.—For the purpose of these rules, the term chief public office or building is defined as follows :—

(1) At the head-quarters of a district—

The Court of the Deputy Commissioner.

(2) At a cantonment—
The Station Church.

(3) At outposts and tahsíls—

The Court of the officer in charge of the outposts or tahsíl.

(4) At all other places—

The Police Station, or if there is no Police Station, the Post Office.

Rule II.—Railway journeys.—In the case of railway journeys, the Railway Station shall be held to be the point at which a journey commences or ends, unless the place of arrival or departure is not that at which the officer making the journey resides and the Railway Station is more than one mile from the chief public office or building in the place after which it is named, when such chief public office or building shall be the point at which a journey commences or ends.

Rule III.—Journeys other than by railway.—The point in a station at which a journey, other than a journey by railway, shall be held to commence or end, shall be the chief public office or building.

Rule IV—Inspection journeys.—When an officer proceeds by rail from one station to another for the purpose of inspecting a building, institution, office or place, his journey, notwithstanding anything contained in Rules I, II and III, shall be deemed to end at the furthest building, institution, office or place inspected by him on the occasion ; and any road mileage to which he may be entitled in respect of his journey to and from the furthest locality of inspection shall be reckoned by the shortest route to that locality from the nearest Railway Station.

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE.

AGRICULTURE.

The 26th January 1886.

No. 24.—Powers.—Under the power conferred upon him by Section 4, clause (1), of the Agriculturists' Loans Act, No. XII of 1884, and with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council, the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to prescribe the following Rules for loans to be made to owners and occupiers of arable land for the relief of distress, the purchase of seed and cattle, or any other purpose connected with agricultural objects, but not specified in the Land Improvement Act of 1871 :—

1. The Financial Commissioner will inform Commissioners what amount will be placed at their disposal for loans under the Act for each financial year. Commissioners will divide the sum between the districts of their Divisions at their discretion, and they will have the power of transferring the sums assigned by them from one district to another. But expenditure in the Division must be kept within the amount assigned. If an additional grant be required for the Division, it should be at once applied for, by telegram, if necessary. The Financial Commissioner will have the power of transfer from one Division to another.

2. Subject to the provisions of these Rules, the grant of loans will be absolutely within the discretion of Deputy Commissioners, but the district allotment must not be exceeded without the sanction of the Commissioner of the Division.

3. Applications for loans may be presented to any Revenue Officer of or above the rank of a Tahsíldár. It shall be the duty of the officer to whom the application is presented to forward it for orders to the Deputy Commissioner, with any report which he may consider necessary.

4. The Deputy Commissioner may, at his discretion, require the grantee to produce some person who will become surety for the repayment of the loan, with interest where charged.

5. (a). Interest shall be charged on loans at the rate of one anna in the rupee, or $6\frac{1}{4}$ per cent. per annum.

(b). But the Local Government may, for special reasons, and on special application through the Financial Commissioner, sanction a loan at a lower rate of interest or without interest.

(c). If an instalment of principal is not paid when it falls due, the Deputy Commissioner may, if he thinks fit, charge interest on it at any rate not exceeding $6\frac{1}{4}$ per cent. per annum from the date of its falling due to the date of payment.

6. The dates fixed for instalments must not extend over more than ten years as a maximum. Ordinarily loans for seed should be repaid from the crop produced from the seed; and ordinarily those for purchase of plough cattle should be repaid within two years.

7. The dates for payment of instalments should usually be the dates fixed for payment of the land revenue, loans being, under the fifth section of the Act, recoverable as arrears of land revenue from the grantee or his surety.

8. An agreement shall be taken for the payment of interest in accordance with Rule 5.

9. When any portion of a loan made under these Rules is found to be irrecoverable, special report must be made to the Financial Commissioner.

10. The Financial Commissioner shall regulate the forms of all returns, registers, accounts and agreements relating to advances under the Act.

MILITARY DEPARTMENT.

The 2nd February 1886.

No. 17.—The following G. O. C. C., dated 23rd January 1886, is republished for general information :—

In continuation of G. O. C. C. of 21st October 1885, the Commander-in-Chief is pleased to direct the formation of two additional Committees for the purchase of remounts for the Bengal and Punjab Cavalry.

These Committees will work through the horse-breeding districts of the North-Western Provinces and Punjab, respectively. That for the former will assemble at Etawah, and work northwards towards Meerut and Hurdwar: the Punjab Committee will start from Ráwalpindi and travel in a south-westerly direction, ending up at Mooltan. They will avoid all large centres or towns where fairs have been, or are to be, held, and will confine themselves to the rural districts.

The Committee for the Punjab will be composed as under—

PRESIDENT :

Lieut.-Colonel R. Atkins ... 15th Bengal Cavalry.

MEMBERS :

Captain H. N. Webb ... 5th Bengal Cavalry.

Captain R. F. Trotter ... 17th Bengal Cavalry.

For the North-Western Provinces—

PRESIDENT :

Lieut.-Colonel J. L. N. Willis ... 16th Bengal Cavalry.

MEMBERS :

Captain E. W. Chalmers ... 7th Bengal Cavalry.

Captain H. C. Lamb ... 4th Bengal Cavalry.

The Officer Commanding 5th Bengal Cavalry will detail a Salootree to accompany the former Committee, and the Officer Commanding 9th Bengal Cavalry will furnish one for the latter.

The date of starting from Ráwalpindi and Etawah, respectively, will be the 15th February. Each Regiment noted on page 500 of G. O. C. C. of 1885, with the exception of the 11th and 19th Bengal Lancers, will send two selected non-commissioned officers and four sowárs, with their horses and camp equipage complete, to meet their respective Committees at Rawalpindi and Etawah by that date.

Should the number of horses obtained be found to require it, Presidents will communicate, by telegram where possible, with Commanding Officers, who will despatch dismounted parties by rail to meet the Committees at points agreed upon, to march the remounts away to corps. Free passage by rail has been sanctioned by Government for remount parties employed by these District Committees, but those regiments whose parties can reach the rendezvous of the Committees by route march by 15th February will despatch them accordingly.

On leaving their respective starting points, the Committees and their following will march the entire way. A map will be furnished to each President, shewing the places where Government stallions stand, and in the neighbourhood of which will probably be found brood mares and young stock: and they will lay out their tours so as to include these places, making a steady progress in the general directions previously noted; and halting at any tahsíls at which they may be hereafter informed that zamindárs will be collected to meet them.

Money for the purchase of remounts need not be taken, Government having arranged for notice being issued in the districts that drafts given by Presidents in payment for horses will be cashed without question on subsequent presentation at the nearest civil treasury.

No date is fixed for the conclusion of the tour in either case; but Presidents will be held responsible that the work is not unduly hurried, and that their investigation of the breeding districts, if slow, is at all events thorough.

No. 18.—Standing Orders, Punjab Frontier Force.—Section XXII, paragraphs 14 and 15 are cancelled, and the following substituted:—

When an inroad is made into British territory or an encounter takes place on the border between the troops (or militia) and the hill tribes, or any important and unusual occurrence happens, the Officer Commanding the District (or nearest Cantonments) will telegraph an explicit summary of the circumstances direct—

1. To Secretary, Government of India.
2. To Military Secretary, Punjab Government.
3. To Assistant Adjutant-General, Punjab Frontier Force.

(Vide B. A. R., Section XXII, paragraph 81, as amended by G. O. 134 of December 1884.)

If the occurrences are sufficiently important to render more detailed reports necessary, in continuation of the telegrams, they will be submitted to the Assistant Adjutant-General, copies being sent, by the Commanding Officer, to Military Secretary, Punjab Government, and to Secretary, Government of India.

If, however, the General Officer Commanding chances to be at the time in the immediate neighbourhood, it will be sufficient to report the particulars for his information.

The General Officer Commanding will, in that case, report the occurrences to the Secretary, Government of India, Military Department, and to the Secretary to Government, Punjab, Military Department.

15. Officers Commanding Districts will report by telegraph (and by letter if more detailed accounts are desirable) direct to the Military Secretary, Punjab Government, and Assistant Adjutant-General all sudden movements of troops stating the cause of such movements.

No. 19.—Appointment.—Lieutenant E. de S. Smart, Wing Officer, 5th Gurkhas, to be Officiating Quartermaster.

Punjab Government Notifications and Orders.

Proceedings of the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab in the Financial Department, No. 514, dated 23rd February 1886.

RESOLUTION.—In paragraph 11 of the Proceedings of the Punjab Government in the Financial Department, No. 2418, dated 7th September 1882, the Lieutenant-Governor announced his intention of placing District Schools, including the High and Middle Departments, and the Primary Schools attached to them, under the management of Local Bodies, and of transferring to Local Funds that portion of the income and expenditure of these institutions which is recorded in the accounts of Provincial revenues. In the Financial Proceedings of Government, No. 2419 of the same date, some points of detail connected with the contemplated transfer were noticed, but the Lieutenant-Governor reserved decision in regard to them till the questions involved should have been further considered by the responsible officers of Government.

2. The first of these questions related to the selection of the Local Body—Municipal Committee, or District Board—to which the school in each case was to be transferred. The Director of Public Instruction had suggested that, as a district school exists for the benefit of the district at large, and is not attended exclusively by boys of the particular municipal town in which it may be situated, the financial responsibility for it when localized should be shared proportionately by the District Board or Committee and the several Municipalities interested. This mode of adjustment appeared to the Lieutenant-Governor to be unnecessarily complicated, and the Director was asked to consider whether it would not ordinarily be preferable that the respective Municipalities should bear the entire cost of all the district schools situated within municipal limits, and that District Committees or Boards respectively should be exclusively chargeable in every other case.

3. In the second place, the effect of the transfer of the schools from departmental to local control, on the pension prospects of existing and future incumbents, had to be fully examined, and the Accountant-General was accordingly directed to report on this part of the case with reference to the pension rules in force.

4. In the third place, while generally disapproving of the rules proposed by the Director for the management of the schools when transferred, the Lieutenant-Governor decided to leave the question of framing suitable rules on this behalf to be dealt with when the general principles of administration by which Local Bodies are to be guided in the exercise of the functions and powers vested in them should have been determined.

5. Considerable progress has been made with the general and financial rules for Local Bodies; but some amendments have yet to be introduced in the rules for the guidance of District and Local Boards, and the detail of the principles observed by Government in the various departments of the administration has not yet been published. Almost all the officers who have been consulted have, however, submitted the outline of established principles which they would propose in their own departments for local guidance; and it is hoped that before the time comes for the present orders to be carried out, full instructions will have been given to Local Bodies for the management of the district schools which are to be made over to their charge.

On the other hand, the Lieutenant-Governor has now finally* decided that in every case the locality of the school to be transferred shall decide the question as to the particular Local Body which is to have charge of it. If the school is within municipal limits, the management and financial responsibility will vest in the Municipal Committee concerned; if not, the transfer will be made to the District Board or District Committee as the case may be. In special cases in which the common interests of a Municipal Committee and a District Board in any school are so exceptionally large or important as to make it desirable that both bodies should be represented in the management, this can be effected by the appointment of a Joint Committee under the Municipal and District Board Acts.

* Punjab Government letter No. 1021, dated 12th April 1883, to Director of Public Instruction, paragraph 2.

Lastly, the Supreme Government has settled the pension question by ruling (Government of India, Home Department, No. 3—33-44, dated 11th April 1883) that (1) teachers now employed in Government schools which may be transferred to Local Bodies shall be held to be still rendering qualifying service for pension; and (2) in the case of teachers hereafter employed in institutions which have been transferred to Local Bodies, these Bodies may, with the previous sanction of the Provincial Government, secure pensions for the teachers by contributing annually on this account.

6. In these circumstances final orders for the transfer of District Schools to local management need not, in the Lieutenant-Governor's opinion, be further delayed, and His Honor is accordingly pleased to order that from 1st April 1886 the District Schools noted on the margin, with the Primary Schools attached to them, shall be placed under the control of the Municipal Committees concerned, subject to such general rules of management as may be prescribed by Government, or, pending the issue of rules, to such instructions as may be supplied for the guidance of the Committees by the Director of Public Instruction, Punjab.

7. As a consequence of the transfer, the income and expenditure of the schools which have hitherto been appropriated and paid by Government will, from 1st April 1886, be respectively credited to and disbursed from the several Municipal Funds. The income consists of school fees, and the expenditure is made up of the charge for (a) establishment, and (b) contingencies of the High and Middle Departments of the schools, and (c) grants-in-aid to the attached Primary Schools.

The charge for establishments will be according to the staff actually employed in the schools at the time of transfer or on the 1st April 1886. In the case, however, of the three gentlemen named in the margin, who receive the extra allowances noted against their names, the salaries for which the Municipal Committees concerned become liable will be the salaries proper actually drawn by these gentlemen from time to time. The extra allowances, so long as they continue, will be disbursed from the Provincial revenues.

Mr. W. J. Buchanan ...	Rs. 75
,, C. B. Carbery ...	,, 160
Maulvi Muhammad Hassan ...	,, 20

In order to preserve efficiency the establishments of District Schools will continue to form one graded Provincial list as at present, and grade promotions will be given notwithstanding the localization of the charge. The salaries for which each municipality will be liable will not, therefore, remain always at the rates prevailing when the schools are transferred. They will occasionally be somewhat less and occasionally somewhat greater. This slight inequality, however, is unavoidable and will balance itself; and the Lieutenant-Governor trusts it will be accepted by the Committees.

8. In regard to pension, the establishments of the transferred schools will be subject to the special rules on this behalf which have been summarized in paragraph 5 above, prescribed by the Government of India in its Resolution (already cited) No. 3—33-44, dated 11th April 1883, of the Home Department, and reproduced on page 3 of the Civil Pension Code. But as the limitation of the pension list is very desirable financially, it is probable that sanction to annual contributions from Local Bodies for the purpose of securing pensionary benefits for teachers hereafter appointed will be given only in very exceptional cases. Moreover, if future incumbents are paid by results, as suggested in paragraph 14 of Punjab Government letter No. 1021, dated 12th April 1883, the system of pension contribution would be inapplicable. It should, however, be borne in mind that Municipal Committees may, if empowered in this behalf by the Local Government, purchase annuities for their servants on retirement in accordance with Section 32, sub-section (1) (b), of the Municipal Act of 1884. Like provision is made in Section 29 of the Punjab District Boards Act.

9. The orders of the Government of India above quoted do not refer to the case of officials in District Schools who are not teachers, viz., menial servants and, in the Delhi School, a librarian. The Lieutenant-Governor sees no good reason for treating these men differently, and the Supreme Government will be asked to extend the rules to them also.

The Director of Public Instruction will, as soon as the schools have been made over to the Municipal Committees for management, furnish those Bodies respectively and the Accountant-General with lists of those teachers and others who may be entitled to count their service after transfer as qualifying for pension from Government under the orders of the Government of India already mentioned.

10. It is necessary further to provide that teachers already on the establishment of the schools shall, when the institutions are transferred, enjoy the same security against dismissal or reduction of pay as they do at present. The following rules have been made by the Lieutenant-Governor in this behalf :—

(1). No existing incumbent of a pensionable appointment in any transferred District School establishment shall be dismissed, nor shall his pay be reduced, except, (a) if his pay be Rs. 50 per mensem or upwards, with the sanction of the Commissioner of the Division, or (b) with the sanction of the Deputy Commissioner of the District in any other case.

(2). Every such incumbent shall have, after the transfer of his services to a Municipal Committee, the right of appeal from Commissioners to Government or from Deputy Commissioners to Commissioners and the Government, as the case may be.

It will be observed that these rules refer to present incumbents only. Teachers and others appointed after the transfer will not come under these rules, but be dealt with in such matters as ordinary servants of the Municipalities.

11. The grants-in-aid for which the Municipalities will become liable on taking charge of District Schools are, as already remarked, those made from Provincial revenues to the Primary Schools attached to those institutions. In paragraphs 11 and 12 of the Punjab Government's Resolution No. 2418, dated 7th September 1882, it was explained that in addition to these grants certain other Provincial grants-in-aid to boys' and girls' schools (English and Vernacular) under the management of Deputy Commissioners would also be localized. It will be convenient to dispose of both classes of grants by the same orders, and the Lieutenant-Governor therefore directs that simultaneously with the transfer of grants-in-aid to Primary Schools attached to District Schools to the Municipal Committees mentioned in paragraph 6 of this Resolution, the grants-in-aid to boys' and girls' schools under the management of the Deputy Commissioner in each district shall be transferred to the same or other Municipalities according to the locality of the school in each case. Both classes of schools being Government institutions managed by the Deputy Commissioner and receiving aid from Municipal and District Funds will thus become purely Municipal Schools, the Committees paying the salaries of teachers and other charges and reimbursing themselves to a certain extent by means of the fees and the contributions from District Funds. The teachers in these schools are not entitled to pension.

12. The broad financial results of the arrangements now ordered will be the transfer of expenditure and receipts amounting to Rs. 1,87,134 and Rs. 34,636 respectively from the accounts of Provincial Services to those of Municipalities, the Committees thus becoming liable for a net charge of Rs. 1,52,498. This charge, it may be repeated, represents the net cost of the transferred schools which has hitherto been paid from Provincial revenues only. It does not include any expenditure which has hitherto been met from District Funds. Where the District Funds have contributed to the cost of the schools, these contributions will of course continue to be paid to the Municipalities to which the schools are to be transferred. The present orders merely decide that certain schools hitherto managed by Government shall in future be managed by Municipal Committees, and that the portion of the cost of the institutions which has hitherto been disbursed from Provincial revenues shall be paid from Municipal Funds. Existing expenditure on the schools from District Funds will not be affected by them, but will, as above stated, continue to be provided from that source.

13. There remains the question of the financial adjustment required to compensate the Municipalities for the additional charge or Rs. 1,52,498, for which, by this measure, the income at their disposal will become liable. The original expectation was that it would be possible to relieve the Committees of the cost of Municipal Police before throwing these extra education charges on them, and that they would thus be provided partly, if not wholly, with funds to meet this fresh educational expenditure. The transfer of the charge for Municipal Police from the Municipal to the Provincial Accounts has not, however, been yet arranged ; and it is therefore necessary in announcing the localization of the education expenditure to deal with the measure apart from the impending arrangements for provincializing the Municipal Police charge, and to direct that the additional expenditure thrown upon Municipal Funds by the transfer of District Schools and the other Government Schools above mentioned to the control of Municipal Committees shall be temporarily made good to these bodies by annual grants from Provincial revenues which will be continued until they become unnecessary in consequence of those revenues accepting equivalent charges for Municipal Police, or of the assignment to the Committees of special sources of revenue estimated to yield an equivalent income. The amount of the grant in each case will be the annual cost of the sanctioned scales of establishment, contingencies and grants-in-aid in the various schools less the estimated annual income from fees in District Schools. The exact sums on each of these accounts and the annual grant that will be made to each Municipality now in question will be found stated in the Appendix to this Resolution. Subject to the due observance of such rules as may be prescribed for the management of the transferred institutions by the Municipal Committees, the amounts of these grants are fixed for six years, beginning from 1st April 1886, after which they will be open to revision. It will be clearly understood that the form of the grant (as distinguished from its amount) will be subject to alteration in each case when convenience requires for the purpose of facilitating further financial adjustments between Provincial and Local Services as above explained.

ORDER.—Ordered that copies be forwarded for information and guidance to all Commissioners and Deputy Commissioners, to the Director of Public Instruction, Punjab, and Accountant-General, Punjab ;

Ordered also that the Resolution be forwarded to the Government of India, in the Financial Department, for information, and published in the Punjab Government Gazette.

W. M. YOUNG,
Secretary to Government, Punjab.

RESOLUTION.—For several years past the attention of the Government of India has from time to time been directed to the desirability of alleviating, so far as is possible, the discomforts and sufferings experienced by Muhammadan pilgrims during the journey from India to the Hedjaz. The existence of these sufferings, more especially in the case of those of the poorer class of Muhammadans who undertake the pilgrimage, is an admitted fact; but the action taken with a view to afford relief has been necessarily of a restricted nature owing to the unwillingness felt by the Government to undertake any direct interference with what is considered to be a religious obligation by a large section of the Muhammadan community in India. In 1880 intimation was received from Her Majesty's Secretary of State that the Turkish Government had issued orders requiring passports from all passengers and pilgrims arriving in Jeddah, whether Turkish or foreign subjects, and announcing that those who came unprovided with such documents would be liable to be repelled from the ports of the Hedjaz. In order to render these Turkish Regulations as little irksome as possible to natives of India proceeding to the Hedjaz on pilgrimage, the Government of India, after consulting Local Governments and Administrations, resolved* to establish a system under which passports should be unconditionally given to every intending pilgrim, not only at the Indian ports of embarkation, but also at the central stations of every district in British India and at the head-quarters of all Political Agencies in Native States. Arrangements were also made to grant informal passes to the subjects of other Governments, e.g., natives of Káshgar, Russian Turkistán, Afghánistán, &c., who embark for Mecca from Indian ports, it being explained that these passes impose no responsibility on the Government of India in regard to the holders, and that the Governor-General in Council could not in any way guarantee their recognition by the officials of the Turkish or any other Foreign Government. Further, in consideration of the very large number of pilgrims who annually embark at, and return to, Bombay, and to the necessity of making some special arrangements to meet their requirements, a Muhammadan Protector of Pilgrims was appointed at that port and instructed to supply intending pilgrims with all the information and assistance within his power in respect of every matter connected with the pilgrimage.

* Home Department Resolution No. 4—198-214, dated 12th July 1882.

2. Since the above measures were undertaken, further efforts have been made by the Government of India towards the proper regulation of the India pilgrim traffic by amending the provisions of the Native Passenger Ships Act (No. VIII of 1876) in certain important respects, and by revising the rules issued under that Act with reference to the fitting, provisioning, sanitary arrangements, &c., of pilgrim ships. These rules have been assimilated, as far as possible, with those in force for regulating the transport of emigrants to the French and British colonies, and have been widely circulated in the form of a "Manual for the guidance of officers and others concerned in the Red Sea Pilgrim Traffic." It has been made obligatory on ships conveying more than 100 pilgrims to carry a qualified medical officer, and in order to promote the welfare of Indian pilgrims during their stay in the Hedjaz, an Indian Vice-Consul has been appointed at Jeddah, whose special duty it is to attend to the interests and well-being of the pilgrims. In order further to afford protection and assistance to the pilgrims, especially in connection with their detention in quarantine under the orders of the Turkish Government, a Muhammadan Vice-Consul has been temporarily appointed for Hodeida and Camaran. A dispensary has also been established at Jeddah for affording relief to Indian pilgrims in the Hedjaz. Lastly, in order to regulate and bring under proper control the transactions of pilgrim-brokers in the City of Bombay, it is proposed to introduce a Bill into the local Legislative Council under which the business will in future be restricted to licensed persons; and certain penalties will be imposed for any breach of the terms of the license. The action hitherto taken cannot fail to have effected a substantial improvement in the position of pilgrims during the voyage to Jeddah and while staying in the Hedjaz. In the course of the correspondence which has taken place with Her Majesty's Secretary of State on the subject, it was considered whether intending pilgrims should be required before proceeding on the voyage to deposit a sum of money sufficient to cover the cost of their return journey. The Government of India admitted that such a regulation would prevent much misery and suffering, but the opinion of the local authorities was opposed to interference of this nature on the ground that it might be misunderstood and misinterpreted, and the Governor-General in Council accordingly decided that action of the kind was unadvisable. At the same time a public notice was issued in the English, Hindustani, and Persian languages warning persons who propose to undertake the pilgrimage of the difficulties to which they would be exposed owing to the imposition by the Turkish Government of quarantine for at least ten days at the Island of Camaran (during which period pilgrims are required to pay certain fees besides arranging for their own provisions), and impressing upon intending pilgrims the desirability of not starting unless provided with sufficient funds (at least Rs. 300) in order to meet the expenses of quarantine, of the journey from Jeddah to Mecca and back, and of the return journey to India.

3. In October 1884 a communication was received from Messrs. Thomas Cook and Son, expressing the readiness of that Firm to undertake the conveyance of pilgrims between India and Mecca. The extensive experience gained by Messrs. Cook and Son in connection with the requirements of schemes of a similar character, and the considerable degree of success which has attended their operations, clearly pointed to that Firm as peculiarly qualified to assist the Government in still further regulating the conveyance of pilgrims between India and Arabia, and in placing the arrangements on a footing more satisfactory to the Government and more convenient to the pilgrims themselves than has hitherto been found possible. Messrs. Cook and Son were accordingly informed that if they were able to make the necessary arrangements, the Governor-General in Council would be prepared to give them such assistance as might be within his power. Messrs. Cook and Son have now informed the Government of India of the conditions upon which they are prepared to undertake the agency and control of the conveyance of pilgrims to and from Jeddah, and the Governor-General in Council, after careful consideration and personal communication with Mr. J. M. Cook, is of opinion that those conditions are such as may be accepted. The conditions contemplate the appointment of Messrs. Thomas Cook and Son to be pilgrim agents for the whole of India, local officers and officers in charge of treasuries being instructed to assist that Firm in making known the terms of through conveyance to Jeddah and back, and in disposing of through tickets. The Bombay Government will be requested to make over to the representatives of the Firm the issue of passports in Bombay after these have been signed by the proper authorities, and to instruct the Protector of Pilgrims to work in harmony with the Firm, and to render it every possible assistance. On the other hand, Messrs. Thomas Cook and Son agree to arrange with the railway administrations, steam ship proprietors, and others concerned, for the conveyance of the pilgrims, at through fares, from all the chief stations in India to Jeddah and back, and to do all in their power to secure the transit of the pilgrims, in satisfactory ships supplied with proper accommodation in accordance with the regulations laid down by the Government. They are prepared to provide the requisite agency for the work, Muhammadans being appointed for this purpose in all cases where necessary, to establish a special pilgrimage office in the most convenient position at Bombay, and possibly also at Jeddah, and to make all detailed arrangements in connection with the issue of the necessary announcements, forms of tickets, &c. Lastly, the Firm has expressed its readiness to comply with the requirements and regulations which may be laid down from time to time by the Government of India precisely in the same manner as though they were in the service of the Government.

4. The Governor-General in Council feels convinced that a scheme of the nature above described cannot fail, if successfully carried out, to be productive of much benefit to Indian pilgrims to the Hedjaz, but if success is to be ensured, it is essential that every assistance should be afforded to Messrs. Cook and Son, not only by Local Governments and Administrations, but also by District and other officers upon whom it will devolve to give effect to the detailed arrangements. His Excellency in Council accordingly trusts that Local Governments and Administrations will see that this is done, and will direct local officers to co-operate in every possible manner with the representatives of the Firm in carrying on their operations.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to all Local Governments and Administrations for information and guidance, and to the Foreign and Financial Departments for the issue of any further orders required. Also that it be published in the Gazette of India and in all local Gazettes for general information. Local Governments are requested to arrange for its translation and publication in all Vernacular Gazettes.

Punjab Government Notifications and Orders.

DEPARTMENT OF FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

[First publication.]

The 4th March 1886.

No. 605.—Notification.—In exercise of the powers conferred upon him by Act II of 1886, and by the Notification of the Government of India in the Department of Finance and Commerce, No. 593, dated the 5th February 1886, the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab is pleased to make the following rules under the said Act :—

I.—All sums assessed and payable under Part IV of the 2nd Schedule of the Act shall be paid in one sum.

II.—In making arrangements under Section 9, sub-section (2) of the Act for the recovery on behalf of Government by any company, public body, association, or private employer of the tax to which any person employed by such company, public body, association, or private employer, is liable, the Collector may—

(a) agree to pay to the company, public body, association, or private employer, as the case may be, by way of remuneration, any sum not exceeding five per cent. of the tax to which the person employed is liable ;

(b) provide that the sums recovered by the company, public body, association, or private employer, as aforesaid, shall be delivered to him (the Collector), together with a statement showing the amount deducted from the salary of each employé for each month, at such time and place as he (the Collector) may direct. Payments may be made either monthly or by instalments, which shall in no case exceed four in number.

III.—Notices served under Section 12, sub-section (1) of the Act shall be in Form E hereto appended.

IV.—The lists prescribed by Section 16 of the Act shall be in Form F hereto appended, and shall be drawn up in the Urdu language. The list, or such part or parts thereof as the Collector thinks fit, shall be posted up in some conspicuous place in every tahsíl, in the principal mohallas of every town, and in the chaupál or other place of public resort in every village in which any person included in the list resides.

V.—Notices served under Section 17 shall be in Form G hereto appended.

VI.—Under Section 18, sub-section (1), clause (a), the Collector is authorized to cause a notice under Section 17 to be served on any person whose name is for the first time included in the list published under Section 16, or who is assessed at a sum greater than that paid by him in respect of the previous year.

Note.—For the purposes of this rule, lists published and taxes paid under the License Tax Act shall be deemed to have been published and paid under Act II of 1886.

VII.—All persons whose vernacular is English shall be served with a notice under Section 17 instead of being included in a list under Section 16.

VIII.—Under Section 18, sub-section (1), clause (b) of the Act, Collectors are hereby authorized to publish general notices in the following towns and places :—

(i). All Municipalities.

(ii). All Cantonments.

(iii). All Civil Stations at the head-quarters of districts and sub-divisions.

(iv). Mádhopur in the Gurdáspur District, and Pálampur and such other places in the Kángra District as the Deputy Commissioner of that district may select.

IX.—The general notice referred to in the preceding rule shall be in Form H, and returns made in compliance therewith shall be in Form I hereto appended, on the reverse of which instructions for filling up the return will be found. The date to be specified in the notice as that on or before which the return should be made shall be a date not less than 30 days from that on which the notice is published.

X.—Receipts given under Section 32 of the Act shall be in Form K hereto appended.

XI.—Notices issued under Sections 41 and 42 shall be in Forms L and M hereto appended respectively.

XII.—The notice to be issued under Section 43 shall be in Form N appended to these rules. The date specified therein as that on or before which the return of income should be made shall be a date not less than 30 days after the date of issue of the notice. The return shall be made in Form I.

XIII.—The powers given by section 47, sub-sections (2) and (4) of the Act to the Local Government are hereby delegated to the Financial Commissioner of the Punjab, who shall decide all questions which may arise as to the place which, for the purposes of the Act, shall be deemed to be—

(i) the principal place of business of a company or firm which has several places of business in the Punjab;

(ii) the residence of a person who has several places of residence in the Punjab.

Instructions for filling up the return.

In the case of a firm the ordinary designation of the firm should be entered in column 1.

If the person or firm making the return has several places of residence or business, they should all be mentioned in column 2, the principal place of business or residence being specified.

In column 3 every separate source of income accruing and arising in British India should be entered in detail. Salaries, pensions and annuities, whether paid by Government, by a local authority or company, or by a private employer are chargeable under Part I. The net profits of companies or associations carrying on business in British India, whose stock or funds is or are divided into shares and transferable, whether the company is incorporated or not, and whether its principal place of business is situate in British India or not, are chargeable under Part II. Income derived from interest on Government securities or debentures or other securities issued by a local authority or company is chargeable under Part III. All other income is chargeable under Part IV.

If a person filling in the return occupies a building for which he pays no rent, he should enter in column 4 an amount equivalent to five-sixths of the sum at which the building might reasonably be expected to have let.

Against the gross receipts no deductions should be made on account of disbursements or expenses not wholly and exclusively incurred in respect of the profits returned, nor should deductions be made on account of the maintenance of the person himself or his family or domestic establishment, nor on account of any public or local rates, cesses or taxes.

Deductions from the gross receipts will be allowed on account of the following items :—

(a).—In the case of professions and trades—Sums expended in repairs of machinery, implements and utensils, or articles used solely for the purpose of the profession or trade.

Sums expended for insuring or keeping insured the buildings, machinery, implements and stock used for the purpose of the profession or trade, and rent paid for any premises used for such profession or trade; provided that, if such premises shall not have been exclusively used for such profssion or trade a fair proportion only of such rent shall be deducted from the gross receipts.

Ten per cent. on the full rent of such premises on account of repairs, if such repairs are at the cost of the petitioner, whether it has or has not been actually expended during the year of assessment.

Sums expended in the payment of persons employed solely in such profession or trade.

The amount of any losses of the stock-in-trade. The excess loss sustained in any profession or trade over and above the profits thereof may be set against the excess profits of any other profession or trade exercised by the same person.

The amount of any bad debts for the first time ascertained and written off as such during the year.

Interest paid on money borrowed for the purpose of the trade or profession.

Sums paid to an Insurance Company for the insurance of the life, or for a deferred annuity on the life of the person assessed or his wife, not exceeding one-sixth of the said profits.

(b.)—In the case of income from houses.—Any rent paid on account of such houses, but not taxes, or local rates or cesses.

Sums expended for insuring and keeping insured such houses, 10 per cent. on the full rent of the houses on account of repairs, if such repairs are at the cost of the petitioner, whether it has or has not been actually expended during the year of assessment.

Sums expended in collecting the rent, not exceeding 6 per cent. of the gross rental.

Annual interest payable to a mortgagee not in possession.

NOTE.—Gross income should be shown in column 4, deductions claimed should be shown separately in column 6. Deductions allowed will be made by the Collector before assessing the tax.

In the case of a firm or of a Hindu undivided family, no entry should be made in column 5; but in other cases where the sharers are chargeable separately, and it is wished that they should be so charged, the column must be filled in.

If the person filling in the return is chargeable (1) as a trustee, guardian, curator, or committee of any infant, married woman subject to the law of England, lunatic or idiot; (2) as an agent of a non-resident; (3) as receiver or manager appointed by any Court in India, or as official trustee in respect of income officially in his possession or under his control, the fact should be stated in the column of remarks.

N. B.—The attention of all persons filling in these returns is called to Section 35 of Act II of 1886, which is printed below for general information :—

"If a person makes a statement or a declaration mentioned in Section 18, sub-section (2) which is false, and which he either knows or believes to be false, or does not believe to be true, he shall be deemed to have committed the offence described in Section 177 of the Indian Penal Code."

GENERAL.

Proceedings of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab in the Home (General) Department, No. 451, dated 2nd March 1886.

RESOLUTION.—The Lieutenant-Governor desires to record his appreciation of the work performed by Civil Officers in connection with the recent Camp of Exercise. His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief has brought to His Honor's notice the very great assistance rendered to the forces by the Civil Officers of the districts in which the army was encamped and manœuvred.

2. The arrangements in the Civil Department were most ably and effectually superintended by Mr. J. W. Macnabb, Commissioner of the Delhi Division.

3. In the Delhi District, where perhaps the work was most onerous, excellent arrangements were made by Mr. G. Smyth, the Deputy Commissioner. Similarly in the Karnál District the Deputy Commissioner, Major Roberts, spared no efforts to ensure a satisfactory result, which was fully realized in the hands of his successor, Colonel Birch; while in Umballa, the District Judge, Mr. C. P. Bird, during the absence of the Deputy Commissioner on tour, gave much help in collecting supplies and carriage for the Northern Force.

4. The Lieutenant-Governor has learnt with pleasure that the arrangements made by Mr. H. A. Anderson and Mr. A. Meredith, the officers on special duty with the forces, left nothing to be desired, and that those made at Delhi itself in connection with the final review, and the encampment of the large force there assembled, were most efficient, and special acknowledgments are due to those officers and to Mr. G. Smyth and Colonel Ewart, Deputy Inspector-General of Police, for their successful organization.

5. Sir Frederick Roberts has also brought to notice the very great assistance rendered at all times by Lála Piári Lál, Tahsíldár of Delhi.

6. In conclusion, the Lieutenant-Governor desires to thank the Council of Regency of the Patiála State for the cordial co-operation rendered by them while the standing camp was in the Mahárája's territory. Lála Bhagwán Dás, deputed by the State to act as Political Officer with the Northern Force, deserves special mention for his efforts in the collection of supplies and furnishing of carriage, and Lála Juála Singh, Inspector-General of Police, for the efficient arrangements made to prevent any friction between the British sepoys and the villagers of the Patiála State.

ORDER.—Ordered that the above Resolution be circulated for information to all the officers named therein, and to the Council of Regency of the Patiála State, and that it be published in the Punjab Government Gazette.

The 3rd March 1886.

No. 456.—Notification.—Consequent on the re-arrangement of Divisions and owing to a want of uniformity in the order in which the several districts are ranged in tabular and other returns supplied by different departments, the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to direct that, save in exceptional cases rendering a different arrangement expedient, the several Divisions and Districts of the Province be in future ranged in the following order by all departments:—

The 4th March 1886.

No. 605.—Notification.—In exercise of the powers conferred upon him by Act II of 1886, and by the Notification of the Government of India in the Department of Finance and Commerce, No. 593, dated the 5th February 1886, the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab is pleased to make the following rules under the said Act :—

I.—All sums assessed and payable under Part IV of the 2nd Schedule of the Act shall be paid in one sum.

II.—In making arrangements under Section 9, sub-section (2) of the Act for the recovery on behalf of Government by any company, public body, association, or private employer of the tax to which any person employed by such company, public body, association, or private employer is liable, the Collector may—

(a) agree to pay to the company, public body, association, or private employer, as the case may be, by way of remuneration, any sum not exceeding five per cent. of the tax to which the person employed is liable ;

(b) provide that the sums recovered by the company, public body, association, or private employer, as aforesaid, shall be delivered to him (the Collector), together with a statement showing the amount deducted from the salary of each employé for each month, at such time and place as he (the Collector) may direct. Payments may be made either monthly or by instalments, which shall in no case exceed four in number.

III.—Notices served under Section 12, sub-section (1) of the Act shall be in Form E hereto appended.

IV.—The lists prescribed by Section 16 of the Act shall be in Form F hereto appended, and shall be drawn up in the Urdu language. The list, or such part or parts thereof as the Collector thinks fit, shall be posted up in some conspicuous place in every tahsíl, in the principal mohallas of every town, and in the chaupál or other place of public resort in every village in which any person included in the list resides.

V.—Notices served under Section 17 shall be in Form G hereto appended.

VI.—Under Section 18, sub-section (1), clause (a), the Collector is authorized to cause a notice under Section 17 to be served on any person whose name is for the first time included in the list published under Section 16, or who is assessed at a sum greater than that paid by him in respect of the previous year.

Note.—For the purposes of this rule, lists published and taxes paid under the License Tax Act shall be deemed to have been published and paid under Act II of 1886.

VII.—All persons whose vernacular is English shall be served with a notice under Section 17 instead of being included in a list under Section 16.

VIII.—Under Section 18, sub-section (1), clause (b) of the Act, Collectors are hereby authorized to publish general notices in the following towns and places :—

(i). All Municipalities.

(ii). All Cantonments.

(iii). All Civil Stations at the head-quarters of districts and sub-divisions.

(iv). Mádhopur in the Gurdáspur District, and Pálampur and such other places in the Kángra District as the Deputy Commissioner of that district may select.

IX.—The general notice referred to in the preceding rule shall be in Form H, and returns made in compliance therewith shall be in Form I hereto appended, on the reverse of which instructions for filling up the return will be found. The date to be specified in the notice as that on or before which the return should be made shall be a date not less than 30 days from that on which the notice is published.

X.—Receipts given under Section 32 of the Act shall be in Form K hereto appended.

XI.—Notices issued under Sections 41 and 42 shall be in Forms L and M hereto appended respectively.

XII.—The notice to be issued under Section 43 shall be in Form N appended to these rules. The date specified therein as that on or before which the return of income should be made shall be a date not less than 30 days after the date of issue of the notice. The return shall be made in Form I.

XIII.—The powers given by section 47, sub-sections (2) and (4) of the Act to the Local Government are hereby delegated to the Financial Commissioner of the Punjab, who shall decide all questions which may arise as to the place which, for the purposes of the Act, shall be deemed to be—

(i) the principal place of business of a company or firm which has several places of business in the Punjab;

(ii) the residence of a person who has several places of residence in the Punjab.

Instructions for filling up the return.

In the case of a firm the ordinary designation of the firm should be entered in column 1.

If the person or firm making the return has several places of residence or business, they should all be mentioned in column 2, the principal place of business or residence being specified.

In column 3 every separate source of income accruing and arising in British India should be entered in detail. Salaries, pensions and annuities, whether paid by Government, by a local authority or company, or by a private employer are chargeable under Part I. The net profits of companies or associations carrying on business in British India, whose stock or funds is or are divided into shares and transferable, whether the company is incorporated or not, and whether its principal place of business is situate in British India or not, are chargeable under Part II. Income derived from interest on Government securities or debentures or other securities issued by a local authority or company is chargeable under Part III. All other income is chargeable under Part IV.

If a person filling in the return occupies a building for which he pays no rent, he should enter in column 4 an amount equivalent to five-sixths of the sum at which the building might reasonably be expected to have let.

Against the gross receipts no deductions should be made on account of disbursements or expenses not wholly and exclusively incurred in respect of the profits returned, nor should deductions be made on account of the maintenance of the person himself or his family or domestic establishment, nor on account of any public or local rates, cesses or taxes.

Deductions from the gross receipts will be allowed on account of the following items :—

(a).—In the case of professions and trades—Sums expended in repairs of machinery, implements and utensils, or articles used solely for the purpose of the profession or trade.

Sums expended for insuring or keeping insured the buildings, machinery, implements and stock used for the purpose of the profession or trade, and rent paid for any premises used for such profession or trade; provided that, if such premises shall not have been exclusively used for such profession or trade a fair proportion only of such rent shall be deducted from the gross receipts.

Ten per cent. on the full rent of such premises on account of repairs, if such repairs are at the cost of the petitioner, whether it has or has not been actually expended during the year of assessment.

Sums expended in the payment of persons employed solely in such profession or trade.

The amount of any losses of the stock-in-trade. The excess loss sustained in any profession or trade over and above the profits thereof may be set against the excess profits of any other profession or trade exercised by the same person.

The amount of any bad debts for the first time ascertained and written off as such during the year.

Interest paid on money borrowed for the purpose of the trade or profession.

Sums paid to an Insurance Company for the insurance of the life, or for a deferred annuity on the life of the person assessed or his wife, not exceeding one-sixth of the said profits.

(b).—In the case of income from houses.—Any rent paid on account of such houses, but not taxes, or local rates or cesses.

Sums expended for insuring and keeping insured such houses, 10 per cent. on the full rent of the houses on account of repairs, if such repairs are at the cost of the petitioner, whether it has or has not been actually expended during the year of assessment.

Sums expended in collecting the rent, not exceeding 6 per cent. of the gross rental.

Annual interest payable to a mortgagee not in possession.

NOTE.—Gross income should be shown in column 4, deductions claimed should be shown separately in column 6. Deductions allowed will be made by the Collector before assessing the tax.

In the case of a firm or of a Hindu undivided family, no entry should be made in column 5; but in other cases where the sharers are chargeable separately, and it is wished that they should be so charged, the column must be filled in.

If the person filling in the return is chargeable (1) as a trustee, guardian, curator, or committee of any infant, married woman subject to the law of England, lunatic or idiot; (2) as an agent of a non-resident; (3) as receiver or manager appointed by any Court in India, or as official trustee in respect of income officially in his possession or under his control, the fact should be stated in the column of remarks.

N. B.—The attention of all persons filling in these returns is called to Section 35 of Act II of 1886, which is printed below for general information :—

"If a person makes a statement or a declaration mentioned in Section 18, sub-section (2) which is false, and which he either knows or believes to be false, or does not believe to be true, he shall be deemed to have committed the offence described in Section 177 of the Indian Penal Code."

The 4th March 1886.

No. 605.—Notification.—In exercise of the powers conferred upon him by Act II of 1886, and by the Notification of the Government of India in the Department of Finance and Commerce, No. 593, dated the 5th February 1886, the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab is pleased to make the following rules under the said Act :—

I.—All sums assessed and payable under Part IV of the 2nd Schedule of the Act shall be paid in one sum.

II.—In making arrangements under Section 9, sub-section (2), of the Act for the recovery on behalf of Government by any company, public body, association, or private employer of the tax to which any person employed by such company, public body, association, or private employer is liable, the Collector may—

(a) agree to pay to the company, public body, association, or private employer, as the case may be, by way of remuneration, any sum not exceeding five per cent. of the tax to which the person employed is liable;

(b) provide that the sums recovered by the company, public body, association, or private employer, as aforesaid, shall be delivered to him (the Collector), together with a statement showing the amount deducted from the salary of each employé for each month, at such time and place as he (the Collector) may direct. Payments may be made either monthly or by instalments, which shall in no case exceed four in number.

III.—Notices served under Section 12, sub-section (1), of the Act shall be in Form E hereto appended.

IV.—The lists prescribed by Section 16 of the Act shall be in Form F hereto appended, and shall be drawn up in the Urdu language. The list, or such part or parts thereof as the Collector thinks fit, shall be posted up in some conspicuous place in every tahsíl, in the principal mohallas of every town, and in the chaupál or other place of public resort in every village in which any person included in the list resides.

V.—Notices served under Section 17 shall be in Form G hereto appended.

VI.—Under Section 18, sub-section (1), clause (a), the Collector is authorized to cause a notice under Section 17 to be served on any person whose name is for the first time included in the list published under Section 16, or who is assessed at a sum greater than that paid by him in respect of the previous year.

Note.—For the purposes of this rule, lists published and taxes paid under the License Tax Act shall be deemed to have been published and paid under Act II of 1886.

VII.—All persons whose vernacular is English shall be served with a notice under Section 17 instead of being included in a list under Section 16.

VIII.—Under Section 18, sub-section (1), clause (b), of the Act, Collectors are hereby authorized to publish general notices in the following towns and places :—

(i). All Municipalities.

(ii). All Cantonments.

(iii). All Civil Stations at the head-quarters of districts and sub-divisions.

(iv). Mádhopur in the Gurdáspur District, and Pálampur and such other places in the Kángra District as the Deputy Commissioner of that district may select.

IX.—The general notice referred to in the preceding rule shall be in Form H, and returns made in compliance therewith shall be in Form I hereto appended, on the reverse of which instructions for filling up the return will be found. The date to be specified in the notice as that on or before which the return should be made shall be a date not less than 30 days from that on which the notice is published.

X.—Receipts given under Section 32 of the Act shall be in Form K hereto appended.

XI.—Notices issued under Sections 41 and 42 shall be in Forms L and M hereto appended respectively.

XII.—The notice to be issued under Section 43 shall be in Form N appended to these rules. The date specified therein as that on or before which the return of income should be made shall be a date not less than 30 days after the date of issue of the notice. The return shall be made in Form I.

XIII.—The powers given by Section 47, sub-sections (2) and (4), of the Act to the Local Government are hereby delegated to the Financial Commissioner of the Punjab, who shall decide all questions which may arise as to the place which, for the purposes of the Act, shall be deemed to be—

(i) the principal place of business of a company or firm which has several places of business in the Punjab;

(ii) the residence of a person who has several places of residence in the Punjab.

Against the gross receipts no deductions should be made on account of disbursements or expenses not wholly and exclusively incurred in respect of the profits returned, nor should deductions be made on account of the maintenance of the person himself or his family or domestic establishment, nor on account of any public or local rates, cesses or taxes.

Deductions from the gross receipts will be allowed on account of the following items :—

(a).—In the case of professions and trades—Sums expended in repairs of machinery, implements and utensils, or articles used solely for the purpose of the profession or trade.

Sums expended for insuring or keeping insured the buildings, machinery, implements and stock used for the purpose of the profession or trade, and rent paid for any premises used for such profession or trade; provided that, if such premises shall not have been exclusively used for such profession or trade a fair proportion only of such rent shall be deducted from the gross receipts.

Ten per cent. on the full rent of such premises on account of repairs, if such repairs are at the cost of the petitioner, whether it has or has not been actually expended during the year of assessment.

Sums expended in the payment of persons employed solely in such profession or trade.

The amount of any losses of the stock-in-trade. The excess loss sustained in any profession or trade over and above the profits thereof may be set against the excess profits of any other profession or trade exercised by the same person.

The amount of any bad debts for the first time ascertained and written off as such during the year.

Interest paid on money borrowed for the purpose of the trade or profession.

Sums paid to an Insurance Company for the insurance of the life, or for a deferred annuity on the life of the person assessed or his wife, not exceeding one-sixth of the said profits.

(b).—In the case of income from houses.—Any rent paid on account of such houses, but not taxes, or local rates or cesses.

Sums expended for insuring and keeping insured such houses, 10 per cent. on the full rent of the houses on account of repairs, if such repairs are at the cost of the petitioner, whether it has or has not been actually expended during the year of assessment.

Sums expended in collecting the rent, not exceeding 6 per cent. of the gross rental.

Annual interest payable to a mortgagee not in possession.

NOTE.—Gross income should be shown in column 4, deductions claimed should be shown separately in column 6. Deductions allowed will be made by the Collector before assessing the tax.

In the case of a firm or of a Hindu undivided family, no entry should be made in column 5; but in other cases where the sharers are chargeable separately, and it is wished that they should be so charged, the column must be filled in.

If the person filling in the return is chargeable (1) as a trustee, guardian, curator, or committee of any infant, married woman subject to the law of England, lunatic or idiot; (2) as an agent of a non-resident; (3) as receiver or manager appointed by any Court in India, or as official trustee in respect of income officially in his possession or under his control, the fact should be stated in the column of remarks.

N. B.—The attention of all persons filling in these returns is called to Section 35 of Act II of 1886, which is printed below for general information :—

"If a person makes a statement or a declaration mentioned in Section 18, sub-section (2) which is false, and which he either knows or believes to be false, or does not believe to be true, he shall be deemed to have committed the offence described in Section 177 of the Indian Penal Code."

8. Budget of the University of the Punjab for 1886, as passed by the Senate at a meeting held on the 11th January 1886.

THE affairs of the Punjab University have for some time past been a cause of grave anxiety to Government, and letters have been from time to time addressed to the Senate with the view of eliciting full information on certain points. Some of the matters demanding investigation relate to the proceedings of the University with special reference to Oriental learning and to the application of the Trust Funds. These will be separately considered. The present Resolution deals only with the general financial condition of the University.

2. In May 1884* the attention of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor was directed to this subject, and the Registrar was requested to bring to the notice of the Senate the serious state of things disclosed by the Trustees' statement of accounts for 1883. In July† attention was again drawn to the subject in connection with the accounts of the first quarter of 1884. It does not appear that the Government letters were laid before the Senate during 1884, but in December‡ of that year, the Registrar addressed Government on behalf of the Syndicate with reference to the communications that he had received on the subject. It was contended that, notwithstanding strenuous efforts to reduce expenditure, the available funds were not sufficient to meet the expenses of the University, and reference was made to the hope that had been entertained of receiving increased support from Government in the form of an endowment of land or an additional grant-in-aid.

* To Registrar, No. 177 C., dated 12th May 1884.

† To Registrar, No. 261, dated 24th July 1884.

‡ From Registrar, No. 1491 dated 15th December 1884.

3. In February 1885,§ the Registrar under instructions from the Syndicate applied to Government for an advance of Rs. 10,000 to meet the current expenditure of the University and to provide for the expenses of holding the Middle School Examination. The Lieutenant-Governor considered‖ the fact that such an application had been found necessary was further evidence of the unsatisfactory financial position of the University, and he sanctioned the advance only on condition that a Committee should be appointed by the Senate, of which the Accountant-General was to be a member, to examine and report fully upon the funds, cash balances, income and expenditure of the University for each year since its constitution under heads of account to be specified by Government. Detailed instructions were subsequently issued¶ regarding the preparation of the returns required, and it was stated that as soon as these returns should have been prepared, it would be the duty of the Committee to consider the financial management and prospects of the University from the broadest possible point of view; to ascertain exactly its present position; to estimate the amount of income that might safely be counted upon in the immediate future ; and to make any recommendations and suggestions that might commend themselves to their judgment for such reduction of expenditure as might be necessary to equalize expenditure with income, to improve, if necessary, the present system of budget accounts and management, and to render impossible a repetition of the financial straits that had compelled the Syndicate to apply to Government for a loan.

4. The letter No. 10, dated 5th January 1886, now under consideration, and more particularly paragraphs 1—26 of the Report therein enclosed, with its annexures, furnish the reply of the Senate to the above communications, and also to another letter, No. 48 C., dated 28th March 1885, in which the remarks of Government upon an independent analysis of the accounts then before it were conveyed to the Senate. In accordance with the request of Government, a Committee was appointed by the Senate at the close of April 1885 to report on the matters regarding which information was required. The Committee was composed of the following members :—

(1). Mr. D. G. Barkley, LL. D., Judge of the Chief Court.
(2). The Accountant-General, Punjab.
(3). Pandit Rám Naráyan.
(4). Dr. G. W. Leitner, Principal, Lahore Government College, and Registrar, Punjab University.
(5). Mr. E. W. Parker, late Registrar.
(6.) Mr. T. C. Lewis, M. A., Professor, Government College.
(7). Bábu Navína Chandra Rái.

In the month of July, however, the four last-named members resigned, so that the investigations were chiefly made by Mr. Barkley, Judge of the Chief Court, Mr. Logan, Accountant-General, and Pandit Rám Naráyan. The conclusions they arrived at and the recommendations they made have been practically endorsed and approved by the Senate, which has recorded a well-deserved acknowledgment of the patient and laborious investigation made by the Committee and the invaluable report it has submitted. Since the Registrar's letter of 5th January 1886 was received, the Senate at a meeting held on the 11th January 1886 sanctioned the budget-estimates for the year 1886 as submitted by the Syndicate. These estimates show both the budget for 1886, and also the estimates for 1885 as finally revised and accepted by the Senate, after giving effect to certain necessary adjustments which the Committee recommended to be made between the funded and the current accounts. It may therefore be considered that the latest financial data available are now before Government.

5. The returns submitted by the Committee are subject to some adjustments explained in the report and other papers. Most of these, however, are very petty and do not affect the general results. They need not therefore be considered in detail. Taking the tables as they stand, it appears that on the 14th October 1882, the date on which the Punjab University came into existence under Act XIX of 1882, there was an opening balance of Rs. 1,369 to the credit of the current account, and that the income during the remainder of the calendar year amounted to Rs. 32,511, and the expenditure to Rs. 19,779, leaving a balance at its close of Rs. 14,101. In the income, however, was included a donation of Rs. 5,000 by the Rája of Farídkot, which should have been credited to the funded account as subsequently ordered by the Senate. During 1883 the current income was Rs. 65,104, and the expenditure Rs. 78,752. During 1884 the income of the current account amounted to Rs. 80,531 and the expenditure to Rs. 87,641, and when the year closed there was a considerable amount to the debit of the current account. It is explained in the report that various sums had, at different times in previous years, been debited to the current account, which should have been charged to the funded account. The final adjustment of these items, which was eventually ordered by the Senate, would, if carried out in 1884, have shown a small balance to the credit of the current account on the 1st January 1885. But this circumstance does not affect the facts that in 1883 the current expenditure exceeded the current income by Rs. 13,648, and again in 1884 by Rs. 7,110, being Rs. 20,758 in two years. These figures alone prove that the warning given by Government to the Senate in May 1884 was amply justified, and that the inquiry which it insisted on was not undertaken without good cause. As it is, the revised estimates for 1885,* based on actuals for ten months, show a surplus of Rs. 3,997. This surplus, however, is due to the advance of Rs. 10,000, of which Rs. 5,000 only were repaid during the year; and it is again absorbed in 1886, during which year the balance of Rs. 5,000 still due to Government will be recovered from the grant, and the budget once more shows a deficit† estimated at Rs. 3,986. The budget for 1886, moreover, takes credit for two items to be recovered from Government. One item of Rs. 1,200 is for the cost of the financial inquiries which Government promised to bear, and the payment of which to the University is accordingly sanctioned. The other item is Rs. 2,000 for printing charges in 1883-84. On the expenditure side a sum of Rs. 1,000 is shown as reserve for unforeseen expenditure. If the former of these items be excluded, the estimated deficit will be Rs. 5,986, and if both be excluded, the deficit will be Rs. 4,986.

6. It will thus be seen that, although the financial condition of the University has improved somewhat within the last two years in consequence of the investigations that have been insisted on, it is still far from satisfactory, and that for the four complete years of its working there is a deficit which on 31st December 1886 will not be less than Rs. 20,747.‡ It therefore becomes the imperative duty, not only of the Senate, but of Government, to ascertain carefully the causes to which this condition of things is traceable, and the heads of account under which the income can be improved or expenditure diminished, and to apply without flinching such remedies as the circumstances of the case require.

7. Leaving out of account the Government grants-in-aid, the gross independent income of the University consists of—

(3).	Fees estimated for 1886 at	29,000
(4).	Miscellaneous estimated for 1886 at	3,100
		58,422

The interest on the funded account has been practically stationary since the University was founded. It is to be hoped that the Committee recently appointed * to develope the income of the University will be able to obtain additions to the Funded Account, but the interest only will be available for current expenditure, so that relief in this direction will necessarily be slow. The miscellaneous head is unimportant, and cannot under any circumstances be relied on as a permanent source of improved income. There remain, therefore, only the two items of subscriptions and fees.

* See Syndicate Proceedings of 5th February 1886.

8. In the analysis of accounts forwarded by Government to the University with letter No. 48, dated 28th March 1885, the fluctuating character of the income from subscriptions was enlarged on, and a sum of Rs. 9,000 was calculated, on the data then available, to be a fair and safe annual estimate from this source. The revised estimates† for 1885 and the budget for 1886 give Rs. 10,694 and Rs. 11,000, respectively. The strenuous exertions of the standing Committee recently appointed will probably succeed in keeping the subscriptions up to this figure, and may succeed in increasing them. But this source of income will always be fluctuating, and is at best precarious.

9. The figures given in the margin ‡ show the detail of income from fees classified according to the heads of the budget. It will be seen at a glance that in the Departments of Medicine and Engineering the fees are comparatively unimportant, but in Medicine are gradually and regularly increasing; that in the Law Department, though large, they have been practically stationary, with perhaps a tendency to decline; in the Arts Department and in the Middle School Department there is a large and rapidly advancing increase; while there has been a very serious decline in the fees for examination in Oriental languages, and tuition fees from the Oriental College.

10. Turning now to the expenditure, attention is invited to Schedule II annexed to this Resolution, in which the classified expenditure of each year is set forth. The general expenditure there given is extracted in the margin.§ From these figures, however, the cost of the Law School and of examinations should be excluded. They have been entered as general expenditure only because the precise distribution between the Oriental and English sides of the University cannot be given. The expenditure proper on general purposes, the Registrar's establishment, printing, Convocation expenses and the like is that given in the margin.‖ The expenditure in 1884 was abnormally swollen by extraordinary and special printing and Convocation charges, and the cost of University seals. The expenditure in 1885 includes a charge of Rs. 1,200 on account of the financial inquiry, and the estimate for 1886 includes Rs. 1,000 reserve for unforeseen charges. Deducting these items, the general expenditure proper of the University has remained practically stationary. It is rather less now than in 1883, and, as compared with the aggregate expenditure, considerably less. No reduction can be looked for here. On the contrary, the probability is that a considerable increase will have to be made in future years.

11. Statistics relating to the Law School are given in the margin.* They show that the number of students has greatly decreased, and with it the income. This decrease is believed to be due to the rules recently laid down regarding the examinations in Arts that students are required to pass before they are accepted as candidates for the law examinations. It may, however, be hoped that the finances will recover in time from the disturbing effect of the first application of the new regulations. Meanwhile the expenditure has steadily grown, and the condition of things clearly requires the early and careful attention of the Senate.

12. Examination fees,† on the other hand, are a growing source of gain to the University. Besides the income from examination fees, however, a special grant is given by Government for the Middle School examinations. This grant was in 1884 Rs. 2,000, in 1885 Rs. 3,000, and in 1886 Rs. 5,000; so that, if these be included, the surplus in these years under the head of "Examinations" would be raised to Rs. 8,199, Rs. 15,876 and Rs. 14,250, respectively. The receipts from fees on the English side are considerably more than double those on the Oriental side, and are increasing in a much more rapid ratio. A similar comparison of expenditure would be interesting, but the data are not available. If a rateable calculation, however, be made upon the number of candidates for examination, the expenditure in four years on the English side would be about Rs. 27,050 to Rs. 22,950 on the Oriental side. The Examination Department is clearly the elastic and expanding source of income to the University. But additional and progressive expenditure under this head is a certainty. The due remuneration of examiners and arrangements for the proper conduct of examinations, both Oriental and English, and especially the latter, is morally the first charge upon the fee income and the Government grant for the Middle School Examination; and until these are thoroughly and in all respects satisfactorily provided for, the surplus income from examinations ought not to be considered as available for other expenditure.

13. Apart from the Law School and the Examinations, which have been considered above with reference both to the English and Oriental sides, the remaining expenditure on the English side is noted in the margin. It is entirely incurred on scholarships, of which only an insignificant number is endowed. The expenditure here is, in the Lieutenant-Governor's opinion, wholly inadequate to the requirements of the University, and stands in remarkable contrast to the expenditure under other heads. Considering the expanding nature of the revenues on the English side, it is, in the Lieutenant-Governor's opinion, the duty of the Senate to treat this Department more liberally.

14. Coming now to the expenditure on the Oriental side, it is clear that the Oriental Faculty* is par excellence the spending department, and, inclusive of its rateable share of the cost of the Law School and Examinations, absorbs for the four years under consideration 67·9 per cent. of the entire University income; while, if a rateable share of cost of the Law School and Examinations be excluded, the amount still absorbed is more than 57 per cent. of the income. In fact the Oriental side of the University absorbs the entire independent income of the University from all sources, including the net surplus on the Law School and Examinations, leaving year after year a considerable deficit, together with the entire cost of the University in all other departments, to be met from the Government grant.† This deficit for the four years amounts to Rs. 32,815. Deducting special Government grants for the Middle School Examination made in 1884, 1885 and 1886, which amount to Rs. 10,000, there still remains on the Oriental side alone an excess of Rs. 22,815 in expenditure after the exhaustion of all sources of income except the ordinary Government grant of Rs. 21,590 per annum, or Rs. 86,000 during the four years. The true source of the deficit referred to in paragraph 6 therefore is not far to seek. In addition to all other sources of income whatsoever, the Oriental side of the University has absorbed on an average of four years more than 26 per cent. of the general Government grant, leaving nothing but the balance of that grant available to meet expenditure of every other kind. It is therefore certain beyond dispute that the statements which have been repeatedly made to the effect that the Oriental Department has not received its fair share of money have no foundation in fact. On the contrary, it may be stated roundly that the financial embarrassments of the University are due entirely to inordinate expenditure in the Oriental Department.

15. It was mainly for the purpose of putting a check on the growth of this expenditure that, at the meeting on 6th May 1885, the Senate resolved that for five years, commencing 1st April (afterwards changed to 1st July) 1885, and ending 31st March 1890, a fixed sum should be annually allotted for the Oriental College and School from the general funds of the University. The allotment is made subject to the conditions—

(1) that the Oriental College and School are, and continue to be in the judgment of the Senate, efficiently managed; and

(2) that the general financial condition of the University from year to year admits of the same.

This allotment was to be given in addition to anything due as endowments, trusts and University scholarships (as distinct from stipends of an eleemosynary character); and all tuition fees, subscriptions and money given exclusively for the College and School were to be credited to the College and School, and any balance at the close of the year was to be carried to credit of the following year. The express object* of the arrangement was gradually to make the College and School self-supporting, and thereby release the general funds for other purposes of the University. The allotment made for the year 1886 is Rs. 24,528.

* See Memorandum by Chancellor dated 13th March 1885.

16. It remains to consider how much of the expenditure in the Oriental Department is obligatory and how much voluntary. For the year 1886 the Oriental expenditure under the direct control of the Senate is estimated to be Rs. 22,108. About two-thirds† of this, however, is obligatory, consisting of the pay of two Professors, for which a corresponding grant is made by Government, the interest of specific endowments, and the like. These items cannot be touched. The remaining expenditure consists of the items noted in the margin. These are items of voluntary expenditure at the will of the Senate, with whom it rests to determine whether or not it would be proper to reduce them with reference to other calls upon the University funds. The continuance of the title branch scholarships, however, has for the present been promised by the Senate. It is observed that the Finance Committee were of opinion that the grants for encouragement of literature could with advantage be increased, and the grants-in-aid to schools discontinued, but that any further reduction would have to fall upon unendowed scholarships. The Lieutenant-Governor must leave it to the Senate to decide these points. He is very doubtful whether, in the present condition of University finances, it is advisable to continue such charges as rewards to authors, printing and purchase of approved books, and grants to journals, however desirable these may be in themselves as one of the objects originally contemplated by the University. On the other hand, the reduction of unendowed scholarships would be a matter of unqualified regret. If the Senate should decide on withdrawing the grants to schools, the Lieutenant-Governor will be ready to admit the schools to grants-in-aid, under the ordinary rules of the Education Department.

17. The Finance Committee did not enter upon a detailed consideration of the special allotment to the Oriental College and School, apparently because the allotment had only recently been made on the recommendation of a special Committee, and was understood to be a fixed grant. This the Lieutenant-Governor regrets; for, although the allotment is under all ordinary circumstances a fixed one, it is given on the express condition that the funds of the University admit of it. Therefore it comes very properly under review whenever the general financial condition of the University is being dealt with. The expenditure under this head (from which some donations for specific purposes and of no great amount are excluded) is entirely voluntary, and consists of the items noted in the margin. On the other hand, there may be said to be no income at all, as the fees from the Oriental College and School amount in four years to only Rs. 1,340, or about Rs. 330 a year. In 1885 the fees actually realized amounted to only Rs. 219. Even if the very improbable sum of Rs. 600, which it is believed the College Committee expect in 1886, be reached, it is still very trifling. This then is not only par excellence the spending department of the University, but also the non-productive department. It must be remembered that, besides the special allotment of Rs. 24,528, the College enjoys the services of the whole staff of endowed Readers and Translators, and has the benefit of a very large number of endowed, special, and other University scholarships. On a consideration of the figures before him, the Lieutenant-Governor feels himself bound to repeat the warning he has more than once already given—that, if the University is to preserve its financial equilibrium, the whole question of expenditure in the Oriental College and School must be investigated and dealt with in a more thorough and systematic manner than has yet been done. The general allotment of Rs. 24,528 seems to him not only more than the Oriental School and College as at present managed ought to receive, but very much more than the University finances can under present circumstances afford. It seems to him nothing short of a scandal not only that so enormous and costly a staff should be employed with so infinitesimal a return in the shape of fees, but that there should be in the Oriental College and School so large an annual expenditure on purely charitable stipends, and that stipends or scholarships should, in some instances, have been drawn by the same person for eight, ten, and even fourteen years. Till all this is thoroughly reformed, the Lieutenant-Governor can hold out no hope whatever of an increase to the Government grant; but it may become necessary, in making the grant hereafter, to direct its distribution and appropriation to specific purposes. Whether this may have to be done will probably depend on the financial results of the current year.

18. In the meantime the Lieutenant-Governor would counsel the careful husbanding and improvement of all sources of income, a thorough and very rigid overhauling of all expenditure, and very careful adherence to the new financial rules which have been approved by the Senate on the recommendation of the Finance Committee. He would also particularly urge that the recommendation in paragraph 25 of the Committee's Report as to the preparation of the budget and the provision of a working or opening balance equal to one-eighth of the estimated expenditure of the year be literally carried out. The special contribution of Rs. 2,000 from Government on account of abnormal printing charges in the year 1883-84, which is taken credit for in the budget of 1886, should for the present be erased. It will not be sanctioned in 1886, but will be sanctioned in January 1887, as the nucleus of such a balance as the Finance Committee has recommended, provided (1) there is no deficit on the working of the year 1886, and (2) the estimated expenditure for 1887 is so arranged as to leave Rs. 1,000 to be added to the balance in accordance with the proposals of the Finance Committee.

3. The Returns of Venomous Snakes killed during the quarter ending 31st December 1885.

RESOLUTION.—A comparison of the numbers of venomous snakes killed during the quarter ending 30th September 1885 with those of the corresponding period during the preceding year shows that in some districts there has been a great diminution in the numbers of reptiles destroyed. In the whole Province the number of snakes killed in the former period was 48,093 and in the latter only 26,941, being a decrease of 21,152. The districts in which the largest differences have been observed are Hissar, Amritsar, Ráwalpindi, Gujrát and Mooltan. In the first-named district the figures are 11,120 and 1,524 for the two quarters in question, but the Deputy Commissioner has stated that he is quite unable to explain the difference. In Amritsar 13,948 snakes were killed in the three months of 1884, while the figures for the same period in 1885 are blank. The explanation given is that the District Board has ceased to pay rewards for the destruction of poisonous snakes. A similar reason is given for the unsatisfactory results of the Mooltan District, namely, the reduction in the rewards granted from District and Municipal Funds. The difference in Ráwalpindi has not been explained, while that in the case of Gujrát is attributed to the fact that Local Bodies have relaxed their energies.

2. The returns for the quarter ending 31st December 1885 show that 6,161 snakes were destroyed, whereas in the corresponding period of the previous year the number amounted to 9,795. The largest difference is in the Mooltan District, where only 272 snakes were killed against 3,252 in the same quarter of 1884. The Lieutenant-Governor is not satisfied with the results obtained, which can only be attributed to the supineness of the Local Bodies concerned; and he requests that Commissioners of Divisions will give their attention to the matter, the importance of which has more than once been brought to notice.

3. The proceedings of District Boards must be in conformity with law and with the rules in force thereunder, and by those rules the Boards are bound to observe any general principles of which the Government has approved in the several departments of administration.

Rule IV of Rules published in Notification No. 528½, dated 26th February 1884.

4. Local authorities cannot plead ignorance of the express wishes both of the Supreme and Local Governments in regard to the destruction of noxious animals; for in the papers marginally noted attention has been several times directed to the subject. Unless therefore it can be clearly shown that funds are not available, District Boards are not competent to discontinue the payment of rewards for snakes destroyed, and this breach of their duty should be impressed upon such as have erred in this respect. Deputy Commissioners are in nearly every district the Chairmen of the District Boards, and they should have no difficulty in preventing a continuance of the unsatisfactory state of things which has called for the above remarks.

2. Circular No. 3061, dated 23rd September 1880.

4. Resolution No. 1973, dated 7th October 1882.
5. No. 1769, dated 10th July 1884.

ORDER.—Ordered that the foregoing Resolution be published in the Punjab Gazette and circulated to all Commissioners and Deputy Commissioners in the Punjab for information and guidance.

By order of the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor,

W. M. YOUNG,

Secretary to Government, Punjab.

MEDICAL AND SANITARY.

The 7th April 1886.

No. 236.—Notification.—Surgeon B. Doyle, M. B., Civil Surgeon, is appointed to officiate as Deputy Sanitary Commissioner, Punjab, with effect from the forenoon of the 1st April 1886, vice Surgeon J. O'Neill, proceeding on furlough.

Proceedings of the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor in the Home (Medical and Sanitary) Department, No. 238, dated the 8th of April 1886.

READ—

The correspondence ending with the endorsement from the Government of India in the Home Department, No. 105, dated the 12th of March 1886, on the subject of the proposed enlargement of the sphere of education afforded by the Lahore Medical College and School by the appointment of two additional Professors and an Apothecary, and a re-arrangement of the duties of the Professorial Staff.

RESOLUTION.—The Lahore Medical College and School, founded in the year 1860, educates at present up to the standard for Hospital Assistants in the Vernacular Department, and up to that of Licentiate of Medicine and Surgery in the English Department. The College supplies Assistant Surgeons and Hospital Assistants to the various dispensaries in the Province; the Subordinate Medical Staff of the Army is largely recruited from it; it contributes some Assistant Surgeons to the North-Western Provinces; and is now educating female medical students. The benefits which the College affords are generally admitted, but they are at present limited; and every Native of Upper India who wishes to study medicine in its higher branches has to proceed to Calcutta, Bombay, or England. In order to complete the sphere of its usefulness, and to place it on a footing to meet the wants of Upper India, it is therefore highly desirable that the College should be enlarged so as to provide a curriculum in the English Department up to the standard usually required for the degrees of Bachelor and Doctor of Medicine.

2. The staff of Professors now employed in the English Department is as noted in the margin. To educate up to the standard proposed, lectures in Pathology, Comparative Anatomy, the Diseases of Women and Children, and Hygiene are required, as well as instruction in Practical Pharmacy and Dispensing. The additional expenditure involved in this proposed enlargement of the course of study was estimated at from Rs. 20,000 (twenty thousand) to Rs. 25,000 (twenty-five thousand) per annum. In April 1885, the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor drew up a memorandum setting forth the benefits which have been conferred upon the Province by the Institution, and showing that in addition to an initial cost of Rs. 2,28,000 on the College and attached buildings the Government spends annually a sum of Rs. 57,173 on the salaries of the Professors and other matters, while the only contributions received from other sources consist of certain scholarships paid by Local Bodies and by some of the Native States. Sir Charles Aitchison, therefore, in view of the great benefits of the Institution, the demand for medical relief in towns and cities, and the growing requirements of sanitation in districts, invited all District Boards and Municipal Committees with annual revenues of Rs. 5,000 and upwards to contribute under Section 37 (2) of the Punjab District Boards Act, 1883, and Section 68 (2) of the Punjab Municipal Act, 1884, respectively, one-fifth, or if necessary one-fourth per cent. of their incomes towards the scheme. His Honor estimated that a minimum sum of Rs. 10,000 and a maximum of Rs. 12,500 would be thus forthcoming, and in that case he guaranteed to provide annually the remainder of the cost up to a total of Rs. 20,000 in the one case and Rs. 25,000 in the other from Provincial revenues.

One Principal and Professor of	... Medicine, Physiology and Botany.
One Professor of	... Chemistry, Materia Medica and Toxicology.
One Professor of	... Forensic Medicine and Midwifery.
One Professor of	... Anatomy and Surgery.

3. It affords the Lieutenant-Governor the greatest satisfaction to be able to record that at an early stage of the case it was evident from the ready response of many of the Local Bodies that there would be no difficulty in obtaining the required contributions. Sir Charles Aitchison was therefore able in November last to solicit the sanction of the Government of India to the entertainment of two additional Professors and an Apothecary at an annual additional cost for salaries alone of Rs. 20,400 (twenty thousand four hundred). The sanction of Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India has now been received to this proposal, and in future the professorial staff and course of study in the English Department of the College will be as follows:—

Staff.		To lecture on
1 Principal and Professor	...	Medicine, Diseases of Women and Children and Botany.
1 Professor	...	Forensic Medicine and Midwifery.
1 Professor	...	Surgery.
1 Professor	...	Chemistry, Materia Medica and Toxicology.
1 Professor	...	Anatomy and Comparative Anatomy.
1 Professor	...	Physiology and Pathology.

1 Apothecary to instruct in Practical Pharmacy and superintend Dispensing.

Until further orders the lectures on Forensic Medicine and Midwifery will be delivered by the Civil Surgeon of Lahore, as at present. Arrangements are under consideration for the delivery of lectures on Hygiene by the Sanitary Commissioner as a part of his ordinary duties.

4. The Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals will be directed to arrange, in communication with the Principal of the Medical College, for the introduction of the new course of study at the earliest possible date.

5. It now only remains for the Lieutenant-Governor to offer his cordial thanks to the Boards and Committees concerned for the alacrity displayed by them in supporting the scheme. The satisfaction felt by His Honor is shared also by the Supreme Government; for in submitting the scheme for the approval of Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India the Government of India observed as follows :—

"We notice with particular satisfaction that the appeal made by the Local Government to District Boards and Municipal Committees for contributions towards these arrangements has met with such a liberal and ready response. It appears to us in every way expedient and proper to encourage contributions on the part of Local Bodies towards schemes of this nature."

6. The amounts which the different Boards and Committees have consented to subscribe are noted in the annexed statements marked A. and B. Orders as to the manner in which the several sums should be recovered will be issued hereafter.

ORDER.—Ordered that the foregoing Resolution be published in the Punjab Gazette, and that a copy, together with the correspondence noted in the margin, be forwarded to the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals for information and guidance.

Proceedings Home (Medical and Sanitary), November 1885, Nos. 7 to 9 A.
Proceedings Home (Medical and Sanitary), January 1886, No. 4.
From Government of India, endorsement No. 105, dated 12th March 1886, and enclosures.

Ordered also that a copy of the Resolution be forwarded to all Commissioners of Divisions, with a request that they will supply a copy to each Board and Committee that has contributed to the scheme.

Ordered also that a copy of the Resolution be furnished to the Accountant-General.

By order of the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor,

W. M. YOUNG,

Secretary to Government, Punjab.

Also Resolution No. 27, dated 15th March 1866.

THE Government Resolution, No. 27, dated 15th March 1886, dealt with the general financial condition of the Punjab University from an accounts point of view, leaving for further consideration the obligations of the University, moral or legal, arising out of any engagements, either express or implied, which the Punjab University College had, or was supposed to have, entered into with respect to Oriental learning and the application of trust Funds, and any such obligations contracted since the University was constituted.

2. Inquiry into these matters was rendered necessary by the fact that repeated statements had been made, both within and without the University, that the Funds generally are being applied in a manner inconsistent with the principles on which the University was founded, and on the faith of which the Funds were subscribed; and more particularly that the wishes of the original founders and donors in regard to the encouragement of Oriental learning and the management of the Oriental College have not been fulfilled. These statements have been so confidently made that Government has been compelled in the exercise of its powers and the discharge of its duties, under Section 19 of the University Act, to order a thorough inquiry into the whole matter. The letters noted in the margin, addressed to the Registrar, called for information necessary to form a judgment on the subject. It cannot be said that the information supplied by the Senate is as full or satisfactory as it was the object of these letters to elicit. The letter of 21st February and No. 38 of 19th March calling for certified copies of correspondence relating to the trusts and for statements of the trusts discharged from separate investments and the consolidated fund respectively have not been replied to. But it is to be presumed that, on other points, all the information in the possession of the University, and of the Anjuman-i-Punjab with which Society the University placed itself in communication, has been furnished. The Lieutenant-Governor has endeavoured, though with only partial success, to obtain further information by direct reference to Dr. Leitner, the Anjuman Society and the Registrar of the University; he has also supplemented the materials with such information as could be obtained from the Government records. Every means having thus been tried to render the information as complete as possible, the Lieutenant-Governor will now endeavour, to the best of his power, to come to an impartial judgment on th whole case.

No. 26½ dated, 21st February 1885.

3. The question naturally divides itself into three sections:

1st,—The general principles on which the University was founded, as regulating the application of the general funds, that is to say, funds which have been subscribed without any express direction by the donors as to the precise objects to which the money was to be devoted;

2nd,—The relations of the University to the Oriental College and School;

3rd,—The management of specific trusts.

For the understanding of each of these questions a somewhat minute and tedious historical review is necessary; but the labour bestowed in sifting the confused materials, or in perusing the results arrived at, will not have been thrown away if some popular misconceptions are thereby removed, if public confidence in the management of the affairs of the University is confirmed, and if a ready standard is provided by which the obligations of the University and the manner in which they are from time to time discharged by the Senate can be tested. It is with the earnest hope that such results may, to some extent at least, be secured, and with a sincere desire to ascertain the truth and the truth only, that the Lieutenant-Governor has approached the investigation of these questions. If any Fellow of the University wishes to investigate the matter independently for himself, by reference to any of the unpublished papers, the Lieutenant-Governor will be most happy to afford him the means of doing so.

4. The three questions referred to above will be dealt with in three separate resolutions. This resolution deals with the first of them, viz., the general principles on which the University was founded, as regulating the application of funds which have been subscribed without any express direction by the donors as to the precise objects to which the money was to be devoted.

5. In 1865, in accordance with the orders of Sir Donald McLeod, Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab, the Director of Public Instruction was addressed* on the subject of the creation and extension of a Vernacular Literature, with special reference to the facilities afforded by the extension of English Education for transfusing into the languages of the country the knowledge, literature and science of the West. The Director of Public Instruction was requested to submit such suggestions as might occur to him after communicating with others interested in such subjects and capable of advising. His Honour's letter was immediately taken up with great keenness and intelligence by the Anjumans or Literary Societies of Lahore and Amritsar, who, under the guidance of Dr. Leitner, greatly enlarged on the suggestions made by the Lieutenant-Governor † and proposed that an institution to be called the "Oriental University" should be established at Lahore, for the special encouragement of the study of Oriental languages and learning and the formation of a vernacular literature. The suggestion appears to have been first thrown out in an address by Dr. Leitner to the native gentlemen of Lahore at a Special Meeting of the Anjuman ‡ held in August 1865. At a subsequent meeting held on 11th September 1865 a rough draft ‡ of a Scheme for an Oriental University was submitted by Dr. Leitner, and approved, subject to the sanction and support of Government, as the most practical, and for its vastness the most economical manner in which the Lieutenant-Governor's views could be carried into lasting effect. The scheme was further elaborated in a second paper* prepared by Dr. Leitner for the consideration of the native gentlemen of Lahore and Amritsar and approved by them.

6. On 27th September 1865 a European Committee of support was formed* and it was resolved that this Committee should meet the Committee of Native Gentlemen to discuss with them the best means for obtaining funds, the arrangements proposed by the University Committee for placing the Scheme before the Lieutenant-Governor with the view of ascertaining how far Government would be prepared to countenance it, and the best means by which the "Committee of Support" could assist in carrying out the objects of the University Committee. The meeting, which was largely attended by the Native gentry, took place on 30th September 1865, and it was resolved that the Committee of Support should be requested to aid the scheme by advice, subscriptions and a special recommendation to the notice of His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor, which the European Committee in question gladly consented to do. Accordingly a deputation from the Committee of Support waited on, the Lieutenant-Governor on 13th October 1865, who communicated his views which were recorded in a memorandum* of the above date.

7. Subsequently an address from the native gentlemen of Lahore and Amritsar was presented to the Lieutenant-Governor, who replied at considerable length on the 2nd February 1866. Although these documents* contribute nothing that is new to the principles on which the University Movement was proceeding, they are interesting historical papers and show that at this time the Lieutenant-Governor considered the project to be as yet by no means complete and practical in itself. He was of opinion that the scheme required to be developed with care, deliberation and caution, that it was a serious and great work which was not to be accomplished merely by evincing enthusiasm and exciting it in others, and that, until arrangements had become more matured, it would be premature for him to discuss some of the measures which were urged.

8. In August 1866,† the Lieutenant-Governor asked the Government of India to allow Major Lees of the Madrassa College of Calcutta to come to Lahore to advise as to the form which the University project should take. Major Lees came accordingly, and in October‡ a general meeting of the promoters of the scheme was held in the Lawrence Hall at which a paper was read setting forth in much detail the revised views and expectations of the University Committee. After discussion of these details it was resolved that the paper in question, after certain amendments which were agreed upon, should be submitted in due form for the consideration and orders of Government. The Lieutenant-Governor proposed therefore awaiting the submission of this document before taking further action in the matter. Sir Charles Aitchison has failed to find any authoritative record of the proceedings of this meeting, nor can he find that the University Committee ever submitted the paper with emendations for the consideration of Government. But among the "Documents§ submitted by the Anjuman-i-Punjab to the Senate of the Punjab University in reply to certain inquiries made by the Punjab Government connected with the history of the Punjab University Movement" there is a memorandum which purports to have been drawn up at the request of His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor and to express the results of a meeting held at the Lawrence Hall on Monday, the 22nd October 1866, at which His Honour presided. The scheme of the Punjab University College as eventually sanctioned bears very little resemblance to the project set forth in that memorandum; but if, as is probable, the memorandum is the one which the Lieutenant-Governor expected to be eventually submitted for his consideration, it may be useful to note that the framers of it, after combating the idea that the object of the University was only to revive what was old, erroneous and useless, and to despise and discard whatever was modern or European, thus succinctly state the intended general relations of the proposed University to Oriental and English studies respectively :—

"In short, our desire is to avoid on the one hand the error of ultra Orientalism and ultra-Englishism on the other. We will not force our students to acquire the English language before they can acquaint themselves with the principles of science, but we will teach them through their own language; at the same time we give free scope to the encouragement of the study of English. The Committee do indeed remember that the man who knows English possesses a key to stores of valuable literature which translation will never be able fully to lay open, but still they would not compel their students to a system which would make English everything and their own languages nothing, especially as we cannot hope to work the masses through the medium of English. A cardinal principle of the Committee is that there should be encouragement everywhere and restriction nowhere.

"Does the student desire Sanskrit learning? He will find it provided for, and he will be taught it on the best principles,—comparatively and critically. Does he wish to devote himself to English more particularly? He can do so at his pleasure. If his taste lies in the direction of natural science, or of mathematics, he can follow it to the utmost."

And in further proceeding to explain the practical application of their principles, with reference especially to the functions of the University as a teaching body to be represented by a "Lahore and Amritsar College," the framers of the memorandum observed :—

"It is impossible and indeed unnecessary in a paper like this which is a memorandum 'de principiis' to enter into a full detail of hours of instruction, of books and of a definite curriculum. Such matters would be arranged in detail by the governing body. Suffice it here to say that the prominent subjects of instruction will be—

English Language and Literature.
Sanskrit do. do.
Persian do. do.
Arabic do. do.
Natural Sciences.
Mathematics.
Law.

The languages of Urdu, Hindi and Gurmukhi will also form part of the course of tuition for those who desire them."

They also stated that they were busy preparing for circulation appeals to the people and appointing Local Committees all over the country to collect subscriptions, and they asked for the countenance and help of Government without which they could not carry out their scheme.

9. The next step of importance, so far as the Lieutenant-Governor has been able to trace the history of the Movement, was a public announcement* of the "objects and principles of the proposed Lahore University" under the signature of the members of the European Committee of Support, and a public appeal to those who concurred in the scheme for donations and subscriptions. The Committee was at this time composed as shown in the margin. This appeal was made on 29th March 1867 and appears to have been the first if not the only occasion on which an appeal for support was published accompanied by a clear and categorical announcement to the public of the objects and principles in view. The constitution of the Committee was such as necessarily to inspire public confidence; and that the principles announced had the concurrence of all who had hitherto taken part in the Movement is to be inferred, not only from the fact that no objection was ever taken to them by any one or in any quarter, but that the announcement was signed by the Secretary to the Native Committee, and that credit was taken for all the donations and subscriptions received and promised up to date as having been received and promised for the object contemplated. The relations of the proposed University to Oriental and English studies respectively are practically the same as those set forth in the memorandum above referred to, as the marginal extracts* will show. But it is important to note that the term "Oriental University" had by this time been abandoned, and "Lahore University" substituted. The reason for this was afterwards fully explained by Sir Donald McLeod in his inaugural address† of 11th January 1870 at the first meeting of the Senate of the Punjab University College. The object was to remove all ambiguity as to the distinct intention of the University to promote the enlightened study of the English language and literature as well as Oriental learning. The donations and subscriptions given and promised up to 29th March 1867 were stated to be Rs. 38,547, of which about half were paid up. The Lieutenant-Governor has inspected the "Account Book of University, Punjab, from May 1866," from which, and from the earlier accounts which were kept in vernacular, it appears that the donations and annual subscriptions, together with small miscellaneous receipts actually paid up to 31st March 1867, were Rs. 17,221-4-8. Against this, however, there had been an expenditure of Rs. 6,421-5-7, chiefly on account of a College and Anglo-vernacular School opened by the Anjuman in Lahore, and afterwards closed under circumstances which will be explained in the Resolution dealing with the Oriental College. The actual sum at credit of the funds therefore on 31st March 1867, which is all that could at that time have been limited by preceding conditions, express or implied, was Rs. 10,799-15-1, and in this was included a debt of Rs. 581-7-3 due by the Anjuman which was never repaid.

* "It may be stated that although the movement to which the University owes its origin has specially been termed 'Oriental,' yet that by the use of the term no revival of the old warfare between the 'Orientalists' and 'Anglicists' is signified. While the revival of Eastern learning and the creation of a good vernacular literature will be the primary object of the University, yet English will be still considered as the natural complement of education and of the highest value to the native student whose mind has been thoroughly disciplined by a study of his national classics.

"The advantages of English are so great, as the language of the ruling class, and as a vehicle for the direct communication of modern European thought and science, that it would not only be impolitic and foolish, but fatal to the success of the new University, to attempt to oppose it or limit its influence. It may, moreover, be added that the natives of India have so keen an appreciation of the advantages they gain from a knowledge of English that there is no fear of its study being neglected."

† "The use of the term 'Oriental' did not commend itself to my judgment, as I deemed it certain that without a large infusion of European literature and science with the studies to be promoted by the establishment of the proposed institution, the object in view could not possibly be obtained, and after some discussion that designation was given up."

10. Hitherto the Movement had not shown sufficient vitality to induce the Lieutenant-Governor to ask for the support of the Government of India to the project. Referring to this period in the history of the Movement, Sir Donald McLeod wrote in a minute ‡ dated 14th March 1868—

‡ See Appendix III.

"When the proceedings of the above Committee were formally drawn up, and at all subsequent periods, I have avowed my conviction that a movement of the kind could not possibly succeed without the countenance and support of the Supreme Government and the legislative authorisation which it alone can give; and further that Government would certainly not grant such support unless we could show that we had at least a reasonable prospect of being able to meet the cost of the proposed institution, and to place it on a really sound and efficient basis. I accordingly waited to see whether a sufficient fund could be collected to afford the assurance required before making any representation on the subject to Government. But in spite of all efforts, funds were obtained only to an amount altogether inadequate, and of these a large portion was expended on schools before any foundation for a University had been laid."

The fact indeed that the money collected, instead of being husbanded until a University could be properly organised, was being frittered away without properly constituted and recognised authority on schools and local institutions at Lahore had created much dissatisfaction and was, as will be seen below, the main reason why the Ruling Chiefs of the Punjab had generally held aloof from the Movement.

11. The Movement, however, received a fresh and strong impetus towards the close of 1867. In August of that year the British India Association of the North West Provinces had memorialised the Government of India, praying that greater facilities might be afforded for education through the medium of the vernacular languages, and had, among other measures, suggested the establishment of a separate vernacular University for the North West Provinces. Their memorial, together with the views of the Supreme Government thereon, which were adverse to the establishment of a vernacular University, was sent for the information of the Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab, who invited* from the Education Department, from selected officers of Government and from the Anjumans of Lahore and Delhi, such opinions and suggestions as the correspondence might serve to elicit. In the meantime, as the Lieutenant-Governor considered that matters had now assumed a favourable phase for establishing a University of some kind, the representatives of the Native Chiefs in attendance on His Honour were assembled at a private meeting† at which the Secretary to Government explained to them the state of matters, and intimated that if their masters took an interest in the subject, as was understood to be the case, the present was the time to afford practical proof of it. At that meeting the representatives of the Native Chiefs, one and all, stated that their masters would most heartily respond to any call for the purpose, provided a guarantee were given that the money would be devoted solely to the purpose for which it was subscribed, and that the want of such an assurance had been the main reason why their Chiefs had hitherto abstained from supporting the University Movement. The first result of that meeting was the munificent donation‡ of Rs. 62,500 by the Maháraja of Kashmír on 14th January, and Rs. 10,000 by the Rája of Kapurthala on 7th February (paid in March) 1868. The money was at once paid by Government into the Bank of Bengal for investment, and was ordered to be kept distinct from the funds of the University, and not incorporated with any other project, or made actually available for expenditure till a proper scheme should be matured. The Chief of Patiála also intimated his intention to invest Rs. 25,000 and the Chiefs of Jínd and Nábha Rs. 11,000 each and to pay the interest annually on certain conditions.§ These latter sums, however, were not paid till the Punjab University College had become an accomplished fact and were then paid unconditionally.

‡ Appendix II. The contribution was a lakh of Srinagar rupees, which at the exchange of the day was equal to Rs. 62,300. But, as throughout the later correspondence the sum is stated to be Rs. 62,500, it is convenient to quote that figure.

§ Appendix IX.

12. In the meantime replies to the Government Circular had been received from all consulted, except the Anjuman of Lahore, who had not yet answered. The Lieutenant-Governor therefore deemed it desirable and necessary to assemble as many as possible of those interested in the question of assigning to Oriental languages their proper place in our educational system with a view to laying before them the course he proposed to follow, and ascertaining from them how far he could count on their support. The meeting‖ was held in the Lawrence Hall on 12th March 1868. At this meeting it was proposed that the University should take up the education of students where the Government Colleges leave it. The proposal was not acted on partly perhaps because the Delhi people had protested against a scheme that would preclude their College from teaching to the highest standard. The incident, however, is worthy of remark as evidence of the kind of education contemplated at the time by the establishment of a University. From what transpired at the meeting the proceedings appear in some quarters to have been confounded with those of the Oriental University Committee. The Lieutenant-Governor therefore found it necessary* on 14th March 1868 to record a memorandum explaining that it was not so, and setting forth the objects he had in view in calling the meeting. This, with a précis of the proceedings, was sent† to some of the leading gentlemen who had attended, and another meeting was held on 23rd March, at which resolutions‡ explaining more definitely the relations of the University to the Vernacular languages and to English were adopted.

‖ Appendix III.

* Appendix IV.

† Demi-official from the Secretary, Mr. Thornton, to Sir Donald McLeod, dated 16th March 1868.

‡ (1).—That education be conveyed as far as possible through the medium of the Vernacular.

(2).—That, while the highest honours of the University be reserved for those who attain the highest form of education, which, it is admitted, can only at present be attained by those possessing a thorough knowledge of English, the University shall also recognise and honour literary merit and learning in the case of those unacquainted with the English language.

13. The Anjuman of Lahore replied to the Government Circular on 18th March 1868. They recapitulated what had been done through their exertions towards the establishment of a University in the Punjab, declared that they could not embrace the proposal of the British India Association of the North Western Provinces, which was one-sided, and declared their firm adherence to the principles they had hitherto advocated, as described in their original programme for a University in 1865, and the statement of objects and principles published by the European Committee of Support on 29th March 1867. This reply is of importance chiefly as showing the complete concurrence of the Anjuman in March 1868 with the principles circulated by the European Committee in March 1867, for the support of which principles that Committee had appealed for subscriptions. In accordance with the views of the Lieutenant-Governor as expressed in his minute of 14th March, above referred to, the replies to the Government Circular were printed, and measures were taken for informing all interested. These papers, with a draft letter to the Government of India based upon them, were then considered at a large public meeting held on 25th May 1868, presided over by the Lieutenant-Governor, and attended by the representatives of several of the Punjab Chiefs and a large majority of those who were eventually gazetted as the founders of the Punjab University College. At this meeting, which was in every respect thoroughly representative,§ the draft letter to the Government of India was considered and approved‖ subject to certain amendments, of which the more important were that power should be given to the governing body to expend funds in increasing the resources of the existing Government Colleges, and that provision should be made for duly recognizing and honouring proficiency in English though uncombined with proficiency in Arabic or Sanskrit. This letter, therefore, No. 235, dated 27th May 1868, constitutes the declaration of generally accepted principles on which the establishment of a University was proposed to the Government of India, to which all previous statements, whether of individual or collective opinion, stand in the relation of preliminary discussion.

§ The original founders of whom a list is given in the Punjab University College Calendar for 1874-75 were 24 in number, of whom 17 were Native gentlemen and 7 Europeans. Of these founders, 14, of whom 11 were Native gentlemen and 3 Europeans, attended this meeting.

‖ Appendix V.

14. It is both convenient and important therefore to consider how matters stood in relation to contributions and subscriptions at this date, and what were the principles accepted both as respects English and Oriental learning.

15. According to the Schedule attached to the Government letter of 27th May 1868, the entire sum realized in the shape of donations and annual subscriptions was Rs. 98,794.¶ In this sum, however, were included the munificent gifts of Rs. 62,500 paid on 14th January 1868 by Kashmir, and Rs. 10,000 on 7th February 1868 by Kapurthala. These sums, as already shown, were not received in answer to any appeal by the Anjuman, or by the University Committee, or by the European Committee of Support, but as a response to explanations given at a meeting of the representatives of Native States summoned by the Secretary to Government under the instructions of the Lieutenant-Governor. This money had been immediately invested by Government and kept distinct from all other funds until a general scheme could be formulated. It stands therefore on a footing of its own and is absolutely independent of any schemes or views propounded in other quarters. The remaining funds actually realized amounted only to Rs. 26,294,* of which, however, Rs. 12,589 had been already spent chiefly on local schools, leaving only Rs. 13,705 in hand.† If the details of the Schedule be analysed and compared with the lists of persons who attended the public meetings that ended in the acceptance of the letter of 27th May 1868, it will be found that Rs. 11,942‡ consisted of sums paid by European gentlemen, by Native gentlemen who were present at the public meetings, and Rs. 14,352§ by Native gentlemen who were not present at the meetings. Deducting from each a rateable share of the money spent, the sums making up the balance of Rs. 13,705 in hand would be Rs. 6,368 and Rs. 7,337 respectively. It is therefore only in respect to the sum of Rs. 7,337 that it is possible for any one to raise any question whether the principles laid down in the proposals submitted to the Supreme Government for sanction were inconsistent with the conditions on which the money was given. Considering then that the impossibility of establishing a University without the aid and sanction of Government was recognized from the very beginning, and it was therefore necessary to frame a scheme which Government could accept; that the proposals to be brought forward at the meeting of 25th May 1868 were publicly announced and were well known; that the meeting as already shown was a thoroughly representative one; that none of the four absent donors of large sums ever at any time afterwards objected to the conclusions arrived at as inconsistent with their views; and that the contributors of the smaller sums must, as in all cases of subscriptions to inchoate schemes, be held as subscribing subject to arrangements to be made at a general meeting; it cannot, in the Lieutenant-Governor's opinion, be for a moment seriously maintained that the scheme propounded in the letter of the 27th May did not satisfy the wishes of every one who had subscribed up to date, or contained anything inconsistent with the conditions on which a single rupee had been subscribed. Here, therefore, we have the first solid foundation stone of the University, to which all subsequent discussion may be reduced, and the authoritative exposition by which the views and wishes of the founders and donors of money up to that date may be tested. In respect to these and all future contributions, therefore, reference to antecedent schemes, discussions or views may be set aside as irrelevant and as mere darkening of counsel by words without knowledge.

16. For facility of reference the letter of 27th May 1868 is appended ‖ to this Resolution. It stated that a strong desire existed on the part of a large number of the Chiefs, nobles and educated classes of this Province for the establishment of a system of education which should give greater encouragement to the communication of knowledge through the medium of the vernacular, to the development of a vernacular literature, and to the study of Oriental Classics, than was afforded by the existing system; that the system of the Calcutta University was not adapted to the educational requirements of the Punjab, inasmuch as it did not give a sufficiently prominent position to Oriental studies and regarded English too exclusively as the channel through which instruction must be conveyed; and that, if Government would approve a separate University for the Punjab and sanction an annual grant-in-aid of Rs. 21,000,* it was proposed, with the concurrence of the Anjumans or Native Literary Societies of Lahore and Amritsar which had been from the first the zealous promoters and supporters of the movement, and of the Chiefs who had so munificently contributed, and of the principal officers of the Educational Department, that the plan and constitution of the University should be as set forth in the letter. The special objects of the proposed University were to afford encouragement to the enlightened study of Oriental languages and literature, the improvement and extension of the vernacular literature of the Punjab and its Dependencies, and the diffusion of Western knowledge through the medium of the vernaculars. The principal measures proposed for the attainment of these objects were the following :—

* Equal to interest of Rs. 8,000 on the expected endowment fund, and Rs. 13,000 promised in annual subscriptions.

The establishment of Fellowships and Scholarships tenable by persons undertaking to devote themselves to the pursuit of Literature and Science.

The bestowal of rewards for good vernacular translations of and compilations from European standard works, for original treatises in Oriental languages on subjects of importance, and for works or compositions distinguished by excellence of style.

The establishment of a Collegiate Department in connection with the University or the grant of pecuniary assistance to other colleges conducted on a system conformable with the principles of the University.†

As regards English and Oriental studies, respectively, the chief provisions in the plan and constitution of the University were the following :—

(a). "In regulations made for the conduct of examinations, or the conveyance of instruction, it shall be provided that the examinations be conducted and instruction conveyed, as far as possible, in and through the vernacular.

(c). "A thorough acquaintance with the vernacular shall be made a necessary condition for obtaining any degree, fellowship, or other honour, in addition to any other attainments which may be required.

(d). "Proficiency in Arabic or Sanskrit, or such other Oriental language as may be prescribed by the governing body, combined with a thorough acquaintance with English, shall be a necessary condition for obtaining the highest honours of the University, but provision shall be made for duly recognising and honouring proficiency in literature and science in the case of those unacquainted with English, provided such attainments are combined with a fair acquaintance with the more important subjects of European education, such as History, Geography, &c., so far as such acquaintance is obtainable through the medium of the vernacular; and for duly recognising and honouring proficiency in English unaccompanied by a knowledge of Arabic and Sanskrit."

It will be remembered that the main provisions of the last clause above quoted were specially introduced as the result of resolutions passed at the general meetings of 23rd March and 25th May 1868.

17. The Supreme Government considered‡ the general principles on which these proposals were based to be sound, and that the movement in the Punjab deserved the sympathy and substantial help of the Government of India. It agreed to

‡ To Government, Punjab, No. 558, dated 19th September 1868.

† It was explained in a note that the funds of the University would be inadequate at present to establish a Collegiate Department in connection with the University; but endeavours would be made to modify the system of education in the existing Government Colleges of Lahore and Delhi, so as to harmonize with the principles of the University.

the establishment of a teaching institution in the form of the extension and improvement of the Lahore Government College on the basis proposed, with a grant-in-aid of Rs. 21,000, but objected to the establishment of a University at Lahore with powers of examination, and suggested a University for the whole of Northern India and the Urdu and Hindi speaking districts of the Central Provinces.

The Lieutenant-Governor in replying* to this feared that the refusal of a University would, if insisted upon, practically bring to an end the educational movement which had sprung up amongst the leading members of the aristocracy and gentry of the Punjab. By far the greater part of the subscriptions and donations had been derived from the Native Chiefs having political relations with the Punjab Government, and it was certain, if matters should take a course which they approved, further assistance might be looked for. But, with exception of the Mahárája of Kashmir, the Rája of Kapurthala, and a few smaller contributors, the Chiefs had declined to make over the principal of the sums contributed by them, promising to invest them and make over the interest, thus indicating a resolve on their part to retain, in their own hands, the power of materially influencing the resolutions from time to time adopted. The Lieutenant-Governor ventured once more earnestly to solicit that, though the scheme might have defects, the wishes of the promoters as far as they had been accepted by the Punjab Government might be acceded to with such modifications, less fundamental than those involved in the Resolution of the Government of India, as might be deemed absolutely indispensable. Further correspondence ensued, and at last the Government of India† sanctioned the establishment of the proposed institution with certain modifications and on certain conditions, on which conditions also the sanction was confirmed by the Secretary of State.‡ The governing body was to be a Senate with power to grant fellowships and scholarships and certificates of proficiency, but not to grant degrees, and the institution was not to be called a "University" but a "University College" to mark the fact that the arrangement was temporary and intended only as preliminary to the possible establishment, at some future time, of a University for the Punjab. Among the conditions on which this sanction was accorded were the following :—

> "It is also understood that the study of English shall not only form one of the most prominent features of the teaching in any of the schools or colleges which may be connected with the proposed institution, but that both teaching and examinations in subjects which cannot with advantage be carried on in the vernacular shall be conducted in English."

> "Lastly, the Lieutenant-Governor is understood to undertake that, although certain subjects may, and will, be taught in the vernacular, nothing should be taught which should interfere with instruction in sound principles of mental and physical science; that is to say, that the teaching which is to be afforded through the medium of the vernacular languages shall be free from the patent errors which prevail in ancient and even in modern vernacular literary and scientific works. That, in short, the educational course adopted shall be one calculated, as far as possible, to give instruction through the medium of the vernacular in European science and according to the modes of European thought; so that whilst Eastern languages shall, as much as possible, be made the medium of instruction, yet such control and supervision will be exercised as shall secure to the students all the advantages of teaching offered by Indian Universities."

18. This decision was communicated§ to the Director of Public Instruction, and to the Anjumans of Lahore, Amritsar, and Delhi, for such remarks as they might wish to offer. The President of the Anjuman-i-Punjab and Secretary to the English and Native University Committees wrote‖ to the Secretary, Punjab Government, deprecating the refusal of the Government of India to grant the proposed institution the status of a University. He discussed in detail the objections that had been raised to the immediate establishment of a University, expressed the gratitude of the nobility and gentry of Lahore and Amritsar for such concessions to their aspirations as had been made, but intimated that these gentlemen with the other supporters of the University scheme were altogether disappointed by its postponement or possibly its final collapse; that the object for which the Mahárájas, Rájas, Chiefs and people of the Punjab had subscribed so largely, and to which they had devoted so much time and thought, was the creation of a University, and they would be unwilling that the money thus subscribed should be diverted to any other scheme however admirable; and most respectfully requested His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor to obtain for them the concession at least of the name of a University, and the power of granting Oriental degrees and titles of honour. In reply to this letter the Lieutenant-Governor expressed* his sympathy with the views that had been set forth, but stated that it would be undesirable and disrespectful to make a further remonstrance against a decision which had been arrived at by His Excellency the Governor-General in Council after the most careful consideration. With reference to the entire unwillingness on the part of the Government of India generally to identify itself so completely with a project wholly new, and as yet quite untried, as to raise to the highest dignity among educational institutions a body which was to be constituted on principles differing greatly from those which had been heretofore accepted, he informed the members of the Anjuman that he had intimated to the Government of India his own willingness that this portion of the project should, for the present, be waived, provided the popular element, which he had ever regarded as a most essential part of the scheme, were retained; and to this the Supreme Government had assented. It was His Honour's intention, if the promoters would permit him, to employ the Senate to the fullest possible extent in the spirit of the concessions made by the Government of India; and he felt a firm conviction that, if it would show by its conduct that its aims were genuine and that it was worthy of confidence, no long time would elapse before further concessions were made and the wishes of the promoters were fully realized. In the meantime the Senate would, His Honour believed, be quite at liberty to grant native titles, such as Pandit, Maulvi, &c., and instruction in English need not be a sine quâ non, provided the instruction given were of an enlightened character. And finally the Lieutenant-Governor hoped that the members of the Anjuman, and all who had taken a prominent part in the movement, would waive for the present the objections which had been raised, and consent to the proposed arrangement being allowed a fair trial. To this letter the President of the Anjuman-i-Punjab and Secretary of the Native and European University Committees, who wrote also on behalf of the Society at Amritsar, replied† expressing the desire of the Chiefs and gentlemen of Lahore and Amritsar to give their best assistance and support to the proposed scheme, and their unanimous wish that it should have a fair trial, feeling confident that the time was not far distant when the Supreme Government would see fit to fulfil its conditional promise of establishing in the Punjab a University in its full and complete acceptation. " I am further desired to say, " continued the President, " that, with the power of granting Eastern titles of honour for proficiency in Oriental studies, with the study of English left optional as long as the teaching is of an enlightened character, and with a Senate including a popular element, the main objects desired by the Anjuman-i-Punjab will have been attained."

§ Circular No. 228-231, dated 28th May 1869.

‖ Dated 9th July 1869.

* No. 299, dated 16th July 1869.

† Dated 31st July 1869.

19. The Punjab University College was accordingly established by Notification No. 472, dated 8th December 1869, with which were published the statutes‡ of the institution. These statutes are framed closely upon, and to a great extent embody the actual language of, the plan and constitution of the proposed University as set forth in the letter of 27th May 1868. So far as regards English and Oriental studies respectively, there is no material difference between the plan of the University as sketched and the statutes of the institution as established. It is, however, distinctly laid down that the study of English shall form one of the most prominent features of the teaching in all the schools or colleges connected with the institution.

The collections received between 27th May 1868 and 11th January 1870, —the date of the Inaugural Meeting of Senate,—amounted to Rs. 7,538, of which Rs. 1,903 had been spent, leaving Rs. 5,635 in hand. This, together with the Rs. 13,705 in hand on 27th May 1868, made a total nett cash balance of Rs. 19,340 at credit of the University Committee. This was now transferred to the Official Trustee, to whom the Punjab Government also transferred the Kashmir and Kapurthala endowments.

The donations promised up to 11th January 1870 but not paid amounted to Rs. 81,936.* Of this sum Rs. 72,000 had, as already noted in paragraph 11, been promised by the Chiefs of Patiála, Jínd and Nábha, but withheld pending the disposal of certain stipulations urged by them. After the opening of the Punjab University College, however, on the basis set forth in the statutes, these Chiefs paid up Rs. 79,000 as their contributions (Patiála with interest) unconditionally;† making, with the Kashmir and Kapurthala donations previously paid a total sum of Rs. 1,51,500.‡

The Cis-Sutlej Chiefs also contributed large sums in commemoration of His Royal Highness the Duke of Edinburgh's visit to Lahore at this time. These contributions, however, were for special purposes and constitute special trusts. A sum of Rs. 10,000 contributed by the Nawáb of Baháwalpur for the same purpose, but unconditionally, appears to have been afterwards, in communication between the Senate and the Nawáb, converted into a special trust for Arabic scholarships. These sums therefore do not fall within the scope of the present resolution.

20. Having thus traced the history of the large donations from the Chiefs of the Punjab to the general fund, and given the documents relating to them, the Lieutenant-Governor considers it quite unnecessary to burden this already lengthy resolution with details regarding smaller donations or contributions. This is the less necessary, as the questions that still remain and require detailed treatment arise not in connection with the general fund, but either with the Oriental College or with special trusts, both of which subjects will be separately considered.

The general principles laid down in the Statutes of the Punjab University College of course govern all general funds subsequently contributed. In these statutes there was no material change till Act XIX of 1882 was passed, and the Punjab University was established under its provisions on 14th October 1882. From that date all money contributed to the general fund comes under the general conditions of the University as set forth in the Act, and in such statutes, rules, and regulations as may from time to time be framed under its provisions. It certainly cannot be asserted that in the provisions of this Act the interests of Oriental education have been ignored. The Oriental Faculty is constituted the Senior Faculty; the stipulation that English shall form one of the most prominent subjects of study in every school or college connected with the University has been abandoned; and it is now possible for a man unacquainted with English to obtain the highest honours of the University.

The funds held by the Punjab University College at the date of the institution of the Punjab University are governed by Section 3 of the Act.* So far, however, as the general funds as distinguished from special trusts are concerned, the conditions in Section 3 of the Act can at the present date apply only to the capital or invested account. The amount of that account† when the University was constituted, was approximately Rs. 1,96,875, of which Rs. 1,51,500 had been contributed by five ruling chiefs and Rs. 45,375 by others. The Lieutenant-Governor considers therefore that this sum or the proceeds thereof cannot be applied by the University to any objects not embraced in the statutes of the Punjab University College, even though they may be within the scope of the University as established under the Act.

* "All the property, moveable and immoveable, held at the date at which the University comes into existence by or in trust for the Punjab University College, shall on that date become the property of the University to be administered by it for the purposes of the University, subject to all existing trusts as to the manner in which and the purposes to which that property or any part thereof is to be applied."

The distribution of the Invested account between the general fund and special trusts may be subject to some petty adjustments when the detailed accounts, which were called for last year, are received. The distribution now given may however for all practical purpose be taken to be correct.

21. In the preceding paragraphs the Lieutenant-Governor has endeavoured, by a plain historical narrative and reference when necessary to essential documents, to set forth what he believes to be the true obligations of the University in respect to the application of its general funds to the encouragement of European and Oriental studies. So far as concerns European studies the Lieutenant-Governor is not aware of a single instance in which the general fund has been applied to any purpose to which it was not properly and legitimately applicable under the statutes of the College. If the University has erred, it has been, in the Lieutenant-Governor's opinion, not by favouring English at the expense of Oriental learning, but rather by that ultra-Orientalism which the promoters at the outset hastened to disavow as one of their objects. At a very early stage‡ in the life of the Punjab University College the Government had to remonstrate with the Senate against the inadequate provision made in the Oriental College for instruction in European science, and to impress on it the necessity for taking measures to afford some guarantee that the study of European science should have its due place. The remonstrance produced no practical result, and even to this day, as pointed out in paragraph 13 of the Resolution No. 27, dated 15th March 1886, on the finances of the University, the provision made for the cultivation of European learning remains utterly inadequate. Indeed, the encouragement now given to English studies falls much below what it was a few years ago. On the other hand, it has been shown in the same Resolution that the expenditure on the Oriental Department (exclusive of Oriental Examinations and a share of the cost of the Law School) is equal to the entire income derived from subscriptions, interest on funded capital, the balance of fees from all sources (after defraying the cost of the Law School and of examinations), the special grants made by Government for the Arabic and Sanskrit Professors and miscellaneous receipts of all kinds, and absorbs, over and above all this, more than 26 per cent. of the ordinary Government grant of Rs. 21,500 per annum.

‡ To Registrar, No. 534, dated 23rd September 1870.

22. The statistics submitted with the Registrar's letter No. 12, dated 6th January 1886, are of themselves sufficient to show how unfounded are the representations that the recent policy of the Punjab University has changed from one of encouragement to discouragement of Oriental studies. These papers show that not only has the hope of assistance to the Professorial Staff of existing Colleges which formed an important element in the original scheme of a University never been fulfilled, but that the direct encouragement to high English studies in the shape of scholarships, which with a few medals and prizes is the only form in which the University has given any encouragement to English at all, is now not more than half what it was fifteen years ago.

The sum assigned for this purpose in 1870 was Rs. 4,706. In 1871 the grant was Rs. 6,905 and in 1872 Rs. 7,804—the largest amount that was ever expended on this object. In 1874 the assignment fell to Rs. 5,569 and has never since amounted to Rs. 6,000. With one exception, however, it never fell below Rs. 5,000 until 1882, the year in which the University was by law established, when it was reduced to Rs. 3,548. In 1885 the expenditure was Rs. 3,489, or about half that incurred on the same object in 1871. With the exception of a few medals and prizes and some endowed scholarships of trfling amount the administration of which has been entrusted to the University, the assignments above referred to represent the whole amount that has been contributed by the University towards expenditure incurred in affording to University students a high English education combined with a knowledge of Oriental classical languages.

In 1870, in October of which year the Oriental School was established, the expenditure on the Oriental side was Rs. 2,359. In the following year, independently of an expenditure of Rs. 1,750 for endowed Readerships and Scholarships, the expenditure on the Oriental side from the general funds was Rs. 10,013. In the same year the income from the subscriptions and interest available for the general purposes of the University was Rs. 20,313.* From 1871 up to the time of the incorporation of the University, and from that date to 1885, there was a steady increase of expenditure in the Oriental Department. In 1885 the total expenditure on the Oriental side from the general funds (exclusive of Oriental Examinations and a share of the Law School) amounted to Rs. 38,577.† In the same year the income derived from subscriptions and the interest of Government securities and investments available for the general purposes of the University was Rs. 15,844 ‡

As a matter of fact therefore we find that in 1871 the total expenditure on the Oriental Department (exclusive of examinations and the Law School) was little more than one-half the income derived from subscriptions and donations, and considerably less than one-half if we exclude from income and expenditure the amount given for special endowments. In 1885, on the other hand, the expenditure on the Oriental Department was not far short of double the income derived from subscriptions, and the interest of money invested; and considerably more than double if we exclude from income and expenditure the amount given for special endowments.

23. Nothing indeed has struck the Lieutenant-Governor more, in connection with this question, than the equally vague and reckless way in which it has been asserted that the wishes of the founders of the University have been systematically disregarded, and the general funds diverted from Oriental to English purposes, contrary to the wishes of the donors. No attempt is ever made to specify the improper purposes to which the general funds have been applied or the particular principles which have been violated.

Projects, and even mere statements of opinion, put forward tentatively or for discussion at the earlier stages of the University Movement, and received at the time with more or less acceptance, are treated as if they constituted conditions morally, if not even legally, binding throughout all future developments of the question. The comparatively small sum contributed before the basis of action was finally agreed upon and the dissatisfaction created by frittering away a considerable part of it on local schools under no properly constituted authority are not generally known. The unanimity with which the working basis was finally settled in public discussion is forgotten. The circumstances under which the large contributions were given by the Native Chiefs in political relation with the Punjab Government have never till now been made public. The fact is overlooked not only that the grant-in-aid given by Government is subject to express conditions, but that the sanction given to the establishment of the University College at all was a conditional sanction. Perhaps all this would not be of very much consequence were it not for the uneasy impression which the general accusations are calculated to beget that in some way or other the University has not held true to its principles. It is in order, if possible, to bring this vagueness and general assertion to the test of actual fact, that the Lieutenant-Governor has endeavoured in so much tedious detail to ascertain what are the real principles on which the University is founded, who were the original benefactors of the University, what was the amount of their contributions to the general fund, and what are the conditions to which those contributions are subject. And here he cannot refrain from repeating his conviction, after a patient study of the history of the University from all available sources, that, if there has been any departure from the original intention of the founders, the wishes of the principal benefactors, or the conditions on which the University was sanctioned, it has been rather by neglect to give high English education that prominence, side by side with Oriental Classics, which was insisted upon from the outset by the warmest promoters of the University Movement, by none more repeatedly or emphatically than Sir Donald McLeod himself. It has been by neglect to "guard* against recurrence to the practically useless system pursued heretofore in the purely Arabic and Sanskrit institutions of the country," and by failure to fulfil the condition, insisted on by the Government of India, that "the teaching to be afforded through the medium of vernacular languages shall be free from the patent errors which prevail in ancient and even in modern vernacular literary and scientific works." It is only by purging out all known error from its teaching, and by restoring English to the place, side by side with Oriental study, which it was originally destined to hold and which the promoters of the University Movement by special resolutions on 23rd March and 25th May 1868 determined it should hold, that the Punjab University can prove true to itself and can hope to enrich the vernacular languages and literature and open up through their medium to the people of India the rich mines of European thought and culture. That it will yet attain to its high ideal, the Lieutenant-Governor does not cease to hope in spite of the bitter and utterly profitless controversies which have of late impaired its usefulness.

* Sir D. McLeod's Minute of 10th February 1869, paragraph 9.

24. In another Resolution the Lieutenant-Governor will deal with the relations of the University to the Oriental College and School.

ORDERED that this Resolution be communicated to the Registrar of the Punjab University for submission to the Senate, in continuation of Resolution No. 27, dated 15th March 1886; also that it be published in the Punjab Gazette.

By order of the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor,

W. M. YOUNG,

Secretary to Government, Punjab.

APPENDIX I.

Memorandum by C. U AITCHISON, Esquire, Offg. Secretary to Government, Punjab, dated Lahore, 16th January 1868, on the Kashmir donation for Oriental Literature.

THE Maháràja of Kashmir has, through Díwán Nihál Chand, this day given the munificent donation of Chilki Rs. 1,00,000 = Government Rs. 62,300 for the propagation of literature and science through the Indian Vernaculars. The gift is the more handsome as it is fettered with no conditions. Most hearty acknowledgments should be returned to the Maháràja as early as possible.

Certainly; and I request he may be assured that I shall have great satisfaction in bringing to the notice of the Supreme Government, and, through it, that of the Home authorities, the princely liberality evinced by His Highness in this matter.

D. F. McLEOD.

Although His Highness the Maháràja has attached no conditions to his gift, it is necessary that I should place on record the circumstances which led to the princely donation and which involve conditions that I hope will always be borne in mind both by the Government and by those who may hereafter be entrusted with the expenditure of the money on the objects for which the Maháràja has given it.

The movement, which was begun at Lahore, for the establishment of an Oriental University, has not hitherto proved so successful as was anticipated. At the same time an effort which was made to induce the Calcutta University so far to modify their rules as to meet the requirements of the North Western Provinces and the Punjab with respect to Oriental Literature entirely failed; but the Calcutta University are understood to be ready to respond to a proposal for the establishment of a separate University, which it is suggested should be at Delhi, to meet the wants of Upper India.

As soon as we receive replies to our late Circular in connection with the Allygarh Society's address, I propose laying definite proposals before Supreme Government; and the occurrences on which this memorandum is based will immensely facilitate the attainment of a practical result.

D. F. McLEOD.

With the permission of the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor I assembled the representatives of the Native Chiefs in attendance on His Honor at a private meeting, explained to them the state of matters, and asked them to enlist the support of their respective Chiefs to an institution, either in the form of a College at Lahore or in connection with the proposed University at Delhi, for the propagation of Western Science and Literature through the medium of the Vernaculars. I suggested the establishment of two Professorships, one of Arabic, the other of Sanskrit, either at Lahore or Delhi, as might hereafter be determined, and the foundation of fellowships to be held only by students who had taken degrees in either or both the above classic languages and who should thereafter either travel in Europe or study at a European University under conditions to be attached to the fellowship. I also stated that, although I could give no

I am most grateful to the Secretary for the action he has taken in this matter, the result of which thus far sufficiently shows how well judged that action has been. All the proposals and conditions herein recorded by him are entirely in accordance with my own views as to the steps it will be best to take.

assurances, I had the strongest hope that the British Government would most liberally supplement any voluntary contributions that might be raised for such a purpose.

The Vakíls, one and all, assured me that their Chiefs would most heartily respond to any call for such a purpose, provided a guarantee were given that the money would be devoted solely to the purpose for which it was subscribed. I assured them that such certainly, so far as I could have any power to pledge the Government, would be the case, and that the funds subscribed would be considered as a sacred trust. The Vakíls stated that the want of such an assurance had been the main reason why their Chiefs had hitherto abstained from supporting the movement for the Oriental University, but that now they would write to their Chiefs, who, they felt sure, would all contribute to the extent of their ability.

This guarantee is most necessary, and may be freely given.

D. F. McLEOD.

The Mahárája of Kashmir's princely donation is the first instalment, and I hope will be not the only one. There is every reason to expect as much again from the other Chiefs in the Punjab. The Kashmir donation is now at the absolute disposal of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor for any purpose akin to that above described. No conditions are prescribed, nor is the Lieutenant-Governor fettered by any thing further than the general principle arising out of the circumstances which led to the contribution and the assurance which I gave to the Díwán.

I would suggest, therefore, that this contribution and the contributions that may be hereafter received as the result of the above interview with the Vakíls be kept in the Government Treasury as a separate deposit, to be styled the "Oriental Education Deposit," in the name of the Secretary to Government for the time being, and to be expended or invested hereafter as the Local Government may direct, when a suitable scheme for the propagation of Western Science through the Vernaculars is matured. The money must for the present, as indeed I gave the Vakíls to understand would be done, be kept distinct from the funds of the Oriental University and not be incorporated with any other scheme or made actually available for expenditure till a proper scheme is matured.

I think that all sums received should be at once invested in Government Promissory Notes bearing interest, these being lodged apart in the Lahore Treasury, as a combined fund for the promotion of Oriental Literature, Science and Education, not to be in any way touched until Trustees can be appointed for its management.

D. F. McLEOD.

The interest on the notes should for the present be made payable to the Secretary to Government, and I shall feel much obliged if he will take such steps as may appear to him best for having the money invested to the best advantage as received.

D. F. McLEOD.

I hope an amalgamation may hereafter be effected. But at present the funds must undoubtedly be kept entirely separate.

D. F. McLEOD.

TRANSLATION.

KIND AND HONOURED FRIEND,

After assuring you of the great pleasure that it would give me to see you, I wish to inform you that having learnt from the petition of the faithful Díwán Nihál Chand that you are devoting your attention to the promotion of a University founded for the diffusion of knowledge through the Vernacular (lit. the diffusion of native or Vernacular knowledge, &c.), I consider it a cause of gratitude and thankfulness towards our Gracious God that he has placed us beneath the shadow of so merciful and learned a ruler, whose attention is directed towards the promotion of science (through the) Vernacular. I therefore send a lakh of rupees of the mint of Srinagar, the current coin of this realm, in aid of the University. I hope that you will oblige me by accepting it; and that you will give me the great pleasure of hearing from you frequently.

Written this 3rd day of Mágh, Sambat 1924.

May Rám protect,

RANBIR SINGH.

Letter dated 18th January 1868.

From—C. U. AITCHISON, Esquire, Secretary to Government, Punjab,

To—His Highness Mahárája Ranbir Singh, Indar Mahindar, Bahádur, Grand Commander of the Most Exalted Order of the Star of India, Chief of Jummoo and Kashmir.

MY HONORED AND VALUED FRIEND,

THE receipt of your Highness' friendly letter of 3rd Mágh 1924 has given the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor sincere pleasure. The Lieutenant-Governor desires me to thank your Highness very cordially for your munificent donation of Chilkee Rs. 1,00,000 = Government Rs. 62,300, for the diffusion of literature and science through the medium of the Indian tongues. I am instructed to assure your Highness that the Lieutenant-Governor will have great satisfaction in bringing to the notice of the Supreme Government, and, through them, of Her Majesty's Government in England, the princely liberality evinced by your Highness in this matter.

The Lieutenant-Governor further directs me to inform your Highness that the assurances that I gave in conversation to Díwán Nihál Chand will be fully observed, and that the money will be devoted solely to the purpose for which your Highness has contributed it.

I beg to express the high consideration I entertain for your Highness, and to subscribe myself.

Your Highness' sincere friend,

C. U. AITCHISON.

LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR'S CAMP,
MAMDOT, FEROZEPORE DISTRICT,
24th January 1868.

MY DEAR RAJA SAHIB,

THE munificence of the Mahárája of Kashmir in granting one lakh of rupees of his own currency, equal to Rs. 62,300 of our money, for the diffusion of European science through the means of the Indian Vernaculars, induces me to write to you in the hope that you will not be backward in helping this movement with a subscription and the exertion of your personal influence with the other Chiefs and Nobles of the Punjab. The Mahárája's magnificent gift will be specially brought to the notice of the Supreme Government and also of Her Majesty's Government in England.

I am aware that there are special reasons which have kept both yourself and the other Punjab Chiefs hitherto from helping the movement for the establishment of an Oriental University. But these reasons no longer exist, and you may be assured that whatever pecuniary help you give will not be spent except in such a way as may be considered by Government best calculated to secure the object for which you grant it.

The Lieutenant-Governor has now under consideration a scheme for the establishment of a University. As yet the details have not been elaborated, as much must depend on the amount obtained by subscriptions and donations, which it is probable that the Government of India will supplement. Generally, however, the scheme is to establish a Professorship of Arabic and another of Sanskrit, either at Lahore or Delhi, as may hereafter be deemed most suitable, and to establish in connection with them fellowships to be held by native students who take degrees in either or both the above languages, and who will agree to continue their studies at some University in Europe and then communicate through Urdu the results of their studies by translations of European works or by original writings of their own. It is obvious that such a scheme cannot be carried out without a large capital, and the influential and powerful Chiefs are therefore looked to as those who can most readily help in a work so directly calculated to benefit the millions of India. The magnificent sum subscribed by the Mahárája of Kashmir has been lodged in the Bank of Bengal for investment, and the same will be done with other subscriptions until a suitable scheme with all its details is framed.

I sincerely hope that Your Highness, who has enjoyed the advantage of an English education, will cordially assist the scheme and do what lies in your power to get other Chiefs to join.

I leave for England on 22nd February, and as I take great personal interest in the scheme it would be a great gratification to me if, before I go, I received an assurance of your help in the matter to lay before the Lieutenant-Governor.

Believe me,
My dear Rája Sáhib,
Your sincere friend,
C. U. AITCHISON.

To
His Highness the Rája of Kapurthala.

CAMP CHITOURGARH, OUDH,
7th February 1868.

MY DEAR MR. AITCHISON,

I HAVE just received your kind letter of the 24th ultimo, and hasten to reply to it, sincerely hoping it will reach before you leave for England. I would have telegraphed had I been near a station, but I am at present upwards of a hundred miles from any.

I am rejoiced to hear that my friend the Mahárája of Kashmír has so liberally bestowed a lakh of rupees for the diffusion of European science through the means of the Indian Vernaculars.

I cannot help remarking that the scheme will not only be beneficial to the country at large, but will be the means of enlightening the minds of the people, and I admire the excellent taste of the Mahárája in having taken a lead to promote so good a cause. We have long felt the want of such an institution, and we are now gratified to feel that our noble Lieutenant-Governor has taken a personal interest in establishing it, and I need (sic in original) say that the project will meet the appreciation of all my brother Chiefs in the Punjab.

I shall be happy to give Rs. 10,000 towards it, and will feel obliged by your kindly letting me know when and where to send the money.

I am sorry to hear you are going away so soon, but I hope your absence will only be temporary, and that you will return to India soon.

With kind regards.

Believe me,
Your very sincere friend,
RANDHIR SINGH.

MY FRIEND,

THE Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor directs me to acknowledge receipt of Your Highness's letter of 7th February, intimating that Your Highness will be happy to contribute Rs. 10,000 for the diffusion of European science and literature through the medium of the classical and vernacular languages of India, and to convey to Your Highness the thanks of the Lieutenant-Governor for your liberal donation towards this most important object.

The Lieutenant-Governor will have much pleasure in bringing Your Highness's liberality to the notice of the Supreme Government. I am also to assure Your Highness that the money will be devoted solely to the object for which it has been contributed.

I remain,
Your sincere friend,
C. U. AITCHISON.

RESOLUTIONS.

(1). That a University should be proposed exclusively for the Punjab.

(2). That it should be at Lahore.

(3). That it should be a teaching body as well as an examining body.

(4). That the Governing Body consist of—

1. Chancellor (the Lieut.-Governor);

2. Vice-Chancellor;

3. A Council of Senate composed of—

(i) Members appointed by the Chancellor on the ground of being large benefactors;

(ii) Original promoters of the University;

(iii) A certain number of ex-officio members;

(iv) Graduates of and above the degree of M. A., subject to the veto of the Chancellor;

(v) Representatives appointed by independent Chiefs, who have subscribed, or may liberally subscribe, to the movement.

(5). That the University take up the teaching of the students from the point at which the Government Colleges leave of.

(6). That the instruction in the University be on the professorial system.

Resolutions passed at a General Meeting held at the Lawrence Hall on the 23rd March 1868.

(1). That education be conveyed, as far as possible, through the medium of the vernacular.

(2). That while the highest honors of the University be reserved for those who attain the highest form of education, which, it is admitted, can only at present be attained by those possessing a thorough knowledge of English, the University shall also recognize and honor literary merit and learning in the case of those unacquainted with the English language.

APPENDIX IV.

Memorandum by Sir D. F. McLEOD, Lieutenant-Governor, Punjab, dated Lahore, 14th Macrh 1868.

THE meeting of Thursday, so far at least as my object in convening it is concerned, was not a meeting of the Oriental University Committee, and from the remarks then made, as well as from the present précis, it is clear I made an omission in not having circulated, before the meeting, a brief statement of the object I had in view.

That object was the following:—

When the proceedings of the above Committee were formally drawn up, and at all subsequent periods, I have avowed my conviction that a movement of the kind could not possibly succeed without the countenance and support of the Supreme Government, and the legislative authorization which it alone can give; and further that Government would certainly not grant such support unless we could show that we had at least a reasonable prospect of being able to meet the cost of the proposed Institution, and to place it on a really sound and efficient basis. I accordingly waited to see whether a sufficient fund could be collected to afford the assurance required before making any representation on the subject to Government; but, in spite of all efforts, funds were obtained only to an amount altogether inadequate, and of these a large portion was expended on schools before any foundation for a University had been laid.

At a later period the Supreme Government itself sent to the Government of the Punjab copies of the address of the Aligarh Society, and the reply given to it, asking for an expression of opinion thereon. The papers in question were in consequence circulated by me for the opinions of the Director of Public Instruction, his Inspectors and Principals, a few other selected European gentlemen, and the Anjumans of Delhi and Lahore. The replies of all have been received except the last. And as it appeared to me that matters had now assumed a phase most favorable for the establishment of a University of some kind, intimation was given to the Vakíls of Native Chiefs in attendance that if their masters took an interest in the subject, as was understood to be the case, owing unquestionably to the exertions of the University Committee and Lahore Anjuman in general, and those of Pandit Rádha Kishan in particular, the present was the time to afford practical proof that they did feel such interest.

I believe this task to have been fulfilled with excellent judgment, tact and propriety by Mr. Aitchison, aided by Pandit Manphúl, and to them is due the credit of what success has been as yet attained. The Mahárája of Kashmír generously set the example by the grant of a large donation, and that example has been and is being so generally followed, not only by the principal Chiefs, but by the nobility and gentry of the Punjab, that there can be little or no doubt that before long funds sufficient to endow a University will have been secured; and I have felt accordingly that when replying to the reference from the Supreme Government, the opportunity thus afforded of placing before it a statement of the views of this Government on the whole subject should not be lost.

The replies received to the Circular issued by this Government, to which I have above referred, contain a fund of valuable suggestions on the subject; but before making a digest of these, and submitting to the Supreme Government definite proposals on the subject, I deemed it in every way desirable and necessary to assemble as many as possible of those who are interested in the question of assigning to Oriental languages their proper place in our educational system, with a view to laying before them the course I proposed to follow, and ascertaining from them how far I could count on their support. It would not be possible, at a meeting of the kind, fully to go into a consideration of all the questions involved in so vast a proejct; but the discussion then held, added to former deliberations and the written replies received from the parties referred to, have sufficed to enable me to determine generally on the tenor of report to be submitted to Government, and to have it drawn up.

The replies received, to which reference has been made in the foregoing remarks, have been sent to Press, and when the report has been drafted, measures will be taken for informing all interested of its contents; after which should any modifications in the first draft appear desirable, they can be made. I do not wish to enter here on controversial points, and will only add, that while I trust I may be enabled to go up to Government without having to confess to the existence of divided counsels, I will scrupulously take care, so far as I am concerned, that no subscriptions shall be appropriated towards the carrying out of an object to which their contributors may declare themselves to be opposed.

A draft letter by the Secretary to Government, Punjab, proposing the establishment of a University at Lahore, in terms based on the resolutions of previous meetings, having been laid before the meeting—

The letter was approved of, subject to the following amendments :—

1. That inasmuch as the funds at the disposal of the University would not at present suffice to defray the cost of a Collegiate department, power should be given to the governing body of the University to expend funds in increasing the resources of the existing Government Colleges, provided the system of those Colleges was modified so as to harmonize with the principles of the University, and that a clause to that effect be inserted in the letter.

2. That a clause should be inserted giving the Chancellor power to nominate as members of the governing body persons "distinguished for attainments in literature and science."

3. That a clause be added making "original treatises in Oriental tongues on subjects of importance" eligible for rewards.

4. That a clause be added directing that provision be made for "duly recognizing and honoring proficiency in English, though uncombined with proficiency in Arabic or Sanskrit."

YOUR letter No. 4217, dated 5th September 1867, to the address of the President and Members of the British India Association of the North-Western Provinces, copy of which was transmitted to this Government with your endorsement No. 4222 of the same date, conveyed the views of His Excellency the Viceroy in Council upon the subject of providing education for the people through the medium of the Vernacular.

Educational Department.

2. It was pointed out in that letter that, in the Educatinal Despatch of 1854, "a broad distinction was drawn between the vernacular languages as the necessary and only medium of instruction of a popular kind, and the English language, as an essential requisite for education of a high order," but that, "between these two limits of popular education on the one hand, and education of a high order on the other, there were many degrees of knowledge for the communication of which, through the media of the vernacular or English language, no specific rules could be laid down"; and it was added, in para. 8, that the Governor-General in Council "would be glad to recognize and assist all efforts made by societies or individuals to further the object in view."

3. With reference to the above remarks, and to the liberal promise of assistance made in para. 8 of your letter, the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor is encouraged to transmit, for the consideration of the Right Hon'ble the Governor-General in Council, copies of the papers noted in the margin.*

4. From these papers it will be apparent to His Excellency in Council—

(1) That a strong desire exists on the part of a large number of the Chiefs, Nobles, and educated classes of this Province for the establishment of a system of education, which shall give greater encouragement to the communication of knowledge through the medium of the vernacular, to

13. Do. at a Meeting held on 25th May.
14. List of donations and subscriptions towards the endowment of a University at Lahore.

the development of a vernacular literature, and to the study of Oriental classics, than is afforded by the existing system,—a system framed to meet the requirements of the University of Calcutta;

(2) That it is the opinion of officers holding high positions in the Educational Department of this Province, that the system of that University is not adapted to the educational requirements of the Punjab, inasmuch as it does not give a sufficiently prominent position to Oriental studies, regards English too exclusively as the channel through which instruction must be conveyed, and prescribes a mode of examination which is calculated, in their opinion, to raise superficial rather than sound scholars;

(3) That the Governing Body of that University has recently, through its Vice-Chancellor, expressed unwillingness to modify its system so as to meet the wishes of the native community and Educational Officers of this Province;

(4) That, in the opinion of many, even were the Calcutta University to consent to modify its system, the area over which its operations extend is too vast, and the populations too varied, to admit of its properly fulfilling the duties devolving upon it;

(5) That, under these circumstances, a strong desire exists that there should be a separate University for the Punjab and its Dependencies, constituted on principles more in harmony with the wishes of the people; and

(6) That, with this object, a sum amounting to Rs. 98,794 has been collected, of which Rs. 86,205 are in hand and ready to be invested in Government securities as an Endowment Fund, the interest whereof will be available for the support of the institution;—that further donations to the Endowment Fund, to the amount of Rs. 82,311, are promised, and that annual subscriptions are promised to the amount of Rs. 13,691.

In short, in the event of a University being established, there is every prospect of an annual income from private sources amounting approximately to Rs. 21,000, of which Rs. 13,000 will be derivable from subscriptions, and Rs. 8,000 from interest on invested capital.

5. Under the circumstances set forth above, I am to solicit that, in accordance with the promise made in para. 8 of your letter, and with the principles of the Educational Despatch of 1854, a grant-in-aid equivalant to the income derived from the above sources be sanctioned by the Supreme Government. His Honor further proposes to assist the Institution by grants of available waste lands.

6. In the event of the establishment of a separate University for the Punjab being approved of by the Supreme Government, and sanction being accorded to the grant-in-aid above applied for, it is proposed, with the concurrence of the Anjumans (Native Literary Societies) of Lahore and Amritsar, which have been from the first the zealous promoters and supporters of the movement, and of the Chiefs who have so munificently contributed, and of the principal officers of the Educational Department, that the plan and constitution of the University be as follows :—

I.—That the University by established on the footing of a grant-in-aid institution at the city of Lahore.*

II.—That the special objects of the University shall be to afford encouragement to the enlightened study of Oriental languages and literature, the improvement and extension of the vernacular literature of the Punjab and its Dependencies, and the diffusion of Western knowledge through the medium of the vernaculars.

III.—That the Governing Body of the University consist of—

(1) A Chancellor (the Lieutenant Governor of the Punjab);

(2) A Vice-Chancellor, to be appointed by the Chancellor;

* NOTE.—It was at one time in contemplation to propose the establishment of a single University for the North-Western Provinces and the Punjab combined, having its seat at Delhi—a proposal with which Mr. Kempson, the Director of Public Instruction, North-Western Provinces, kindly indicated, in general terms, his concurrence. But on canvassing the opinions of those of the community who have most prominently come forward in the matter, it has been found that they evince an extreme repugnance to any such arrangement. They consider that the Punjab has a speciality of its own, which requires that it be treated apart from any other province in this matter; they contend also—and most emphatically do the representatives of the Chiefs who have so liberally contributed—that Lahore, and not Delhi, should be the seat of the University, as being the head-quarters of the Administration of the Province, and the place with which for generations past they have held relations, such as have never existed with Delhi. Further, it is certain that the nobles and gentry of Delhi have not as yet evinced any such enthusiasm in this matter as those who have striven for the establishment of a University at Lahore. Under these circumstances, the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor is thoroughly convinced that the latter measure is the one which it is incumbent upon him to recommend, and he feels sure the residents of Delhi will acquiesce in the justice of the decision, and afford, for the future, their hearty co-operation, which is a matter of the greatest importance.

(3) A Council or Senate to be composed of—

(a) The Chancellor and Vice-Chancellor, as President and Vice-President, respectively;

(b) Members appointed by the Chancellor on the ground of being eminent benefactors to the University, original promoters of the movement in favor of its establishment, or persons distinguished for attainments in literature and science;

(c) Such number of officers of Government as the Government may see fit to appoint as ex-officio members;

(d) Representatives appointed by those independent Chiefs who have already contributed, or who may hereafter liberally contribute to the endowment; and

(e) Hereafter all graduates of and above the degree of Master of Arts, or equivalent degree in other faculties—subject to the confirmation of the Chancellor;

(4) An Executive Committee to be appointed by the vote of members of the Council or Senate, under such regulations as may be prescribed.

IV.—That the above Governing Body be constituted a body corporate, entitled to hold and dispose of property, and to sue and be sued in its corporate capacity, under the title of the "Lahore University."

V.—That the University be empowered—

(1). To confer, after examination, degrees of honor and diplomas for proficiency in literature and science, under such regulations as may be framed in conformity with the principles set forth above.

(2). To expend the income at its disposal in all or any of the following ways, viz.,—

(a) The remuneration of Examiners;

(b) The establishment of Fellowships and scholarships, tenable by persons undertaking to devote themselves to the pursuit of literature and science in such manner as to carry out the special object of the University;

(c) The bestowal of rewards for good vernacular translations of, and compilations from, European Standard Works, for original treatises in Oriental tongues on subjects of importance, and works or compositions distinguished for excellence of style;

(d) The establishment of a Collegiate department in connection with the University,* or making pecuniary grants to other colleges, conducted on a system conformable with the principles of the University;

(e) The entertainment of a Registrar, and other necessary office establishments and charges;

(f) Investing funds in Government Securities for the benefit of the University; and

(g) In such other ways as may be desirable or necessary for carrying out the purposes of the University.

(3). To frame regulations, not inconsistent with the above provisions, for carrying into effect the purposes of the University, and from time to time to rescind, alter, and amend such regulations: provided that no regulation shall have effect unless passed by a majority of the Council or Senate at a General Meeting (convened after due notice) and confirmed by the Chancellor. In framing such regulations the following instructions shall be observed:—

(a) In regulations made for the conduct of examinations, or the conveyance of instruction, it shall be provided that the examinations be conducted and instruction conveyed, as far as possible, in and through the vernacular.

(b) Efforts shall be made to discourage superficial scholarship by modification of the existing system of prescribing text-books for entrance and other examinations for degrees in Arts, and substituting largely oral examination, composition, and translation; and by diminishing, as far as possible, consistently with the attainment of sound knowledge, the number of obligatory subjects for examinations.

* NOTE.—The funds of the University will be inadequate at present to establish a Collegiate department in connection with the University; but endeavors will be made to modify the system of education in the existing Government Colleges of Lahore and Dehli, so as to harmonize with the principles of the University.

(c) A thorough acquaintance with the vernacular shall be made a necessary condition for obtaining any degree, Fellowship, or other honor, in addition to any other attainments which may be required.

(d) Proficiency in Arabic or Sanskrit, or such other Oriental languages as may be prescribed by the Governing Body, combined with a thorough acquaintance with English, shall be a necessary condition for obtaining the highest honors of the University; but provision shall be made for duly recognizing and honoring proficiency in literature and science in the case of those unacquainted with English, provided such attainments are combined with a fair acquaintance with the more important subjects of European education, such as History, Geography, &c., so far as such acquaintance is obtainable through the medium of the vernacular; and for duly recognizing and honoring proficiency in English unaccompanied by a knowledge of Arabic or Sanskrit.

7. In the event of the above general scheme being approved of, it is suggested that the provisions be embodied in a Bill, and submitted for the consideration of the Legislature.

8. In conclusion, I am desired by the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor to call the attention of His Excellency the Viceroy in Council to the munificent liberality of some of the independent Chiefs of this Province.

The liberality of His Highness the Máharaja of Kashmír, in assigning the sum of Rs. 62,300 to this Government for promoting the objects of the University, has already been acknowledged by the Government of India and Her Majesty's Secretary of State. His Highness the Rája of Kapurthala has, in like manner, contributed Rs. 10,000 in addition to a previous donation of Rs. 2,000; while their Highnesses the Mahárája of Patiala, Rájas of Jínd and Nabha, and the Sirdar of Kalsia, have promised to invest the sums noted in the margin in Government securities, and assign the interest to the University.

Mahárája of Patiala	Rs.	50,000
Rája of Jínd	... "	11,000
" " Nabha	... "	11,000
Sirdar of Kalsia	... "	3,000

Liberal contributions from other Chiefs and Gentlemen will be observed in the Schedule of Subscriptions.

9. I am further to bring to notice the services of the following officers in connection with the movement in favor of the establishment of a University: of Dr. G. W. Leitner, Principal of the Lahore College, a distinguished scholar in Arabic, and master of many European languages, who has been from the first conspicuous for his zeal in promoting the establishment of an educational system suited to the wishes of the people, whose confidence he has awakened in a marked degree; of Mr. C. U. Aitchison, now officiating as Foreign Secretary to the Government of India, who as Deputy Commissioner of Lahore, Officiating Commissioner of Lahore, and Officiating Secretary to this Government was indefatigable in seconding the movement, and aiding its promoters with sound advice; and of Pandit Manphul, Mír Munshí of this Office, whose services have been specially brought to notice by Mr. Aitchison. The number of Chiefs, Nobles, and gentlemen who have more or less distinguished themselves by their exertions is so great, that it would be invidious to particularize individuals.

APPENDIX VII.

No. 262, dated Simla, 22nd May 1869.

From—E. C. BAYLEY, Esquire, Secretary to the Government of India, Home Department,

To—The Secretary to Government, Punjab.

I AM desired to acknowledge the receipt of your letter noted in the margin, on the subject of the Punjab University, and in reply to convey to you the decision of the Governor-General in Council upon the subject.

No. 51, dated 11th February 1869.

2. His Excellency is fully sensible of the value of the spontaneous efforts which have been made by the community in the Punjab, both Native and European, for the establishment of a local institution, which should have for its object the development of learning especially in connection with the Vernacular languages, and His Excellency quite concurs with the Lieutenant-Governor in thinking that it would be a grave misfortune if those efforts should fail. The Governor-General in Council is, moreover, quite willing to admit the force of many of the arguments used by the Lieutenant-Governor in support of the particular mode in which it is desired to give effect to this purpose. His Excellency is therefore, glad to think that the chief objections which have hitherto prevented the Government of India from giving a cordial sanction to the measure can now be removed.

3. The principal of these objections has been that the proposed institution, if at once established as an University, would have the power of conferring University degrees of a lower character than those given by other Universities in India; indeed, that owing to the less advanced character and extent of education in the Punjab, the degrees conferred by the Punjab University, were it now established, must almost necessarily be of an inferior character. His Excellency considers that such a result would tend materially to degrade the character and lessen the value of an Indian University degree, and might, therefore, operate injuriously on the spread of the higher branches of learning in India.

This objection must have been admitted as valid; but it is understood that His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor is willing that the proposed institution should not, for the present, assume the full character of an University, and that it should not grant degrees, but certificates only, until the number of students, and the power of teaching in any branch of study, or in any faculty, can be shown to be sufficient to warrant the conferring of an University degree.

4. It is also understood that the study of English shall not only form one of the most prominent features of the teaching in any of the schools or colleges which may be connected with the proposed institution, but that both teaching and examinations in subjects which cannot with advantage be carried on in the Vernacular shall be conducted in English.

His Honor also, it is gathered, is quite willing that the examinations should be entrusted to other persons than those who have been engaged in teaching the students, or any of them, and it is believed that His Honor would be quite content to accept any rules which may be laid down with a view to secure this object.

5. Lastly, the Lieutenant-Governor is understood to undertake that, although certain subjects may and will be taught in the Vernacular, nothing should be taught which should interfere with instruction in sound principles of mental and physical science, that is to say, that the teaching which is to be afforded through the medium of the Vernacular languages shall be free from the patent errors which prevail in ancient and even in modern vernacular literary and scientific works. That, in short, the educational course adopted shall be one calculated, as far as possible, to give instruction through the medium of the Vernacular in European science and according to the modes of European thought, so that, while Eastern languages shall, as much as possible, be made the medium of instruction, yet such control and supervision will be exercised as shall secure to the students all the advantages of teaching offered by Indian Universities.

6. On these conditions His Excellency accords his sanction to the establishment of the proposed institution, and is willing that the governing body should not be merely connected with the teaching body, but that it should have the power of conferring Fellowships and Scholarships, and also of granting certificates of proficiency in such classes and under such rules as may be deemed expedient, and that it should be, with the Educational Officers of the Government, the consulting body in all matters of public instruction, including primary education.

7. His Excellency in Council suggests that the names of the officers of the institution should be made suitable to its altered character, but is willing that the governing body should bear the name of a Senate, and that it should be constituted as proposed in your letter No. 235, dated 27th May 1868, paragraph 6, Rule III., except of course as regards the fifth or (2) class of its members who will, under the present arrangements, have no existence. This does not involve any necessity for giving to the institution generally the appellation of an University, which will be inappropriate so long as it has not the power of granting degrees, and the assumption of which might give to its certificates an authority which it is inexpedient that they should at once possess. It would perhaps be a convenient arrangement to attach the Senate to the Lahore College, and to give the entire institution some such title as that of "University College, Lahore," which would mark the fact that the present arrangement was merely temporary, and was intended only as preliminary to the possible establishment, at some future time, of an University in the Punjab.

8. The connection of the Senate with the Lahore College need not militate against either the continuance of the connection of that institution, or of that of any other College in the Punjab, to the Calcutta University; and students who may enter themselves at the latter University might still be allowed to pursue their studies at any of the affiliated institutions in the Punjab.

9. The pecuniary assistance which Government will be prepared to afford will be as already explained in my letter No. 558, dated the 19th September last, paragraph 13.

No. 13, dated India Office, London, 5th August 1869.

From—Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India,

To—His Excellency the Right Hon'ble the Governor-General of India in Council.

THE despatch of Your Excellency in Council dated 10th of June, No. 9, of 1869, forwarding copy of a correspondence with the Government of the Punjab on the subject of the establishment of an University at Lahore, has been considered by me in Council.

2. In reply I desire to express my cordial concurrence in the views stated in the letter of Your Lordhsip's Government dated 22nd May No. 262 of 1869. On the conditions so clearly and ably set forth in that letter I will accord my sanction to the proposition that an institution be founded at Lahore under some such title as "University College, Lahore." The institution will be competent to grant certificates, but not degrees, and may hereafter, if attended with due success, be expanded into an University.

APPENDIX VIII.

GAZETTE NOTIFICATION.

No. 472, dated 8th December 1869.

IT is hereby notified for general information that His Excellency the Right Hon'ble the Governor-General in Council has been pleased, in accordance with the recommendations of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, and in part fulfilment of the wishes of a large number of the Chiefs, Nobles, and influential classes of the Punjab, to sanction the establishment at Lahore of an Institution (to be styled for the present "Lahore University College"), the constitution and objects whereof are explained in the Statutes hereinunder set forth; and has further consented to contribute from the Imperial Revenue towards the expenses of the Institution an amount equivalent to the annual income raised from private sources, including subscriptions and interest on invested capital, up to the sum of Rs. 21,000 per annum.

STATUTES OF LAHORE UNIVERSITY COLLEGE.

I. The special objects of Lahore University College shall be—

(1) To promote the diffusion of European Science, as far as possible, through the medium of the vernacular languages of the Punjab; and the improvement and extension of vernacular literature generally;

(2) To afford encouragement to the enlightened study of Eastern classical languages and literature; and

(3) To associate the learned and influential classes of the Province with the officers of Government in the promotion and supervision of popular education.

The above are the special objects of the Institution; but at the same time every encouragement will be afforded to the study of the English language and literature, and in all subjects which cannot be completely taught in the vernacular, the English language will be regarded as the medium of examination and instruction.

II. The Governing Body of the Institution shall consist of—

(1) A Senate, composed of—

(a) A President, who shall be the Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab, ex officio;

(b) A Vice-President, to be appointed by the President;

(c) Members appointed by the President on the ground of being eminent benefactors of the Institution, original promoters of the movement in favor of its establishment, or persons distinguished for attainments in literature and science, or zeal in the cause of education;

(d) Such number of Officers of Government as the Government may see fit to appoint as ex-officio Members; and

(e) Representatives appointed by those Independent Chiefs who have already contributed, or who may hereafter liberally contribute, to the endowment.

(2) An Executive Committee, or Committees, to be appointed by the votes of Members of the Senate, under such regulations as may be prescribed.

III. The Senate shall have power—

(1) To confer, after examination, certificates of proficiency in Literature and Science, under such regulations as may be framed in conformity with the principles set forth above: Provided that examinations for certificates be conducted by other persons than those who have been engaged in teaching all or any of the candidates for such certificates;

(2) To expend the income at its disposal in all or any of the following ways, viz.:—

(a) The remuneration of Examiners;

(b) The establishment of fellowships and scholarships, tenable by persons undertaking to devote themselves to the pursuit of Literature and Science in such manner as to carry out the special objects of the Institution;

(c) The bestowal of rewards for good vernacular translations of, and compilations from, European standard works, for original treatises in Oriental tongues on subjects of importance, and works or compositions distinguished for excellence of style ;

(d) The establishment of a Collegiate Department in connexion with the Institution, or making pecuniary grants to other colleges conducted on a system conformable with the principles of the Institution ;

(e) The entertainment of a Registrar, and other necessary Office Establishments ;

(f) Investing funds in Government Securities for the benefit of the Institution ; and

(g) The adoption of such other measures as may be desirable or necessary for carrying out the purposes of the Institution ;

(3) To frame regulations, not inconsistent with the above provisions, for carrying into effect the purposes of the Institution, and from time to time to rescind, alter, and amend such regulations : Provided that no regulation shall have effect unless passed by a majority of the Senate at a General Meeting (convened after due notice), and confirmed by the President. In framing such regulations the following instructions shall be observed :—

(a) In regulations made for the conduct of examinations or the conveyance of instruction, it shall be arranged that the examinations be conducted and instruction conveyed, as far as possible, in and through the vernacular : Provided that the study of English shall form one of the most prominent features of the teaching in all the schools or colleges connected with the Institution, and both teaching and examination, which cannot with advantage be carried on in the vernacular, shall be conducted in English : and provided that in all schools or colleges connected with the Institution which are now affiliated to the Calcutta University, due provision shall be made to afford instruction to students desirous of qualifying for degrees in the University of Calcutta.

(b) Efforts shall be made to discourage superficial scholarship by a modification of the existing system of prescribing text-books for Extrance and other Examinations, and substituting largely oral examination, composition, and translation ; and by diminishing, as far as possible, consistently with the attainment of sound knowledge, the number of obligatory subjects for examinations.

(c) A thorough acquaintance with the vernacular shall be made a necessary condition for obtaining any certificate, fellowship, or other honor, in addition to any other attainments which may be required.

(d) Proficiency in Arabic or Sanskrit or such other Oriental language as may be prescribed by the Governing Body, combined with a thorough acquaintance with English, shall be a necessary condition for obtaining the highest honors of the Institution : but provision shall be made for duly recognizing and honoring proficiency in Literature and Science in the case of those unacquainted with English, provided such attainments are combined with a fair acquaintance with the more important subjects of European education, such as History, Geography, &c., so far as such acquaintance is obtainable through the medium of the vernacular, and for duly recognizing and honoring proficiency in English, unaccompanied by a knowledge of Arbaic or Sanskrit.

IV. In addition to being the Governing Body of Lahore University College, the Senate, as above constituted, shall be, with the Educational Officers of Government, the Consulting Body in all matters of instruction, including primary education.

(Appendix IX will be published in the next Gazette.)

TRANSLATION.

Copy of Murasila, dated 1st July 1868, from His Highness the Maháraja of Patiala, to General TAYLOR, Commissioner and Superintendent, Umballa Division.

High-placed sir of high qualities affectionate kind and obliging to friends, be you safe.

Kind and honoured friend.

AFTER assuring you of my great desire to have the pleasure of seeing you I write to inform you of the following circumstances.

You will remember that when I heard from your letter of the 11th March 1866, and the representatives of the Patiála State, who were in attendance on yourself and His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, of the (project for the) establishment of a madrisa called a University in which instruction in English, Persian, Arabic, Sanskrit, Mathematics, Urdu, Hindi and other branches of knowledge was to be imparted for the public benefit, I at first proposed to give a donation of Rs. 50,000, which would afford an income of Rs. 2,500 to be spent on the operations of the institution, on the condition that the Committee should not be authorised to expend any part of the principal, and that I should have the power to revoke the grant, in case Eastern knowledge were not encouraged and taught; or the diffusion of knowledge were not (secured) by the translation of English books; or if the arrangements should be of such a nature as not to satisfy the natives; or if, which God forbid, the madrisa should at any time be abolished. I accordingly sent intimation of this proposal through my representative to you, and at your suggestion to the Secretary Punjab Government.

Before, however, the time had come for settling details or remitting the money you very fortunately arrived at Patiála on tour. We then discussed the proposal fully together with its advantages and disadvantages in the presence of the Council of Regency. When I perceived the great advantages that must accrue to the people in general from the establishment of such an institution, I thought proper to give the sum above mentioned, without imposing any of the proposed conditions, a measure that cannot fail to be pleasing to God and beneficial to the inhabitants of the Province. I further determined that the Committee should be empowered to expend the above sum, i. e. the principal as well as the interest in any way they like, I having no power to revoke the grant. This necessitated a communication regarding the above proposal from my Government to yourself.

I, therefore, venture to trouble you with a request that you will either forward this letter or give intimation of the above particulars by means of an English letter to His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor-General of India, and that you will communicate their reply to me. The money shall be sent whenever you may desire.

I trust that you will believe in the sincerity of my friendship, and that you will give me the great pleasure of hearing from you frequently, and I wish you every pleasure and enjoyment.

Written this 1st day of July 1868, corresponding with the 12th Asádh Sudí S. 1925.

Mahárájá Sáhib my kind friend—

After assuring you of my desire to have the pleasure of seeing you, I write to inform you that I have received from the Agent to the Lieutenant-Governor in the Cis-Sutlej States a copy of the letter that you addressed to him. In this letter you say that you have made a donation of Rs. 50,000 in aid of the Punjab University College without (imposing) any condition. The Agent further informs me that, in addition to this money, you have promised to give a further sum of Rs. 6,000, being interest on the original sum from the date on which it was first promised. It has given me the greatest pleasure to hear of your great generosity and your enlightened liberality in the promotion of this good work, and intimation of your liberality will be conveyed to His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor-General in Council.

I hope that I shall frequently have the pleasure of hearing from you.

Dated 11th June 1870.

Nourisher of the poor—Salám—Sir—The sum of Rs. 11,000 paid through the Commissioner of Umballa into the Umballa treasury on the 28th January 1872 as a contribution from my master to the Lahore University has not reached the Lahore College, and a letter from Mr. E. W. Parker, Officiating Registrar, University College, dated 6th August 1874, and addressed to my master, has been received asking for payment of the amount. On this inquiries were made by my master from his representative (Wakíl) with the Commissioner of Umballa. From a vernacular letter (Rabúkár) from the Commissioner of Umballa in reply to the Wakíl's petition, it appears that the Treasury Officer had reported that the money in question had been credited to Government and that he was unable to effect a transfer; but that the Accountant-General had the power to pay the money to the Lahore University, and that he had probably done so, as he stated in his letter No. 1510, dated 3rd February 1873, to the Deputy Commissioner of Umballa that the Officer in charge of the Lahore Treasury had been instructed to transfer the sum to the credit of the Trustee of the Lahore University. I therefore submit the original vernacular letter from the Commissioner of Umballa with this petition, and I beg that the money may be paid to the University through the Accountant-General, and that I may be honoured with a reply, in order that I may be able to report to my master. God grant that you may always be prosperous.

From—E. W. PARKER, Esquire, Offg. Registrar, Punjab University College,

To—E. W. TROTTER, Esquire, Assistant Secretary to Government, Punjab.

WITH reference to your No. 4129, dated 14th November last, I beg to forward copy of a letter from the Accountant-General.

The money did not pass through this office, but was credited by the Trustee direct. This was owing to a defect in the system of account which has since been removed. I beg you will be good enough to inform Sardár Jagat Singh that the amount of the Rája of Jínd's donation has been duly received and invested.

A murásila conveying the thanks of the Executive Committee for the handsome donation made by the Rája will be sent to you hereafter for despatch to the Rája, with whom the Executive Committee is not permitted to correspond direct.

Dated Lahore, 1st December 1874.

From—L. C. PROBYN, Esquire, C. S., Trustee, Punjab University College (Accountant-General, Punjab),

To—E. W. PARKER, Esquire, Offg. Registrar, Punjab University College.

I HAVE the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your endorsement No. 795, dated 28th ultimo, and in reply to refer you to the Funded Account for 1873, where you will see the donation of Rs. 11,000 distinctly credited, a corresponding cash charge (of Rs. 10,985-10-0) and a security credit of Rs. 10,500 in the same account indicating the investment of this sum.

2. I may add that this investment was made by taking over securities received from the Nawáb of Baháwalpur for the Senate Hall, as I was led to suppose the money for the Senate Hall would all have been expended during the current year.

Proceedings of the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab, in the Home (Education) Department, No. 52, dated Lahore, 15th April 1886.

READ—

Resolution of the Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab, in the Home (Education) Department, No. 51, dated 14th April 1886.

Read again—

Resolution of the Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab, in the Home (Education) Department, No. 27, dated 15th March 1886.

REMARKS.—In the present Resolution the Lieutenant-Governor proposes to consider the second of the three questions mentioned in paragraph 3 of the Resolution No. 51 of 14th current, viz., the relations of the Punjab University to the Oriental College and School.

2. When the Lieutenant-Governor first began to enquire into the alleged mismanagement of the University Funds, with special reference to the statement that the wishes of the original founders and donors in regard to the encouragement of Oriental learning and the administration of the Oriental College had not been fulfilled, his attention was drawn to a statement contained in Part I of the University Calendar for 1884-85 to the effect that the Oriental College was first established as a school in 1865 by the Anjuman-i-Punjab, and that in 1870 the Senate of the Punjab University College took over the institution, and expanded it into a College with a School Department attached to it. This statement, so far as the Lieutenant-Governor has been able to trace its history, seems to have had its origin* in a "Statement of the work performed by the Punjab University College since its establishment," signed by Dr. Leitner as Registrar, and bearing date January 1873, and appears in the first published calendar, that for the year 1874-75, whence it has been imported into every subsequent calendar, and it reappears as recently as 20th March 1885 in the preamble to certain draft rules for the management of the College, which were forwarded to Government on that date. The Lieutenant-Governor, desiring to obtain the fuller information on the subject necessary to form an opinion whether the University is or is not discharging its obligations in respect to the Oriental College, requested † the Senate to favour him with certified copies of any correspondence or any resolutions of the Senate of the Punjab University College relating to—

(1) the transfer of the Oriental School from the Anjuman to the Senate;

(2) the expansion of the School into a College with a school department attached;

(3) the relations which the College and School, respectively, were thenceforth to bear to the Senate; and

* The passage is as follows :—
"An Oriental School had been founded in connexion with the Anjuman, when that institution canvassed on behalf of an University (vide Anjumani Report for 1865). The existence of this School attracted large donations, principally from the Chiefs, and when, for certain reasons, the Oriental School was closed, subscriptions and donations ceased. After its re-opening, under improved auspices, very liberal subscriptions again poured in. * * * * The designation of this institution was changed from school to "College" after a number of its students had passed the Entrance examination in subjects of general knowledge, and had also succeeded at the higher Oriental examinations."

† To Registrar No. 33½, dated 13th March 1885.

(4) the obligations which the Senate undertook in regard to them respectively.

3. The letter of the Punjab Government was referred by the Senate to the Committee appointed, at the close of April 1885, to enquire into the financial questions regarding which a report had been called for by Government and which have been dealt with in Resolution No. 27, dated 15th March 1886. From paragraph 29 of the report of the Committee, which was forwarded by the Registrar with his letter No. 10, dated 5th January 1886, it appears that the Committee endeavoured to elicit some definite imformation on the subject from the Registrar of the University, but without success. The Registrar (Dr. Leitner) in a letter of 10th July referred the Committee to an answer he had given at a Syndicate meeting of 25th March 1885, and to Resolutions of the Anjuman submitted to Syndicate on 9th May, and to documents bearing on the history of the Punjab University movement which he was preparing; and on the 15th July he again wrote to the Committee as follows:—"The documents bearing on the Punjab University movement show, that the correspondence and resolutions asked for by Government never existed; but that the University College grew out of the Anjuman Oriental University School or College, just as the Punjab University was developed from the Punjab University College without any violent transition." In reply to the Government letter the Senate has now forwarded* a collection of printed papers entitled "Documents submitted by the Anjuman-i-Punjab to the Senate of the Punjab University in reply to certain inquiries made by the Punjab Government connected with the history of the Punjab University movement including the Oriental College." The Registrar explains that, although the only portion of this collection relating to the Government enquiry is that contained in pages 1 to 9 of Part IV., it was the desire of the Senate that the whole collection should be placed before the Lieutenant-Governor; and that he was, at the same time, instructed to express the regret of the Senate that the papers should be disfigured by the remarks in large type at pages 1 and 2 of Part V., and its entire disapproval of, and disagreement with, both the tone and substance of these remarks.

* From Registrar, No. 11, dated 6th January 1886.

4. Under the above circumstances the Lieutenant-Governor must assume that the collection has the approval of the Anjuman-i-Punjab, and has been prepared under their authority, and contains all the documents bearing on the subject which that Society is able to produce. It consists, however, of a heterogeneous assortment of documents, few of which have any relevancy whatever to the questions under consideration, many of which are undated and appear in no natural or chronological connection, and some of which are obviously not records of the Anjuman at all. They are accompanied also in places by a commentary or running narrative, some parts of which (as for instance, among others, the remarks with the tone and substance of which the Senate entirely disagrees) are extremely inaccurate. This narrative, where it purports to give the connection of events or the substance of papers not produced, or is unsupported by reference to the text of documents, must be taken to contain matter of opinion only—the opinion of the compiler endorsed by the Anjuman—and is of no historical value for the object which Government has in view. Pages 1 to 9 of Part IV, referred to by the Senate as the only portion of the collection which relates to the inquiries made by Government, do not appear to throw any light on the subject. But as it appears from a letter, dated 4th June 1885, addressed by the Secretary of the Anjuman to the Registrar of the University with reference to the Government inquiry, that the Anjuman Society endorses the explanation given by Dr. Leitner at the Syndicate meeting of 25th March 1885, that explanation, which is very precise both in form and substance, may, the Lieutenant-Governor assumes, be taken as containing the views of the Anjuman on the questions put by Government. It is accordingly quoted at length in the margin. It will be seen that the statement referred to in paragraph 2 of this Resolution which led to the present inquiry—the statement, namely, that the Oriental College was first established as a School in 1865 by the Anjuman, and that in 1870 the Senate took over the School and expanded it into a College—is now abandoned, and it is explained there was no such transfer. The explanation given, however, both in the above extract and in Dr. Leitner's letter of 15th July quoted in paragraph 3 appears to identify, not only the so-called Anjuman School with the Oriental College and School, but the Oriental College and School with the Punjab University College itself, and to imply that the Oriental College and School developed into the Punjab University College just as the Punjab University College developed into the University. It becomes necessary, therefore, to review with some minuteness the history of the Anjuman School established in 1865, and of the present Oriental College and School.

" Dr. Leitner explained that there was no such transfer as supposed in this letter (i. e., the letter from Government, No. 33½, dated 13th March 1885), and stated that—

" (1). The Oriental School of the members of the Anjuman and others who subscribed for an Oriental University having been closed in June 1867, the subscriptions to the Lahore University ceased, as the School in question was the embodiment, to be developed, of the project of a Teaching Oriental University, known to the subscribers and donors as the " Bait-ul-u'lúm " or " Mahávidyála." The reason of the cessation of the subscriptions becoming known, the Executive Committee of the Punjab University College determined to revive the School, the available staff being largely composed as before (see Executive Committee's Resolution of the 2nd March 1870). This revival justified the Committee asking for the subscriptions due to the School since 1867, which were then received and paid into the Punjab University College Current Account, as there was not any distinction between the Oriental School and the Punjab University.

" (2). The expansion of the School into a College partly took place before the incorporation of the University College in the most important classes, viz., those characterized as representing the 'Native Learned Classes' and explained to be Maulvís and Pandits. The improvement, however, is noticed in the Report of the University College, dated 15th November 1870.

" (3). The Anjuman held Oriental Examinations and gave certificates in the classical Oriental and Vernacular languages in 1866 and subsequent years. Similar examinations were afterwards held by the University College.

" (4). The name of the Lahore University is constantly used as an institution as much already existing as in contemplation.

" (5). The Oriental School is called a College in the 1st Report of Progress from January 1870 to November 1870, para. 5, with reference to the Maulvís, &c., and a School with reference to branches of general knowledge.

" (6). In the abstract account with which the University College opens in 1870 the previous expenditure is debited to the " University School. "

" (7). The majority of the members of the Anjuman who took a leading part in the promotion of the Oriental University, together with the principal donors and some out-station supporters, were made members of the Senate Punjab University College on its constitution in December 1869.

" (8). Just as, therefore, the University College became the University without any break in its functions, so there was no violent transition from the University School to the University College."

5. The first mention of any schools founded by the Anjuman occurs on page 6 of the "Report of the Anjuman-i-Punjab, or the Society for the diffusion of useful knowledge" for the year 1865. These schools, however, appear to have been elementary, if not indigenous, schools for which a Government grant-in-aid of Rs. 50 a month was asked for on 18th December 1865, and sanctioned on 8th January 1866. They were closed in May or June 1867, because up to that time they had not received the grant-in-aid. The President of the Anjuman in reporting* their closure stated that the entire cost of the schools up to the date when they were closed had been Rs. 814-1-7, and he continued, "a grant-in-aid of Rs. 310 has recently been received from Government, and to recompense a part of the expenditure of the Anjuman to which it is fairly entitled, as the expenditure it incurred from the beginning was in the sole hope of receiving aid from Government." The reason why the sanctioned grant of Rs. 50 a month could never be drawn was failure on the part of the managers, in spite of reiterated requests and much correspondence, to comply with the grant-in-aid rules which they had undertaken to comply with when they asked for the grant. The special grant of Rs. 310 was an ex post facto arrangement. It was sanctioned in August 1867, by which time, as above noted, the schools had been closed, and it was drawn by the Anjuman in April 1868. The Lieutenant-Governor thinks it almost certain these cannot be the schools referred to as those which were afterwards revived and developed into the Oriental College, yet they are, so far as he can ascertain, the only Anjuman schools that existed in 1865.

6. The next information regarding Anjuman schools is obtained from the Anjuman Report for the three years, 1866—1868. The only copy of this report which the Lieutenant-Governor has been able to procure is in the Vernacular. The report was highly approved by the Anjuman, and the compilers received a reward by a special resolution* of the Society on the recommendation of Dr. Leitner. It appears from this document that in March 1866 it was determined, whether by the Anjuman or by the Native Committee of the University is not quite clear, that a College and Madrassa of the University should be set on foot experimentally for three months from 1st May 1866, by means of the appointment of seven teachers—one Arabic, one Persian, one Urdu, three Sanskrit, and one Hindi. Of these the Arabic teacher was to draw Rs. 60 per mensem, and the others salaries varying from Rs. 10 to Rs. 30. It was subsequently determined to encourage Gurmukhi also. In August of the same year the Maulavi of the Government College and a Eurasian Master from one of the Government Schools were employed to give lectures twice a week; the former on the Urdu language, and the latter on 'science,' through the medium of Urdu, to the students of the College. In October 1866 a Hindu School, lately established in Lahore, was taken over at the request of the Managers. It appears from the "Account Book of the University, Punjab, from May 1866," which the Lieutenant-Governor has personally examined, that the cost of the College and School, including charitable stipends to students, was being regularly debited, on what authority cannot now be discovered, to the general funds collected for University purposes, until June 1867, when the European Committee of Support† objected. They considered that it was improper and inconsistent with the Statement of Objects and Principles ‡ of the proposed Lahore University which had been circulated in their name, to spend the University money on local schools. Accordingly, it was resolved, at a meeting of that Committee held on the 2nd May 1867, that, pending the appointment of a Council with full powers to expend the money collected in the name of the University, no sums collected by the University should be expended on local schools, with the exception of money locally collected or given specially for that purpose. The University account was also transferred to the Bank of Bengal, and it was arranged that cheques upon it should be signed by the Secretary to the Native Committee and by the Secretary to the European Committee of Support conjointly.

* See Anjuman Proceedings of 24th February and 5th March 1869.

† See Resolution No. 51, dated 14th April 1886.

‡ See Resolution No. 51, dated 14th April 1886.

7. The school was closed on 12th July 1867. The College, however, which had been originally started as a provisional arrangement for three months, was not closed in July 1867, but the annual expenditure was ordered to be reduced to Rs. 1,664, the amount of the estimated subscriptions of the Native gentlemen of Lahore. The College was maintained on this footing until 1st June 1868, when it was closed; and a resolution was, at the same time, passed, that as soon as sufficient funds could be raised Madrasas should be established in connection with the University, in accordance with its principles and its regulations.

8. Omitting some petty items for sweetmeats and payments to the boys, the expenditure§ from the general funds on account of salaries of Professors and Teachers and stipends for the School and College and a small office establishment (about Rs. 40 a month) up to 30th June 1867 had been Rs. 7,296-0-3. In July Rs. 76-6-0 were paid for stipends and

Rs. 677-3-4 on account of salaries of Professors and Teachers, and Rs. 222-4-0 on account of stipends were recredited to the general fund, making the total expenditure* Rs. 6,472-14-11. In July a recoverable loan of Rs. 2,223-9-1 to the College Fund was sanctioned. In February 1868 a payment of Rs. 479-13-4 was made from the general fund to the Professors of the College on account of local subscriptions credited to the general account after the Resolution of 2nd May; and again in July 1868 a grant of Rs. 833 was made for pay of Teachers discharged, and Rs. 97 in September 1868 for arrears of stipends. The loan made in July 1867 was never repaid, but was written off in 1869 with some other items, including Rs. 581-7-3 borrowed by the Anjuman from the University Funds in July and August 1866. The sums drawn by the School and College from the University Funds therefore (omitting some petty items) amounted† to Rs. 10,106-5-4. The actual cost, all items included, was Rs. 10,710-0-10, a sum more than three times as much as all the local subscriptions, which were estimated to be Rs. 1,664 a year.

When the College was closed endeavours were made to find employment for the Professors as Teachers in Government Schools. Four out of six were so employed, and three of them are in Government employment still. Before the College was closed, however, it was in a very unsatisfactory condition, and a demi-official correspondence had been for some time in progress between the Director of Public Instruction and Dr. Leitner with reference to a proposal made by the former to devote the subscriptions of the Native gentlemen of Lahore, estimated at Rs. 1,600 per annum, and an equivalent grant-in-aid from Government if it could be obtained, partly to the payment of some of the Teachers of the Oriental College who were to be employed in giving special instruction in connection with the Government College and School, and partly to the provision of scholarships awarded to students of these institutions studying Arabic and Sanskrit. It was to be a condition of this arrangement that the instruction conveyed in the Government College should be in accordance with the principles of the University. The Native University Committee proposed, with reference to the Director's letter on this subject, "that the subscriptions of the Raises of Lahore, like other moneys, should be credited to the special University Fund, and thence drawn on account of the University College, and expended in the Government College of Lahore." It is stated in the documents‡ submitted by the Anjuman that "this proposal to divert the funds was not carried out owing to Dr. Leitner's protest." But this can scarcely be the case, because on the 20th May 1868 Dr. Leitner wrote to the Director as follows :—

"I fear the Oriental School is not what it should be, and if its funds could be devoted to a purpose such as you indicate in a manner that would not effaroucher the Raises, I for one should be delighted."

And again on 24th May he wrote expressing his pleasure that there was a fair prospect of the scheme being carried into effect, and estimating that the scholarships would cause an accession of about twenty students to the Lahore Government College. The Lieutenant-Governor has failed to find any record of the precise reason why this particular scheme, which was approved by the subscribing Native gentlemen, was not carried out. It appears certain from the above that it was not on account of any protest on the part of Dr. Leitner as alleged, and he thinks it probable the real reason was that at this time the whole scheme of the projected University was before Government, and the subscriptions of the Native gentlemen were already taken into account along with the other subscriptions in estimating the equivalent grant-in-aid. The letter from the Government of the Punjab* to the Government of India is dated 27th May 1868, and was read at a large meeting held in the Lawrence Hall, Lahore, on 25th May, and was approved, subject to four amendments, of which the first was as follows :—

* For an account of this letter see paras. 13 and 16 of Resolution No. 15, dated 14th April 1886.

"That inasmuch as the funds at the disposal of the University would not at present suffice to defray the cost of a Collegiate Department, power should be given to the Governing Body of the University to expend funds in increasing the resources of existing Government Colleges, provided the system of those Colleges was modified, so as to harmonize with the principles of the University; and that a clause to that effect be inserted in the letter."

It will be observed that the amendment in the draft of the Government letter proposed and agreed to at this meeting, in which all interests were represented, was precisely that which had been proposed by the Director of Public Instruction and agreed to by the Native Committee.

9. So much for the closing of the Anjuman College and School. We have now to consider the establishment of the Oriental College and School in 1870.

10. The proposals submitted to the Government of India in the letter No. 235, dated 27th May 1868, embraced "the establishment of a Collegiate Department in connection with the University, or making pecuniary grants to other Colleges conducted on a system conformable with the principles of the University." The Punjab University College was established by Notification No. 472 of 8th December 1869, and its constitution and objects were set forth in the Statutes attached to the Notification, from the third of which the following extract is made :—

"III. The Senate shall have power * * *

"(2) to expend the income at its disposal, in all or any of the following ways, viz :—

* * * *

"(d). The establishment of a Collegiate Department in connection with the institution or making pecuniary grants to other Colleges conducted on a system conformable with the principles of the institution."

The first meeting of Senate was held on Tuesday, 11th January 1870, under the presidency of the Lieutenant-Governor, Sir D. McLeod. At that meeting an Executive Committee was appointed and was instructed among other things :—

"3rd,—to consider and report the proportion or amount of annual income which should be expended on the different objects of the institution, viz.,—(1) examinations, (2) fellowships and scholarships, (3) rewards for the encouragement of Vernacular literature, (4) grants-in-aid to Colleges.

* * * *

"7th,—to consider and report upon the subject of grants-in-aid to Colleges, viz., the conditions on which, and the purposes for which, such grants shall be made."

11. The report of the Executive Committee is dated 15th March 1870. It states that the Committee thought it advisable to send up the required report in the form of resolutions passed on the questions which had come before them, and expressing their views as to the course which should be pursued in opening work for the year; and for convenience the Committee recorded opposite each head of their instructions what they had done or proposed to do in order to carry them out. Among the resolutions submitted were the two following* :—

* Page 16 of Appendix to Report.

"Resolved (on 2nd March 1870) that a large and efficient school for the study of Oriental classics and general knowledge be established at Lahore at a cost of Rs. 3,600 per annum to be met out of annual subscriptions doubled by the grant-in-aid for adults above 16 years of age who had acquired some proficiency in either Arabic or Sanskrit."

And * * * "it was agreed (on 7th March) that the Committee appoint a Professor of Sanskrit on Rs. 6,000 per annum to superintend Oriental School and assist in Government College."

The report was submitted to the second meeting of the Senate, held on 5th May, and was considered at that and subsequent meetings. In reporting upon the proportion of annual income to be expended on the various objects referred for their consideration, the Committee remarked as follows :—

"III—The Committee has given this subject long and full consideration. It seems to them that the most practical form in which they can set forth the result of their deliberations is to estimate the income which is likely to be available; to consider, as that income must be limited, what are the most important branches of the work on which expenditure is necessary. They would invite the earnest attention of the Senate to the immense importance of starting well. The expenditure proposed on some of these heads may seem to be open to objection, but it is of first rate importance that there should be nothing in the scheme which might damp the ardour or diminish the sympathies of the native subscribers. It cannot be doubted that the amount of future income will very much depend on the satisfaction which the subscribers feel in the scheme proposed, and if it is seen that a particular branch of work is strongly desired by them, it is, we consider, highly important to make provision accordingly, even though the work itself may not seem equally important to all classes of the supporters of the institution.

"Thus it was found by your Committee that the whole body of Native subscribers are very strongly in favour of establishing, in connection with the College, a large and efficient Oriental School, in which, however, the Oriental languages should be taught on modern and enlightened principles, and combined with instruction in general knowledge. It was the opinion of several Native gentlemen, well qualified to understand the general feeling of the public, that this school would not only gratify the wishes of the subscribers, but would tend to enhance their interest in, and willingness to afford liberal support to, the scheme.

"The Committee accordingly passed a Resolution on the 2nd March 1870, that in their opinion such a school ought to form part of the first year's establishment. The cost should be met out of annual subscriptions, doubled by the grant-in-aid. It should be for adults over 16 years of age, who had acquired some proficiency in either Sanskrit or Arabic. The method of instruction and the class of literature taught could be directed in the right way by the University College in a manner which could not be effected equally well were such tuition struck out of our scheme and left as heretofore to the private and undirected efforts of Maulvís and Pandits.

"Under the head of grants-in-aid, it was considered that the best form of assistance was to provide for the increase of the professorial staff in the College. The expenditure on the Oriental School would appropriately be placed under this head, especially as its Superintendent, the Professor of Sanskrit, is expected to assist in either English Literature or History or Moral and Mental Science in the Lahore Government College. Your Committee are of opinion that the most convenient form in which they can exhibit the proportion of funds which should be devoted to each object is to draw up a proposed scheme of budget for the first year only, showing the probable income and the suggested outlay.

* * * * * * * *

"Grants-in-aid should be made by the University College either to enable existing Colleges to increase their efficiency and teach those subjects which the principles of this institution recommend; or to increase the strength of Colleges which do already teach according to the University College standards, and enable them to have a more efficient teaching staff. The Committee, however, submits to the Senate that the Government should be earnestly asked not to diminish the support it gives to the existing Government and other educational institutions of the Province on the ground of any grant made to University College."

Accordingly in the budget, which they submitted, the Committee entered the following :—

	Rs.
Professor of Sanskrit who will be required to superintend the Oriental School and to assist in the Government College	6,000
Oriental School	3,600

At the third meeting of Senate held on 7th May 1870 a budget allotment was passed at the above rates for an Oriental School from 1st August, and a Sanskrit Professor from 1st October to 31st December 1870. At the 5th meeting held on 30th May a Sanskrit Professor was nominated, and at a later meeting * on 4th July the details of the expenditure on the school, amounting to Rs. 300 a month as proposed by the Committee, were sanctioned. At the same meeting it was resolved that the Oriental School should form the Oriental Department of the Lahore Government College, in the event of the Government College and the Zilla School being placed under the direct control of the Senate. Neither the appointment of a Sanskrit Professor nor the proposed transfer of the Government College and Zilla School to the Senate was ever carried out, and in the budget for 1871, which was passed at a meeting of the Senate held on the 26th December 1870, provision was made for an expenditure of Rs. 550 per mensem in the Oriental School, including Rs. 200 per mensem to be paid to Dr. Ernest Trumpp for superintendence.

12. The circumstances under which the designation of College was first introduced do not clearly appear. In the proceedings of the Executive Committee, dated 3rd February 1872, the institution is still called the "Oriental School;" in those of the 9th March 1872 it is called the "Oriental College." No reason is assigned for the change. In a statement forwarded by the Registrar with a letter dated 29th November 1872 to the Director of Public Instruction, it is said "that the designation of this institution was changed from School to College after a number of students had passed the Entrance Examination in subjects of general knowledge, and had also succeeded in the highest Oriental Examinations." Judging from the statistics of passes given in the first calendar, that namely for 1874-75, this seems to be correct if "middle" be substituted for "highest" as regards the Oriental examinations. The change, however, was merely one of designation, and made no difference in the relations or obligations of the Senate to the institution.

13. The further history of the Oriental College and School may be very summarily stated.

Practically beyond the receipt of special endowments, which are not now under consideration, no change in its relations to the Senate took place during the continuance of the Punjab University College. When the Punjab University was established under Act XIX of 1882, an obligation to maintain the Oriental College together with a Law School and such other Schools or College as the Senate may from time to time direct was inserted in the Statutes† framed under the Act; and in 1885 special rules for the management of the College defining more precisely its relations to the Senate were adopted. The object of these rules, as set out in the Chancellor's memorandum of 13th March 1885, was to put an end to controversies arising out of the allegations that the Oriental Department does not receive its fair share of the funds, and that funds are not applied in accordance with the wishes of the donors,—allegations which led to the inquiries resulting in this and other recent Resolutions. The views expressed and the proposals made in that memorandum had received the general support of a very large majority of the Fellows of the University, including the whole of the Ruling Chiefs,‡ to whose liberality the University is mainly indebted for its funds and endowments, all the representatives of Chiefs and a majority of the surviving founders of the University. The rules as finally amended were passed almost unanimously at one of the largest meetings of Senate (6th May 18-5) ever held. If this Resolution succeeds in clearing away the mists of the past, as the rules of 1885 do for the future, the time spent in the historical investigations will have been well bestowed.

† "Statute IV.—The following institutions shall be maintained by the University :—
I.—An Oriental College.
II.—A Law School.
III.—Such other Schools or Colleges as the Senate may, from time to time, direct."

‡ Except one, who was too ill to be asked.

* The proceedings of this meeting were very severely commented upon by Government in a letter to the Registrar, No. 534, dated 23rd September 1870, in which the following remarks are made regarding the proposed establishment of the Oriental School :—

"Proposal III.—It appears to His Honor that in the schedule of establishment of the Oriental School, inadequate provision is made for instruction in European science. The appointment of a teacher on Rs. 60 per mensem to instruct in "Mathematics, History, Geography, and Physics," can hardly be considered a sufficient guarantee that these subjects will be taught with efficiency; and the number of hours per diem in which these important subjects are to be taught is not specified. His Honor will not withhold his assent to the resolution, but he would wish, nevertheless, that the schedule of establishment be carefully re-considered in reference to the above remarks; and measures be taken for affording some guarantee that the study of European science shall have its due place in the Oriental School."

14. Before proceeding, however, to state the conclusions which, in the Lieutenant-Governor's opinion, are to be drawn from the facts as ascertained, there is one other point requiring to be carefully examined. Dr. Leitner's explanation quoted above in paragraph 4, and concurred in by the Anjuman, states that the subscriptions to the University ceased when the Oriental School was closed in June 1867; that, the reason of the cessation of subscriptions becoming known, the Executive Committee of the Punjab University College determined to revive the School; and this revival justified the Committee asking for the subscriptions due to the School since 1867, which were then received and paid into the Punjab University College current account, as there was not any distinction between the Oriental School and the Punjab University; or, as it is forcibly put on page 4 of the documents submitted by the Anjuman quoting from the last calendar of the Punjab University College:—

"When for certain reasons the Oriental School was closed, the subscriptions and donations ceased; after its re-opening, under improved auspices, very liberal subscriptions and donations again poured in."

The facts already set forth in this Resolution will have shown that the above statements are incorrect in nearly every particular, but it is desirable to examine them more minutely than has been done.

15. According to the schedule submitted with the letter from the Punjab Government to the Government of India, No. 235, dated 27th May 1868, the sum collected up to that time was Rs. 98,794, of which Rs. 87,653 were donations, and Rs. 11,141 subscriptions. The donations, * however, included Rs. 72,500 from the Mahárája of Kashmír and the Rája of Kapurthala, paid in January and February (March) 1868. The payment of these munificent sums is of itself sufficient to show how incorrect are the statements now commented upon. But the Lieutenant-Governor feels that it would be unfair to take these gifts into consideration in estimating the fluctuations of general subscriptions. Excluding them, therefore, the collections at the time of the submission of the Government letter, say 30th April 1868, would be Rs. 26,294.† In the "Account Book of the University, Punjab, from May 1866," and the accounts previous to May 1866, which were kept in the Vernacular, the sums entered as collected up to 30th April 1868 amount to Rs. 26,336, which differs only by Rs. 42 from the figures given in the official letter. From these accounts the Lieutenant-Governor finds that from January 1866, when the accounts open, up to 31st July 1867, a period of 19 months, the collections amounted to Rs. 20,913, of which Rs. 4,000 were contributed by the Viceroy ‡ and Rs. 16,913 by others. The collections between 1st August 1867 and 30th April 1868, a period of nine months (no subscription having been intermediately paid by the Viceroy), amounted to Rs. 5,423. In the eight months from May 1868 to the end of the year Rs. 5,994 only were collected, of which Rs. 2,000 were given by the Viceroy. § In 1869 there were practically no collections, only Rs. 780 being paid. The reason is easily found. In September 1868 the reply of the Government of India had been received ¶ criticising the Punjab proposals adversely, and declining to sanction the establishment of a University. In replying to this letter on the 12th November 1868 the Lieutenant-Governor expressed his fear that the refusal of a University, if insisted upon, would practically bring to an end the educational movement which had sprung up amongst the leading members of the aristocracy and gentry of the Punjab; and the Director of Public Instruction, in a letter of 3rd November, reported his fear, from inquiries he had made, that the Natives were likely to be very much discouraged; and the President of the Anjuman and Secretary to the English and Native University Committees enlarged on the same subject in his letter of 9th July 1869. All through the latter part of 1868 and the greater part of 1869 there could be no active measures taken to raise further contributions for a project that had been negatived. It was not till September 1869 that the sanction of the Secretary of State to the Punjab University College was received, and the College was, as already stated, established by Notification of 8th December 1869.

* The history of these donations and of other large donations by Ruling Chiefs is given in paragraphs 11, 15 and 19 of Resolution No. 51, dated 14th April 1886. They had no connection with the Anjuman or with the University Committee, European or Native, but were the result of a private meeting of the representative of the States in attendance on the Lieutenant-Governor, held by the Secretary to Government (Mr. Aitchison) under instructions from the Lieutenant-Governor, and were invested by Government in an account distinct from all other funds.

16. At the first meeting of Senate, which was held on 11th January 1870, the very first of the instructions given to the Executive Committee was "to take measures for obtaining and realizing donations and subscriptions to the Lahore (Punjab) University College, reporting monthly to the Vice-President the amount collected and promised." The Resolutions submitted by the Committee in their report of the 15th March 1870 were the following:—

"Resolved (on 14th January 1870) that the Committee at once address all those who have promised subscriptions and donations, with a view to their paying up without delay. Subscriptions will be claimed from 1st January 1867.

"Resolved (on 2nd March 1870) that a detailed list of susbcribers who owed sums to University College be prepared for each zilla, and that the several District Officers be requested to collect them in an un-official way as friends to the University movement.

"Resolved (on 4th March 1870) that a list of Rájas who had not yet contributed to the movement be prepared, and that they be invited to subscribe.

"Resolved that subscribers who were in receipt of pensions be asked whether, with a view to facilitate the collection of subscriptions, they would allow their subscriptions to be deducted on payment of their pensions.

"Standing Committee in each district:—

"Resolved (on 17th January 1870) that a Standing Committee should be appointed in each district to aid the Executive Committee in obtaining and realizing subscriptions and donations."

And in their remarks in the Report the Committee said—

"Application has been made to all subscribers and donors in arrears, and it was resolved to consider subscriptions as due from the 1st January 1867, leaving it to any individual who intended to subscribe on a different understanding to act as he thought right; donors have been asked to become also annual subscribers, and small subscribers to increase their subscriptions; the immediate payment of their donations with the addition of annual subscriptions has been promised by the Chiefs of Patiála and Nábha, through their Vakíls; communications have been entered into with other noblemen, and it is finally proposed (a) to apply for donations and subscriptions to the Durbáris who have not yet assisted the movement; (b) to collect the amounts volunteered by the zemíndárs of Lahore, Amritsar, Gurdáspur, Kángra, Gujránwála, and Jullundur through the District Officers; and (c) to ask District Officers, as friends to the institution, to co-operate with the Local District Committees of University College, with the view to collect outstandings, and obtain new subscriptions from native gentlemen in their district; (d) finally, to issue an appeal to the general public for donations and subscriptions, leaving to contributors the fullest liberty in applying their contributions either to the endowment of a particular professorship, fellowship or scholarship; the composition or translation of any scientific work; to scholarships or fellowships tenable for a longer or shorter period, open to all comers, or confined to particular districts; or to any other purpose consistent with the principles on which the institution has been founded."

17. Appended to the report was a statement of amounts received. The receipts up to 31st December 1869* in the shape of subscriptions and donations was stated to be Rs. 1,06,815-12-0; and between the 11th January and the date of the report (15th March) Rs. 1,673 had been received. At the fourth meeting of Senate (16th May), Rs. 78,978-8-0 were paid in, of which Rs. 76,230 were from the Mahárája of Patiála and Rs. 2,748 from others, and so on. The Oriental School was not opened till October.

The difference of Rs. 722 is, for the purposes of this Resolution, immaterial.

18. The subject need not be pursued further. Those who have sufficient interest in the question to take the trouble to read the foregoing dry and tedious narrative will draw their own conclusions. The conclusions which the Lieutenant-Governor draws are the following :—

That the Elementary Vernacular Schools established by the Anjuman in 1865 and abolished in 1867 had no connection whatever with the University or its funds, but were intended to be grant-in-aid schools; and that they failed to enjoy the grant-in-aid sanctioned for them, because the managers would not comply with the grant-in-aid rules.

That the School and College experimentally established in May 1866 were not maintained out of the Anjuman funds, but up to July 1867 were maintained entirely at the cost of the funds collected for the University; and in violation of the principles laid down early in the University movement, that the general funds were not available for local Schools and Colleges, which were to look for support to local subscriptions and subscriptions specially given for the purpose.

That when the School was closed in July 1867, the College was maintained for another year by local subscriptions supplemented by a loan (never repaid) of Rs. 2,224 from the University funds, being Rs. 560 in excess of the expected local subscriptions (Rs. 1,664) for the year ?

That with the exception of local subscriptions in Lahore and Amritsar, which did not cover more than one-third of the cost and some few very petty items, no subscriptions were ever given expressly for this College.

That the subscriptions to the University did not cease after July 1867 as alleged, but continued very much as before ; and that the cessation of subscriptions towards the end of 1868 was due to the refusal of the Government of India to sanction a University for the Punjab, and not in any way whatever to the closing of the School in July 1867 or the College in June 1868.

That the Oriental School established in 1870, which developed into the present Oriental College, had no connection either with the College abolished in 1868 or with the Anjuman, but was an entirely new institution, established in accordance with the report of the Executive Committee of the Punjab University College, prepared in obedience to instructions from the Senate.

That the establishment of the School in October 1870, for which a small budget allotment was made on 7th May, and the details of establishment were sanctioned on 4th July 1870, was not, and could not have been, the cause of the large subscriptions which commenced to be realized in February and March 1870; but that these subscriptions were due to the fact of the establishment of the Punjab University College under guarantees that money subscribed would be properly spent, the instructions issued by the Senate at their very first meeting on 11th January 1870, and the active measures taken by the Executive Committee consequent thereon.

That, as explained in Resolution No. 51, dated 14th April 1886, the obligations of the University towards Oriental learning so far as they affect its general funds are those set forth in the preamble of Act XIX of 1882, which embodies the substance of the principles expressed in the Rules of the Punjab University College on which the University movement was commenced; but that there is no obligation, express or implied, to spend these funds on an Oriental College or in any other particular way than the Senate, having due regard to its other obligations under the Act, may from time to time determine; and that the particular manner in which the Oriental College or any other School or College which the University may establish is to be administered is a matter solely for the judgment of the Senate.

19. These conclusions, which the Lieutenant-Governor considers to be fully justified by the facts, may seem to be stated too nakedly and harshly. But when the obscurity in which matters have hitherto been allowed to rest has furnished ground for acrimonious controversy, and even for charges of breach of faith,—charges which are easy to bring though not always easy to refute, and which, even when refuted, are apt to leave some poison of suspicion behind,—it is incumbent on the Local Government, upon whom the duty is imposed of requiring that the proceedings of the University shall be in conformity with its obligations, to give no uncertain sound as to what it considers those obligations to be. The investigation of these matters has been a very laborious task, in which the Lieutenant-Governor has had no pleasure; and he thinks it necessary to state the conclusions at which he has arrived categorically and in as plain language as he can command. The Lieutenant-Governor is anxious that he may not be misunderstood as either calling in question the very great services rendered by the Anjuman to the Punjab University, or the importance of maintaining an Oriental College and affording encouragement to the enlightened study of the Eastern classical languages and improving the Vernacular literature. He yields to no one in his acknowledgment of the past services of the Anjuman, though he can find no foundation in them or in anything that has occurred for the claims advanced in the documents forwarded by that Society through the Senate. And while he has continuously and consistently, from the very commencement of the University movement, of which he was one of the very earliest promoters, advocated the establishment of an Oriental College, he has never concealed his conviction that the Vernaculars of the country do not as yet afford the materials for conveying instruction of a high order, and that a knowledge of English is indispensable to any Native of India who desires to prosecute high literary and scientific studies. This indeed was one of the accepted principles of the original University movement* in the Punjab; and at the meeting of 25th May 1868, at which the Punjab letter to the Government of India advocating the establishment of a Punjab University was read, one of the four amendments moved and carried was, "that a clause be added directing that provision be made for 'duly recognizing and honoring English though uncombined with proficiency in Arabic or Sanskrit.'" The Lieutenant-Governor, Sir D. Macleod, in his address at the inauguration of the Punjab University College, "deemed it certain that, without a large infusion of European literature and science with the studies to be promoted by the establishment of the proposed institution, the object in view could not possibly be obtained;" and holding these views he successfully objected to the designation of the institution as an "Oriental" University.

* Extract from Resolution passed at a general meeting of those interested in the promotion of the University held at the Lawrence Hall on 23rd March 1868.

"(2). That while the highest honors of the University be reserved for those who attain the highest form of education which it is admitted can only at present be attained by those possessing a thorough knowledge of English, the University shall also recognize and honor literary merit and learning in the case of those unacquainted with the English language."

20. In another Resolution, which will conclude the review of University affairs, the Lieutenant-Governor will deal with the question of the special trusts and endowments of the University. But this cannot be done till the Senate has replied to the letters noted in the margin,† calling for certified copies of correspondence relating to the trust funds and for accounts of the trust discharged from the interests and profits of separate investments and of the consolidated fund respectively.

DEPARTMENT OF FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

Proceedings of the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab in the Financial Department, No. 1391, dated 22nd May 1886.

READ—

(1). Resolutions of the Punjab Government in the Financial Department, No. 940 to No. 944, dated 3rd April 1884, regarding the transfer of Provincial properties to Local Bodies in the Punjab.

(2). The reports of Deputy Commissioners and Commissioners in reply to above.

(3). Proceedings of the Punjab Government in the Financial Department, dated 15th December 1885, on the same subject.

(4). Letters from Commissioners in reply to (3).

REMARKS.—In the Resolutions of the Punjab Government, dated 3rd April 1884, the financial and other conditions on which the Government was prepared to entrust Local Bodies with the management of Provincial properties * were explained, and Deputy Commissioners were instructed to submit statements detailing the properties available for transfer of which Local Bodies might be willing to take charge, and the additional income and expenditure for which they would become responsible in consequence of the transfer. These statements with the reports of District and Divisional Officers which accompanied them were reviewed by the Punjab Government in the autumn of 1885; and in December of 1885 schedules prepared in the Government office were sent out for the final acceptance of the Local Bodies, showing for each District Board and Municipal Committee the properties of each class which the Lieutenant-Governor was willing to transfer to it and the financial adjustment that had been approved by His Honor in each case. It was at the same time explained that the period for which the Local Bodies were expected to contract for the management of the properties in the first instance would be the six years, from 1st April 1886 to 31st March 1892.

* Viz.—(1) Nazúl properties.
(2) Ferries.
(3) Staging - bungalows and rest-houses.
(4) Cattle-pounds.
(5) Encamping-grounds.

Replies to these proposals have been received from all but one district, and the Lieutenant-Governor is glad to be able at last to give practical effect to this long-contemplated measure for the decentralization of finance and the provision of suitable functions for the newly-constituted Local Bodies.

2. The original intention of the Punjab Government was to vest District Boards and Municipal Committees with the management of Provincial properties of all classes to such extent as might be practicable without risking efficiency by the withdrawal of direct Government control where it is absolutely necessary. Objection has, however, been taken to the scheme in the Military Department so far as encamping-grounds are concerned, and all properties of this class will therefore remain in charge of the Deputy Commissioners. To the proposed decentralization of the management of nazúl properties, ferries, staging-bungalows and rest-houses and cattle-pounds, however, no objection has been raised which has not been disposed of in the Resolutions of April 1884, and as the Local Bodies have as a rule cordially accepted the prescribed conditions, it has been found practicable to transfer a considerable number of these properties to them.

3. Instructions to place the District Boards and Municipal Committees in charge of the properties to be made over to them have been given to Commissioners by separate letters in which the properties have been named, and the compensation due to or by Provincial revenues in respect of each description of property has been stated. A repetition of these details is here unnecessary, and the present Resolution will, therefore, contain only certain general explanations on the subject which appear to be required, and a brief statement of the financial results of the measure with instructions for the adjustment of the sums recoverable from or payable to the Local Bodies, as the case may be, on account of the additional income or expenditure to be transferred to them with the properties.

4. The broad financial result of the transfers which have been arranged will be the removal from the accounts of Provincial revenues to those of District and Municipal Funds of income and expenditure (including Public Works expenditure) amounting at an average to Rs. 2,04,926 and Rs. 38,190 per annum, respectively. The following table exhibits the average income and expenditure of the properties of each class which are to be transferred :—

	Average income.	Average expenditure.	Average net income or expenditure.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Nazúl-properties	8,087	2,394	+5,693
Ferries	1,47,487	13,189	+1,34,298
Staging-bungalows and rest-houses	4,353	6,186	−1,833
Cattle pounds	44,999	16,421	+28,578
Total	2,04,926	38,190	+1,66,736

The ferry expenditure taken into account here is exclusive of ferry police charges which will continue to be paid from Provincial revenues.

The Lieutenant-Governor would have been glad under more favourable circumstances to make a free grant to the Local Bodies of this net income amounting to Rs. 1,66,736. But the present financial condition of the Local Government will not admit of the surrender of so large a sum from the Provincial revenues, and, as suggested above, it has been arranged that compensation shall be paid annually to the Local Government for the loss of the income. In a few cases where the income of the properties has been less than the expenditure, compensation will be paid by the Government to the Local Bodies for the net charge. The amount of such annual compensation which each District Board and Municipal Committee has consented to pay or is to receive is given in the statements appended to this Resolution, which show that the total amount recoverable from the Local Bodies as a whole is Rs. 1,55,710, or Rs. 11,026 less than the average net income which will accrue to them by the transaction. It may be objected that in many instances the sums for which Municipal Committees are liable are so insignificant as to be hardly worth recovering. This is no doubt the case, and if the present were the only financial adjustments to be made with Municipalities the Lieutenant-Governor would remit the compensation payable where the amount was insignificant. An order to this effect will be issued hereafter if necessary. At present, however, it is more convenient to show the sums as recoverable from the Committees because other financial transactions are pending with them, the adjustment of which the existence of this liability may help to facilitate.

5. The term of the first contract with Local Bodies for the management of Provincial properties by them being, as already stated, six years, beginning from 1st April 1886, the annual compensation due by or to them as shown in the appended statements will be payable for that period. The Accountant-General will be directed to issue such instructions as may be necessary for the payment. It may here be explained that in the case of those ferries on the Jumna the income of which though realized in the Punjab is shared with the Government of the North-Western Provinces, the charge for the moiety payable to that Government will be debited to Provincial revenues, as the compensation to be paid by Local Bodies in respect to these ferries has been fixed on the understanding that the whole of the income will be credited to the funds administered by them. On the other hand, the credit for the moiety payable to the Punjab of the income realized in the North Western Provinces should be credited as usual to Provincial revenues, as it has been excluded in calculating the compensation recoverable from Local Bodies.

6. As already remarked, the general conditions on which the management of Provincial properties is now to be entrusted to Local Bodies have been laid down in the Resolutions of the Punjab Government, dated 3rd April 1884, and need not be repeated here. There still remain, however, a few points on which further instructions are necessary for the guidance of the Local Bodies, and these will now be stated.

7. In the first place, it is essential that a careful inventory be prepared by District Boards and Municipal Committees of all the properties transferred to them, and that they shall maintain correct accounts of the income derived from, and expenditure incurred on, each property during the term of the contract. Deputy Commissioners should see that these inventories and accounts are duly prepared and kept up, as without them there will be no data for the revision of the contracts on the expiry of the period for which they are made.

8. In the second place, it is to be distinctly understood that no claim to abatement of the compensation payable by Local Bodies to Provincial revenues will be entertained by the Government except under very special circumstances. A decrease in the income, or increase in the expenditure, of any property as compared with the figure at which it stood when the compensation was fixed, if due to ordinary causes, will not be admitted as a reason for remitting any portion of the same. When, however, reduction of income, or increase in expenditure, is the result of orders passed by Government (as, for example, if the Government were to decide to reduce the rate of ferry tolls or dâk bungalow fees), the Lieutenant-Governor will be prepared to make a corresponding reduction in the amounts payable to Government on the class of property concerned.

It has been suggested that the Government should give the Local Bodies a guarantee against loss caused by uncontrollable accidents, such as the destruction by fire or flood of properties of which they have taken charge. In regard to this suggestion it is sufficient to remark that there is no intention of calling upon Local Bodies to renew properties that may be destroyed by accidents of the nature described, or of taking compensation from them in respect of properties which have ceased to exist.

9. Thirdly, it must not be overlooked that the transfer to Local Bodies of the ferries, dâk bungalows and cattle-pounds now to be made over to them for management does not invest them with authority to establish new ferries, dâk bungalows and pounds without the sanction of Government. The present contract refers to existing institutions only, and the Local Government reserves to itself the power of establishing others. As doubts have been expressed on the subject, it is necessary to explain further in this connection that Local Bodies will not have the power of removing cattle-pounds made over to them for management from the police station-houses to which they are attached.

ORDER.—Ordered that the above Resolution be forwarded to all Commissioners and Deputy Commissioners for information and guidance, with spare copies for the information and guidance of the Local Bodies concerned.

Also that copies be forwarded to the Public Works Department and the Accountant-General, Punjab, for information and guidance, and that the Public Works Department be also furnished with a list of the properties transferred in each district.

Ordered also that the Resolution be published in the Punjab Government Gazette, and that a copy be forwarded to the Government of India in the Department of Finance and Commerce for information.

By order of the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor,

C. L. TUPPER,

Junior Secretary to Government, Punjab.

Muhammad Yúsuf Sháh, Member of Municipal Committee, and Member of Committee Islamia School, Amritsar.

2. The Conference held eight meetings, sitting generally for about six hours daily. Many educational questions of an important character were brought under discussion, and the rules and regulations and other matter, that will find a place in the first eight chapters of the Education Code now in course of preparation, were fully considered. The subjects treated of in these chapters are the following :—

I.—Definitions and classification.

II.—Grant-in-aid rules for colleges and public schools.

III.—Grant-in-aid rules for indigenous schools.

IV.—Certificated teachers.

V.—Standards of examination.

VI.—Fees.

VII.—Scholarships.

VIII.—Boarding houses.

The first four chapters were fully drafted beforehand, and had received the provisional approval of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, subject to such alterations and amendments as might be suggested by the Conference. Chapters V and VII had been partially drafted, and both for these and for Chapter VI there was ample material for discussion, in the form of previous Rules and Circulars, correspondence and reports. With regard to VIII, a series of questions for Consideration, suggested by previous correspondence, had been drawn up for submission to the Conference.

3. His Honor is much indebted to the Members of the Conference for their attendance at Lahore, and for the careful consideration they have bestowed on the various questions that were submitted to them ; and he desires to express his cordial concurrence with most of the conclusions at which they have arrived, though he is unable to agree with them on certain points; and to these a brief reference is desirable.

4. In Article 26 (b) of the second Chapter of the draft Code it was provided, that grants to a school higher than the Primary, or for instruction in English, might be refused on the ground that the locality is already sufficiently supplied with the means of secondary or English education by existing aided schools, provided that the existence of Government or Board Schools should not be a ground for such refusal. This rule the Conference propose to omit.

The rule in question was intended to economise and secure the best distribution of public funds by discouraging the multiplication of secondary schools in excess of actual requirements in any particular locality ; whilst the provision that the existence of a Government or Board School would be no reason for refusing a grant was intended to encourage the substitution of aided schools for those maintained wholly by the State or by Local Boards. This is in accordance with the recommendation contained in paragraph 552 (23), Chapter VIII of the Report of the Education Commission, that "if in any Province the management of Government schools for secondary instruction be transferred either to Municipalities or to Local Boards, or to Committees appointed by those bodies, encouragement be given to the subsequent transfer of the schools concerned to the management of associations of private persons combining locally with that object, provided they are able to afford adequate guarantees of permanence and efficiency."

As, however, the Conference has recommended that the rule be expunged from the Code, and His Honor understands that the recommendation was specially urged by European and Native managers of aided schools, he will not insist upon its retention.

5. In Article 40 it was provided that the total grant to a school "shall not exceed, in primary schools, one-half the expenditure on tuition, and in secondary schools—

(a).—One-third of that expenditure,

(b).—One-half the excess of that expenditure over the income from tuition fees."

These provisions were intended to meet the recommendations contained in Chapter VIII, paragraph 476 and paragraph 552 (13) (b) and (c), of the Report of the Education Commission. In the latter paragraph it is recommended that the amount of State aid (exclusive of scholarships from public funds) shall not be allowed to exceed one-half of the entire expenditure on the institution, and that "as a general rule, this maximum rate of aid be given only to girls' schools, primary schools and normal schools."

In paragraph 476 it is suggested that in a rough and general way the sum necessary to supplement the tuition fees levied in a school for secondary education might be equally divided between the managers and the State; so that if the fees should amount to 40 per cent. of the total expenditure, the managers would be expected to provide 30 per cent., leaving 30 per cent. to be made good by means of the grant. The Conference propose that the maximum grant shall be one-half of the total expenditure in all cases, and that no further restriction shall be imposed.

His Honor considers that the principle laid down in Chapter VIII, paragraph 476, by the Education Commission, should be adhered to; but he is willing to modify the rule under discussion, and he has accordingly determined that for the present the maximum grant shall be fixed at one-half the expenditure on tuition in schools of all classes, subject to the proviso that it shall not exceed, in the case of secondary schools, two-thirds of the difference between tuition fees and the total expenditure on tuition. Thus, if the expenditure on a secondary school were Rs. 200 per mensem, and the fees amounted to Rs. 50 per mensem or less, the maximum grant would be Rs. 100. If the fees should exceed Rs. 50 per mensem, there would be a corresponding decrease in the maximum grant.

6. The last clause of Article 40 provided that for the purpose of calculating new grants, expenditure on tuition and income from tuition fees should be taken at the amounts entered in the application for a grant-in-aid, and that in other cases the calculation should be made on the actual expenditure. The Conference propose that the calculation shall in all cases be made on the actual expenditure on tuition. It appears to the Lieutenant-Governor that this alteration must have been proposed under a misapprehension, and that the object of the clause was not clearly understood by the Conference. In cases where the establishment of a new school depends on the receipt of a grant-in-aid, nothing more than an estimate of the fees and the expenditure on tuition is possible; and there may be no actual expenditure until the grant has been sanctioned. The clause, however, is not of much importance, and can be omitted altogether.

7. With regard to school fees, the Conference has recorded an opinion that the graduated system of fees is indispensable to meet the present condition of education in the Punjab, and has recommended that the present scale depending on income should be simplified and replaced by a rough classification in three grades without specification of income. The Lieutenant-Governor considers that the graduated system of fees is wrong in principle; but inasmuch as the Education Commission left the question undecided, and the Conference appears to be unanimously in favour of retaining the system, His Honor will not press his personal opinion against that of gentlemen of so much weight and experience in educational matters.

8. The new grant-in aid rules for colleges and public schools, which provide for the introduction of a system of payment by results, will, it is believed, do much for the improvement of secondary schools and the extension of primary education, and the rules for grants to indigenous schools will afford the means of making throughout the Punjab a systematic effort to improve these institutions without destroying their distinctive character. The grant-in-aid rules, together with those regarding certificated teachers, will ensure the employment of trained men in the aided schools of the Province. The standards of examination for primary schools have been revised, a series of standards has been laid down for the determination of grants by results to indigenous schools, and the rules regarding certificate examinations have been recast and embodied in the Code. A substantial increase in the rates of tuition fees for secondary schools has been effected, and provision has been made for a further annual increase in the case of Anglo-Vernacular Schools and Arts Colleges. Various points with regard to scholarships that still demanded consideration have been determined, and the amended rules will now be embodied in the Code. The regulations regarding boarding-houses are calculated to insure the efficient management of these institutions, which now hold a very important place in the educational system of the Province.

ORDER.—Ordered that this Resolution and the first eight chapters of the Education Code be published in the Gazette in English and the Vernacular; that the Code, so far as it is completed, be published in pamphlet form in English and the vernacular; that one copy be supplied free of cost to every College, to every Normal School, to every Government and Board School for secondary education, and to the Manager of every Aided School in the Province; and that arrangements be made for the sale of the Code at a fixed price, to be notified in the Government Gazette.

W. R. M. HOLROYD, COLONEL,

Under-Secretary to Government, Punjab,

Home (Education) Department.

PUNJAB.

EDUCATION CODE, 1886-87.

CHAPTER I.

DEFINITIONS AND CLASSIFICATION.

NOTE.—There is a separate Code for European Schools, in which the number of Non-Europeans does not exceed 25 per cent. of the total number of scholars. All other schools are understood to be native schools referred to in these rules.

1. In this Code the following words have the significations shown opposite each, respectively, except where it is stated to the contrary.

2. Local Body includes District Board, District Committee, and Municipal Committee.

3. Department means the Department of Public Instruction, Punjab.

4. Inspector means the Inspector of Schools of a Circle.

5. Inspecting Officer means any officer to whom the duty of inspection may have been entrusted by competent authority in the case referred to, and includes Inspector.

6. Manager means the person, persons, association or Department which has the financial and general control of a school.

7. Correspondent means the person chosen by the manager to conduct and sign all correspondence with the Department.

8. College means an institution at which instruction is given in the courses for degrees* prescribed by a University in one or more of its faculties to students who have passed the Entrance Examination.†

9. Art Colleges include—

(a) English Colleges where students are reading a course prescribed by the University for degrees in Arts.

(b) Oriental Colleges where students are reading a course of oriental subjects prescribed by the University.

10. School means an institution at which instruction other than collegiate is imparted (see College, Article 8).

11. Government School means a school managed by Government or by an officer or Committee acting on behalf of Government.

12. Government schools‡ include—

(i) Departmental Schools managed by Government in the Education Department; and

(ii) Extra Departmental Schools otherwise managed.

13. Board Schools include—

(i) Municipal Board Schools‡ under the management of Municipal Committees;

(ii) District Board Schools under the management of District Boards or Committees.

14. Aided School means a school under private management § that receives any aid whatever, either directly or indirectly, from any public revenue, whether Imperial, Provincial, District or Municipal.

NOTE—The fact that public scholarships or stipends (articles 30 to 34) are tenable in a school does not constitute aid, nor does the payment by Government of fees or subsistence allowances for children of Government servants in attendance at t.

15. Schools are for—

(a) General Education.

(b) Special Education, i.e., instruction in a special branch of technical or professional training.

NOTE.—Under the latter head are included Training Schools, Schools of Art, Law, Medicine, Engineering or Surveying, Industrial Schools, and other schools of special instruction.

16. Public School means a school—

(i) in which the course of study conforms with the standards prescribed by the Department or the University; and

(ii) which is inspected by the Department or presents pupils at the public examinations held by the Department or by the University; and may be applied to a Government School, a Board School, an Aided School or an Unaided School.

17. Private School means a school that does not come under the above definition.

18. Indigenous School means a private school established and conducted by natives of India on native methods, and includes—

(a) Advanced Schools, teaching mainly Arabic, Persian, Sanskrit or any other oriental classic as a language.

(b) Elementary Schools, teaching mainly a vernacular or the native method of accounts.

(c) Note Schools, teaching the words of some oriental scripture by rote.

* The term College includes institutions teaching the intermediate or First Arts course, although they may not be teaching the higher portion of the course for a degree.

† Or in the case of Oriental Colleges, an examination declared by the Local Government to be of equal difficulty.

‡ In the statistical returns prescribed by the Government of India, Government and Board Schools are shown as "Schools under public management" which are defined as Schools—

(i) Under the direct management of Government or of officers or Committees acting on behalf of Government or of Boards exercising statuatory powers ; and

(ii) In which the staff of teachers is ppointed and dismissed by Government or by such Officers, Committees or Boards.

§ i.e., under the management of Missionary Bodies, or private persons or Associations of any kind.

19. Anglo-Vernacular School means a school in which English is taught as part of the regular course.*

20. Vernacular School means a school in which English is not taught as part of the regular course.

21. Composite School means an institution of which different portions fall under different main heads under articles 15 to 20.

Such portions are considered and treated as separate schools for the purposes of this Code and of classification; but the term "Composite School" is used as a convenient expression to designate the whole.

Example.—There is an institution at Amritsar comprising a public section (article 16) and an indigenous section (article 18). These are treated as two distinct schools, but the term composite school may be used to designate the whole.

22. Public Schools for general education (articles 15 and 16) are classed according to the standard up to which they teach, as—

(a) Primary Schools, including—

(i) Lower Primary Schools.

(ii) Upper Primary Schools.

(b) Secondary Schools, including—

(i) Middle Schools.

(ii) High Schools.

(See note, Article 27.)

23.—Group of Schools.—Several separate schools constitute a group of schools if they—

(1) are situated in, or in the immediate vicinity of, the same town or village;

(2) are under the same manager;

(3) are under the control of a common Head Master or Superintendent.

(4) belong to the same class of schools (articles 12 to 20) except as regards the standard of instruction;

(5) do not include more than one institution of a higher standard than Primary.

(For example, see below under Branch Schools.)

24.—Where in a group of schools one of the schools is of a higher standard than all the rest, and the latter ordinarily act as feeders to the former—

(a) the former is called the Main School, and

(b) the latter are called Branch Schools.

Examples.—A Middle School is opened in Delhi and Primary branches are established in connection with it. One of these is presently raised to the Middle standard. It then ceases to be a Branch school.

Four Primary girls' schools, a Normal School for mistresses and an Industrial School are opened in Delhi. The first four may constitute a group of schools; the last two cannot be included in the group.

25. Status.—The status of a school under articles 15 to 22 is determined by the usual course of instruction for which permanent provision is made; and is not affected by the accident that a few scholars may, at any given time, be reading subjects or standards not included in that course.

26. School standards of examination as at present prescribed in the Punjab are—

(a) Those fixed by the Department,† viz.:—

(i) Infant.

(ii) Lower Primary.

(iii) Upper Primary.

(b) Those fixed by the rules or regulations of the Punjab University, viz.:—

(i) Middle School.

(ii) Entrance.

NOTE.—Special standards will be fixed from time to time by the Department for the regulation of grants to Indigenous Schools.*

* Anglo-Vernacular Schools are called "English Schools" in the statistical return prescribed by the Imperial Government.

† For details of these standards, see Chapter V.

27. School Departments contain boys preparing for the corresponding standards. They are—

NOTE.—High School (Article 22) includes (e), and may include (a), (b), (c), and (d).
Middle School includes (d), and may include (a), (b), and (c).
Upper Primary School includes (c), and may include (a) and (b).
Lower Primary School includes (a) and (b).

28. Boys' School means a school in which more than half the number of pupils are boys.

29. Girls' School means a school in which more than half the number of pupils are girls.

30. Scholarship means a periodical payment guaranteed for a fixed time on certain conditions, and awarded, subject to certain fixed limitations, absolutely in accordance with the results of a public examination.

31. Stipend means a subsistence allowance made to a scholar on certain conditions to enable or induce him to pursue a certain specified course of study.

32. Public Scholarship or stipend means a scholarship or stipend paid from public revenues, whether Imperial, Provincial, Municipal or District.

33. Open Scholarship means a scholarship the conditions of award or tenure of which cannot be altered without the sanction of Government.

34. Close Scholarship means a scholarship the conditions of award or tenure of which may be altered by the person or body who established it, subject to any general rules on the subject that may be in force for the time being.

CHAPTER II.

GRANT-IN-AID RULES FOR COLLEGES AND PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

Section A.—Preliminary.

Grants from public revenues. Object of grants.

35. A sum of money is annually set apart from the public revenues of the Punjab (that is to say, from District, Municipal and Provincial Funds) to be expended under these rules in grants-in-aid to schools with the purpose of encouraging and extending private enterprise in education, and thus enabling Government to gradually withdraw from the task of direct instruction through official agency.

Grants to colleges and to schools for special education.

36. Applications for grants to colleges and to schools for special education will be considered on their merits, as occasion may arise, with reference, in the case of colleges, to the general principles set forth in the report of the Indian Education Commission, Chapters VI and VIII, clauses 338 and 540.

Meaning of "School" in these rules.

37. Except where stated to the contrary, the word School in these rules applies only to public schools for general education under private management.

In the case of Composite Schools (see Chapter I, Article 19) only such portions of the institution as fall under the above definition are comprised in the word "School."

Branch Schools and "Groups of Schools" treated as single Schools.

38. For the purposes of this Code all Branch Schools of a single main school, as defined in Chapter I, article 24, are treated as a single school. For the same purposes a Group of Schools falling under the definition in Chapter I, article 23, may, at the desire of the Managers, and with the sanction of the Department and of the Local Bodies concerned, be treated as a single school.

39. The School year is the twelve months ending on the last day of the month immediately preceding that fixed by the Inspector for his annual visit (see Article 55).

School year.

School meeting.

40. A School Meeting is a period of not less than two hours' secular instruction given on the same day; provided, however, that—

(a) in Infant departments a period of an hour-and-a-half shall be considered a school meeting;

(b) in no case can more than two school meetings be counted on the same day.

Attendance. Scholars under four not included.

41. The same number of attendances is reckoned for each school meeting as there were scholars of above four years of age present and under instruction throughout the meeting. No attendances can be reckoned for any scholar under four years of age.

Average daily attendance how calculated.

42. The average daily attendance of a school or portion of a school for any period is found by adding together the attendances and dividing by the number of school meetings for that portion and period. The quotient is the average daily attendance.

Sanction of Department.

43. Whenever these rules require the order or sanction of the Department, the orders of the Director shall be taken through the Inspector.

Orders of Inspector subject to appeal to Director.

44. Whenever the sanction of the Inspector is required, and has been granted, the Director has power to revoke such sanction. All orders of the Inspector are subject to appeal to the Director.

Orders of Director and Local Board subject to appeal to Government.

45. All orders of the Director, of District Boards or Committees, or of Municipal Committees are subject to appeal to Government. The appeal shall be made through the Commissioner of the Division, who has power to call upon the Inspector for report, except when the appeal is from the order of the Director.

Aided schools open to inspection by Inspecting Officer, President or Vice-President of Local Board and Magistrate.

46. Any Inspecting Officer, the President or Vice-President of any Local Body which gives a grant to an aided school, and any Magistrate on the Civil Staff of the district in which the school is situated, may, at any reasonable time without notice, visit and inspect the school and such of its records as are required by the Department to be kept up.

Aid given in form of maintenance grants, and grants for buildings, &c.

47. Aid is given in the form of—

(a) maintenance grants fixed annually with reference to the attendance and proficiency of the scholars, the qualifications of the teachers, and the state of the school; and

(b) grants for buildings, furniture, books, or apparatus.

Maintenance grants of four kinds.

48. Maintenance grants are of four kinds—

(a) Attendance grants;

(b) Instruction grants;

(c) Staff grants;

and all four kinds may be earned in the same school.

List of aided schools to be kept up by Boards.

49. A list of schools admitted to maintenance grants shall be kept up by every District Board or Committee and by every Municipal Committee, and shall show for each school the departments in respect of which aid is given to it.

Government may order any school to be placed on list.

The Local Government may at any time direct that any school be placed upon the list, and it shall be placed accordingly.

Local Bodies shall make budget provision for grants.

50. Local Bodies shall make provision in their budgets for grants to all schools entered in the lists maintained by them.

Manager must appoint a correspondent.

51. The Manager of a school admitted to a grant must appoint a correspondent with the Department, and must at once give notice to the Department of any change of correspondent. The Manager is bound by all the acts of his correspondent.

All correspondence to be addressed to Inspector.

All correspondence with the Department must be addressed to the Inspector.

Section B.—Applications for Grants and their disposal.

Forms of application.

52. Applications for grants must be made in the forms appended to these rules, or in such forms as may, from time to time, be prescribed by the Department.

Forms of application can be obtained from the Inspector.

Application for grants to reach Inspector by 1st July.

53. All applications for grants must reach the Ispector before the 1st July.

In the case of buildings, plans and estimates must accompany every application for a grant of Rs. 200 or more.

In the case of books, furniture or apparatus, a detailed list, with the cost of each item, must invariably be furnished.

If the Managers of a school enjoying a grant desire a grant in respect of higher departments or of other portions of the school than those for which the grant is already given, they must submit a fresh application.

Inspector will report to Board by 1st October.

54. The Inspector shall, after such enquiry as he may think fit (which shall, in the case of an existing school requiring a maintenance grant, include an inspection conducted, if the school is of a higher standard than the Primary, by himself or the Assistant Inspector), record his report and recommendations on the application, together with his estimate of the probable amount of the first year's grant, and forward it before the 1st October to the Local Body concerned, who shall dispose of it in time for the budget.

If the school is situated within the limits of a Municipality, the Inspector shall forward the application to the Municipal Committee, and otherwise to the District Board or Committee of the district in which it is situated.

If the school has Branches, their situation for the purposes of the preceding clause will be held to be that of the Main school.

In the case of a group of schools teaching up to the same standard, the situation will follow the situation of those schools of the group which comprise the larger number of scholars.

Order passed on application shall be communicated to Manager by Inspector.

55. The order passed upon every application for a grant-in-aid shall be communicated by the Inspector to the Manager of the school.

If the order disallows any portions of the application, the reasons for such disallowance shall be stated in the order.

If the application has been accepted in whole or in part, the Inspector shall inform the Manager from what date the school will be regarded as coming under these rules, and in what month he will make his annual visit.

Notice of annual Inspection.

At least ten days' clear notice of the day of the Inspector's annual visit shall be given beforehand to the Manager.

Section C.—Maintenance grants.

Conditions of Grants.

Conditions on which grants are given.

56. The following are the conditions on which maintenance grants are given:—

(a) That there is an average daily attendance of not fewer than 20 scholars.

(b) That the school premises are sufficiently healthy, and lighted, drained and ventilated; are supplied with suitable offices, and contain reasonable accommodation for the scholars attending the school.

(c) That the school is sufficiently supplied with furniture and school appliances.

(d) That the staff of teachers is sufficient and of good character.

(e) That the studies are conducted in accordance with a time-table,* copies of which are hung up in conspicuous places in the school building.

(f) That the minimum rates of fees are not lower, and the proportion of scholar exempt or at half rates is not higher, than those sanctioned by the Local Government for schools of the same class in the locality in which the school is situated.

(g) That admission and attendance registers, a log-book and accounts of income from fees and of expenditure are duly kept up in forms sanctioned by the Department; and that these accounts are submitted annually to the Department.

(h) That all information and periodical returns called for by the Department are duly furnished.

(i) That the school in all its departments is open to inspection as in article 46.

(j) That the rules of this Code are generally complied with.

No grants allowed :—

57. No grant shall be made for or in respect of—

(a) for religious instruction ;

(a) any instruction in religious subjects; and it shall be no part of the duty of any one inspecting an aided school under rule 46 to enquire into any instruction in religious subjects given at such school, or to examine any scholar there in religious knowledge, or in any religious subject;

(b) where aid is superfluous.

(b) any school, the income of which from fees and endowments is sufficient to maintain it in efficiency, and which needs no further development to meet the wants of the locality;

(c) without promise to satisfy rule 56.

(c) any school the manager of which does not engage to statisfy the conditions of article 56.

Grants may be refused for one department, allowed for another.

58 Grants may be refused for one department of a school, while made to another department of the same school.

Grants to Vernacular Primary schools not refused for want of funds.

59. No grant to a Primary vernacular school or department shall be refused merely on the ground that the public funds are insufficient.

Grants to secondary departments and for English may be refused for want of funds.

60. Grants to departments of a school higher than the Primary or for instruction in English may be refused on the ground that the public funds are insufficient—

Save as above provided, no grant refused without Government sanction.

61. Save in the manner and degree and for the reasons mentioned in the preceding rules, no grant may be refused, either in whole or in part, without the sanction of the Local Government.

Attendance grants, how awarded.

62. For every scholar in average attendance during the school year, attendance grants shall be given at the rate noted in the appendix for each department.

Instruction grants, how awarded.

63. Subject to the other provisions of this chapter, instruction grants shall be given as noted below at the rates shown in the appendix :—

(a) To the Infant and Primary departments on account of every scholar who has been on the rolls† for the last six months of the school year, and attended 180 school meetings during that period, or 360 school meetings during the year, and who passes by the prescribed standard.

* Note—The time-table must show—
(1) the subject to be studied by each class during each working hour ;
(2) the teacher in charge of each class during each working hour ;
and will conveniently be in two parts, arranged by classes and teachers respectively.

† Attendance at other schools cannot be counted for the purposes of this clause.

(b) To the Middle and High Departments on account of every scholar, whether still in attendance or not, who was borne on the rolls* of the Middle or High Department for the six months immediately preceding the last Middle School or Entrance Examination, attended 180 school meetings during that period, or 360 school meetings during the year and passed the examination.

Grants to Primary department for compulsory and optional subjects.

64. Instruction grants can be earned by the Primary standards for—

(a) each compulsory subject, viz. :—

Reading, Writing and Arithmetic in any vernacular.

(b) each optional subject, viz. :—

Lower Standard.—(1) Geography, (2) Common things, (3) Needlework (for girls.)

Upper Standard.—(1) Elementary English, (2) Elementary Persian, (3) Elementary Arabic or Sanskrit, (4) Geography, (5) Common things, (6) Mensuration, (for boys), Needlework (for girls.)

Provided that not more than four optional subjects can be taken up.

Grants to Middle and High Departments for examination as a whole and additional subjects.

65. Instruction grants can be earned by every scholar who passes the Middle School or the Entrance Examination :—

(a) for passing the examination;

(b) for each additional subject.

Grant when withheld.

66. No instruction grant can be given—

(a) for any subject in which the time-table has not provided for continuous instruction throughout the year or for such shorter period as the Inspector may approve.

(b) on account of any scholar of the Primary department who does not pass in at least two of the compulsory subjects;

(c) for optional subjects on account of any scholar of the Primary department who has not passed in the three compulsory subjects.

NOTE.—A scholar of the Primary department, who earns grants for two of the compulsory subjects in one year, may earn a grant for the third compulsory subject and for optional subjects in the year following.

Grant not earned twice by same standard.

67. No scholar can twice earn a grant in the same subject by the same standard.

Staff grant for certificated teachers and monitors.

68. Staff grants may be given for certificated† teachers employed in a school, and for monitors who have passed the Middle School Examination and have not completed their nineteenth year, provided that—

(a) if the pay‡ of any teacher appears to be obviously and considerably in excess of the rates current in similar schools in the neighbourhood, the pay may be reduced to those rates for the purpose of calculating the grant;

(b) if the proprietor of the school is a teacher in it, his pay‡ will be fixed for the purpose of calculating the grant at the rate current in similar schools in the neighbourhood.

Services of Principal and teachers in Mission schools how valued.

69. When, as in the case of schools maintained by Missionary or Charitable Societies, Principals or teachers render gratuitous services or are paid salaries out of proportion to the services rendered by them to the school, their services shall be valued at the current rates obtaining in schools under public management of a similar class, regard being paid to the time they devote to secular instruction; and staff grants shall be given up to the amount of one-fifth of the estimated value of such services.

* Attendance at other schools cannot be counted for the purposes of this clause.

† NOTE.—The only certificates recognised are those awarded by the Department under the rules contained in Chapter IV of this Code.

‡ NOTE.—The value of free quarters or similar allowance to teachers shall be included in the pay for the purpose of this clause.

Staff grant not allowed in certain cases.

70. Except as provided in the preceding article, no staff grant can be given on account of any teacher, superintendent or principal, who is not in receipt of actual pay* solely in consideration of his work as such ; or who does not devote at least three hours daily to actual secular instruction in the school.

Grant allowed up to one-fifth pay of staff on certain conditions.

71. Staff grants shall be given up to the amount of one-fifth of the annual pay of each certificated teacher and duly qualified monitor employed in a school, provided that the staff on account of which grants are paid shall not be in excess of the scale noted below :—

PRIMARY DEPARTMENT.	MAXIMUM SCALE OF STAFF.
For not fewer than 20 scholars ...	One Vernacular teacher and one monitor.
For every 30 scholars or fraction of 30 after the first 30 ...	One Vernacular teacher or two monitors.
For not fewer than 30 scholars ...	One English teacher if English is taught.
For every 50 scholars or fraction of 50 after the first 50.	Ditto ditto
MIDDLE DEPARTMENT.	MAXIMUM SCALE OF STAFF.
(a) Vernacular Schools—
For not fewer than 20 scholars	One Vernacular teacher. One Arabic or Sanskrit teacher if the subject is taught.
For every 30 scholars or fraction of 30 after the first 30	One Vernacular teacher.
For not fewer than 50 scholars ...	One Arabic and one Sanskrit teacher if both these languages are taught.
(b) Anglo-Vernacular Schools—
For not fewer than 20 scholars	One English teacher. One Vernacular teacher. One Arabic or Sanskrit teacher if this subject is taught.
For not fewer that 30 scholars	A second English teacher.
For not fewer than 50 scholars ...	One Arabic and one Sanskrit teacher if both these languages are taught.
For every 50 scholars or fraction of 50 after the first 100 ...	One English teacher. One Vernacular teacher.
HIGH DEPARTMENT.	MAXIMUM SCALE.
(a) Vernacular Schools—
For not fewer than 15 scholars	One Vernacular teacher. One Arabic or Sanskrit teacher, if the subject is taught.
For not fewer than 25 scholars	A second Vernacular teacher. One Arabic and one Sanskrit teacher if both these languages are taught.
For every 30 scholars or fraction of 30 after the first 60 ...	One Vernacular teacher.
(b) Anglo-Vernacular Schools—
For not fewer than 15 scholars ...	One English teacher. One Arabic, Persian or Sanskrit teacher.
For not fewer than 25 scholars	A second English teacher. One Arabic or Persian and one Sanskrit teacher.
For every 30 scholars or fraction of 30 after the first 60	One English teacher.

NOTE.—By "Scholars" in the above scale is meant scholars in average daily attendance.

The pay of teachers employed in more than one department of the school will be debited to the department where the greater part of their time is spent.

Staff grants for holders of special certificates.

72. Staff grants may be awarded by the Department on account of teachers holding special certificates† up to one-fifth of the salaries of such teachers.

* NOTE.—The value of free quarters or similar allowance to teachers shall be included in the pay for the purpose of this clause.

† Article 131, Chapter IV.

Total grants how limited.

73. The total grant to a school under all the above heads (attendance, instruction and staff) shall not exceed, in—

(a) Schools of any class, one-half the expenditure* on tuition.

(b) Secondary Schools, two-thirds of the excess of that expenditure* over the income from tuition fees.

All aid from public revenues towards the expenditure* on tuition will be reckoned as part of the grant.

Special grants.

74. Special grants, in addition to the above grants, may be made with the previous sanction of the Department (a) to schools newly established or newly brought under the Code, or (b) for any other reason which the Department may consider sufficient. Such grants shall be sanctioned for one year only, and shall not be taken into account for the purposes of the preceding rule.

Grants are annual; paid monthly; determined by annual inspection.

75. Except when otherwise stated, grants are annual grants. During each school year the school shall receive monthly a sum equal to one-twelfth of the total amount earned on the results of the preceding year as determined by the Inspecting Officer at his annual inspection.

New grants when paid.

76. Grants will ordinarily take effect from the date of sanction; but may be deferred till the beginning of the next financial year if sufficient funds are not available during the current year to meet the new grant.

The continuance, alteration and withdrawal of grants depend on annual inspection.

77. The continuance, enhancement, reduction, suspension and withdrawal of grants, once given, depend generally on the condition of the school as ascertained at the annual inspection. At that inspection the Inspecting Officer shall examine, or cause to be examined, every class of the school. As far as possible schools of the same class in the same town should be examined by the same officer.

Grant to a Primary School may be continued for one year and enhanced by 5 per cent. without inspection.

78. If it is found impossible to examine a Primary School or Department in any year, the Inspector may, on receiving a favourable report from the District Inspector, and after inspection of the log-book, and ascertaining the number of scholars on the rolls, and average attendance during the year, continue the grant of the previous year, and may also enhance it by not more than 5 per cent. In this case the school or department must be examined in the following year before any grant can be sanctioned.

---

* NOTE.—Expenditure on tuition includes expenditure on—

(a) Establishment, viz.:—

(i) teaching staff;

(ii) servants, &c.

(b) Contingencies, viz.:—

(i) ordinary charges for books, maps and repairs, and renewal of furniture and apparatus;

(ii) prizes;

(iii) petty contingent expenses;

(iv) rent of school buildings;

(v) estimated rent of buildings held rent-free;

(vi) estimated rent of quarters provided rent-free for the staff;

Provided, in the case of (v) and (vi), that no aid has been given from the public revenues for the purchase, construction or enlargement of such buildings.

Expenditure on tuition does not include expenditure on—

(a) cost of School buildings;

(b) extraordinary charges for libraries, furniture and apparatus;

(c) boarding;

(d) fees paid for poor scholars and orphans;

(e) stipends and scholarships.

As regards the last item (e), this rule applies to schools for general education and to all schools for special education, except training schools. In the case of training schools the expenditure on stipends is included in the expenditure on tuition, in accordance with the instructions of the Government of India on the subject.

When expenditure on staff or buildings is common to tuition and boarding, it shall be distributed between the two in proportion to the services rendered and the accommodation provided in each case.

When boarders are charged consolidated fees for board and tuition, their tuition fees shall be held to be those which would have been demanded of them had they been day-scholars, and the remainder of the consolidated fee shall be considered a boarding fee.

The Department may, on the report of the Inspecting Officer, reduce or disallow, for the purposes of this article, any expenditure that is obviously unnecessarily lavish or extravagant.

No grant to a Middle or High Department can be continued without inspection.

79. No grant to a Middle or High Department can be continued save after inspection and report by the Inspecting Officer.

Grant if fallen by misadventure may be raised.

80. If it can be proved that the grant earned by any school has, through misadventure, for which the Manager is not to blame, fallen greatly below the average or previous grants to the same school, the grant earned may, with the sanction of the Department, be raised to a sum not exceeding the grant of the previous year, or the average grant of the three previous years.

Cases in which Inspecting Officer must reduce grant.

81. The Inspecting Officer shall reduce the grant in the following cases:—

(a) Attendance grants earned in the Infant Department, if it appears that any of the children have been in attendance for more than 12 months; the reduction being in proportion to the number of such children.

(b) Attendance grants earned in any department, if it appears that the numbers have been unduly swelled by the inclusion of scholars unfit for the class, or that scholars have been neglected or allowed to remain more than two years in the class; the reduction being approximately proportionate to the number of scholars who should not have been admitted, or should have passed out of the class.

(c) Instruction grants under the Infant Standard, if it appears that any of the children have been in attendance for more than 12 months.

(d) Instruction grants under any standard, when it appears that any class intermediate between the class reading for that standard and the class standing next below it has been neglected; provided that such reduction will not be made unless about half the number of boys in the class fail on examination to satisfy the Inspecting Officer.

(e) Grants to any school that has fewer that 400 full school meetings during the school year, unless satisfactory reasons, such as an epidemic, are assigned for the short number; the reduction shall be proportionate to the short number.

Grant may be reduced by Local Body with sanction of Department if whole amount unnecessary.

82. A Local Body may, with the previous sanction of the Department, make a proportionate reduction in a grant earned in a school, the income from which from fees and endowments is so large that the full grant is unnecessary to maintain it in efficiency, and where extension is not needed, or, if needed, has not been made.

Conditions under which grants may be reduced, suspended or withdrawn by Department.

83. Grants may at any time be reduced, suspended or withdrawn by the Department—

(a) for failure to comply with any of the conditions enumerated in Rule 56;

(b) if the general discipline, organization, or method of instruction is unsatisfactory;

(c) for any other serious reason:

Provided that in every such instance an enquiry, at which the Manager shall be allowed a full opportunity of explanation, shall be made by the Department, the result of which shall be communicated to the Manager. If the defects are capable of immediate or early removal, the Manager shall, on the first occasion, be allowed a reasonable time, to be fixed by the Department, within which to remedy them; and if they are remedied, the grant shall not be withheld or reduced.

Schools from which grants are withdrawn shall be struck off the list maintained under Article 49.

The Local Government may vary rates fixed.

84. The Local Government may vary the rates fixed under this Chapter for any or all classes of schools within the jurisdiction of any Local Body.

Local Bodies may alter rates with sanction of Government.

85. To provide for special cases, such as backward districts in which grants require to be raised, or progressive districts in which they should be reduced, schools for low castes and the like, a Local Body may, with the previous sanction of the Local Government, either generally, or for any class of schools, raise or reduce the grants for any particular subject or the total grants by a fixed percentage; and may raise or reduce the proportions on which staff salaries are calculated, or the proportion which the grant bears to expenditure on tuition:

Provided that such alteration shall apply to all schools of the class affected by the alteration on the list maintained under Rule 49 by the Local Body, and that no such alteration shall have effect till one clear year after it has been notified to all such schools.

SECTION D.—Girls' Schools.

Alterations to be made in applying foregoing Rules to girls' schools.

86. In applying the foregoing Rules to girls' schools, the following alterations and exceptions will be made:—

Rule 40.—One-and-a-half hours constitute a school meeting.

Rule 46.—Where this rule is objected to, inspection must be specially arranged for by the Managers with the Department.

Rule 56 (a).—The minimum average attendance is reduced to 15.

Rule 56 (c).— Does not operate.

Rule 57.—Add the following:—

(d)—Any school in which payments or presents are distributed to the girls as inducements to attendance, and independently of progress in their studies.

Rule 63.—All rates for instruction grants are doubled.

The number of school meetings is reduced from 180 and 360 to 120 and 240.

An instruction grant at the rates noted in the Appendix may be given for every girl of more than 6 years of age who is being taught needle-work to the satisfaction of the Inspector.

Rule 68.—Grants may be made under this article on account of non-certificated teachers who are considered competent by the Inspecting Officer. The proportion which the grant will bear to the pay is fixed at one-third.

REMARK.—Reasonable expenditure in summoning and conducting the girls to and from their homes may be included in the expenditure on tuition.

Grants for girls under training as teachers who have passed Upper Primary Examination.

87.—Where girls who have passed the Upper Primary Examination are retained in the school to be trained as teachers in a normal class or otherwise, a grant not exceeding Rs. 20 for each such girl may be made provided that—

(a) the Inspecting Officer is satisfied with the arrangements made for the actual practice of the girls in the art of teaching;

(b) by giving lessons in his presence the girl satisfies the Inspecting Officer that she has profited by such practice;

(c) no girl can earn a grant till she has been under training as teacher for a whole year;

(d) no girl can earn a grant more than twice under this article.

SECTION E.—Night Shools.

Grants to night schools under foregoing rules.

88. Grants may be made to night schools under the foregoing rules; provided that no scholar shall be taken into account in the calculation of any grant who attends any other school at which general instruction is given, or who is not occupied during the day in earning his living or in the acquisition of some art or handicraft.

Alterations to be made in applying foregoing rules to night schools.

89. In applying the foregoing rules to night schools, the following alterations and exceptions will be made:—

Rule 40.—One hour constitutes a school meeting.

Rule 56 (a).—The minimum average attendance is reduced to 10.

Rule 57 (c).—Does not operate.

Rule 63.—The period for which a scholar must have been on the rolls is reduced to three months, and the number of school meetings from 180 to 40, or 160 school meetings during the year.

Rule 68 (a).—Does not operate.

Rule 81 (e).—The number of meetings is reduced from 400 to 200.

SECTION F.—Registers.

Aided schools must provide themselves with Grant-in-aid rules, registers, &c., &c.

90. Every school receiving grants must provide out of the school funds—

(a) a copy of the Grant-in-aid rules;

(b) the registers, log-book and accounts prescribed in rule 56 (g).

Entries in log-book.

91. The reports and remarks of all Inspecting Officers must be entered verbatim in the log-book. In the log-book must be entered also all changes in the time-table, staff, school management, and the like, at the time of the change, and other matters affecting the school at the time of their occurrence. No entry once made in the log-book may be removed, nor may it be altered otherwise than by a subsequent entry.

Registers to be examined by Inspecting Officer once a year.

The Inspecting Officer will examine the registers, log-book and the accounts at least once a year.

SECTION G.—Grants for Buildings and Appliances.

Object for which grants for buildings and appliances may be given.

92. Grants for the objects noted below may be made to Managers of schools entitled to receive maintenance grants-in-aid—

(a) the purchase, erection or enlargement of school buildings;

(b) the execution of extensive repairs to school buildings;

(c) in special cases, the paying off debts incurred in purchasing, erecting or enlarging school buildings;

(d) the providing a school or department, in the first instance, with a library or with school furniture or appliances;

(e) in special cases, the adding to or replenishing a library or school furniture or appliances.

The Department must be satisfied on certain points before building grant is sanctioned.

93. Before a grant is sanctioned for the purchase erection or extension of school buildings, the Department must be satisfied—

(a) that a school of the nature and size contemplated is required in the locality;

(b) that there is a reasonable probability of the school being permanently maintained in efficiency;

(c) that the school will always be open to inspection by the Department;

(d) that there is a reasonable certainty of the funds necessary to complete the work being forthcoming.

No part of building grant paid before execution of bond securing lien of Government on School buildings.

94. No portion of any grant-in-aid of buildings will be paid till the Manager has executed and registered a bond in a form approved by the Department, securing to Government or to the Local Body that supplies the funds a prior lien on the buildings for the recovery of the amount paid on account of the grant, in case the buildings should cease to be applied to the purposes of a school of the class specified in the application or of any higher class, or in case the school should cease to be open to inspection or to be maintained in a state of reasonable efficiency.

Building grant not paid in full, pending completion of work.

95. No grant-in-aid of buildings will be paid in full, nor can payment of any portion of such grant be claimed as of right, till the Department is satisfied that the building has been satisfactorily completed, and that at least double the amount of the grant has been expended upon it.

But advances to an amount not greater than half the cost of the work done may be made from time to time out of the sanctioned grant, if the Department is satisfied that the work is proceeding satisfactorily.

When the total amount of the grant exceeds Rs. 500 or Rs. 200, the Department shall not be satisfied under this article, without a report from the Public Works Department or the Deputy Commissioner, respectively.

Grant for appliances not paid till security is furnished and purchase completed.

96. No portion of any grant-in-aid of the purchase of books, furniture, or appliances can be paid till :—

(a) satisfactory security has been given, if the grant exceeds Rs. 25 in amount, for the refund of the money if the school ceases to exist within three years of the date of payment ;

(b) the Department is satisfied that the purchases in aid of which the grant is made have actually been completed.

Grant for books must be for those entered in list published by Department.

97. A list of books required for the library of schools of the various classes will be published by the Department; and no aid will ordinarily be given for the purchase of any books not included in the list.

Grant must not exceed half expenditure.

98. No grant may exceed half the total expenditure in aid of which it is given, including, in the case of buildings, the purchase of the site.

Grants how given and refused.

99. Subject to the provisions of articles 93 to 98, grants may be given or refused under this section by the authorities and on the grounds laid down with reference to maintenance grants.

CHAPTER III.

GRANT-IN-AID RULES FOR INDIGENOUS SCHOOLS AND LOW-CASTE SCHOOLS.

SECTION A.—Elementary Indigenous Schools.

Funds.

100. Grants-in-aid to Elementary Indigenous schools are given by Local Bodies from Municipal and District Funds. These funds, when in the opinion of Government insufficient, may be supplemented by contributions from Provincial Revenues.

Conditions of grants.

101. The conditions on which grants-in-aid are given are the following :—

(a) that there is an average daily attendance* in the School of ten scholars or more;

(b) that the school and its records are open, at all reasonable times, to inspection by any person entitled to inspect any aided school;

(c) that the scholars are taught to read a printed book and to write;

(d) that a register is kept showing the names and daily attendance of the scholars;

(e) that a log-book is kept for the registration of inspection.

The District Inspector will explain how the register is to be kept up.

Grants not given in certain cases.

102. Grants-in-aid will not be given—

(a) unless these conditions have been complied with, or there is good reason to believe that they will be complied with;

(b) for instruction in religious subjects or astrology (jotish);

(c) to any school the Manager or principal teacher of which is not of good character.

Kinds of grants.

103. Grants-in-aid are of the following kinds:—

(a) attendance grants;

(b) instruction grants;

(c) staff grants;

and are awarded year by year on the annual report of the Inspecting Officer.

Attendance grants.

104. Attendance grants are given without regard to the attainments of individual scholars if, on a general inspection or examination of the school, the Inspecting Officer is satisfied with its condition, and may be given independently of, or in addition to, instruction grants or staff grants.

* To find the average attendance during the month, ascertain how many times each boy attended school during the month; add these numbers together, and divide by the number of days the school was open during the month.

* The rate of grant shall not exceed 8 annas per scholar in average attendance during the year.

Instruction grants.

105. Instruction grants are given for passes in each of the following subjects at the rates noted in the Appendix :—

(a) Reading. (b) Writing. (c) Arithmetic. (d) Geography.

The grants may be earned separately in each of the four subjects; and every scholar who passes in Reading, Writing and Arithmetic by the same standard at the same examination will count these three subjects as four for the purpose of calculating the grant earned by him.

No instruction grant in certain cases.

106. Instruction grants are not given—

(a) for any scholar more than once in the same subject by the same standard;

(b) for any scholar who has not been on the books of the school for three months immediately previous to the examination, and attended with reasonable regularity during that period.

(c) for any scholar who does not pass in at least two of the following subjects :— Reading, Writing, Arithmetic.

Register of passed scholars.

107. The names of the scholars who earn instruction grants shall be entered by the Inspecting Officer in a register to be maintained by him, which shall show their names, their fathers' names, their caste, and the subjects in, and standards by, which they pass; and also in the school log-book.

Language. Arithmetic.

108. Reading and Writing may be taught in any current vernacular. Arithmetic may be taught by Native methods, the power of arriving at correct results being all that is to be tested.

Text-books.

Any text-books may be used ; but, except in the case of Arithmetic, schools engaging to use text-books approved by the Department will be supplied with such books free of cost, and, for all subjects in teaching which such books are regularly used, the rates of instruction grants may be raised one-half.

Staff grants.

109. Grants to the teaching staff are given at the following rates :—

Not more than Rs. 5 a month to a teacher who has passed the Middle School Examination or been trained for a whole session in a Normal School.

Not more than Rs. 3 a month to a teacher who has passed the Upper Primary Examination in a public school.

The grant shall be paid direct to the teacher month by month or at convenient intervals.

No staff grant in certain cases.

110. Grants to the teaching staff are not given—

(a) in a school where the average daily attendance falls below 15 scholars;

(b) to more than one teacher for every 30 scholars in averege daily attendance.

How application for grant should be made.

111. The Manager of a school who wishes to receive aid under these rules should apply to the Local Body within whose limits his school is situated, and furnish information as to the situation of his school, the subjects, language, and character in which instruction is given, the number of scholars, and the names of the teachers.

Government officials and others to bring schools to notice.

112. All officers in Government employ, all members of Municipal Committees and District Boards, Zaildárs, Lambardárs and Village Officers are expected, and all persons interested, in primary education are invited to bring to the notice of Local Bodies any school suitable for a grant-in-aid, the Manager of which may desire aid.

Inspecting Officer to report.

113. Local Bodies to whom application is made, or to whose notice schools may be brought, shall call upon the Inspecting Officer to report upon the schools ? and the Inspecting Officer shall within a reasonable time, of which at least one month's previous notice shall be given to the Manager inspect the school and comply with the requisition of the Local Body.

* To find the average attendance during the year add together the average attendance for every month and divide by twelve.

114. Subject to the general provisions of these rules, the Local Body shall give grants in accordance with the report of the Inspecting Officer; and shall, if the school is admitted to a grant, enter it on a list of Indigenous schools entitled to grants which must be maintained by every Local Body.

Grant determined by the report. List of schools to be maintained by Local Bodies.

If the grant is refused, the Manager shall be informed of the refusal and the reasons for it.

The Inspecting Officer shall inspect and report upon every aided school once a year. The inspection shall, as far as possible, be made in situ.

115. The Manager of every school to which a grant is given shall be informed of the month in which the annual inspection of his school will be made.

Schools to be annually inspected.

116. At each annual inspection the Inspecting Officer shall carefully examine and test the register of attendance, and shall make such inquiries as may be necessary or possible to satisfy him—

Matters to be specially tested at inspection.

(a) that the register is regularly kept and properly records the attendance; and

(b) that the scholars presented for examination are bonâ fide receiving regular education in the school.

In his report he shall record his opinion on these two points.

117. In schools in which grants are made to the teaching staff, the Inspecting Officer shall report annually on the qualifications and conduct of the teachers receiving grants.

Teachers to be reported on.

118. The Local Body may, at any time, withdraw a grant-in-aid if—

Withdrawal of grants.

(a) the conditions of the grant cease to be complied with;

(b) there is reasonable ground for believing that the attendance register does not properly represent the attendance, or that the scholars presented for examination are not bonâ fide receiving regular education in the school;

(c) the grant earned for three successive years is, in the opinion of the Inspecting Officer, so small as to show that the school is not deserving of encouragement;

(d) the Inspecting Officer reports the school as hopelessly inefficient;

(e) in the case of grants to the teaching staff, it appears that the teachers to whom they are paid are inefficient or neglectful of their duties:

Provided that in every case the Manager shall be first afforded an opportunity of explanation.

119. A Local Body may, with the previous sanction of the Department, alter the rates fixed by these rules for the calculation of grants:

Alteration of rates.

Provided that such alterations shall apply to all schools within its limits and that a year's clear notice of the alteration shall be given to all schools entered on the list mentioned in Article 114.

120. Grants for buildings, books, furniture and appliances may be made under Chapter II, Section G. of the Code.

Grants for buildings and appliances.

121. No grant from public funds may be made, increased, reduced or withdrawn otherwise than as provided in these rules, except with the previous sanction, or by order of the Local Government.

Sanction of Government in exceptional cases.

122. In all matters of dispute as to the interpretation or the application of these rules, or as to grants made under them, the decision of the Director of Public Instruction, when it is necessary to apply for it, shall be final.

Director to be final referee.

SECTION B.—Low-caste Schools.

123. When the Manager so desires it, schools for low-caste boys will be examined by the same standards as Elementary Indigenous schools, and grants will be awarded on the same conditions.

Low-caste schools treated as Indigenous schools.

CHAPTER IV.

CERTIFICATED TEACHERS.

Certificates permanent or provisional.

124. Certificates are either permanent or provisional. A provisional certificate consists of an entry of the teacher's name in a register kept by the Department.

Certificates for general teacherships and special teacherships.

Certificates are for general teacherships and for special teacherships.

Vernacular and Anglo-Vernacular certificates.

125. Certificates for general teacherships are either Vernacular or Anglo-Vernacular.

An Anglo-Vernacular certificate qualifies the holder to teach either in an Anglo-Vernacular or in a Vernacular school.

A Vernacular certificate qualifies the holder to teach in a Vernacular school, or to teach subjects other than English in the Primary or Middle department of an Anglo-Vernacular school.

A Vernacular certificate does not qualify the holder to be the principal teacher in any Anglo-Vernacular school.

Senior and Junior Certificates.

126. Certificates for general teacherships are of two kinds—Senior and Junior, each divided into two grades, viz., I and II.

Offices for which holders of certificates are eligible.

127. Holders of certificates are eligible for the offices noted below :—

Senior—First grade.—Head Master, High School.

Second grade.—Head Master, Middle School, or Assistant, High Department.

Junior—First grade.—Assistant, Middle Department.

Second grade.—Head Master, Primary School.

A certificate in every case qualifies the holder to fill posts lower than those above specified.

No person can be employed as a teacher without a health certificate.

128. No person will be eligible for employment as a teacher if he fail to produce a health certificate signed by a Medical Officer of not less standing than an Assistant Surgeon.

Two examinations for certificates.

129. There are two examinations for certificates, the Senior Certificate Examination and the Junior Certificate Examination.

Certificates, how awarded.

130. Provisional second grade Senior and Junior Certificates are awarded to all candidates who pass the corresponding examinations and may be made permanent after approved service.

Provisional first grade Senior and Junior Certificates are awarded to holders of permanent second grade Certificates after approved service, and may be made permanent after a further period of approved service.

No certificate shall be made permanent until the teacher has given a lesson in presence of the Inspector.

Nature of approved service.

The nature of the approved service required in each case is shown below :—

JUNIOR CERTIFICATES.

I.—For a permanent second grade Certificate—

Three year's continuous service with credit as a teacher, or in the case of those who have undergone a course of training, two years.

This period may be reduced by one year in the case of teachers who have passed the Certificate Examination in the first division (vide Chapter V).

II.—For a provisional first grade Certificate—

Two year's continuous service with credit as a teacher.

III.—For a permanent first grade Certificate.—

Two year's continuous service with credit as teacher in a Middle department.

SENIOR CERTIFICATES.

I.—For a permanent second grade Certificate—

Three year's continuous service with credit, or in the case of those who have undergone a course of training, two years as—

Principal teacher in a Middle department, or

Assistant teacher in a High department.

This period may be reduced by one year in the case of teachers who have passed the Certificate Examination in the first division (vide Chapter V).

II.—For a provisional first grade Certificate—

Two year's continuous service with credit (as in I).

This period may be reduced by one year in the case of teachers who have passed the B. A. Examination.

III.—For a permanent first grade Certificate—

Two year's continuous service with credit as Head Master of a High School.

This period may be reduced by one year in the case of teachers who have passed the M.A. Examination.

Certificates for special teacherships.

131. Certificates for special teacherships, entitling the holder to teach a specified subject in High, Middle and Primary departments, respectively, may be given by the Department on satisfactory proof of attainments.

Certificates for passes in Persian, Arabic, and Sanskrit.

132. Every person who has passed the Proficiency, High Proficiency, or Honours Examination of the Punjab University in Persian, Arabic, or Sanskrit, and obtained the corresponding diploma, is entitled to a provisional certificate after three month's probation as a teacher which may, after three years' service with credit, be made permanent entitling him to teach the subject—

(a) If he has passed the Proficiency Examination, in a Primary department;

(b) If he has passed the High Proficiency Examination, in a Middle department;

(c) If he has passed the Honours Examination, in a High department.

Principal teacher of 3 years' standing in efficient school entitled to permanent certificate.

133. Any person who, on the date on which these rules come into force, was actually employed as principal teacher in a school recognised by the Department as efficient, and who had been so employed for the three years immediately preceding that date, shall be accepted by the Department as qualified to be the principal teacher of that school, and shall, on application, receive a permanent certificate of the corresponding grade.

Principal teacher of less than 3 years' standing entitled to provisional certicate.

134. Any such person whose period of service as principal teacher was, on the date above mentioned, less than three years shall, on application, receive a provisional certificate of the corresponding grade, which may, on his completing his three years' service with credit, be made permanent.

Other teachers entitled to provisional certificates.

135. Other persons who, on the date above mentioned, were actually employed as teachers in schools recognised by the Department as efficient may, on satisfying the Department of their efficiency as teachers, receive provisional certificates, which may, after two years' service with credit, be made permanent.

Service with credit must be in Aided, Government or Board school.

136. Service with credit under the above rules must be service in an Aided school or in a Government or Board school.

CHAPTER VII.

PUBLIC SCHOLARSHIPS.

SECTION A.—General Rules.

Scholarships paid from public funds.

168. All scholarships paid from public funds, whether administered by the Department or by Local Bodies, shall, in the absence of any special provision to the contrary, be awarded, held, and drawn only as provided in the following rules :—

Award of scholarships by merit. Restrictions.

169. All awards of scholarships shall be by merit and in accordance with the results of public examinations, subject to certain restrictions imposed in subsequent rules. In the case of all open scholarships† this, limited as above, shall be the only ground of award. But Local Bodies who provide close scholarships may restrict them—

(a) to children of agriculturists ;

(b) to children of non-agriculturists ;

(c) to residents within the jurisdiction of the Board which provides the money ;

(d) to scholars of any particular class of schools ;

(e) to students who may satisfy the Board that they are actually in need of assistance to enable them to prosecute their studies.

Any other restrictions will require the special sanction of Government.

Scholarships paid from private funds.

Scholarships founded by private munificence may be made subject to any restrictions whatever, so long as they do not conflict with the general policy of Government, and must be awarded in accordance with the terms of the foundation.

Amount and period of scholarships and the class of schools in which tenable shall be fixed. Alterations to be notified.

170. The amount of each scholarship, the period for which it is granted, and the class of school at which it is tenable, shall be fixed, and cannot be altered while the scholarship is current. All alterations in the number, value, or conditions of scholarships to be awarded shall be publicly notified within the area from which competitors are

* An agriculturist means, for the purposes of this Code, a person who has no other means of livelihood than agriculture.

† Vide Articles 33 and 34 Chapter I.

drawn; and when the number or value is reduced or additional limitations imposed; the change shall be notified at least six months before the award is to be made.

No scholarship to be broken into parts or held jointly.

171. No scholarship can be broken up into parts, nor can it be held jointly by two or more students.

No student can hold two scholarships unless tenable at different institutions.

172. No student can hold two or more scholarships falling under Article 168 at the same time, unless they are tenable at two different institutions (General and Professional) or in the General and Professional Departments of the same institution.

Period for which scholarships can be drawn.

173. Scholarships can be drawn only for the days of actual attendance in class, Sundays and sanctioned holidays and vacations being included, and periods of absence not exceeding two days at a time, which are shown to have been unavoidable to the satisfaction of the Head of the Institution. Sick leave not exceeding six days at a time or one month in the scholastic year, and casual leave for not more than six days at a time and not more than fourteen days in the scholastic year, may be granted to scholarship-holders by the Head of the Institution. During the period of leave of either description granted as above, scholarships may be drawn at full rates.

When a scholarship lapses.

174. A scholarship lapses if it is not taken up by the holder within a month of its award, or if the holder dies, is absent without leave for more than a week, or with ordinary leave for more than one month, or with sick leave for more than three months, at a time, becomes ineligible under Article 172, or ceases to attend a school or college at which the scholarship is tenable, or to read in the course for which it is granted, and not otherwise.

Scholarship when forfeited. Appeal to Director and Inspector.

175. A scholarship is forfeited by gross misconduct, laziness or irregularity of attendance, and not otherwise. The Manager and Head Master of every school and the Principal of every college in which a scholarship is held, are responsible that no scholarship continues to be paid to any student who wilfully neglects his studies or is habitually irregular in his attendance. In all such cases, after due warning, the scholarship shall be declared forfeited, and shall cease to be paid to the holder. An appeal from an order of forfeiture under this rule shall lie to the Director in the case of a college scholarship and to the Inspector in other cases.

Certificate for drawing scholarships.

176. A certificate in the following terms shall be signed by the Manager or Head Master of the school or Principal of the college and shall accompany all bills for scolarships:—"I hereby certify that the scholarship-holders named in this bill are regular in attendance and have conformed to the rules under which their scholarships are tenable."

Transfer of scholarships.

177. A scholarship-holder is entitled to have his scholarship transferred to any school or college at which it is tenable at any time during its currency, provided there is accommodation for him at the time of application.

Scholarships not re-awarded.

178. When a scholarship is forfeited under Article 175, or lapses under Article 174, it will not be re-awarded.

Preferential claim of scholarship-holders to admission to a school.

179. In any Government or Board School in which it is found necessary, from lack of room or teaching power, to refuse candidates admission in any year, scholarship-holders shall have a preferential claim to admission over all non-scholarship-holders of the same year.

SECTION B.—Middle School Scholarships.

Open Middle School Scholarships.

180. The open Middle School Scholarships, specified below in Article 183, shall be awarded, held and drawn only as provided in the following rules.

Value and term of Middle School Scholarships.

181. Open Middle School Scholarships are of the value of Rs. 2 per mensem. They are tenable in the Middle Department of any Government, Board, or Aided School, whether within or without the district, for a term of 3 years dating from the beginning of the school year in which they are awarded; provided that a scholarship lapses if the holder passes the Middle School Examination during the period of its currency.

Scholarships to Vernacular students who desire to study English.

182. In the case of students who pass the Upper Primary Examination in the Vernacular and desire to study English, the scholarships will be tenable for 4 years. Such students will be required to pass the Upper Primary Examination in English at the expiration of one year, failing which they will forfeit their scholarships; and where special classes do not exist for their instruction, they will read English during that period with the Primary School classes.

Number of open Middle School Scholarships.

183. The number of open scholarships available is shown in the table given in Appendix VI. One-third the number of scholarships there shown will be awarded each year (see also Article 189 below).

Conditions of the award of Middle School Scholarships.

184. No open scholarship will be awarded to any boy who, at the beginning of the school year, has completed his 14th year. Subject to the above condition and to the restriction imposed in the following rule, the scholarships shown opposite each district will be awarded strictly in order of merit, in accordance with the results of the examination held in that district under the provisions of Article 186.

Open Middle School Scholarships, how distributed between Vernacular and Anglo-Vernacular candidates.

185. The open scholarships to be awarded in each district shall be distributed each year between Vernacular and Anglo-Vernacular candidates, as nearly as may be, in the same proportion as the total number of boys under instruction in the Upper Primary Department of Vernacular Schools for Natives, bears to the total number of boys under instruction in the Upper Primary Department of Anglo-Vernacular Schools for Natives in that District.

Course to be followed when one side obtains an undue advantage.

When as must sometimes be the case in districts where the number of scholarships is small, either side obtains an undue advantage in any one year, this shall be rectified in the year following.

Example.—If in Kohát one scholarship only is available for award in two successive years, it should be conferred on a Vernacular student in one year and on an Anglo-Vernacular student in the other.

Lists of candidates for Middle School scholarships to be called for by Inspectors. Marks awarded at the examination.

186. The Inspector and Assistant Inspector shall call for lists of boys desiring to offer themselves as candidates for Middle School scholarships in each district, and in the examination of pupils by the Upper Primary Standard shall award marks in each subject and keep a record of the marks so awarded. The Middle School scholarships shall be given in accordance with the order of merit so determined in each district.

Award of Middle School scholarships to be made public.

187. As soon as convenient after the completion of the annual inspection in each district, the award of Middle School scholarships in that district will be made public; and the scholarships must be taken up by the holders joining the Middle department or (in the case of boys who hold scholarships under Article 182) the Upper Primary department of a school in which the scholarships are tenable, and notifying that they have done so through the Master of the school within one month of the publication of the award. Scholarships not so taken up within the time specified will be held to have lapsed, and will not be reawarded.

Open Middle School scholarships, how drawn.

188. Open Middle School scholarships will be drawn (subject to the rules contained in Section A.) of this Chapter in such manner as may be arranged by the Local Bodies that provide them.*

Close Middle School scholarships.

189. Close Middle School scholarships, in addition to those specified above in Article 183, may be provided by Local Bodies from the funds under their control; and their award and tenure may be subjected to any such conditions as may conform with the provisions of Article 169, Section A.

All Middle School scholarships held subject to conditions in Section A.

190. All scholarships awarded under these rules are held subject to the conditions set forth in Section A of this Chapter.

Section C.—High School Scholarships.

Open High School scholarships.

191. The open High School scholarships specified below in Article 194, shall be awarded held and drawn only as provided in the following rules.

* Open Middle School scholarships are provided by Municipal and District Committees, the expenditure having been distributed between them by mutual agreement in general accordance with the principles laid down in Circular No. 2-21, from the Under-Secretary to Government, Punjab, Education Department, to Commissioners and Deputy Commissioners. See Appendix X.

Ordinary and Prize scholarships.

192. Open High School scholarships are of two kinds, Ordinary Scholarships and Prize Scholarships. Ordinary Scholarships are of the value of Rs. 4 per mensem, and Prize Scholarships of the value of Rs. 6 per mensem.

Term for which open High School scholarships can be held.

193. They are tenable in the High department of any Government Board or Aided School for a term of two years from the date the holder joins the department; provided that—

High School scholarships for Vernacular students who desire to study English.

(1) a schlarship will be tenable for four years by a boy who, having passed the Middle School Examination in the Vernacular, does not join a Vernacular High School, but joins and continues to attend the English side of a Government Board or Aided High School, at which arrangements have been made to the satisfaction of the Department for enabling such students to pass the Entrance Examination of the Arts Factually of the Punjab University within that period ;* provided that he passes the Middle School Examination in English after two years, failing which he will forfeit his scholarship.

(2) a scholarship lapses if the holder passes the Entrance Examination during the period of its currency.

Number of open High School scholarships.

194. The number of open scholarships available is shown in Appendix VII. One-half the number of scholarships there shown will be awarded each year, subject to small fluctuations due to the total number being odd or to the currency of scholarships tenable for four years under clause (1) of the preceding articles. †

Age of candidates for open High School scholarship.

195. No open scholarship will be awarded to any boy who, at the time of appearing at the examination has completed his 17th year.

Open High School scholarships awarded in order of merit.

196. Subject to the above condition, and to restrictions imposed in this and the following articles, the open scholarships will be awarded in order of merit in accordance with the results of the Middle School Examination. Those shown opposite each Division will be awarded in order of merit to boys passing from that Division. Those shown opposite each District will be awarded to the boys passing next in order of merit from that District.

Open High School Scholarships how distributed between Vernacular and Anglo-Vernacular candidates.

197. The open scholarships to be awarded each year in any division or district shall be distributed between Vernacular and Anglo-Vernacular candidates, as nearly as may be in the same proportion as the total number of Vernacular passes bears to the total number of Anglo-Vernacular passes in that division or district at the Middle School Examination of that year.

In case the number of scholarships thus allotted to Vernacular students in any division or district should be in excess of the number of eligible students willing to take them up, the scholarships which for this reason cannot be awarded to Vernacular students, shall be added to the Anglo-Vernacular scholarships available in the division or district to which they belong.

Course to be followed when one side obtains undue advantage.

When either side obtains an undue advantage in any year with regard either to the prize scholarships or the ordinary scholarships, which must sometimes be the case where the number of scholarships to be awarded is small, an advantage shall be given to the other side in the year following. (Vide Article 185).

Lists of candidaets for scholarships to be submitted to Director.

189. As soon as numbers have been assigned by the University to canditates for the Middle School Examination, Managers of aided schools sending up candidates should submit to the Director of Public Instruction lists of such of the candidates as desire to compete for scholarships shewing in the case of each candidate (1), the age of the candidate, (2) the number assigned to him in the examination, (3) whether he is a Vernacular or Anglo-Vernacular candidate, (4) the School in which he desires to hold a High School scholarship, (5) the department, Vernacular or Anglo-Vernacular, in which he proposes to continue his studies.

Head Masters of Board Schools shall submit similar lists through the proper channel to the Deputy Commissioner of the District, who will forward one consolidated list to the Director of Public Instruction.

* At present such arrangements have been made only at the following schools; District School, Ludhiana; District School, Gurdáspur; District School, Delhi; District School, Jullundur.

† This will be met, however, to a great extent by lapse and forfeiture of scholarships which will not be re-awarded.

Private candidates should apply to the District Inspector of Schools who submit a list of such candidates through the Deputy Commissioner.

Award rolls of High School scholarships.

199. Immediately upon the publication of the order of merit by the University, the Director of Public Instruction will proceed to the award of the open scholarships for the year. When the award is complete, he will furnish award rolls in the form given in Appendix VIII to each school at which any of the scholarships awarded are to be held, and to each Local Body from the funds of which any of the scholarships awarded are to be paid. The scholarships for the year will bear serial numbers, which will be entered against them in the award roll; and each scholarship will retain that number however transferred, and should always be described in all correspondence concerning it as "High School Scholarship No. of 18 ."

Intimation of award of scholarship to candidate.

200. Immediately upon the receipt of the award, the Manager or the Head Master of the school should intimate the fact of his having obtained a scholarship to each scholarship-holder, and inform him that he must join his school and take up his scholarship within a month, or the award will lapse (Section A, Article 174.)

Lists of lapsed and forfeited scholarships.

201. Managers and Head Masters of High Schools should submit monthly to the Director of Public Instruction lists shewing what scholarships have lapsed under Article 174, and been forfeited under Article 175.

Open High School scholarships how drawn.

202. The amount due for open High School scholarships to each school for each month will be drawn direct by the Manager or Head Master of the school by the presentation of bills in the form shown in Appendix IX to the Local Body by which the scholarships are payable, a separate bill being required for each Local Body. The Local Body will check the charges by the award roll, satisfy itself that the certificate is duly signed, and transmit the money by cheque or transfer receipt. Each month's bill must be accompanied by the acquittance roll for the preceding month, in the absence of which it will not be cashed.

Transfer of open High School scholarships.

203. If an open scholarship-holder desires that his scholarship should be transferred from the school at which he has been holding it to another school at which it is tenable, he must forward an application for transfer to the Director of Public Instruction, through the Manager or Head Master of the school, to which he wishes the scholarship to be transferred. The Director, after satisfying himself that the scholarship is still current, will certify the transfer to the Manager or Head Master, and also to the Local Body concerned; and request them to note the transfer on the award roll.

Close High School scholarships.

204. Close High School scholarships in addition to those specified above in Article 194, may be founded by Local Bodies from the funds under their control. Their award may be subjected to any such conditions as may conform with the provisions of Article 169, Section A, and they will be drawn (subject to the rules contained in Section A of this Chapter) in such manner as may be arranged by the Local Bodies that provide them.

All scholarships held subject to rules in Section A.

205. All scholarships awarded under these rules are held subject to the conditions set forth in Section A of this Chapter.

Section D.—College Scholarships.

Government College scholarships.

206. Government scholarships of the approximate value of Rs. 4,500 per annum are awarded annually on the results of the Entrance, Intermediate, B. O. L. and B. A. Examinations of the Punjab University.

College scholarships awarded by merit.

207. Scholarships will be awarded in the order of the place list.

Grades of College scholarships.

208. Scholarships are of two grades; students who win scholarships will be entitled to scholarships of the 1st grade, if they pass the Examination in the first division, and to scholarships of the 2nd grade, if they pass in the second division.

209. No scholarships will be awarded to students who pass in the third division or to casual students, who attend any Government or aided college.

College scholarships when not awarded.

210. The number and value of the scholarships to be awarded are shown in the following table :—

Number and value of College scholarships.

EXAMINATIONS.	ORIENTAL FACULTY.			ARTS FACULTY.
	Number.	Monthly value.		Number.	Monthly value.
		1st grade.	2nd grade.		1st grade.	2nd grade.
		Rs.	Rs.		Rs.	Rs.
Entrance	3	10	8	20	12	10
Intermediate	1	14	10	3	16	12
Bachelor's Degree	1	20	16	1	25	20

211. The above scholarships will be tenable from 1st June for two years, in the Oriental College, Lahore, on the Oriental side, and in the Lahore Government College or St. Stephen's College, Delhi, on the Arts side, or in any other institution in the Punjab recognized and approved by Government, and preparing students for the examination next higher than and on the same side as that for which the scholarships are severally awarded. Provided that if Bachelor scholarship-holders pass their Master's Examination at the end of the first year, no further conditions will be demanded of them.

College scholarships where tenable.

212. All scholarships are given on the express condition that the holder shall pursue his studies with industry. If it should appear at any time that the scholarship-holder fails to make satisfactory progress, the head of the college shall, after due warning, report the scholarship to the Director of Public Instruction for forfeiture.

Industry a sine qua non for holding college scholarships.

213. All scholarships must be taken up within three weeks of the publication of the place lists in the Punjab Gazette by the winners joining an institution in which their scholarships are tenable within that period. But if the said period should expire during the interval between the 1st August and the 15th October, this interval will be excluded from computation. Thus for instance, if the place lists are published in the Gazette of the 16th July, the period for joining will expire on the 21st October. Scholarships not taken up under this rule will not be re-awarded.

Scholarships must be taken up within three weeks.

214. No award lists will be published or communicated to Head Masters. The place lists will show who has won a scholarship. Heads of institutions at which scholarships are tenable should draw the amounts payable under the above rules to students in their institutions on the usual monthly bills as soon as the place lists are published. Each scholarship will be payable from the date on which the winner joined the institution, not being earlier than 1st June or later than the expiry of the period fixed by article 213.

College scholarships. How drawn.

SECTION E.—Scholarships tenable in female schools.

215. Scholarships at the rate of Rs. 2 per mensem, or at the rate of Rs. 3 per mensem where special merit is shown, shall be awarded to all girls of purely Vernacular schools who pass the Lower Primary Examination in the three compulsory subjects (vide Chapter V.) up to a limit of 20 per cent. of the number of pupils borne on the rolls, and shall be tenable for two years subject to good conduct and diligence in the Upper Primary department of any Government, Board, or Aided Girls' school.

Scholarships tenable in Girls Schools. Their value and conditions.

CHAPTER VIII.

BOARDING HOUSES.

Public Boarding Houses defined.

216. Boarding Houses maintained by Government or by Local Bodies shall be called Public Boarding Houses.

One Boarding House not open to more than one school in the same town.

217. As a general rule a Public Boarding House shall not be open to more than one school or college in the same town. Each school or college may have a Boarding House attached to it, if considered necessary by the Manager.

When a Boarding House attached to an aided school may claim grant-in-aid.

218. A Boarding House attached to an aided school may claim a grant-in-aide provided the number of out-station pupils wishing to join is not less than ten.

Preference given to scholarship-holders for admission.

219. Scholarship-holders shall have a preferential claim for admission to a Public Boarding House over all others who may wish to join during the same term; other cases shall be determined according to priority in the time of application.

Superintendent.

220. Every Public Boarding House shall be placed under a Superintendent of suitable age and character, who shall act under the orders of the Head Master or the Principal of the Institution to which the Boarding House is attached.

Monitors.

221. Head Masters of schools and Principals of colleges to which Boarding Houses are attached shall have power to appoint an unpaid monitor or monitors to maintain discipline in the Boarding House.

Two boys only shall not occupy one cubical; large rooms or long barracks shall be provided.

222. In no Public Boarding House shall two boys only be allowed to occupy one cubical. In all cases where new buildings are erected, large rooms or long barracks shall be provided, and endeavours shall be made, as far as possible, to substitute large rooms for small rooms now in use.

Rooms for study.

223. In every large Boarding House a convenient room for study shall be provided, unless class rooms are available that will sufficiently answer the purpose.

Time for study. Silence enforced.

224. In Boarding Houses attached to schools there shall be a fixed time of study of one hour or more in the morning or evening, during which all boys shall be assembled in the room used for the purpose, and silence enforced.

Servants and furniture.

225. In every Public Boarding House cooks, water-carriers and the necessary furniture shall be supplied and every Boarder shall be provided with a box with lock, a bed-stead and a mat.

Light.

226. In Boarding Houses where studies are carried on at night, provision shall be made for good lighting.

Fees.

227. Where necessary, a small fee at a uniform rate may be levied from all inmates of the Boarding House by the Local Body who maintain it or by the Manager.

Medical attendance.

228. Where Boarders are numerous, provision shall be made for regular medical attendance, a small allowance being paid, if necessary, to a member of the local medical staff.

229. Defective ventilation and over-crowding shall not in any case be permitted.

Defects in internal arrangements to be reported by Inspecting Officer.

It will be the duty of Inspecting Officers to examine carefully the internal arrangements of all Public and aided Boarding Houses and to report any defects that may come to their notice.

Rules for the management of the Boarding House.

230. Rules for the management of every Boarding House shall be drawn up by the Principal, Manager or Local Board, and shall, after approval in the case of schools by the Inspector of the Circle, be hung up in a room in the Boarding House. They shall include the preceding rules, modified as local circumstances may require, with such additions as may be considered necessary.

APPENDIX X.

Circular No. $\frac{2}{21}$, dated the 12th February 1885, from Denzil Ibbetson, Esquire, Under-Secretary to Government, Punjab, Educational Department, to all Commissioners and Deputy Commissioners.

I AM directed to address you with reference to Circular No. 57 of 17th November 1884, issued by me as Director of Public Instruction to all Commissioners and Deputy Commissioners.

2. In that Circular I requested that, in accordance with the orders of Government, a certain number of scholarships in each district might be made, subject to certain specified conditions, uniform for the Province, and declared open to all residents of the district, and tenable in any Government or aided Middle School. In the great majority of districts the number and value of scholarships thus to be declared open was smaller than the number and value of existing Middle School scholarships. In some few districts, however, additional provision would be necessary.

3. It was pointed out in that Circular that the cost of the open scholarships in question would be borne by both District and Municipal Funds. But nothing was said as to the manner in which the total burden was to be distributed over the several Local Bodies of the district. Some difficulty has been felt regarding this point; and I am therefore to communicate the following observations for your guidance in the matter.

4. It is an essential feature of the proposals under discussion that the scholarships now to be declared open shall be offered for unrestricted competition within the district. As therefore they may be held by boys living within municipal limits as well as by those living without those limits, it is necessary that Municipal Funds should bear a fair portion of the burden. And the fairest way of distributing the burden will be to adopt the same scale for the distribution as has been made the basis of the total provision required, and to divide the total cost among the several funds concerned in proportion to the number of boys studying in the Primary Departments of Government and aided schools within their respective limits, each Municipality contributing for the Primary School population within its own limits, and the District Funds contributing for the Primary School population not included within the limits of any Municipality. The provision once made and the burden distributed, all the open scholarships of the district will of course be open to all residents of the district without distinction of residence or occupation. And as both municipal and non-municipal schools include both agricultural and non-agricultural scholars, and as the vast majority of our Municipalities are really agricultural villages, such a distribution will probably be found to work fairly enough in practice. If it is found that it works inequitably, whether in general or in particular cases, it may become necessary to modify it. But at present it seems to afford the best solution of the problem.

5. It is probable, however, that no general rule will exactly meet the circumstances of all districts; and the method described above should not be applied mechanically, or as a mere problem of arithmetic. Some regard must be had to the present distribution of existing scholarships; allowance may fairly be made for poor municipalities; and in districts where the existing provision is already more than sufficient to afford the whole number of open scholarships required, it may often be well to avoid calling upon any of the bodies concerned to set apart new funds for the purpose. So, too, allowance must be made for the fact that in some municipal schools, and especially in Anglo-Vernacular schools, a considerable proportion of the scholars of the Upper Primary Department have their homes outside municipal limits. The matter should be arranged by mutual consent of the Committee concerned, under the guidance of the District Officer; and the Lieutenant-Governor believes that no difficulty will be experienced in arriving at a reasonable distribution of the required provision. Some of the Local Bodies may prefer the open to the close system, and in that case will be ready to contribute more than their share to the cost of the open scholarships.

6. It will of course be clearly understood that the remaining portion (if any) of the present provision for scholarships, after the open scholarships have been created, together with any additional funds that the Local Bodies may from time to time set apart for the purpose, will be devoted as hitherto to the maintenance of close scholarships; and of these, such as are provided from District Funds will doubtless be restricted by the Committees that provide them to the sons of agriculturists. But, so far as open scholarships are concerned, freedom of competition is essential; and it is neither practicable nor desirable to separate those provided from District Funds from those provided from Municipal income.

APPENDIX X.

Circular No. $\frac{2}{21}$, dated the 12*th February* 1885, from Denzil Ibbetson, Esquire, Under-Secretary to Government, Punjab, Educational Department, to all Commissioners and Deputy Commissioners.

I AM directed to address you with reference to Circular No. 57 of 17th November 1884, issued by me as Director of Public Instruction to all Commissioners and Deputy Commissioners.

2. In that Circular I requested that, in accordance with the orders of Government, a certain number of scholarships in each district might be made, subject to certain specified conditions, uniform for the Province, and declared open to all residents of the district, and tenable in any Government or aided Middle School. In the great majority of districts, the number and value of scholarships thus to be declared open was smaller than the number and value of existing Middle School scholarships. In some few districts, however, additional provision would be necessary.

3. It was pointed out in that Circular that the cost of the open scholarships in question would be borne by both District and Municipal Funds. But nothing was said as to the manner in which the total burden was to be distributed over the several Local Bodies of the district. Some difficulty has been felt regarding this point; and I am therefore to communicate the following observations for your guidance in the matter.

4. It is an essential feature of the proposals under discussion that the scholarships now to be declared open shall be offered for unrestricted competition within the district. As therefore they may be held by boys living within municipal limits as well as by those living without those limits, it is necessary that Municipal Funds should bear a fair portion of the burden. And the fairest way of distributing the burden will be to adopt the same scale for the distribution as has been made the basis of the total provision required, and to divide the total cost among the several funds concerned in proportion to the number of boys studying in the Primary Departments of Government and aided schools within their respective limits, each Municipality contributing for the Primary School population within its own limits, and the District Funds contributing for the Primary School population not included within the limits of any Municipality. The provision once made and the burden distributed, all the open scholarships of the district will of course be open to all residents of the district without distinction of residence or occupation. And as both municipal and non-municipal schools include both agricultural and non-agricultural scholars; and as the vast majority of our Municipalities are really agricultural villages, such a distribution will probably be found to work fairly enough in practice. If it is found that it works inequitably, whether in general or in particular cases, it may become necessary to modify it. But at present it seems to afford the best solution of the problem.

5. It is probable, however, that no general rule will exactly meet the circumstances of all districts; and the method described above should not be applied mechanically, or as a mere problem of arithmetic. Some regard must be had to the present distribution of existing scholarships; allowance may fairly be made for poor municipalities; and in districts where the existing provision is already more than sufficient to afford the whole number of open scholarships required, it may often be well to avoid calling upon any of the bodies concerned to set apart new funds for the purpose. So, too, allowance must be made for the fact that in some municipal schools, and especially in Anglo-Vernacular schools, a considerable proportion of the scholars of the Upper Primary Department have their homes outside municipal limits. The matter should be arranged by mutual consent of the Committee concerned, under the guidance of the District Officer; and the Lieutenant-Governor believes that no difficulty will be experienced in arriving at a reasonable distribution of the required provision. Some of the Local Bodies may prefer the open to the close system, and in that case will be ready to contribute more than their share to the cost of the open scholarships.

6. It will of course be clearly understood that the remaining portion (if any) of the present provision for scholarships, after the open scholarships have been created, together with any additional funds that the Local Bodies may from time to time set apart for the purpose, will be devoted as hitherto to the maintenance of close scholarships; and of these, such as are provided from District Funds will doubtless be restricted by the Committees that provide them to the sons of agriculturists. But, so far as open scholarships are concerned, freedom of competition is essential; and it is neither practicable nor desirable to separate those provided from District Funds from those provided from Municipal income.

MILITARY DEPARTMENT.

The 29th July 1886.

No. 137.—The following G. G. O. in the Military Department is re-published for general information and guidance :—

Simla, the 23rd July 1886.

SPECIAL.

"No. 485.—With the sanction of Her Majesty's Government, the Right Hon'ble the Viceroy and Governor-General of India in Council is pleased to notify the transfer of the Punjab Frontier Force, the administration of which has hitherto been vested in the Government of the Punjab to the command of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief in India."

"In doing so, His Excellency in Council is authorized to express the high sense entertained by Her Majesty the Queen-Empress of the loyal and brilliant services which, under the Government of the Province, the Punjab Frontier Force has invariably rendered to the State from the earliest period of its creation. The Governor-General in Council takes this opportunity to place on record his appreciation of the admirable manner in which the Force has for so many years been administered by the Punjab Government, and of the wise and well-directed measures taken by that Government from time to time to promote and maintain its efficiency."

"In arranging the details of this change of control, the political exigencies of the frontier have been kept prominently in view, and every effort has been, and will be, made to interfere as little as possible with the present system of frontier administration. The Force will therefore continue as a separate unit for frontier duties, and, as far as may be found practicable, its local and distinctive character will be preserved, its institutions maintained, and its existing privileges continued."

The transfer will take place from the 1st August 1886, and His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor-General in Council is confident that all ranks of the Force, British and Native, under the command of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief in India, will spare no efforts to worthily uphold the traditions of loyalty, discipline, and bravery, which have been handed down to them, and to maintain unimpaired the esprit de corps, efficiency, and soldierly qualities, which have gained for the Punjab Frontier Force honor and distinction, both in cantonments and in the field, and have raised this fine body of troops to the distinguished position of a fighting force second to none in the Army.

No. 138.—In announcing, as notified in the preceding order, the transfer of the Punjab Frontier Force from the Punjab Government to the orders of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief in India, the Lieutenant-Governor desires to place on public record the cordial thanks of the Punjab Government for the many services continuously rendered by this distinguished body of troops from its earliest formation.

2. The Force was first raised in 1849 under the orders of the Marquis of Dalhousie, Governor-General of India.

From the time of its formation, the regiments and batteries composing it were employed on services of an arduous and harassing nature. Their duty lay in watching a frontier stretching over 600 miles in length and confronted by martial and turbulent tribes. Constantly placed in circumstances requiring tact and presence of mind, the officers and men acquired an exceptionally valuable training. Up to the year 1857 some of them had taken part in no less than 20 different expeditions or encounters.

3. When the great crisis arose, which for a time seemed to threaten to overwhelm the British power in India, the Punjab Frontier Force was ready for the emergency, untainted by the general disloyalty, and eager to be employed in defence of the Empire.

4. At the siege and capture of Delhi—a siege almost unparalleled in the annals of the British Empire—the Punjab Frontier Force was represented by—

A Squadron of the 1st Punjab Cavalry under Lieutenant J. Watson;

A Squadron of the 2nd Punjab Cavalry under Lieutenant C. Nicholson, and subsequently Lieutenant D. M. Probyn;

A Squadron of the 5th Punjab Cavalry under Lieutenant Younghusband;

The Corps of Guides, Cavalry and Infantry, under Captain H. Daly;

The 4th Sikh Infantry under Captain Rothney;

The 1st Punjab Infantry under Major John Coke, and subsequently Lieutenant C. Nicholson;

The 2nd Punjab Infantry under Captain Green;

The 4th Punjab Infantry under Captain A. Wilde.

The three main columns told off for the assault of the city aggregated about 2,750 men; of these no fewer than 1,300 belonged to the Punjab Frontier Force.

5. Later on, for the relief and capture of Lucknow, the Punjab Frontier Force contributed—

The 1st Punjab Cavalry under Lieutenant J. Watson;

The 2nd Punjab Cavalry under Captain D. M. Probyn and Captain S. J. Browne;

The 5th Punjab Cavalry under Lieutenant G. A. P. Younghusband, Captain Sandford and Captain G. W. C. Plowden;

The 2nd Punjab Infantry under Major Green; and

The 4th Punjab Infantry under Lieutenants Paul and Willoughby and Major Wilde.

Several of the above regiments, also No. 3 Light Field Battery, the 1st Sikh Infantry, the 3rd Sikh Infantry, the 3rd Punjab Infantry, the 5th Punjab Infantry, and the 6th Punjab Infantry, served in the Punjab and Hindústán from 1857 to 1860, and took part in the following engagements or operations:—

Reduction of Bulleh; Karnál; Rohtak; Alipur; Trimmu Ghât; Najafgarh; Bulandshahr; Ballabgarh; Jhajjar; Aligarh; Agra; Akrabad; Kanouj; Maryaganj; Narnoul; Cawnpore; Serajghât; Khudaganj; Futtehgarh; Shumshabad; Capture of Bareilly; Koorsee; Shahjahanpur; Barree; Allahganj; Royah; Simri; Najjibabad; Nuggina; Kukerowli; Mirganj; Reoccupation of Bareilly; Operations near Etawah; Mohunpur; Burnai; Capture of Mohumdi; Nawábganj; Sultánpur and passage of the Gumti; Operations near Russoorah, Nuryah; Sirpura near Philibhit; Daodpur; Rámpur Kussiah; Amethi and Shunkarpur; Operations near Mohoua and Forts Rehora and Koeli; Byswarrah; Passage of the Gogra; Muchligaon; Chanda Majethia and attack on the Nana's Troops at Banki; Action on the Rapti; Sissya Ghât; Sitka Ghât; Affairs in the Nepal Terai and Hills; Jarwah; Thanna of Chouradhi; Action in the Gondah District; Affair on the Khoryali; Operations Trans Gogra near Dhumdha Ghât; Balapur; Kurwunniah Sotah; Chainpur; Khungra ka Naka; Sumputtri Pass.

6. The discipline, loyalty and courage displayed by the regiments employed in these services called forth the approbation of the highest authorities, and the despatches of General Officers and the General Orders of Government publishing the accounts of these operations stand on record as an honorable tribute to the Force.

7. It would be impossible fully to relate the services to the State rendered at this critical period by the Punjab Frontier Force. But special mention may be made of one or two of the more memorable incidents of the Mutiny days :—The gallant stand made on the 8th June 1857 by about 150 men of the 4th Sikh Infantry under Lieutenant Williams with one gun worked by Mr. Ricketts of the Bengal Civil Service against three mutinous regiments of infantry and one of cavalry until their ammunition was expended and a retreat was inevitable ; the march of the Corps of Guides to Delhi, covering 580 miles in 22 days at the hottest period of the year, at the end of which, and after a march of 30 miles, the corps was hotly engaged with the enemy ; the gallantry of Lieutenant J. Watson, 1st Punjab Cavalry, and Lieutenant D. M. Probyn and Captain S. J. Browne, 2nd Punjab Cavalry, for which they each received the Victoria Cross ; the engagement of the 31st March 1859 at Jarwah near Tulsipur, where the 1st Sikh Infantry held their own for some hours against an overwhelming force of insurgents, stated to have been between 13,000 and 14,000 in number, until relieved by Brigadier-General Horsford ; and lastly the capture of the Sikandra Bágh, that brilliant feat of arms, in which the 4th Punjab Infantry vied with the 93rd Highlanders for the place of honor, and in which the conspicuous gallantry of Súbadár Gokal Singh, 4th Punjab Infantry, was specially mentioned by Sir Colin Campbell and eulogised by the Governor-General in Council.

8. The services of the 4th Punjab Infantry during the Mutiny deserve to be specially chronicled. It reached Delhi after a march of 1,035 miles from Bannu (having been diverted to Peshávar and to take part in the affair at Narinji) on the 6th September 1857 in time to take part in the assault. It was subsequently employed at the relief and capture of Lucknow and in eleven other engagements besides various skirmishes. On the 15th April 1858, by which time, after 9 months' continuous fighting, the regiment had been reduced to 155 of all ranks, it was engaged at Royah, losing 51 of this number. Finally, on the 15th May 1858, the remnant of the regiment, numbering 2 British Officers, 5 Native Officers, 79 Non-Commissioned Officers and men, recommenced its march for the Punjab Frontier, having lost in about ten months 13 out of 15 British Officers who had been appointed to it, and upwards of 370 Native Officers, Non-Commissioned Officers and men.

9. The next large and important campaign in which the Punjab Frontier Force was called upon to take part was that of Yusafzai (Umbeyla) in 1863 under Brigadier-General N. Chamberlain and Major-General J. Garvock. To the Yusafzai Field Force the Punjab Frontier Force contributed the following corps :—

No. 3 Punjab Light Field Battery.
Peshávar Mountain Train.
Hazára ,, ,,
Guides Cavalry.
,, Infantry.
3rd Sikh Infantry.
1st Punjab Infantry.
3rd ,, ,,
5th ,, ,,
6th ,, ,,
5th Gurkha Regiment.

Many were the instances of gallantry and devotion to duty which marked the conduct of the troops in this campaign. The names of the Eagle's Nest, the Crag Picket (three times lost and won, and later known as the Katalgah or place of slaughter) and the Conical Hill, recall stirring memories of hard fought encounters. The despatches of the campaign have graphically recorded the capture of the Crag Picket under Major C. P. Keyes on the 30th October 1863, on which occasion the gallantry of Lieutenant W. H. Pitcher, 1st Punjab Infantry, was stated to have been the admiration of all spectators, and earned for him the Victoria Cross ; the conduct of Lieutenant J. P. Davidson, 1st Punjab Infantry, who, on the 13th November 1863, "rather than retire from his post died, fighting to the last against overwhelming numbers, with a heroism which elicited the admiration of one of the principal Chiefs of the Boner tribe ;" the spirited advances of the 1st Punjab Infantry under Major C. P. Keyes ; and the remarkable steadiness in action of the Peshávar Mountain Battery under Captain T. E. Hughes, and the Hazára Mountain Battery under Captain de Budé.

10. Fifteen years after the Umbeyla Campaign the Punjab Frontier Force had the good fortune to furnish for the Afghán Campaigns of 1878 to 1881 the following regiments and batteries :—

1st Punjab Cavalry.
2nd ,, ,,
3rd ,, ,,
5th ,, ,,
Corps of Guides (Queen's Own) Cavalry.
No. 1 Mountain Battery.
,, 2 ,, ,,
,, 3 ,, ,,
,, 4 ,, ,,
Corps of Guides (Queen's Own) Infantry.
1st Sikh Infantry.
2nd ,, ,,
3rd ,, ,,
1st Punjab Infantry.
2nd ,, ,,
4th ,, ,,
5th ,, ,,
5th Gurkha Regiment.

Many of these regiments played an important part in the capture of Ali Masjid ; the Peiwar Kotal (where the Victoria Cross was earned by Captain John Cook, 5th Gurkha Regiment); the passage of the Sapri Pass; the operations in Khost and the action of Matun; the march on Kandahar and the affair of Takht-i-pul; the operations in the Bazar Valley and Lughman Valley; the action of Baghao and Synd Boot; the action of Fattehabad, a victory dimmed by the loss of Major Wigram Battye, Queen's Own Corps of Guides, and Ressaidár Mahmúd Khán, and in which Lieutenant Hamilton won the Victoria Cross by the brilliant manner in which he led the cavalry on the death of his Commanding Officer; the engagement at Shahjui; the march on Kabul and action of Charasiah; the defence of the Shutár Gardan; the storming of the Takht-i-Shah and Asmai Heights, and other operations round Kabul in which the Victoria Cross was awarded to Captain W. J. Vousden, 5th Punjab Cavalry, and Captain A. G. Hammond, Queen's Own Corps of Guides; the defence of Sherpur; the Zaimusht Expedition; the battle of Ahmed Khel, where the 2nd Sikh Infantry under Lieutenant-Colonel J. J. Boswell displayed marked valour at a critical time, Majors Slater and Hastings being specially mentioned; the actions of Arzu, Charasiah, and Patkao Shana; the march from Kabul to Kandahar under Sir F. Roberts; the defeat of Ayúb Khán near Kandahar; and the Mari Expedition.

11. The fate of the escort of the British Envoy at Kabul furnished by the Queen's Own Corps of Guides is matter of history. Out of a strength of 2 British Officers and 2 Native Officers, 73 Non-Commissioned Officers and men, all but three Sowars died a soldier's death on the 4th September 1879. The following remarks of the Kabul Commission relate to this event:—"The conduct of the escort of the Queen's Own Corps of Guides does not form part of the enquiry entrusted to the Commission, but they in the course of these enquiries had the extreme gallantry of the bearing of these men so forcibly brought to their notice that they cannot refrain from placing on record their humble tribute of admiration. They do not give their opinion hastily, but they believe that the annals of no army and no regiment can show a brighter record of devoted bravery than has been achieved by this small band of Guides. By their deeds they have conferred undying honor, not only on the regiment to which they belong, but on the whole British Army."

12. In addition to the larger campaigns above mentioned, various corps of the Punjab Frontier Force have served in the following expeditions on the North-West Frontier:—

Kohát Pass Afrídís	1850
Mohmands ... ... Míranzai	1851
Umarzai Wazírís ... ... Hassanzais, 1852-53 ... ... Ranízais ... ... Utman Khels	1852
Bori Afrídís ... ... Hindústáni fanatics of Kotla... ... Shíránís ... ... Kasránís	1853
Michni Mohmands	1854
Aka Khels ... ... Rabbia Khel Orakzais... ... Míranzais	1855
Míranzai and Kurram... ...	1856
Bozdárs ... ... Nariuji	1857
Khudu Khels and Hindústáni fanatics (Sittana Field Force)	1858
Kabul Khel Wazírís	1859
Mahsúd Wazírís ...	1860
Mohmands near Shabkadar ...	1864
Black Mountain tribes ...	1868
Bizoti Orakzais at Ublan Pass (Gara) ...	1868-69
Dawar Valley ...	1872
Jowáki Afrídís ...	1877-78
Ránízai, Iskakot Utmán Khel	1878
Mahsúd Wazírís ...	1881
Takht-i-Sulemán Survey ...	1883
Zhob Valley ...	1884

Regiments or batteries of the Force have also been employed in Burmah, 1852 to 1854; Sikhim, 1861; Lushai, 1871-72; Duffla, 1874-75; Aka, 1883-84; Burmah, 1885-86.

13. In the watch and ward of the frontier, which consists for the most part of barren mountain ranges with lower spurs disappearing in a broad fringe of sand and stone where only here and there, at rare intervals, a tree is to be seen, it has been the ordinary every day lot of the officers, non-commissioned officers and men of the Force to have to undertake duties of a harassing nature, involving much exposure. These duties have been invariably discharged with a tact, patience, endurance, and soldier-like cheerfulness most creditable to all ranks. Sir Charles Aitchison desires very specially to thank the officers and men of the Force for the cordial co-operation they have at all times given to the Civil authorities on the frontier whereby they have materially assisted them in the work of civilizing and pacifying a turbulent border.

14. The Lieutenant-Governor desires here to mention a few memorable instances in which Native Officers placed in isolated positions of responsibility have, by their ready resource and cool daring, worthily upheld the credit of their service. On the 13th March 1860, Ressaldár Sahádat Khán and Ressaldár Akwak Singh, 5th Punjab Cavalry, with a force of 150 sabres and 37 mounted police, repelled 3,000

Wazírís on the Tánk border, killing 300. On the 8th January 1866, Jamadár Kishen Singh, 4th Punjab Cavalry, with a detachment of 35 sabres, charged a body of about 500 Sulemán Khel raiders near the Manjhi Outpost over a country considered almost impracticable for cavalry, and recovered about 1,400 head of cattle, killing and wounding a large number of the enemy. On the 26th January 1867, Jamadár Imám Khán, 5th Punjab Cavalry, with a detachment of 27 sabres, supported by some Lund and Gurchani tribesmen, charged a body of raiders, 1,000 strong, killing 150 and taking a large number of prisoners. For this service the Jamadár and four Non-Commissioned Officers and men of the detachment earned the Order of Merit. On the 9th January 1879, Súbadár Fyz Tallab, 1st Punjab Infantry, in command of a detachment of his regiment at Fort Abdula near Gulistan Karez, numbering 35 men, repelled two determined attacks made by a large number of Kakozai and Atchakzai raiders. He was specially admitted to the First Class Order of Merit, and was selected by His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief in India to receive a Sword of Honor presented with the permission of the Government of India by Mír Imdád Ali, C. S. I., Deputy Collector of Morádabad, to the Native Officer who most distinguished himself in the Afghán Campaign of 1878-79.

15. To the Medical Officers of the Force, the special thanks of the Punjab Government are due. Through the philanthropic exertions of many of them the sufferings of thousands of independent tribesmen have been relieved.

Foremost amongst these must be ranked Deputy Surgeon-General H. W. Bellew, C.S.I., whose name will long be remembered on the Yusafzai border :—

Deputy Surgeon-General J. Buckle, C.B.
Surgeon-Major C. P. Costello.
Surgeon-Major J. R. Deane.
Brigade Surgeon J. Fairweather.
Brigade Surgeon G. Farrell, C.B.
Surgeon-Major A. P. Holmes.
Surgeon-Major J. R. Johnson.
Surgeon-General J. T. C. Ross, C.I.E.

16. The Lieutenant-Governor is well aware that it would be an impossible task to review adequately in a Gazette notification the services rendered to the Empire by the regiments or by individual officers of the Punjab Frontier Force. But even this cursory sketch would be incomplete without a record of some of those whose names stand first in its illustrious roll, and who by their honorable example and soldier-like qualities have done much to raise the Punjab Frontier Force to the standard of efficiency which it has attained, second, as Sir C. Aitchison believes, to none in Her Majesty's Armies :—

Major-General J. S. Hodgson.
General Sir N. B. Chamberlain, G.C.B., G.C.S.I.
Lieutenant-General Sir A. T. Wilde, K.C.B., C.S.I.
General W. T. Hughes, C.B.
Lieutenant-General Sir C. P. Keyes, K.C.B.
Major-General T. G. Kennedy, C.B.
Brigadier-General J. W. McQueen, C.B., A.D.C.

Major-General J. Boswell, C. B.
Lieutenant-General Sir S. J. Browne, V.C., K.C.B., K.C.S.I.

Súbadár-Major Gurbhaj Singh, Bahádur, 2nd Sikh Infantry.

Súbadár-Major Bhabeechan Singh, 3rd Sikh Infantry.

Súbadár Búta Singh, 4th Sikh Infantry.

Súbadár-Major Mír Jafir, Sirdár Bahádur, 1st Punjab Infantry.

Súbadár-Major Habíb Khán, Sirdár Bahádur 1st Punjab Infantry.

Súbadár-Major Pyabb Khán, Sirdár Bahádur, 1st Punjab Infantry.

Súbadár-Major Poona Singh, 2nd Punjab Infantry.

Súbadár-Major Rám Singh, 3rd Punjab Infantry.

Súbadár-Major Gokul Singh, 4th Punjab Infantry.

Súbadár-Major Azíz Khán, Bahádur, 5th Punjab Infantry.

Súbadár Juma Khán, Bahádur, 5th Punjab Infantry.

Subadár-Major Rasúl Khán, Bahádur, 6th Punjab Infantry.

Súbadár-Major Balbhadar Negi, Bahádur, 5th Gurkhas, Aide-de-Camp to the Viceroy.

16. In now thanking the officers and men of the Punjab Frontier Force, and bidding them with deep regret farewell, Sir Charles Aitchison desires to express his assured confidence that, under the orders of the Commander-in-Chief in India, the Punjab Frontier Force will always maintain the high reputation for efficiency and unswerving loyalty to the Crown, and readiness for every duty, small or great, which it has earned by upwards of 37 years of faithful service, faultless in peace and brilliant in war; and he knows that, whenever and wherever called upon to render service to the State, it will prove true to the noble traditions which have accumulated round its name during the years of its connection with the Government of the Punjab.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

SALARIES, ESTABLISHMENTS, &c.

Land Revenue.

RESOLUTION.

Simla, the 29th June 1886.

IT has been brought to the notice of the Governor-General in Council that the orders regarding the payment of compensation for land taken up for public purposes under the Land Acquisition Act, 1870, and the audit of such payments, are not everywhere carefully observed, and that it is desirable to consolidate and in some respects to modify these orders.

2. His Excellency accordingly, in supersession of all previous orders, directs that the following procedure shall be observed.

3. After all preliminaries in respect to estimate, &c., that may be required under departmental rules in force for the time being have been duly carried out, the land will be taken up under the Act either by the Collector or by some special officer who is placed at the disposal of the Public Works Department, and invested with the powers of a Collector under the Act; the procedure differs in the two cases.

4. Officers who are especially employed for this work, being invested with the powers of a Collector under the Act and placed at the disposal of the Public Works Department, are regarded as Public Works disbursers, and are supplied with funds in the same manner as an Executive Engineer, as described in Chapter 23 of the Civil Account Code. The following procedure shall be observed by such officers.

5. When the amount of compensation is accepted by the persons interested, and an award is made under Section 14 of the Act, the officer shall have a statement prepared in the appended form (marked A) showing the amounts payable to each person under the award, and shall on the day the award is made forward a copy of the statement, signed by himself, to the Examiner of Public Works Accounts with whom he is in account. Before signing the copy, the officer should carefully satisfy himself that it correctly shows the amounts due under the award, and should himself both in the original and copy enter the total of column 6 of the statement in words.

6. In paying the amounts due under the award, the officer shall take the receipt of each person to whom money is paid on a separate voucher in the accompanying form (marked B), containing a reference to the item showing the amount due to that person in the statement prescribed in the preceding paragraph. The officer shall forward the receipts of the payees to the Examiner of Public Works Accounts with whom he is in account when forwarding to him the account of the month in which the payments are made.

7. In the event of the payees not presenting themselves for payment within a year from the date of the award, the amounts due may be paid into the Treasury on Revenue deposit, and vouched for in the accompanying form (marked C). Every endeavour should, however, be made to secure the presence of the payees to receive payment, so as to avoid as far as possible, payment into the Treasury on deposit. When the payees ultimately claim payment of sums placed on deposit, the amounts will be paid to them in the same manner as ordinary Revenue deposits, under the authority of the Collector.

8. When the compensation offered is not accepted by the persons interested, and the amounts payable are consequently settled by the award made by the Court under the provisions of Part III of the Act, the special officer shall, as soon as he ascertains what the award of the Court is, prepare a statement in Form A showing the amounts due under the award, and forward a copy to the Examiner in the same manner as prescribed in paragraph 5. In paying the amounts due under such award, the officer shall take from each person to whom a payment is made a receipt in Form B, or, in the event of the payees not presenting themselves for payment within a year from the date of the award, from the Treasury Officer in Form C, containing a reference to the entry showing the amount due in the statement just referred to, and shall forward those receipts to the Examiner of Public Works Accounts in forwarding to him the accounts of the month in which the payments are made.

9. The special officer should, as far as possible, arrange to make the payments due in or near the village to which the payees belong. This will make it more easy to secure the attendance of the payees, and so reduce the number of sums which it will be necessary to place on deposit under paragraph 7.

10. In any case in which a reference is made to the Civil Court, and the award of the Court is not made till after the special officer has been relieved of his special duties, the payments due under the award shall be made by the Collector, who will observe the same procedure as if the reference to the Civil Court had been made by himself, as prescribed in paragraphs 11 and 12 below.

11. When the land is taken up by the Collector or other Civil Officer not specially employed for the work, such Collector or Civil Officer is not a Public Works disburser, but draws money for payment due under the award, made by him or by the Civil Court, from the Civil Treasury. Such Collector or Civil Officer shall, as soon as he makes the award, or as soon as he ascertains that an award has been made by the Civil Court, prepare a statement in Form A showing the amounts due, and forward a copy thereof to the Examiner of Public Works Accounts concerned in the manner prescribed in paragraphs 5 and 8.

12. In making the payments due under the award, the Collector shall take from each person to whom payment is made a receipt in Form B containing a reference to the particular entry in the award showing the amount due to the payee. These receipts will be the Treasury Officer's vouchers for the payments, and shall be forwarded by him with the accounts of the month to the Accountant-General of the province, who will in ordinary course forward them to the Examiner of Public Works Accounts. In the event of the payees not presenting themselves to receive payment within a year from the date of the award, the amounts due may be placed on Revenue deposit, and receipts taken in Form C in the same manner as is provided in Rule 7.

13. The Treasury Officer has no concern with the award or with the award statement; he makes the payments on the authority of the Collector, or other officer assessing compensation. The Collector may either draw the amount due to each payee separately, in which case he should countersign the receipt in Form B, and make it payable at the Treasury to the payee, altering the words " Paid in my presence $\frac{\text{in cash}}{\text{by cheque}}$ " to " Pay "; or he may draw the total amount due under the award on his own receipt as an advance, and after making the payments forward the receipts of the payees to the Treasury Officer in adjustment of the advance. In the former case, an advice list of the forms passed for payment should be sent to the Treasury Officer who in turn should send weekly an advice of orders paid.

14. Whether the payment is made by a special officer or by the Collector (or other Civil Officer), the audit of the Examiner of Public Works Accounts shall consist in seeing that every payment is supported by a receipt in Form B or C, and that the amount paid on such receipt is the amount payable to the payee under the award, as shown in the statements of which he will have received copies under the preceding orders. The Examiner will also note in the last column of Form A the date on which possession is taken, as reported to him by the Executive Engineer or other officer.

15. The Examiner will, as he receives the vouchers, fill in the entries in column 8 of the award statement (Form A); and as he receives the reports of possession he will fill in the entries in column 9 : when all the vouchers showing either payment to the payee or payment into the Treasury on deposit and the reports of possession have been received, he will forward a copy of the completed statement in Form A to the Chief Revenue Authority. This will complete the audit of the Examiner ; any other or further returns or reports from the officers who assess or pay compensation, and any reports regarding the payment of sums placed on deposit under Rules 7 and 12 above, will be disposed of by the Chief Revenue Authority without reference to the Examiner.

16. When the land is acquired for and the cost is debitable to the Military Works Department, the procedure above laid down will be observed, the Examiner of Military Works Accounts being substituted for the Examiner of Public Works Accounts.

17. When the land is acquired for and the cost is debitable to any other Department than the Public Works Department or Military Works Department, the procedure will also be the same, the Account Officer who will audit the payments being substituted for the Examiner of Public Works Accounts.

18. In any case in which land is acquired for a Municipality or other body financially independent of Government, the Local Government may direct that the payments instead of being made and audited in the same manner as the ordinary payments of such body, shall be made and audited as if the land were being acquired for Government. If the Local Government issues such an order, the Collector or other officer who makes payments on account of the land acquired shall draw funds from the Treasury and make payments in the manner laid down in these rules, using the forms prescribed, and shall render his accounts to the Civil Accountant-General. The Municipality or other body will pay the estimated cost of the compensation to the credit of Government in advance on such dates and in such instalments as the Local Government may direct, further payment to Government being required as soon as the Accountant-General reports that the payments made exceed the amount received in advance. The Accountant-General will deal with the accounts and payments as prescribed in these rules, debiting the payments against the advances received from the Municipality or other body.

Ordered, that this Resolution be communicated to all Local Governments and Administrations, to the Comptroller-General, and to all Accountants-General and Comptrollers. Also that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the Public Works Department for information and for the issue of further orders.

D. BARBOUR,

Secretary to the Government of India.

Government of India letter No. 444 G., dated 13th March 1886.

Government of India letter No. 1023 G., dated 30th June 1886.

Resolution.—The Government of India having sanctioned for a period of two years the formation of a 3rd Circle of Superintendence in the Provincial Branch of the Public Works Department in this Province, and the appointment of a Superintendent of Works, a revision of the existing Public Works Circles and Divisions has become necessary.

2. It is, for obvious reasons, highly desirable that these Circles and Divisions should, as far as possible, be made co-terminal with the Revenue Divisions and Districts of the Civil Administration. His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor has accordingly determined that the following re-arrangement shall take place with effect from the 1st August 1886 :—

3. The 1st Circle, with head-quarters at Ráwalpindi, will coincide with the Commissionerships of Pesháwar and Ráwalpindi. To which for the present (to facilitate work on the North-West Frontier Road) will be added the Bannu District, and will include the following Public Works Divisions :—

No. 1.—Pesháwar, Head-quarters Abbott-abad, } consisting of the Civil Districts of { Pesháwar and Hazára.

No. 2.—Ráwalpindi, Head-quarters Ráwalpindi, } consisting of the Civil Districts of { Ráwalpindi, Jhelum, Gujrát, Sháhpur, Gujránwála, and Siálkot. } B.

No. 2 A.—Murree and Kohála Road, Head-quarters Murree, } Independent executive charge attached.

No. 2 B.—The four last districts will form an independent executive charge attached with head-quarters at Gujránwála.

No. 3.—Kohát, Head-quarters Kohát,	consisting of the Civil District of	Kohát, with the North-West Frontier Road from Khushálgarh to about 4 miles west of Latammar.
No. 4.—Bannu, Head-quarters Bannu,	ditto	Bannu, with the North-West Frontier Road from about 4 miles west of Latammar to Pezu.
No. 5.—Bannu Bridge, Head-quarters Bannu,	Bridges over the Kurram and Gambíla.

4. The 2nd Circle, with head-quarters at Umballa, will coincide with the Commissionerships of Jullundur and Delhi, and will include the following Public Works Divisions:—

No. 6.—Jullundur, Head-quarters Jullundur,	consisting of the Civil Districts of	Jullundur, Hoshiárpur, Kángra, Ludhiána, and Ferozepore.
No. 7.—Simla, Head-quarters Simla,	consisting of the Civil District of	Simla and the adjoining Hill States, with the Himalayan and Thibet Road.
No. 7 A.—Simla and Kálka Railway Survey.	Independent executive charge attached.
No. 8.—Umballa, Head-quarters Umballa,	consisting of the Civil Districts of	Umballa, Karnal, Delhi, Gurgaon, Rohtak, and Hissar. (Gurgaon, Rohtak, and Hissar: A.)

No. 8 A.—The last three districts will form an independent executive charge attached with head-quarters at Hissar.

5. The 3rd Circle, with head-quarters at Lahore, will coincide with the Commissionerships of Deraját and Lahore, excluding, for the present, the Bannu District for the reasons mentioned above, and will include the following Public Works Divisions:—

No. 9.—Dera Ismail Khan, Head-quarters Dera Ismail Khan,	consisting of the Civil District of	Dera Ismail Khan, with the North-West Frontier Road from Pezu to Dera Ismail Khan.
No. 10.—Dera Gházi Khan, Head-quarters Dera Ghází Khan,	consisting of the Civil Districts of	Dera Ghází Khan and Muzaffargarh, with the North-West Frontier Road from Dera Ghází Khan to Rakhni River

9. The Registrar shall credit all sums received to the Endowment Fund or Current Account as may be required by the statutes and rules of the University by the order of the Senate or by the nature of each item. The orders of the Senate shall be taken before sale of any capital, shares, scrip or other securities. The orders of Syndicate shall be sufficient for the investment of any sums at credit of either Funded or Current Account in Government paper, but any other form of investment shall only be carried out under the orders of the Senate.

10. That every subscription or donation of less than Rs. 500 be reported to the Syndicate and every other to the Senate at the meeting next after receipt for orders as to how it is to be finally credited and applied.

EXPENDITURE.

11. All bills for payment shall be checked in the Registrar's office, and initialled or signed by the Registrar as correct. When sanction of the Syndicate or Senate is required to the payment of any bill, the Registrar shall obtain such sanction before passing the bill, and shall endorse on the bill a reference to the order in question.

12. Expenditure shall be incurred by cheques drawn by the Registrar and signed by him. All expenditure shall be incurred subject to Budget allotment and to the rules regulating the powers of the Syndicate or Senate to sanction expenditure. The previous sanction of the Senate shall be obtained in regard to all alterations in the allotments not within the provisions of the said rule, and to all applications for supplementary Budget grants.

13. The Registrar shall have power to pass and pay all fixed monthly charges provided for in the Budget, but shall obtain the sanction of the Syndicate before passing or paying any other charge within Budget allotment.

14. To meet petty expenditure, an advance of Rs. 100 shall remain in the hands of the Registrar, for which he shall be personally responsible.

BUDGET.

15. A Budget shall be prepared by the Registrar and submitted for the orders of the Senate at their meeting in November or December of each year.

It shall show the receipts and expenditure of the Current Account for the ensuing year in the annexed form, and shall contain a balance sheet showing the entire assets and liabilities of the University, including all properties and investments and the special endowments which have been accepted by the University.

16. Credit shall be taken in the Budget for the amount of the interests and profits of the Endowment Fund, the amount of the Government grant, a sum for subcriptions estimated with reference to the average receipts from this source during the previous three years, but excluding any subscriptions given for investment or of exceptionally large amount, and a sum for fees calculated in the same way.

AUDIT.

17. In addition to the official Auditor appointed by Government for the purpose of auditing the annual accounts, an Auditor for purposes of internal audit shall be appointed by the Senate. The Auditor shall hold office for two years, and may be re-appointed. He shall receive such remuneration as may, from time to time, be sanctioned by the Senate.

18. The accounts of the Registrar shall be audited quarterly or oftener.

19. It shall be the duty of the Auditor appointed by the Senate to submit a brief quarterly Audit Report to the Senate, and to see—

(a) that the accounts of the Registrar are properly kept;

(b) that the state of the cash balance shown therein agrees with the Bank's accounts;

(c) that all payments are supported by proper vouchers, and that they are under proper sanction; and

(d) that all receipts and payments are classified in accordance with the Rules and Regulations of the University.

It shall also be the duty of the Auditor to prepare and submit an Annual Audit Report on the accounts of the University to the Syndicate, together with an annual balance sheet in the form annexed to these rules and certified by him to be correct.

ACCOUNTS.

20. The Registrar shall keep an account (1) of the Endowment Fund as a whole; (2) of each trust therein contained; (3) of all donations and subscriptions made for special purposes and not invested; (4) of the Current Account.

21. The Registrar shall prepare an annual General Statement showing in detail separately the state of each of these four accounts. One copy of this annual General Statement shall be submitted to the Senate, and one copy shall be submitted to the Secretary to Government, Punjab. The Registrar shall also cause the statement to be published for general information in the Punjab Gazette.

22. The Registrar shall maintain the following books of accounts and forms:—

BOOKS.

I.—Endowment Fund Account showing separately—(1) the General Funded Account; (2) Trust Funds for specific objects, each Trust Fund being kept as a personal ledger account; (3) the account relating to special donations and subscriptions which are granted for expenditure in a particular manner, or within a limited period, and which, by orders of the Syndicate or Senate, are not invested.

II.—Current Account—

(a) Cash Book.

(b) Register of Receipts.

(c) Register of Expenditure.

(e) Ledger.

(f) Bank Pass Book.

(g) Receipt Book.

III.—Stock Book showing the property of all descriptions and the value of such property belonging to the University, with additions to, or deductions therefrom, during the course of the year.

23. At the first meeting of the Syndicate in every month, the account books of the University for the previous month shall be laid on the table, and shall be passed and signed by the Chairman or by a member of the Syndicate appointed by him.

24. All vouchers of whatever description shall be retained for a period of three years. After such period, vouchers more than three years old may, at the discretion of the Registrar, be destroyed; care, however, being taken to preserve any vouchers of importance. All accounts, documents relating to trust, donations and the like shall be preserved.

GENERAL.

The 21st August 1886.

No. 1355.—Notification.—The following extract from a Resolution by the Punjab Government, No. 446 S., dated the 4th of September 1884, laying down the conditions under which the Under-Secretaryships to the Government of the Punjab in the Civil and Public Works Departments, and the Senior and Junior Secretaryships to the Financial Commissioner, Punjab, shall be held, is published for general information :—

"The Lieutenant-Governor has had under consideration the conditions upon which the Under-Secretaryships to Government in certain Departments, and the Senior and Junior Secretaryships to the Financial Commissioner, shall be held. It has been represented that officers long employed in the Secretariat may lose touch of the people; that it is desirable to give a considerable number of officers an opportunity of acquainting themselves with Secretariat duties; that as often as possible the full pay should be given for Secretariat work done; and that the strain of this work is so great that officers cannot be expected to stand it without detriment to health for any very prolonged period.

"2. In view of these considerations, it appears to be desirable to lay down certain conditions which shall accompany the offer of one of these appointments when made. The appointments in regard to which the conditions are thought necessary are those of the Under-Secretary to Government in the Public Works Department, the two Under-Secretaries in the Civil Department, and the Senior and Junior Secretaries to the Financial Commissioner.

"3. The conditions approved by the Lieutenant-Governor are as follows :—

"(1). The tenure of the specified appointments will be limited to a maximum term, ordinarily of four years, to be extended, if the Lieutenant-Governor thinks it advisable to prolong it, under special circumstances for the convenience or interest of the administration.

"(2). No leave, other than privilege leave or leave on medical certificate, will be granted to incumbents of the specified appointments, except on grounds of the most urgent character, when special leave only will be granted under Sections 61, 62 and 63 of the Civil Leave Code.

"4. If the Junior Secretary to the Financial Commissioner is promoted to be Senior Secretary, he will get a fresh tenure of four years of the latter post from the date of his appointment thereto. Similarly, in all cases, if an Under-Secretary or the Junior Secretary to the Financial Commissioner is promoted to officiate in a higher appointment in the same Secretariat, the time during which he so officiates will not count as part of his four years' tenure of his substantive post of Junior or Under-Secretary."

JUDICIAL.

The 9th August 1886.

No. 839-1.—Appointment.—Under the provisions of Section 19, sub-section (1), of the Punjab Courts Act, 1884, Mr. M. L. Dames is appointed Divisional Judge of the Divisional Court of the Deraját Civil Division, vice Colonel J. W. H. Johnstone.

No. 839-2.—Appointment.—Under the provisions of Section 9 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1882, Mr. M. L. Dames, Officiating Divisional Judge, Deraját, is appointed to be Sessions Judge within the limits of the Sessions Division of the Deraját.

No. 882-1.—Powers.—Mr. G. L. Smith, Officiating Deputy Commissioner, Gujrát, is invested, under Section 30 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1882, with power to try as a Magistrate all offences not punishable with death.

No. 882-2.—Powers.—Under the provisions of Section 12 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1882, Captain C. J. Robarts, Officiating Assistant Cantonment Magistrate, Jullundur, is appointed a Magistrate of the 2nd Class, with the power to pass sentences of whipping, within the limits of the Jullundur Cantonment ; and is invested, under Section 28 of Act III of 1880, with power to try breaches of Cantonment Rules within the same limits.

2. Captain Robarts is also invested, under Section 6 of Act III of 1880, with the powers of a Judge of a Small Cause Court for the purpose of trying suits of the nature cognizable by Small Cause Courts under Act XI of 1865, and not exceeding Rs. 50 in value or amount.

3. With reference to Punjab Government Notification No. 1124, dated the 13th April 1869, extending the Rules and Regulations for inspecting and controlling houses of ill-fame, made under Section 17 of Act XXII of 1864, to a distance of four miles from the boundaries of the Jullundur Cantonment, Captain Robarts is invested with power to try breaches of such Rules and Regulations occurring within such limits.

No. 897.—Notification.—The following extract from a Despatch from Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India, No. 1 (Judicial), dated London, the 7th of January 1886, is published for general information :—

"As to the general question of the advisability of declaring Pleaders and Subordinate Judges (who are Natives of India) eligible for the Bench of the Punjab Chief Court, I concur in the views of Your Excellency in Council, and I desire that, in future, Native Pleaders and Subordinate Judges may be considered eligible for appointment to that Court, provided they possess qualifications corresponding to those which would, under Section 2 of 24 and 25 Victoria, Cap. 104, qualify them for appointment to a Judgeship in one of the High Courts. I am of opinion, however, that there should not at any time be more than one Native Judge on the Bench of the Chief Court; and, moreover, that no Judgeship in that Court should be considered as reserved for a Native, though it may be open to Your Excellency in Council to appoint a Native who, you are satisfied, is in every respect qualified to fill the office with the best advantage to the public interests."

[First publication]

The 16th September 1886.

No. 791.—Notification.—In supersession of the Resolution in the Home Department No. 515 S., dated the 19th of September 1884, and Notification No. 1032, dated the 15th of April 1885, the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to prescribe the following Rules for the Examination of Assistant and Extra Assistant Commissioners in the Punjab :—

Rules for the Departmental Examination to be passed by Assistant Commissioners and Extra Assistant Commissioners in the Punjab.

I.—A departmental examination of Assistant Commissioners and Extra Assistant Commissioners will be held half-yearly about the 15th April and the 15th October, the exact day being notified beforehand in the Punjab Government Gazette.

II.—The papers will be set, answers examined and marks awarded by the undermentioned Examiners :—

The Government Advocate.
The Accountant-General.
The Registrar of the Chief Court.
The Inspector-General of Prisons.
One of the Secretaries to the Financial Commissioners.
A Native Extra Assistant Commissioner.

III.—The Examiners will submit their awards of marks to the Secretary of the Central Committee of Examination. This Committee will consist of—

The Senior Judge of the Chief Court;
The First Financial Commissioner ; and
The Secretary to the Government of the Punjab in the Civil Department ; and with them will rest the final decision as to the passing of candidates.

IV.—The Secretary of the Central Committee shall be an officer appointed on special duty for the period of the examination, and an Extra Assistant Commissioner possessing a competent knowledge of English shall be deputed to assist him. This may be either the Extra Assistant Commissioner mentioned in Rule II. or another, according to the requirements of the work. The Secretary of the Central Committee will make proposals on this point when appointed.

Under the orders of the Central Committee, its Secretary and his Assistant shall—receive the question papers from the Examiners ;

translate and, if necessary, cause them to be printed ;
superintend the examination ;
transmit the answer papers to the Examiners concerned ;
perform the duties assigned to them by Rule VI. ;
receive and compile the marks awarded ;
report the results to the Central Committee ; and generally conduct the whole correspondence and business of the examination not expressly allotted to any other authority.

V.—There are six Subjects of examination which are classified in groups as follows :—

(1).—Criminal Law. } Group A.
(2).—Civil Law. }
(3).—Revenue ... " B.
(4).—Treasury. } " C.
(5).—Local Funds. }
(6).—Language. ... " D.

The books, &c., in which papers of questions will be set in each subject are enumerated in the annexed schedule, which will be modified and republished as occasion requires.

VI.—Papers will be set and marks assigned in each subject as follows :—

	SUBJECT.	Maximum of marks.
1ST DAY.
10 A. M. to 1 P. M. ...	Criminal Law. First paper	120
3 P. M. to 6 P. M. ...	Criminal Law. Second paper	150
2ND DAY.
10 A. M. to 1 P. M. ...	Civil Law, including Law of Evidence, First paper	120
3 P. M. to 6 P. M. ...	Civil Law. Second poper	120
3RD DAY.
10 A. M. to 1 P. M. ...	Revenue. First paper	120
3 P. M. to 6 P. M. ...	Revenue. Second paper	120
	Vivâ voce, Settlement Reports	50
4TH DAY.
10 A. M. to 1 P. M. ...	Treasury	90
	Local Funds	30
3 P. M. to 6 P. M. ...	Language :—
	(a) Translating English judgments ... ... (to be written in Persian character).	100
	(b) Reading petitions	40
	(c) Colloquial	100

During the second Revenue paper, English candidates will be examined separately vivâ voce in the Settlement Reports of their several districts or in any Settlement Report which they may have selected and previously notified through the Deputy Commissioner Native candidates not acquainted with English will be similarly examined in Barkley's "Directions to Settlement Officers."

The vivâ voce tests will be conducted and marks awarded, under the supervision of the Commissioner of the Lahore Division, by the Secretary of the Central Committee of Examination and the Extra Assistant Commissioner deputed to assist him.

The colloquial examination (Language [c]) will consist of conversation between the candidate and the headman of a village, and is meant to test the candidate's knowledge of the vernacular of the part of the Province in which he has been stationed.

VII.—There are two standards of examination—Higher and Lower—with one set of papers. A candidate who passes at an examination by the Lower Standard only must go up at each succeeding examination till he shall have passed by the Higher Standard in all Subjects which he is required to take up.

VIII.—Candidates may pass by the Higher or Lower Standard in any or all of the groups of Subjects.

A candidate will be held to have passed in a group by the Higher Standard if he obtains two-thirds of the maximum of marks allotted to that group and, when a group contains more than one Subject, one-half of the maximum of marks allotted to each of its Subjects. He will be held to have passed by the Lower Standard if he obtains similarly one-half of the maximum of marks allotted to a group and one-third of the maximum of marks allotted to each Subject.

Provided that for the Group "Treasury and Local Funds," in order to qualify a candidate for a pass by the Higher Standard, two-thirds, and for a pass by the Lower Standard, one-half of the maximum of marks allotted to the Subject "Treasury" must be obtained, in addition to the marks prescribed for the Subject "Local Funds."

IX.—After each examination the names of those candidates who have passed by either standard will be published in the Gazette. Candidates will be noticed as having passed "with credit" in

(1) group A. or
(2) group B. and C., or
(3) group D.

if they obtain three-quarters of the maximum of marks allotted to the group, or groups and, when the group contains more than one Subject, two-thirds of the maximum of marks allotted to each Subject.

X.—In making the calculation under Rules VIII. and IX., the marks allotted to any question which a candidate is not required to answer and to any paper or subject in which he is not required to be examined shall first be deducted from the maximum of marks allotted to the paper, Subject or group as the case may be.

XI.—Every Assistant and Extra Assistant Commissioner is required to pass the departmental examination by the Higher Standard. This rule does not apply to Extra Assistant Commissioners who, while serving as Tahsíldárs or Munsiffs, have already passed or been exempted from this examination.

XII.—Covenanted Civilians appointed after open competition in England will be exempt from examination in the first Criminal and first Civil Law papers, and Native candidates generally will not be required to pass in group D., nor, unless certified by the Deputy Commissioner of the district from which they come to have a good knowledge of English, will they be examined in group C., nor in any of the books, &c., entered in the Schedule annexed, of which there does not exist a translation approved by Government.

XIII.—English or Native gentlemen who enter the Government service as Officiating Extra Assistant Commissioners are considered to be on probation. No officer so officiating will be confirmed in his appointment until he has passed at least the examination for the Lower Standard; and an officer failing to pass in two successive years will, unless there be special reasons to account for his failure, be removed from his officiating appointment.

XIV.—An Extra Assistant Commissioner who is not exempted from examination will not be promoted from the lowest grade until he has passed by the Higher Standard.

XV.—No Assistant or Extra Assistant Commissioner will be invested with the powers of a Magistrate or Munsiff of the 2nd Class until he has been six months in public employ and has passed the examination by the Lower Standard in Law and Language, or be invested with the powers of a Magistrate or Munsiff of the 1st Class until he has exercised 2nd Class powers for six months and has passed by the Higher Standard in the same Subjects.

GENERAL.

The 13th September 1886.

No. 1449.—Notification.—The Revd. J. E. Robinson of the Methodist Episcopal Church is hereby licensed to solemnize marriages under Section 6 and to grant certificates of marriages between Native Christians under Section 9 of the Indian Christian Marriage Act, XV of 1872, within the territories under the administration of the Government of the Punjab.

No. 1451.—Notification.—The Revd. Mr. C. H. Plomer of the Methodist Expiscopal Church is licensed, under Section 6 of the Indian Christian Marriage Act, XV of 1872, to solemnize marriages within the territories under the administration of the Government of the Punjab.

No. 1453.—Notification.—The following despatches from Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India, Nos. 61 and 43, dated respectively 8th July 1886 and the 20th of May 1886, are published for information :—

No. 61 (Public), dated India Office, London, the 8th July 1886.

From—Her Majesty's SECRETARY OF STATE for India,

To—His Excellency the Right Honourable the GOVERNOR-GENERAL of India in Council.

Civil Service of India: as to the grant of minimum allowances to Covenanted Civilians in the Punjab.

PARA. 1.—I have received and considered in Council your letter No. 141, in the Department of Finance and Commerce, dated the 4th of May last, transmitting memorials addressed to me by certain members of the Bengal Civil Service serving under the Government of the Punjab, together with the correspondence that has passed between that Government and Your Excellency in Council on the subject of the position and prospects of the Covenanted Civilians in that Province.

2. Your Lordship's Government recommend that the concession made to Civilians in the North-Western Provinces and elsewhere of the grant of minimum guaranteed allowances should now be extended to Civilians in the Punjab.

3. The observations and decisions contained in my despatch of the 20th of May last, No. 43, with reference to the Civil Servants serving in the Lower Provinces of Bengal, apply equally to the present case, and I regret therefore that I am unable to give effect to your recommendation.

4. I request that the memorialists may be informed accordingly.

No. 43 (Public), dated India Office, London, the 20th May 1886.

From—Her Majesty's SECRETARY OF STATE for India,

To—His Excellency the Right Honourable the GOVERNOR-GENERAL of India in Council.

I HAVE considered in Council the letters of Your Excellency in Council in the Department of Finance and Commerce, Nos. 50 and 70, dated respectively 9th of February and 2nd of March 1886, on the subject of the grant of minimum allowances to Covenanted Civil Servants in the North-Western Provinces and Oudh and in the Lower Provinces of Bengal.

2. In the earlier of these letters Your Lordship in Council supports the application of the Lieutenant-Governor of the North-Western Provinces and Chief Commissioner of Oudh that the minimum allowances which were granted under certain circumstances to Junior Covenanted Civil Servants in those Provinces in 1876 may be continued for a further period of five years.

3. I regret I am unable to accept Your Lordship's recommendation as to this. The position and prospects of the Civil Service in the North-Western Provinces and Oudh have, it is admitted, greatly improved since the question was before the Secretary of State in 1881, and improvement is taking place from year to year. In these circumstances, I see no sufficient justification for the continuance of the allowances for a further period of five years. You point out, however, that the withdrawal of the allowances from the thirty-two officers who are still receiving them would involve some hardship and could not fail to be attended by loss of administrative efficiency. I therefore give my sanction to their continuance for a further period of two years from the expiry of the present term to such officers as may already have been in receipt of them; but no fresh admissions to the benefits of the allowances are hereafter to be permitted.

4. In your letter of the 2nd of March last you advocate the grant of guaranteed minimum allowance to officers in the Lower Provinces of Bengal, and you forward, in support of this recommendation, memorials from 37 members of the Covenanted Civil Service in those provinces. You estimate the cost of the relief which will be afforded by these allowances at Rs. 13,000 per annum.

5. Without any close examination of the subject, it might safely be inferred that the grievances of such a service as the Covenanted Civil Service of Bengal which could be remedied by an additional expenditure of Rs. 13,000 a year cannot be very substantial, though there might, doubtless, be some cases in which the pay of individual members of the service fell short of the general average. The papers forwarded by you, however, do not, in my opinion, show any sufficient reason for the adoption of any exceptional measures of relief. Several of the memorialists lay stress on the fact that substantive promotion has been retarded in recent years. As the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal points out, however, no inference of importance can be drawn from this, for the fact is due mainly to the privilege conferred on the service by the change made in the furlough rules by which, in recent years, officers on furlough retain their substantive appointments.

The question is really one of salaries and not one of substantive appointments. But the average salaries of the Bengal Civil Servants according to length of service, as shown in the Appendix B of the letter from the Government of Bengal, dated the 6th of April 1885, compare favourably with the scale of minimum allowances recommended by the Committee of 1875 and quoted in the fourth paragraph of your letter. Moreover, according to the information furnished by the Civil List of the 1st of January last, the present position of the officers whose memorials form enclosures to your letter is such that it is evident that the great majority of them have no valid ground for complaining that their emoluments are unduly small. As must often happen in every service constituted like the Indian Civil Service, some men are less fortunate than others; and it seems to be the case that some of the memorialists are drawing less than the minimum allowances sanctioned for other provinces. These cases, however, are few in number, and are yearly less and less likely to recur; and, considering the position of the service generally and the near prospect of further improvement in it now that the men of the overcrowded years are approaching the completion of their service for pension, I see no sufficient justification for the adoption of special measures of relief.

6. This is the conclusion at which I should, in any circumstances, have arrived upon the merits of the proposals submitted. I may add, however, that I am strengthened in it by considerations belonging especially to a time like the present, when the paramount necessity for economy is fully recognized by both branches of the Indian Government, and when Your Lordship in Council is very properly engaged in investigating the means of reducing public expenditure in every way possible.

During the second Revenue paper, English candidates will be examined separately vivâ voce in the Settlement Reports of their several districts or in any Settlement Report which they may have selected and previously notified through the Deputy Commissioner. Native candidates not acquainted with English will be similarly examined in Barkley's "Directions to Settlement Officers."

The vivâ voce tests will be conducted and marks awarded, under the supervision of the Commissioner of the Lahore Division, by the Secretary of the Central Committee of Examination and the Extra Assistant Commissioner deputed to assist him.

The colloquial examination (Language [c]) will consist of conversation between the candidate and the headman of a village, and is meant to test the candidate's knowledge of the vernacular of the part of the Province in which he has been stationed.

VII.—There are two standards of examination—Higher and Lower—with one set of papers. A candidate who passes at an examination by the Lower Standard only must go up at each succeeding examination till he shall have passed by the Higher Standard in all Subjects which he is required to take up.

VIII.—Candidates may pass by the Higher or Lower Standard in any or all of the groups of Subjects.

A candidate will be held to have passed in a group by the Higher Standard if he obtains two-thirds of the maximum of marks allotted to that group and, when a group contains more than one Subject, one-half of the maximum of marks allotted to each of its Subjects. He will be held to have passed by the Lower Standard if he obtains similarly one-half of the maximum of marks allotted to a group and one-third of the maximum of marks allotted to each Subject.

Provided that for the Group "Treasury and Local Funds," in order to qualify a candidate for a pass by the Higher Standard, two-thirds, and for a pass by the Lower Standard, one-half of the maximum of marks allotted to the Subject "Treasury" must be obtained, in addition to the marks prescribed for the Subject "Local Funds."

IX.—After each examination the names of those candidates who have passed by either standard will be published in the Gazette. Candidates will be noticed as having passed "with credit" in

(1) group A. or
(2) group B. and C., or
(3) group D.

if they obtain three-quarters of the maximum of marks allotted to the group, or groups and, when the group contains more than one Subject, two-thirds of the maximum of marks allotted to each Subject.

X.—In making the calculation under Rules VIII and IX, the marks allotted to any question which a candidate is not required to answer and to any paper or subject in which he is not required to be examined shall first be deducted from the maximum of marks allotted to the paper, Subject or group as the case may be.

XI.—Every Assistant and Extra Assistant Commissioner is required to pass the departmental examination by the Higher Standard. This rule does not apply to Extra Assistant Commissioners who, while serving as Tahsíldárs or Munsiffs, have already passed or been exempted from this examination.

XII.—Covenanted Civilians appointed after open competition in England will be exempt from examination in the first Criminal and first Civil Law papers, and Native candidates generally will not be required to pass in group D., nor, unless certified by the Deputy Commissioner of the district from which they come to have a good knowledge of English, will they be examined in group C., nor in any of the books, &c., entered in the Schedule annexed, of which there does not exist a translation approved by Government.

XIII.—English or Native gentlemen who enter the Government service as Officiating Extra Assistant Commissioners are considered to be on probation. No officer so officiating will be confirmed in his appointment until he has passed at least the examination for the Lower Standard; and an officer failing to pass in two successive years will, unless there be special reasons to account for his failure, be removed from his officiating appointment.

XIV.—An Extra Assistant Commissioner who is not exempted from examination will not be promoted from the lowest grade until he has passed by the Higher Standard.

XV.—No Assistant or Extra Assistant Commissioner will be invested with the powers of a Magistrate or Munsiff of the 2nd Class until he has been six months in public employ and has passed the examination by the Lower Standard in Law and Language, or be invested with the powers of a Magistrate or Munsiff of the 1st Class until he has exercised 2nd Class powers for six months and has passed by the Higher Standard in the same Subjects.

READ—

The following Despatch with enclosures received from Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India, regarding the proposed Adelaide Jubilee International Exhibition of 1887 :—

INDIA OFFICE;

London, 22*nd July* 1886.

Statistics and Commerce.
No. 81.

To His Excellency the Right Honourable the Governor-General of India in Council.

MY LORD,—I forward herewith a copy of a letter, dated 19th May last, from the Under-Secretary of State for the Colonies, with its enclosures, respecting the proposed Adelaide Jubilee International Exhibition of 1887, for such action in the matter as you may think advisable.

I have the honour to be,

MY LORD,

Your Lordship's most obedient, humble Servant,

KIMBERLEY.

Dated Colonial Office, Downing Street, 19th May 1886.

From—JOHN BRAMSTON, Esq.,

To—The Under-Secretary of State for India.

No. 33, 5th April.

I AM directed by Earl Granville to transmit to you, to be laid before the Earl of Kimberley, a copy of a despatch from the Governor of South Australia, with its enclosures, respecting the Adelaide Jubilee International Exhibition, 1887.

I am to request that you will move Lord Kimberley to take the necessary steps to invite the representation of the Indian Government at this Exhibition.

No. 92, 28th December.

I am also to enclose a copy of a previous despatch from Sir W. Robinson, with its enclosures, which explain the nature and objects of the Exhibition, and to state that the Prince of Wales was pleased to consent to the request there made, that His Royal Highness would accord his patronage to the Exhibition, and permit his sons, their Royal Highnesses Princes Edward and George of Wales, to be associated with himself as patrons of the Exhibition.

No. 33, dated Government House, Adelaide, South Australia, 5th April 1886.

From—His Excellency SIR WM. C. F. ROBINSON, K.C.M.G., Governor of South Australia,

To—The Right Honourable the EARL GRANVILLE, K.G., &c., &c., &c.

I HAVE the honor to forward printed copies of a letter addressed to the Chief Secretary by the Secretary to the Adelaide Jubilee International Exhibition, requesting that communications may be opened up with the Governments of foreign countries, including India, China and Japan, and requesting that an invitation may be given to such Governments to participate in the Exhibition.

2. At the instance of my Ministers, I beg leave to request that Your Lordship will be so good as to cause the necessary steps to be taken in this matter.

3. One hundred copies of the enclosures to this despatch are herewith forwarded for circulation.

No. 92, dated Government House, Adelaide, South Australia, 28th December 1885.

From—His Excellency SIR WM. C. F. ROBINSON, K.C.M.G., Governor of South Australia,

To—The Right Honourable COLONEL STANLEY, M.P., &c., &c., &c., Colonial Office.

I HAVE the honor to forward a copy of an Act passed during the last Session of Parliament, entitled "An Act to set apart certain lands for a Jubilee Exhibition and for other purposes."

2. I also forward a memorandum relating to the proposed Exhibition, an extract from the "South Australian Register" of the 2nd of December, a copy of the speech delivered by Mr. E. T. Smith, M.P., on bringing the question before Parliament, a plan of the site of the proposed Exhibition, and a letter addressed to me by the Secretary covering the documents which I now enclose.

3. Although the scheme for the proposed Exhibition has been set on foot by private individuals, I may observe that Parliament has provided the land, and contributed £32,000 towards the cost of the necessary buildings, which are to remain the property of the Colony. The undertaking has, therefore, become to this extent a public one, and there is certainly every disposition on the part of the Colony to make it a thorough success. My object in now addressing you is to request, at the instance of the Promoters, that His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales will be graciously pleased to accord his patronage to the Exhibition, and, if His Royal Highness sees no objection, to permit his sons, their Royal Highnesses Princes Edward and George of Wales, to be associated with His Royal Highness as Patrons of the Exhibition. It is further requested in the letter from the Secretary, which I enclose, that a reply may be sent by telegram, as the Promoters desire to issue the prospectus as soon as possible.

4. I have conferred with Ministers on this subject, and I may say that it will afford the Government, and the Colony generally, much gratification should His Royal Highness be graciously pleased to extend his patronage to the Exhibition.

Dated Adelaide, 4th December 1885.

From—JNO. FAIRFAX CONIGRAVE, Esq., Secretary pro tem., South Australia Jubilee Exhibition,

To—His Excellency SIR WM. C. F ROBINSON, K.C.M.G., Governor of South Australia.

I HAVE the honor, by direction, to inform you that at the first meeting of the Promoters of the Exhibition to be held in Adelaide in 1887 to celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of the foundation of South Australia, the following Resolution was unanimously passed, viz. :—

That the Chairman, E. T. Smith, Esq., M.P., be requested to wait upon His Excellency the Governor to ask His Excellency to be good enough to communicate with the Right Honourable the Secretary of State for the Colonies, asking that His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales will be graciously pleased to accord to the Exhibition his Royal patronage, and at the same time, if His Royal Highness sees no objection, to permit his sons, their Royal Highnesses Princes Edward and George of Wales, to be associated with His Royal Highness as Patrons of the Exhibition.

In forwarding copy of this resolution, by direction of Mr. Smith, who has seen Your Excellency upon the subject, I have to say that it will be esteemed a great favour by the Promoters if the communication to His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales can be sent by the outgoing mail, and if also a request can be made that the tenor of the Prince's reply may be sent by telegram, as the Promoters desire to issue the prospectus of the Exhibition early in the year, and would very much like to have His Royal Highness's answer before doing so.

With a view to place His Royal Highness in full possession of the facts connected with the Exhibition, I have pleasure in handing to Your Excellency, for transmission to England, the following documents :—

Two copies of "memorandum."

Two copies of plan of site.

Two copies of speech of E. T. Smith, Esq., M.P., in House of Assembly, upon the proposed Exhibition.

Two copies of extract from South Australian Register of 2nd December 1885, being report of the first meeting of Promoters of the Exhibition.

Two copies of Bill which has passed both Houses of Parliament.

PROCLAMATION.

Adelaide, March 1st, 1886.

As South Australia will attain its fiftieth year as a colony December 28th 1886, a desire has naturally arisen among the colonists to mark that event by some suitable public demonstration ; and no way of gratifying this desire seems so appropriate or will be so beneficial as that of holding an International Exhibition.

Parliament has dedicated land for the purposes of the Exhibition, and sanctioned the expenditure of money in erecting the main building and laying out the grounds. The Exhibition will be conducted by the Promoters, whose names are appended, and such other gentlemen as they may appoint to assist in the management.

The age of the colony being coeval with the reign of Her Most Gracious Majesty Queen Victoria, the day for the opening of the Jubilee Exhibition has been fixed for the 20th June 1887 (the completion of the fiftieth year of Her Majesty's reign.)

Steps have already been taken for the construction of buildings of an appropriate character, with a minimum risk of fire ; and these will be erected on the Adelaide Park Lands, a site which for beauty and convenience can scarcely be surpassed.

A direct line of railway, seven miles in length, delivering goods on the ground, will connect the Exhibition buildings with the wharves at Port Adelaide, alongside which vessels drawing 22 feet of water may quietly lie and discharge cargo into the railway trucks.

To ensure success requires the free and full support of other countries ; and it is hoped that Foreign Nations and British Colonies will co-operate with our mother-country, and accept our invitations and be represented at this Jubilee Exhibition, where their productions, manufactures, and machinery may appear in juxtaposition with Australasian products and manufactures, and prove of mutual benefit.

Arrangements are in progress for the appointment of a Representative Commission in London.

The year 1887 will be memorable throughout the British Empire, and will be of special local interest to these Australasian Colonies, from the fact that that year will witness the union of the Capitals of South Australia, Victoria, New South Wales, and Queensland by a continuous line of railway, 1,760 miles in length, viz.—

				Miles.
From Adelaide to Melbourne	...	...	...	508
,, Melbourne to Sydney	...	...	...	574
,, Sydney to Brisbane	...	...	...	678
		Total	...	1,760

The import and export trade of the Australasian Colonies in 1884 amounted to a total of £116,249,116, the population being 3,074,503.

The Government will secure free Customs regulations for exhibits, and the due protection of the interests of all exhibitors.

Diagrams of buildings and grounds, and all other necessary information, will be published and distributed to the various countries and colonies.

The following documents are appended :—

1. A list of the Promoters of the Exhibition.
2. A list of officers and members of the Executive and Divisional Committees.
3. The Synopsis and general Classification of Exhibits.
4. Adopted System of Awards.
5. Regulations for Exhibitors and form of Application for Space.

The above Proclamation was adopted at a meeting of the Promoters held at Adelaide on the 2nd of March 1886.

Refractory stones for lining furnaces; sandstone, steatite, &c., and refractory furnace materials; also samples showing the relative effects of heat on different kinds of fire-resisting materials and fire-bricks.

„ 110. Graphite, crude and refined, for polishing purposes, for fubricating, electrotyping, photography, pencils, crucibles, &c.

„ 111. Lithographic Stones, Hones, Whetstones, Grindstones, Grinding and Polishing materials, Sand, Quartz, Garnet, Topaz, Diamond, Corundum, Emery in the rock and pulverised, and in assorted sizes and grades.

„ 112. Mineral Waters, Artesian Well Water, Natural Brines, Saline and Alkaline Efflorescences and Solutions.

Mineral Fertilising Substances—Gypsum, Phosphate of Lime, Marls, Shells, Coprolites, &c., not manufactured.

SECTION B.—Metallurgical Products.

Class 113. Precious Metals.

„ 114. Iron and Steel in the pig, ingot, bar, plates, and sheets, with specimens of slags, fluxes, residues, and products of working.

„ 115. Copper—In cakes, tiles, ingots, bars, hammered and rolled, with specimens illustrating their various stages of manufacture.

„ 116. Tin, Nickel, Lead, Zinc, Antimony, Bismuth, and other Metals, the result of extractive purposes.

„ 117. Alloys and combined metals used as materials—Nickel-silver, Brass, Bronze, Gun-metal, Bell-metal, Solder, &c.

SECTION C.—Mine Engineering Models, Maps, and Sections.

Class 118. Surface and underground surveying and plotting, projection of underground work, location of shafts, tunnels, &c., surveys for aqueducts and for drainage. Boring and drilling rocks, shafts, and tunnels, &c.

Construction, sinking, and lining shafts by various methods, driving and timbering tunnels, and the general operations of opening, stopping, and breaking down ore, timbering, lagging and masonry.

Hoisting and delivering at the surface rock, ore, or miners.
Pumping and draining by engines, buckets, or by adits.
Ventilating and lighting.

Subaqueous-mining, blasting, &c.
Hydraulic-mining, and the various processes and methods of sluicing and washing suriferous gravel, and other superficial deposits.
Quarrying.

„ 119. Model of mines of veins, &c.

„ 120. Geological Maps, sections, and plans of goldfields, and other mineral localities,

DEPARTMENT II.—MANUFACTURES.

SECTION A.—Chemical Manufactures.

Class 200. Chemical—pharmaceutical preparations. Mineral Acids, and the methods of manufacture. Sulphuric, Nitric and Hydrochloric Acids.

The common commerical Alkalies—Potash, Soda, and Ammonia, with their carbonates.

Salt and its production. Salt from deposits—native salt, salt by solar evaporation from sea water. Salt by evaporation from water of saline springs or wells. Rock Salt; Ground and Table Salt.

Bleaching Powders and Chloride of Lime. Disinfectants.

Yeast Powders, Baking Powders, and Self-raising Flour.

„ 201. Oils from mineral, animal, and vegetable sources. Refined Petroleum, Benzine, Naphtha, and other products of the manufacture.

Oils from various seeds, refined, and of various degrees of purity—Olive Oils, Cotton-seed Oil, Palm Oil, &c. Animal Oils of various kinds in their refined state.

Oils prepared for special purposes besides lighting and for food. Lubricating Oils.

Soap and detergent preparations—Canules, Stearine, Glycerine, Paraffine, &c. Spermaceti.

Illuminating and other Gases and their manufacture, Oxygen Gas and its application for heating, lighting, metallurgy, and as a remedial agent.

„ 202. Chlorine and Carbonic Acid.

„ 203. Paints, Pigments, Dyes, Colors, Turpentine, Varnishes, Blacking.

„ 204. Flavoring Extracts, Essences, Perfumery, Pomades, Cosmetics.

„ 205. Pyrotechnics, for display, signalling, missiles.

„ 205A. Tobacco (manufactured), Cigars, Cigrettes, &c.

SECTION B.—Peramics, Pottery, Porcelain, &c.

Class 206. Bricks, Drain Tiles, Terra-cotta, Architectural Pottery, and Modelling.

„ 207. Fireclay Goods—Crucibles, Pots, Furnaces, Chemical Stoneware.

„ 208. Tiles—Plain, Enamelled, Encaustic; Geometric Tiles and Mosaics; Tiles for pavements and for roofing, &c.

„ 209. Porcelain for purposes of construction, Hardware, Trimmings, &c.

„ 210. Stone, China, for chemists, druggists, &c; Earthenware, Stoneware, Faience, &c.

„ 211. Majolica, Wedgewood, and Palissy Ware.

„ 212. Biscuit-ware, Parian, &c.

„ 213. Porcelain, China, and Earthenware for table and toilet use and for decoration.

SECTION C.—Glass and Glassware.

Class 214. Glass used in construction and for mirrors. Window Glass of various grades of quality and size. Plate Glass, rough and ground or polished. Toughened Glass.

„ 215. Chemical and Pharmaceutical Glassware, vials, bottles, &c.

„ 216. Decorative Glassware.

SECTION D.—Furniture and Objects of General Use in Constructions and in Dwellings.

Class 217. Heavy Furniture—Chairs, Tables, &c. Suites for Drawing, Dining, and other Rooms, Chamber Suites, Bedsteads, Offices and Library Furniture, Vestibule Furniture, Church Furniture and Decoration.

Class 218. Table Furniture—Glass, China, Silver, Silver-plate, Tea and Coffee Sets, Urns, Samovars, Epergnes, Japanned-ware, Trays, &c.

" 219. Mirrors, Stained and Enamelled Glass, Cut and Engraved Window Glass, and other decorative objects.

" 220. Gilt Cornices, Brackets, Picture-frames, &c.

" 221. The Nursery and its Accessories—Children's Cots, Chairs, Walking Chairs, &c.

" 222. Household Athletic Apparatus.

" 223. Apparatus and Fixtures for Heating and Cooking—Stoves, Ranges, Heaters, &c. Plans or Models of Ice Chambers for Preservation of Fresh Meats, &c., domestic or trade.

" 224. Apparatus for Lighting—Gas Fixtures, Lamps, Globes, Chimneys, &c.

" 225. Kitchen and Pantry Utensils, Tinware, and Apparatus used in Cooking (exclusive of Cutlery).

" 226. Laundry Appliances—Washing Machines, Mangles, Clothes-wringers, Clothes-bars, Ironing-tables, &c.

" 227. Bathroom and Water-closet, Shower and other Baths, Earth-closet, &c.

" 228. Manufactured Parts of Buildings—Sash, Blinds, Mantels, Metalwork, &c.

SECTION E.—Yarns and Woven Goods of Vegetable or Mineral Materials.

Class 229. Woven Fabrics of Mineral Origin—Warecloth, Sievecloth, Wire Screens Bolting Cloth.

Asbestos Fibre, spun and woven, with the clothing manufactured from it.

Glass-thread, Floss and Fabrics.

" 230. Coarse Fibres of Grass, Rattan, Cocoanut, and Bark.

Mats and Matting—Cocoanut Fibre, Twine, Chinese, Japanese, Palm Leaf Grass Rushes, Rattan, Aloe, Fibre, &c.

" 231. Cotton Yarns, Threads, Knittings, bleached and unbleached.

Sheetings, Shirtings, Canvas, Duck, Tents, &c.

Cotton Fabrics, Quilts, Counterpanes, Towels, &c.

Cottonettes, Curtains, Laces, except silk.

" 232. Dyed Cotton Fabrics, exclusive of Prints.

" 233. Printed Cottons, Muslins, Handkerchiefs, Scarfs, &c.

" 234. Linen and other Vegetable Fibres.

" 235. Linen Yarns and Threads.

" 236. Linen Fabrics, bleached, unbleached, and dyed.

" 237. Manufactures from Jute—Yarns, Bagging, Carpeting, Rugs, &c.

" 238. Floorcloths, Oilcloths, Linoleum and other Painted or Enamelled Fabrics; also Imitations of Leather, with a woven base.

SECTION F.—Yarns and Woven and Felted Goods of Wool and Mixture of Wool.

Class 239. Yarns, Worsteds, &c.

" 240. Wool Fabrics—Broadcloths, Coatings, Doeskins, Woollen, Worsted, and Union Tweeds and other Trouserings, &c.

" 241. Flannels, plain and fancy; Serges, &c.

" 242. Blankets, Rugs, Shawls, &c.

" 243. Wool Fabrics for Women's wear—Merinos, Cashmeres, Serges, Plaids, &c.

" 244. Dress Goods of Wool and Cotton Mixtures.

" 245. Carpets—Wilton, Brussels, Velvet, Tapestry, Kidderminster, Venetian, Indian, Turkish; Druggets, Hearth Rugs, Mats, &c.

" 246. Felted Goods, Carpetings, &c.

" 247. Alpaca, Goat, Camel, and other Hair Fabrics, mixed or unmixed with wool.

" 248. Printed and Embossed Woollen Cloths, Table-covers, Furniture Coverings, &c.

SECTION G.—Silk and Silk Fabrics, and Mixtures in which Silk is the predominating Material.

Class 249. Cocoons and Raw Silk as reeled from the cocoon.

" 250. Thrown or Twisted Silks in the gum, boiled off or dyed, in hanks, skeins, or on reels.

" 251. Spun Silk Yarns and Fabrics.

" 252. Plain Woven Silks, Gros-Grains, Sarsenets, Satins, Foulards, Fabrics for Hat and Millinery purposes, &c.

" 253. Figured and Fancy Silk Piece Goods, Woven or Printed Upholstery, Silks, &c.

" 254. Crapes, Velvets, Plushes, Gauzes, Handkerchiefs, Knitted Goods, Laces, Scarfs, Ties, Veils, all descriptions of cut and made-up Silks, including China and India Silk Goods.

" 255. Ribbons, plain, fancy, velvet, &c.

" 256. Bindings, Buttons, Braids, Cords, Galloons, Ladies' Dress Trimmings; Upholsterers', Tailors', Military and Miscellaneous Trimmings.

" 257. Silk and Mixed Silk Furniture Coverings.

" 258. Mixed Silk Dress materials.

SECTION H.—Clothing, Jewellery, Ornaments, and Travelling Equipments.

Class 259. Ready-made Clothing, Knitted Goods and Hosiery, Military Clothing, Church Vestments, Waterproof Clothing, and Clothing for special objects.

" 260. Ladies' Mantles, Costumes, Corsets, Underclothing, &c.

" 261. Hats, Caps, Gloves, Millinery, Straw Goods, &c.

" 262. Boots, Shoes, &c.

" 263. Jewellery and ornaments worn upon articles of dress.

" 264. Artificial Flowers, Coiffures, Buttons, small Wares, Fans, Umbrellas, Sunshades, Walking-canes, Pipes, Toys, and Fancy Articles.

" 265. Fancy Leatherwork, Pocket Books, Toilet Cases, Travelling Equipments. Cork Mattresses, Waterproof Rugs and Sheeting, Valises, Trunks, &c.

" 266. Furs and Skins (natural or dyed).

" 267. Historical Collection of Costumes, National Costumes.

SECTION I.—Paper, Blank Books and Stationery.

Class 268. Stationery for the desk, Stationers' Articles, Pens, Pencils, Inkstands, and other Apparatus for Writing and Drawing.

" 269. Writing Paper and Envelopes, Blank Book Paper, Bond Paper, Tracing Paper, Tracing Linen, Tissue Paper, &c., &c.

" 270. Printing Paper for Books, Newspapers, &c., Wrapping Paper of all grades, Cartridge and Manila Paper, Paper Bags, &c.

" 271. Blank Books—Sets of Account Books, Specimens of Ruling and Binding, including Blanks, Billheads, &c., Book Binding.

" 272. Printing and Writing Inks (various).

" 273. Cards—Playing Cards, Cardboard Binders, Board, Pasteboard, Paper or Cardboard Boxes.

" 274. Building Paper, Pasteboard for Walls (fireproof or otherwise), Domestic Articles, Mouldings, Pipes, &c., made of Paper Pulp, Cane Fibre, Felt for Car Wheels, Ornaments, &c.

" 275. Wall papers, Enamelled and Coloured Papers, Imitations of Leather, Wood, &c.

SECTION J.—Military and Naval Armaments, Ordnance, Firearms, and Hunting Apparatus.

Class 276. Military Small Arms, Muskets, Pistols, and Magazine Guns, with their ammunition.

" 277. Light Artillery, Compound Guns, Machine Guns, Mitrailleuses, &c.

" 278. Heavy Ordnance and its accessories.

" 279. Knives, Swords, Spears, and Dirks.

" 280. Firearms used for Sporting and Hunting; also other implements for the like purposes.

Class 281. Traps for Game, Birds, Vermin, &c.

„ 282. Aboriginal Weapons.

SECTION K.—Medicine, Surgery, Prothesis.

Class 283. Medicines—Officinal (in any authoritative Pharmacopœia) articles of the Materia Medica, Preparations Unofficinal.

„ 284. Dietetic Preparation, as Beef Extract and other articles intended specially for the sick.

„ 285. Pharmaceutical Apparatus.

„ 286. Instruments for Physical Diagnosis. Clinical Thermometers, Stethoscopes, Ophthalmoscopes, &c. (except Clinical Microscopes, for which see Class 312).

„ 287. Surgical Instruments and appliances, with Dressings, Apparatus for Deformities, Prothesis, Obstetrical Instruments.

„ 288. Dental Instruments and Appliances.

„ 289. Vehicles and Appliances for the Transportation of the Sick and Wounded during Peace and War, on shore or at sea.

SECTION L.—Hardware, Edge Tools, Cutlery, and Metallic Products.

Class 290. Hand Tools and Instruments of every description used by artificers.

„ 291. Cutlery—Knives, Penknives, Scissors, Razors, Razor Strops, and Implements sold by Cutlers.

„ 292. Emery and Sandpaper and Cloth, Polishing Powders, Polishing and Burnishing Stones.

„ 293. Metal Hollow-ware, Ornamental Castings.

„ 295. Galvanized Iron Work.

„ 296. Wirework.

SECTION M.—Fabrics of Vegetable, Animal, or Mineral Materials.

Class 297. India-rubber Goods and Manufactures.

„ 298. Brushes.

„ 299. Ropes, Cordage.

„ 300. Flags, Insignia, Emblems.

„ 301. Wooden and Basket Ware, Papier-maché.

„ 302. Undertakers' Furnishing Goods, &c.

SECTION N.—Carriages, Vehicles, and Accessories. (For Farm Articles see Department of Agriculture, Section K, and for Machinery and Railway Carriages, Section H.)

Class 303. Pleasure Carriages.

„ 304. Travelling Carriages, Coaches, Stages, Omnibuses, Hearses, Bath and other Invalid Chairs, Bicycles, Tricycles, Perambulators, &c.

„ 305. Vehicles for Movement of Goods and heavy articles, Vans, Carts, Wagons, Trollies, Spring Dray s, Trucks, &c.

„ 306. Carriage and Horse Furniture, Harness and Saddlery. Whips, Spurs, Horse Blankets, Carriage Rugs, Robes, &c.

DEPARTMENT III.—EDUCATION AND SCIENCE.

SECTION A.—Educational Systems, Methods and Libraries.

Class 350. Elementary Instruction—Infant Schools and Kindergarten—arrangements furniture, appliances, and modes of training.

Class 351. Elementary Schools.—Buildings and Grounds, Equipments, Courses of Study, Methods of Instruction, Text-books, Apparatus, including Maps, Charts, Globes, &c.; Pupils' Works, including Drawing and Penmanship; provisions for Physical Training.

" 352. Higher Education—Grammar and High Schools, Colleges and Universities.

Buildings and Grounds, Libraries, Museums of Zoology, Botany, Mineralogy, Art and Archæology; apparatus for illustration and research; Mathematical, Physical, Chemical, and Astronomical courses of study; Text-books, Catalogues, Libraries, and Gymnasiums.

" 353. Professional and Technical Schools—Buildings, Text-books, Libraries, Apparatus. Modes, Methods, and other accessories.

" 354. Institutions for Instruction of the Blind, Deaf, and Dumb, and the feeble-minded.

" 355. Education Reports and Statistics.

" 356. Libraries, History, Reports, Statistics, and Catalogues.

" 357. School and Text-books, Dictionaries, Encyclopædias, Gazetteers, Directories Index Volumes, Bibliographies, Catalogues, Almanacs, Special Treatises, General and Miscellaneous Literature, Newspapers and Journals, Illustrated Papers, Periodical Literature.

SECTION B.—Scientific and Philosophical Instruments and Methods.

Class 358. Instruments of Precision and Apparatus of Physical Research, Experiment, and Illustration.

Astronomical Instruments and Accessories used in Observatories.

Transits, Mural Circles, Equatorials, Collimators.

Geodetic and Surveying Instruments.—Transits, Theodolities, Needle Compasses, Instruments for Surveying underground in Mines, Tunnels, and Excavations.

Nautical Astronomical Instruments—Sextants, Quadrants, Repeating Circles, Dip-sectors.

Levelling Instruments and Apparatus.—Carpenters' and Builders' Levels, Hand Levels, Water Levels, Engineers' Levels.

Instruments for Deep-sea Sounding and Hydrographic Surveying.

Meteorological Instruments and Apparatus.

Thermometers, Pyrometers, Barometers.

Hygrometers and Rain Gauges, Maps, Weather Bulletins.

Blanks for Reports, Methods of Recording, Reducing, and Reporting Observations.

" 359. Indicating and Registering Apparatus other than Meteorological Mechanical Calculation.

Viameters, Pedometers, Gas Meters.

Water Meters, Current Meters, Ships' Patent Logs, Electrical Logs.

Tide Registers.

Apparatus for Printing Consecutive Numbers.

Counting Machines, Calculating Engines, Arithmometers.

" 360. Weights, Measures, and Weighing Apparatus.

Measures of Length.—Graduated Scales on Wood, Metal, Ivory, Tape or Ribbon; Steel Tapes, Chains, Rods, Verniers.

Measures of Capacity for Solids and Liquids.

Graduated Scales for Measuring Lumber, Goods in Packages, Casks, &c. Gaugers' Tools and Methods.

Weights.—Scales and Graduated Beams for Weighing; Assay Balances, Chemical Balances; Ordinary Scales for Heavy Weights, weighing Locomotives and Trains of Cars; Postal Balances; Hydrometers, Alcohometers, Lactometers, Gravimeters, &c.

Class 361. Chronometric Apparatus—

Chronometers, Astronomical Clocks, Church and Metropolitan Clocks, Ordinary Commercial Clocks, Pendulum and Spring Clocks, Marine Clocks, Watches, Clepsydras, Hourglasses, Sundials, Chronographs, Electric Clocks, Metronomes.

„ 362. Optical and Thermotic Instruments and Apparatus—

Mirrors, Plane and Spherical.

Lenses and Prisms.

Spectacles and Eyeglasses, Field and Opera Glasses, Graphoscopes and Stereoscopes.

Cameras and Photographic Apparatus.

Microscopes.

Telescopes.

Apparatus for Artificial Illustration, including Electric, Oxyhydrogen, and Magnesium Light.

Stereopticons.

Photometric Apparatus.

Spectroscopes and Accessories for Spectrum Analysis.

Polariscopes, &c.

Thermotic Apparatus.

„ 363. Telegraphic Instruments and Methods—

Batteries and Forms of Apparatus used in generating the Electrical Currents for Telegraphic Purposes.

Conductors and Insulators and Methods of Support, Marine Telegraph Cables.

Apparatus of Transmission, Keys, Office Accessories, and Appar atus.

Receiving Instruments, Relay Magnets, Local Circuits.

Semaphoric and recording Instrument.

Codes, Signs, or Signals; Heliographs.

Printing Telegraphs for special uses.

Electrographs.

Dial or Cadran Systems.

Apparatus for Automatic Transmission.

Telephone, Microphone, &c.

„ 364. Musical Instruments and Acoustic Apparatus.

Percussion Instruments, Drums, Tambourines, Cymbals, Triangles, &c.
Pianos.
Stringed Instruments, other than Pianos.
Automatic Musical Instruments, Music Boxes.
Wind Instruments of metal and of wood.
Harmoniums.
Church Organs and similar Instruments.
Speaking Machines.
Phonographs.

SECTION C.—Engineering, Architecture, Charts, Maps, and Graphic Representations.

(For Agricultural Engineering, see Section K.)

(For Mining Engineering, see Section C.)

Class 365. Civil Engineering, Land Surveying, Public Lands, &c.

River, Harbour, and Coast Surveying.

Construction and Maintenance of Roads, Streets, Pavements, &c.
Surveys and location of Towns and Cities, with system of Water Supply and Drainage.
Arched Bridges of metal, stone, brick or beton.
Trusted Girder Bridges.
Suspension Bridges.
Canals, Aqueducts, Reservoirs, Construction of Dams.
Hydraulic Engineering and means of Arresting and Controlling the Flow of Water.
Submarine Constructions, Piers, Docks, &c.

Class 366. Dynamic and Industrial Engineering, Construction and Working of Machines, Examples of Planning and Construction of Manufacturing and Metallurgical Establishments.

" 367. Railway Engineering.
Location of Railways, and the Construction and Management of Railways.

" 368. Military Engineering.

" 369. Naval Engineering.

" 370. Topographical Maps.
Marine and Coast Charts.
Geological Maps and Sections.
Botanical, Agronomical and other maps, showing the extent and distribution of Men, Animals, and Terrestrial Products.
Physical Maps.
Meteorological Maps and Bulletins.
Telegraphic Routes and Stations.
Railway and Route Maps.
Terrestrial and Celestial Globes.
Relief Maps and Models of the Earth's surface.
Profiles of Ocean Beds and Routes of Submarine Cables.

SECTION D.—Physical, Social, and Moral Condition of Man.

Class 371. Physical Development and Condition.
The Nursery and its Accessories.
Gymnasiums, Games, Manly Sports, and Physical Training.

" 372. Alimentation.
Markets, Preparation and Distribution of Food.

" 373. The Dwelling.
Sanitary Conditions, Appliances, and Regulations.
Domestic Architecture.
Dwellings characterized by cheapness, combined with the conditions essential to health and comfort.
Plans or Models of Dwelling-houses best suited for hot climates.
Fireproof Structures.
Hotels, Club Houses, &c.
Public Baths.

" 374. Commerical Systems and Appliances.
Mercantile Forms and Methods, Counting-houses and Offices.
Banks and Banking.
Savings and Trust Institutions.
Insurance, Fire, Marine, Life, &c.
Commercial Organisations, Boards of Trade, Produce and Stock Exchanges.
Corporations for Commercial and Manufacturing Purposes.
Railway and other Transportation Companies.
Building and Loan Associations.

" 375. Money.
Mints and Coining.

Collection of Current Coins.
Historical Collections.
Tokens, &c.
Bank Notes, and other paper-circulating mediums.
Commercial Paper, Bills of Exchange, &c.
Securities for payment of Money, Stocks, Bonds, Mortgages, Ground-rents, Quit-rents, &c.
Precautions against Counterfeiting and Misappropriation of Money.

Class 376. Government and Law.

Various Systems of Government Codes.
Municipal Government.
Protection of Property in Inventions.
Postal System and Appliances.
Punishment of Crime.
Prisons and Prison Management and Discipline; Police Stations; Houses of Correction; Reformatory and Industrial Schools.

" 377. Benevolence.

General Hospitals.
Special Hospitals for the Eye and Ear, &c.
Hospitals for Women.
Hospitals for Contagious and Infectious Diseases.
Quarantine Systems and Organisations.
Hospitals for the Insane—under State Control, and Private Asylums.
Sanitary Regulations of Cities.
Dispensaries.
Inebriate Asylums.
Lying-in Asylums.
Magdalen Asylums.
Asylums for Infants and Children.
Foundling and Orphan Asylums—Children's Aid Societies and Boarding-out Systems.
Blind, Deaf and Dumb Asylums.
Homes for the Aged and Infirm; Homes for Aged Men and Women; Homes for the Maimed and Deformed; Homes for Incurables; Convalescent Homes; Sailors' Homes.
Treatment of Paupers.
Almshouses, Feeding the Poor, Lodging-houses.
Emigrant Aid Societies.
Immigration Systems, including Shipping and Depôts.
Servants' Houses.
Labour-hiring Establishments and Systems of Distribution of Labour.
Treatment of Aborigines.
Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

" 378. Co-operative Associations.

Military Organisations and Orders.
Trade Unions and Associations.
Industrial Organisations.

" 379. Religious Organisations and Systems, Statistical, Historical, and other Facts.

Bible Societies, Tract Societies, Colportage.
Systems and Methods of Religious Instruction and Training for the Young.
Sunday Schools, Furniture and Apparatus.
Associations for Religious or Moral Improvement.
Dispensing Charities, Church Guilds.

" 380. Art and Industrial Exhibitions.

Agricultural Fairs.
Juvenile Exhibitions.
National Exhibitions.

DEPARTMENT IV.—ART.

SECTION A.—Sculpture.

Class 400. Figures and Groups in stone, metal, clay, terra-cotta, or plaster.
„ 401. Works, in relief, in stone or metal; Electrotype Copies.
„ 402. Metals, pressed and engraved; Electrotypes of Medals.
„ 403. Hammered and Wrought Work; Repoussé Work.
„ 404. Cameos, Intaglios, Engraved Stones, Seals, Dies, &c.
„ 405. Carvings in Wood, Ivory, Metal, or other material.

Class 406. Paintings in Oil, on canvas, panels, ivory, glass, terra-cotta, &c.
„ 407. Water-color Pictures—Aquarelles, Miniatures, &c.
„ 408. Frescoes, Cartoons for Frescoes, &c.
„ 409. Painting with vitrifiable colors; Pictures on Porcelain, Enamel, and Metal.

SECTION C.—Drawing, Engraving and Lithography.

Class 410. Drawing with Pen, Pencil, or Crayons.
„ 411. Engravings from Steel, Copper, Stone and Wood.
„ 412. Etchings.
„ 413. Lithographs, Zincographs, &c.
„ 414. Oleographs, Cromo-lithographs, &c.

SECTION D.—Photography.

Class 415. Photographs, on paper, metal, glass, wood, fabrics, or enamel surfaces.

Class 418. Industrial Designs.
„ 419. Architectural Designs—Studies and Fragments, Representations and Projects of Edifices; Restorations from Ruins and from Documents.
„ 420. Ecclesiastical Designs.
„ 421. Designs for Decorations of Interiors of Buildings.
„ 422. Designs for Decorations of Exteriors of Buildings.
„ 423. Designs for Artistic Hardware and Trimmings, Artistic Castings, Forged Metalwork for Decorations, &c.

SECTION F.—Decorations with Ceramic and Vitreous Materials.

Class 424. Mosaic and Inlaid Work in stone.
„ 425. Mosaic and Inlaid Work in tiles, tessaræ, glass, &c.
„ 426. Inlaid Work in wood and metal, parqueterie, marqueterie.
„ 427. Stained, Embossed and Engraved Glass.
„ 428. Cameo and Intaglio in Glass.
„ 429. Miscellaneous objects of Art.

DEPARTMENT V.—MACHINERY.

SECTION A.—Machines, Tools, and Apparatus of Mining, Metallurgy, Chemistry, and the Extractive Arts.

Class 500. Machines and Apparatus for Rock Drilling.
„ 501. Machines and Apparatus for Well and Shaft Boring.
„ 502. Machines and Apparatus for Coal-getting.
„ 503. Machines and Apparatus for Hoisting.
„ 504. Machines and Apparatus for Pumping, Draining and Ventilating.
„ 505. Machines and Apparatus for Crushing, Grinding, Sorting and Dressing.—Breakers, Stamps, Mills, Pans, Screens, Sieves, Jigs, Amalgamators Concentrators, &c.
„ 506. Furnaces, Smelting Apparatus and Accessories.
„ 507. Machinery used in Bessemer, Siemens-Martin, and other processes.

Class 508. Machines and Apparatus for Chemical Manufactures, Electro-plating, Paint and Powder Mills, Blacking, Soap, Candle-making, &c.

" 509. Machinery and Apparatus for the manufacture of Gas for illuminating or heating, compressed or otherwise.

SECTION B.—Machines and Tools for Working Metal, Wood, and Stone.

Class 510. Machines and Tools for Working Wood :—Planing, Sawing, Turning, Veneering, Grooving, Mortising, Tongueing, Cutting, Moulding, Stamping, Carving, Cask-making, and Cork-cutting, &c.

" 511. Machines for direct-acting, Steam-sawing, &c.

" 512. Rolling Mills, Bloom Squeezers, Blowing Fans, Furnaces, Moulding Machines, and Apparatus for Casting Metals, with Specimens of work, also models and drawings.

" 513. Rivet, Nail, Bolt, Screw, and Tack-making Machinery.

" 514. Steam, Trip, Drop, and other Hammers ; Hydraulic Presses for Forging, with specimens of work ; Anvils, Forges, Bellows, and Tools.

" 515. Machines for Working Metals :—Planing, Drilling, Slotting, Turning, Shaping, Bending, Punching, Stamping, and Cutting, &c.; Wheel-cutting and Dividing Machines ; Emery Wheels, Drills, Taps, Gauges, Dies, &c.

" 516. Machines for Sawing, Planing, Dressing, Shaping, and Polishing Stone, Sand Blasts, Grindstones, &c.

" 517. Machines for making Bricks, Pottery, Drain Pipes, Tiles, and Artificial Stone.

" 518. Furnaces, Moulds, Blowpipes, &c., for making Glass and Glassware; Machines for Grinding, Cutting and Polishing Glass.

" 519. Tools, Implements, &c., for working Metal, Wood, and Stone, not before enumerated.

" 520. Machines for Stone-breaking for Road Metal.

" 521. Machines for Coining Metals; Drop, Die, and Stamping Machinery.

SECTION C.—Machines and Implements of Spinning, Weaving, Felling, and Paper making.

Class 522. Machines for the manufacture of Silk Goods.

" 523. Machines for the manufacture of Cotton Goods.

" 524. Machines for the manufacture of Woollen Goods—Carpets, Tapestry, &c.

" 525. Machines for the manufacture of Linen Goods.

" 526. Machines for the manufacture of Rope and Twine and Miscellaneous Fibrous Materials.

" 527. Machines for the manufacture of Paper and Felting.

" 528. Machines for the manufacture of India-rubber aad Guttapercha Goods.

" 529. Machines for the manufacture of Mixed Fabrics, Floorcloth, Kamptulicon, &c.

" 530. Machines for the manufacture of Wire-cloth and Netting.

" 531. Machines for the manufacture of Asbestos Goods.

SECTION D.—Machines, Apparatus, and Implements used in Sewing and Making Clothing and Ornamental Objects.

Class 532. Machines used in the manufacture of Lace, Fancy Embroidery, Hair Ribbons, &c.

" 533. Machines for Sewing and Knitting; Clothes, Corset, Hat, and Bonnetmaking Machines.

" 534. Machines for preparing and working Leather.

" 535. Machines for making Boots and Shoes.

" 536. Machines for making Buttons, Pins, Needles, &c.

" 537. Machines for Ironing, Drying, Scouring, Cleaning, and Dyeing.

" 538. Machines for making Clocks and Watches.

" 539. Machines for making Jewellery.

SECTION E.—Machinery and Apparatus for Type-setting, Printing, Stamping, Embossing, and for making Books, and Paper Working.

Class 540. Printing, Stamping, Embossing, and Lithographic Presses.

„ 541. Type-casting Machines, Apparatus for Stereotyping and Electrotyping, Types and Type-setting Machines.

Class 542. Writing and Copying Machines.

„ 543. Printers' Furniture.

„ 544. Book-binding Machines.

Adelaide Jubilee International Exhibition, 1887.

SYSTEM OF AWARDS.

Judges shall be appointed—One-half of whom may be nominated by the official representatives of the foreign countries and colonies exhibiting, acting in conjunction with the Executive Committee.

Judges will be selected for their qualifications in relation to the special class of work assigned to them, and will be chosen from the best sources available, and will impartially recognise merit without regard to nationality.

The Executive Committee will appoint a sufficient number of Judges to each group of classes.

The Executive Committee will appoint Judges for collective exhibits.

The Executive Committee will appoint a Superintendent of Juries and Awards to frame rules for the guidance of Judges, to regulate their meetings and facilitate their work, and otherwise carry out the instructions of the Juries and Awards Committee.

Judges absent from three consecutive meetings, unless by written permission of the Superintendent of Juries and Awards, will be held to have surrendered their posts.

A vacancy in any body of Judges shall at once be reported by the said Superintendent of the Juries and Awards, and such place declared vacant, and such vacancy shall forthwith be filled by the Executive Committee.

Experts may be called in by a majority of any jury, their names having been previously submitted to and approved by the Juries and Awards Committee.

No exhibitor, nor his agent, shall be a Judge in any class in which he exhibits.

An exhibitor who is not the manufacturer or producer of the article exhibited shall not be entitled to an award. (Fine Arts and Live Stock excepted.)

Awards shall consist of three classes, viz. :—

1st Class.—Diploma of First Order of Merit and Medal.
2nd Class.—Diploma of Second Order of Merit.
3rd Class.—Diploma of Third Order of Merit.

Awards to be based on reports, made in writing by the Judges and attested by their signatures, setting forth the merits of the product adjudged, which have formed the ground of the award ; and the awards so made shall be forthwith forwarded to the Superintendent of Juries and Awards, to whom the records of Juries shall be open for inspection.

The elements of merit shall include originality, invention, discovery, utility, quality, skill, workmanship, fitness for the purposes intended, adaptation to public wants, economy, and cost.

The promoters hope to be able to secure additional valuable awards for exhibits of a special character.

All decisions of Juries must be returned to the Superintendent of Juries and Awards on or before a date to be declared by the Juries and Awards Committee, unless special written permission for an extended time shall have been granted by such Committee.

The Juries and Awards Committee will constitute a Court of Appeal.

In case of appeal, a fee of £2 2*s.* must be deposited with the Superintendent of Juries and Awards ; if appeal allowed, the fee will be returned.

The reports of the Judges recommending awards shall be forwarded by the Juries and Awards Committee to the Executive Committee by whom awards will be finally decreed.

The above System of Awards was adopted at a meeting of the Promoters held at Adelaide on the 2nd day of March 1886.

Secretary.

ADELAIDE

JUBILEE INTERNATIONAL EXHIBITION,

1887.

Regulations for Exhibitors.

1. Early application for space is requested to be made to the Secretary in Adelaide, or to the Secretary to the London Commission. Applications must be made through the Commission or other official representative of the country or colony to which the applicant belongs, but in the event of no such representative existing, intending exhibitors can communicate direct as above. No applications for space will be received later than the 1st January 1887. The form (A) of application is appended hereto.

2. All space exceeding twenty square feet will be charged for at the rate of one shilling per foot for floor space, and sixpence per foot for wall space, excepting sculpture, and paintings approved by the Fine Arts Committee, which will be admitted free. Special arrangements may be made by the Executive Committee for the charge for space for machinery, agricultural implements, and other bulky goods.

3. Governments intending to take part in this Exhibition are requested to forward an intimation to that effect not later than the 1st January 1887.

4. The Exhibition buildings will be constituted a Bonded Store; but exhibits sold will be subject to duty.

5. Articles manufactured in the Exhibition buildings may be sold and removed with the consent of the Executive Commissioners. Exhibits may be sold during the Exhibition, but may not be removed until its close, unless by special written permission of the Executive Commissioner.

6. An Act of the Legislature protects inventors, provided that application for a patent is lodged within six months of first exhibition.

7. The Commission may refuse entry to articles they consider of a dangerous or offensive character.

8. Articles intended for exhibition will be received on or after the first day of March 1887, and not later than the twentieth day of May 1887, unless further time be allowed by the Executive Committee.

9. Space allotted to countries and colonies, and not occupied by the twentieth day of May 1887, will revert to the Commission for re-assignment.

10. The Commission will take precautions for the due protection of all objects in the Exhibition, but will in no way be responsible for damage or loss of any kind.

11. Subject to the approval of the Executive Commissioner, exhibitors may appoint their own watchmen during the hours the Exhibition is open to the public.

12. Arrangements will be made for the supply of steam-power by the Executive Committee, at the expense of the exhibitors, but exhibitors must make application for the power required, and will be charged in proportion for the power used.

13. If exhibits are not intended for competition, such fact should be distinctly stated when making the entry.

14. Exhibitors will be required to furnish and decorate their own courts or lesser constructions at their own cost, in conformity with the general plans adopted by the Executive Committee.

15. Special constructions may be made by exhibitors, in the building or on the grounds, after receiving the approval, in writing, of the Executive Commissioner.

16. Exhibitors or their agents shall be responsible for the receiving, unpacking, and arrangement of objects, as well as for their removal at the close of the Exhibition.

17. The transportation, unpacking, and the arrangement of the exhibits will be at the expense of the exhibitor.

18. Commissioners representing countries or colonies and private exhibitors may adopt one of two courses, namely,—

(a) They may ship their exhibits to Adelaide, and make their own arrangements for their reception and exhibition ; or,

(b) If consigned to the Exhibition, they should be addressed as follows :—

To the Commissioner for [here specify country or colony],

Adelaide Jubilee International Exhibition,

Adelaide,

South Australia ;

and, if from foreign countries or other colonies, should have two labels bearing the flag of the country to which the exhibitor belongs, or, where no representative has been appointed—

To the Executive Commissioner,

Adelaide Jubilee International Exhibition,

Adelaide,

South Australia.

Two labels must also be affixed to different but not opposite sides of the package, giving the following information :—

I. The country from which it comes.
II. Name of firm of exhibitor.
III. Residence of exhibitor.
IV. Department, section, and class to which the exhibit belongs.
V. Total number of packages sent by same exhibitor.
VI. Serial number of that particular package.

Each package must have prominently painted on it outside the distinctive mark—

A. J. I. E.
1887.

19. If no authorised person be at hand to receive goods sent to the Exhibition, they will be removed and stored by the Executive Commissioner, at the cost and risk of the exhibitor.

20. Immediately after the close of the Exhibition, exhibitors must remove their Exhibits and complete such removal within one month from the close of the Exhibition, unless further time be allowed by the Executive Committee.

21. Goods not removed in accordance with Regulation No. 20 may be removed by the Executive Committee and sold to defray expenses, or be otherwise disposed of as they may think fit.

22. An official catalogue will be published in English, the sale of which is reserved by the Executive Committee.

23. No work of art or any article whatever exhibited in the buildings or on the ground of the Exhibition may be drawn, copied, or reproduced in any manner whatever without the joint consent of the exhibitor and the executive Commissioner.

24. The Executive Committee reserves the right to explain, amend, or extend these regulations whenever it may be deemed necessary in the interests of the Exhibition.

25. Communications concerning the Exhibition should be addressed—

To the Secretary,
Adelaide Jubilee International Exhibition,
Adelaide,
South Australia,

Or, To the Secretary to the London Commission,
Adelaide Jubilee International Exhibition,
Office of the Agent-General,
8, Victoria Chambers, Westminster,
London.

26. No exhibitor will be permitted to display exhibits in such a manner as to obstruct the light or impede the view along the open spaces, or to occasion inconvenience or injury to or otherwise affect the display of other exhibitors.

27. With respect to Live Stock (Classes 648 to 659), should the Promoters determine to accept such exhibits, full programmes and further Regulations will be published hereafter.

28. The right is reserved of keeping the Exhibition open for two evenings during each week should the Executive Committee deem it desirable.

29. Each person who becomes an exhibitor thereby acknowledges and undertakes to keep the rules and regulations established for the government of the Exhibition.

OFFICE OF PROMOTERS.

Adelaide, 17th March 1886.

To the Honourable the Chief Secretary, Adelaide.

SIR,

I HAVE the honour, by direction, respectfully to request that the Government will bring under the attention of the Right Honourable the Secretary of State for the Colonies the fact that an International Exhibition will be held in Adelaide in the year 1887 to commemorate the fiftieth anniversary of the foundation of the Province of South Australia and the completion of the fiftieth year of the reign of Her Most Gracious Majesty the Queen, with a view to an official intimation being made to the Governments of foreign countries of the holding of such an Exhibition, and an invitation being given to such Governments to participate in the Exhibition.

In making the request I have to ask that immediate communications may be opened up with the Secretary of State, and also with the various Governments (including the Governments of India, China, and Japan); and in your despatch I am to beg that you will be good enough to give prominence to the following points :—

1. That Parliament has set apart land for the Exhibition, and contributed £32,000 towards the erection of a permanent Exhibition building and the laying out of the Exhibition grounds.

2. That, although the Exhibition has been set on foot by private individuals, His Excellency the Governor is President of the Exhibition, and His Excellency's Ministers are associated with him in the executive management of it.

3. That H. R. H. the Prince of Wales and T. R. H. the Princes Edward and George of Wales have generously accorded to the Exhibition their royal patronage.

4. That it is proposed to open the Exhibition on the 20th June 1887.

5. That applications for space must be forwarded to the Secretary of the Exhibition in Adelaide, or to the Secretary to the Commission in London, not later than 1st January 1887. Applications must be made through the Commission or other official representative of the country or colony to which the applicant belongs, but in the event of no such representative existing, intending exhibitors can communicate direct as above.

6. Space up to 20 square feet will be free. but any excess of that quantity will be charged for at the rate of one shilling per foot for floor space, and sixpence per foot for wall space, excepting sculpture and paintings approved by the Fine Arts Committee, which will be admitted free. Special arrangements may, however, be made for machinery and bulky goods.

7. Governments intending to take part in this Exhibition are requested to forward an intimation to that effect not later than 1st January 1887.

8. Articles intended for exhibition will be received on or after the 1st day of March 1887, and not later than 20th day of May 1887, unless further time is allowed by the Executive Committee.

9. Copies of the Proclamation of the Exhibition, together with the Sectional Committee's Classification of Exhibits, and General Regulations are forwarded herewith for the information of the respective Governments.

It will be a source of great satisfaction to the promoters and the colonists generally to learn that the European and American Governments, as well as the Eastern countries, will be represented at the Exhibition.

I have the honour to be,

SIR,

Your most obedient Servant,

JOHN FAIRFAX CONIGRAVE,

Secretary.

The Hon'ble the chief Secretary, Adelaide.

[Third publication.]

The 16th September 1886.

No. 791.—Notification.—In supersession of the Resolution in the Home Department No. 515 S., dated the 19th of September 1884, and Notification No. 1032, dated the 15th of April 1885, the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to prescribe the following Rules for the Examination of Assistant and Extra Assistant Commissioners in the Punjab :—

Rules for the Departmental Examination to be passed by Assistant Commissioners and Extra Assistant Commissioners in the Punjab.

I.—A departmental examination of Assistant Commissioners and Extra Assistant Commissioners will be held half-yearly about the 15th April and the 15th October, the exact day being notified beforehand in the Punjab Government Gazette.

II.—The papers will be set, answers examined and marks awarded by the undermentioned Examiners :—

The Government Advocate.
The Accountant-General.
The Registrar of the Chief Court.
The Inspector-General of Prisons.
One of the Secretaries to the Financial Commissioners.
A Native Extra Assistant Commissioner.

III.—The Examiners will submit their awards of marks to the Secretary of the Central Committee of Examination. This Committee will consist of—

The Senior Judge of the Chief Court;
The First Financial Commissioner ; and
The Secretary to the Government of the Punjab in the Civil Department ; and with them will rest the final decision as to the passing of candidates.

IV.—The Secretary of the Central Committee shall be an officer appointed on special duty for the period of the examination, and an Extra Assistant Commissioner possessing a competent knowledge of English shall be deputed to assist him. This may be either the Extra Assistant Commissioner mentioned in Rule II. or another, according to the requirements of the work. The Secretary of the Central Committee will make proposals on this point when appointed.

Under the orders of the Central Committee, its Secretary and his Assistant shall—

- receive the question papers from the Examiners ;
- translate and, if necessary, cause them to be printed ;
- superintend the examination ;
- transmit the answer papers to the Examiners concerned ;
- perform the duties assigned to them by Rule VI ;
- receive and compile the marks awarded ;
- report the results to the Central Committee ; and
- generally conduct the whole correspondence and business of the examination not expressly allotted to any other authority.

V.—There are six Subjects of examination which are classified in groups as follows :—

(1).—Criminal Law.	Group A.
(2).—Civil Law.	Group A.
(3).—Revenue ...	" B.
(4).—Treasury.	" C.
(5).—Local Funds.	" C.
(6).—Language. ...	" D.

The books, &c., in which papers of questions will be set in each subject are enumerated in the annexed schedule, which will be modified and republished as occasion requires.

VI.—Papers will be set and marks assigned in each subject as follows :—

	Subject.	Maximum of marks.
1st Day.
10 A. M. to 1 P. M. ...	Criminal Law. First paper	120
3 P. M. to 6 P. M. ...	Criminal Law. Second paper	150
2nd Day.
10 A. M. to 1 P. M. ...	Civil Law, including Law of Evidence, First paper	120
3 P. M. to 6 P. M. ...	Civil Law. Second paper	120
3rd Day.
10 A. M. to 1 P. M. ...	Revenue. First paper	120
3 P. M. to 6 P. M. ...	Revenue. Second paper	120
	Vivâ voce, Settlement Reports	50
4th Day.
10 A. M. to 1 P. M. ...	Treasury	90
	Local Funds	30
3 P. M. to 6 P. M. ...	Language :—
	(a) Translating English judgments (to be written in Persian character).	100
	(b) Reading petitions	40
	(c) Colloquial	100

During the second Revenue paper, English candidates will be examined separately vivâ voce in the Settlement Reports of their several districts or in any Settlement Report which they may have selected and previously notified through the Deputy Commissioner Native candidates not acquainted with English will be similarly examined in Barkley's "Directions to Settlement Officers."

The vivâ voce tests will be conducted and marks awarded, under the supervision of the Commissioner of the Lahore Division, by the Secretary of the Central Committee of Examination and the Extra Assistant Commissioner deputed to assist him.

The colloquial examination (Language [c]) will consist of conversation between the candidate and the headman of a village, and is meant to test the candidate's knowledge of the vernacular of the part of the Province in which he has been stationed.

VII.—There are two standards of examination—Higher and Lower—with one set of papers. A candidate who passes at an examination by the Lower Standard only must go up at each succeeding examination till he shall have passed by the Higher Standard in all Subjects which he is required to take up.

VIII.—Candidates may pass by the Higher or Lower Standard in any or all of the groups of Subjects.

A candidate will be held to have passed in a group by the Higher Standard if he obtains two-thirds of the maximum of marks allotted to that group and, when a group contains more than one Subject, one half of the maximum of marks allotted to each of its Subjects. He will be held to have passed by the Lower Standard if he obtains similarly one-half of the maximum of marks allotted to a group and one-third of the maximum of marks allotted to each Subject.

Provided that for the Group "Treasury and Local Funds," in order to qualify a candidate for a pass by the Higher Standard, two-thirds, and for a pass by the Lower Standard, one-half of the maximum of marks allotted to the Subject "Treasury" must be obtained, in addition to the marks prescribed for the Subject "Local Funds."

IX.—After each examination the names of those candidates who have passed by either standard will be published in the Gazette. Candidates will be noticed as having passed "with credit" in

(1) group A. or
(2) group B. and C., or
(3) group D.

if they obtain three-quarters of the maximum of marks allotted to the group, or groups and, when the group contains more than one Subject, two-thirds of the maximum of marks allotted to each Subject.

X.—In making the calculation under Rules VIII and IX, the marks allotted to any question which a candidate is not required to answer and to any paper or subject in which he is not required to be examined shall first be deducted from the maximum of marks allotted to the paper, Subject or group as the case may be.

XI.—Every Assistant and Extra Assistant Commissioner is required to pass the departmental examination by the Higher Standard. This rule does not apply to Extra Assistant Commissioners who, while serving as Tahsíldárs or Munsiffs, have already passed or been exempted from this examination.

XII.—Covenanted Civilians appointed after open competition in England will be exempt from examination in the first Criminal and first Civil Law papers, and Native candidates generally will not be required to pass in group D., nor, unless certified by the Deputy Commissioner of the district from which they come to have a good knowledge of English, will they be examined in group C., nor in any of the books, &c., entered in the Schedule annexed, of which there does not exist a translation approved by Government.

XIII.—English or Native gentlemen who enter the Government service as Officiating Extra Assistant Commissioners are considered to be on probation. No officer so officiating will be confirmed in his appointment until he has passed at least the examination for the Lower Standard; and an officer failing to pass in two successive years will, unless there be special reasons to account for his failure, be removed from his officiating appointment.

XIV.—An Extra Assistant Commissioner who is not exempted from examination will not be promoted from the lowest grade until he has passed by the Higher Standard.

XV.—No Assistant or Extra Assistant Commissioner will be invested with the powers of a Magistrate or Munsiff of the 2nd Class until he has been six months in public employ and has passed the examination by the Lower Standard in Law and Language, or be invested with the powers of a Magistrate or Munsiff of the 1st Class until he has exercised 2nd Class powers for six months and has passed by the Higher Standard in the same Subjects.

(1) System of Awards.

Judges shall be appointed—one-half of whom may be nominated by the official representatives of the countries and colonies exhibiting, acting in conjunction with the Executive Committee; and the balance by the Executive Committee.

Judges will be selected for their qualifications in relation to the special class of work assigned to them, and will be chosen from the best sources available, and will impartially recognise merit without regard to nationality.

The Executive Committee will appoint a sufficient number of Judges to each section of classes.

The Executive Committee will appoint Judges for collective exhibits; but no collective exhibit shall obtain a higher award than the best exhibit it contains is entitled to.

The Executive Committee will appoint a Superintendent of Judges and Awards to frame rules for the guidance of Judges, to regulate their meetings and facilitate their work, and otherwise carry out the instructions of the Judges and Awards Committee.

Judges absent from three consecutive meetings, unless by written permission of the Executive Committee, will be held to have surrendered their posts.

A vacancy in any body of Judges shall at once be reported by the said Superintendent of the Judges and Awards, and such place declared vacant, and such vacancy shall forthwith be filled by the Executive Committee.

Experts may be called in by a majority of any Judges, their names having been previously submitted to and approved by the Superintendent of Judges and Awards.

No exhibitor, or his agent, shall be a Judge in any class in which he exhibits.

An exhibitor who is not the manufacturer or producer of the article exhibited shall not be entitled to an award. (Live stock excepted.)

Awards shall consist of three classes, viz.,—

1st Class—Diploma of First Order of Merit, and an official Medal in bronze.

2nd Class—Diploma of Second Order of Merit.

3rd Class—Diploma of Third Order of Merit.

Awards to be based on reports, made in writing by the Judges and attested by their signatures, setting forth the merits of the product adjudged which have formed the ground of the award; and the awards so made shall be forthwith forwarded to the Superintendent of Judges and Awards, to whom the records of Judges shall be open for inspection.

The elements of merit shall include originality, invention, discovery, utility, quality, skill, workmanship, fitness for the purposes intended, adaptation to public wants, economy and cost.

The Executive Committee hope to be able to secure additional valuable awards for xehibits of a special character.

All decisions of Judges must be returned to the Superintendent of Judges and Awards on or before a date to be declared by the Judges and Awards Committee, unless special written permission for an extended time shall have been granted by such Committee.

The Judges and Awards Committee will constitute a Final Court of Appeal.

In case of appeal, a fee of £1 1*s.* must be deposited with the Superintendent of Judges and Awards;—if appeal allowed, the fee will be returned.

The reports of the Judges recommending awards shall be forwarded by the Judges and Awards Committee to the Executive Committee, by whom awards will be announced.

(2) Regulations for Exhibitors.

1. Early application for space is requested to be made to the Secretary, in Adelaide, or to the Secretary to the London Commission. Applications must be made through the Commissioner or other official representative of the country or colony to which the applicant belongs, but in the event of no such representative existing, intending exhibitors can communicate direct as above. No applications for space will be received later than the 1st January 1887. The form (A) of application is appended hereto.

2. All space exceeding twenty square feet will be charged for at the rate of one shilling per square foot for floor space, and sixpence per foot for wall space, excepting approved sculpture and paintings, which will be admitted free. Special arrangements may be made by the Executive Committee for the charge for space for machinery, agricultural implements, and other bulky goods. No transfer of space will be permitted, and no refund of money will be made to exhibitors withdrawing from the Exhibition and not occupying the space allotted them.

3. Governments intending to take part in this Exhibition are requested to forward to the Secretary of the London Committee an intimation to that effect not later than the 1st October 1886.

4. The Exhibition buildings will be constituted a Bonded Store, but exhibits sold will be subject to duty.

5. Articles manufactured in the Exhibition buildings may be sold and removed with the consent of the Executive Commissioner. Other exhibits may be sold during the Exhibition, but may not be removed until its close.

6. An Act of the South Australian Legislature protects inventors, provided that application for a patent is lodged within six months of first exhibition.

7. The Commission may refuse entry to articles they consider of a dangerous or offensive character.

8. Articles intended for exhibition will be received on or after the first day of March 1887, and not later than the twentieth day of May 1887.

9. Space allotted to countries and colonies, and not occupied by the twentieth day of May 1887, will revert to the Commission for re-assignment.

10. The utmost precautions will be taken to preserve exhibits from injury and to protect the buildings. No responsibility can be undertaken, either by the Royal Commissioners or by any other body or person, for damage or loss, whether arising from fire, accident, or depredation, either in the buildings of the Jubilee Exhibition, or while being conveyed to or from. Exhibitors will have to make their own arrangements for effecting insurances, or they can be effected by the Secretary at their charge and risk.

11. Subject to the approval of the Executive Commissioner, exhibitors may appoint their own watchmen during the hours the Exhibition is open to the public.

12. Arrangements will be made for the supply of steam power by the Executive Committee, at the expense of the exhibitors; but exhibitors must make application for the power required, and will be charged in proportion for the power used. Exhibitors of machinery in motion will only be allowed to work at such hours as may be sanctioned by the Executive Commissioner.

13. If exhibits are not intended for competition, such fact should be distinctly stated when making the entry.

14. Exhibitors will be required to furnish and decorate their own courts or lesser constructions at their own cost, in conformity with the general plans adopted by the Executive Committee.

15. Special constructions may be made by exhibitors, in the building or on the grounds, after receiving the approval, in writing, of the Executive Commissioner.

16. Exhibitors or their agents shall be responsible for the receiving, unpacking, and arrangement of objects, as well as for their removal at the close of the Exhibition.

17. The transportation, unpacking, and the arrangement of the exhibits will be at the expense of the exhibitor.

18. Commissioners representing countries or colonies and private exhibitors may adopt one of two courses, namely,—

(a) They may ship their exhibits to Adelaide, and make their own arrangements for their reception and exhibition ; or,

(b) If consigned to the Exhibition, they should be addressed as follows :—

To the Commissioner for [here specify country or colony],
Jubilee International Exhibition,
Adelaide,
South Australia ;

and, if from other countries or colonies, should have two labels bearing the flag of the country or colony to which the exhibitor belongs.

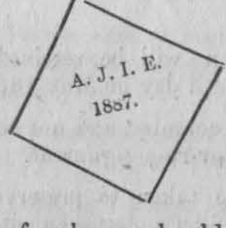

In cases where no representative has been appointed, the address will be as follows:—

To the Executive Commissioner,
Jubilee International Exhibition,
Adelaide,
South Australia.

Two labels must also be affixed to different but not opposite sides of the package, giving the following information :—

I. The country from which it comes.
II. Name or firm of exhibitor.
III. Residence of exhibitor.
IV. Department, section, and class to which the exhibit belongs.
V. Total number of packages sent by same exhibitor.
VI. Serial number of that particular package.

Each package must have prominently painted on it outside the distinctive mark—and a detailed list of the contents of each case should be enclosed therein.

19. If no authorized person be at hand to receive goods sent to the Exhibition, they will be removed and stored by the Executive Commissioner, at the cost and risk of the exhibitor.

20. Immediately after the close of the exhibition, exhibitors must remove their exhibits, and complete such removal within one month from the close of the Exhibition, unless further time be allowed by the Executive Committee.

21. Goods not removed in accordance with Regulation No. 20 may be removed by the Executive Committee and sold to defray expenses, or be otherwise disposed of as they may think fit.

22. An official catalogue (the sale of which is reserved by the Executive Committee) will be published in English ; no other catalogue published in the English language can be sold in the building.

23. No work of art or any article whatever exhibited in the buildings or on the ground of the Exhibition may be drawn, copied, or reproduced in any manner whatever without the joint consent of the exhibitor and the Executive Commissioner.

24. The Executive Committee reserves the right to explain, amend, or extend these regulations whenever it may be deemed necessary in the interests of the Exhibition.

25. Communications concerning the Exhibition from any part of Europe or the United States should be addressed—

To the Secretary to the London Commission,
Adelaide Jubilee International Exhibition,
Office of the Agent-General for South Australia,
8, Victoria Chambers, Westminster,
London.

26. No exhibitor will be permitted to display exhibits in such a manner as to obstruct the light or impede the view along the open spaces, or to occasion inconvenience or injury to or otherwise affect the display of other exhibitors.

27. With respect to live stock (classes 648 to 659), should it be determined to accept such exhibits, full programmes and further regulations will be published hereafter.

28. The right is reserved of keeping the Exhibition open during the evenings, should the Executive Committee deem it desirable.

29. Each person who becomes an exhibitor thereby acknowledges and undertakes to keep the rules and regulations established for the government of the Exhibition.

The Executive Commissioner reserves to himself the right of accepting or rejecting this application; but in the event of its rejection, any payment made in respect thereof will be refunded.

REGULATIONS.

MATRICULATION.

[Candidates for any Degree in this University must have passed the MATRICULATION EXAMINATION. No exemption from this rule is allowed on account of Degrees obtained or Examinations passed at any other University.

[This Examination is accepted (a) by the College of Surgeons, (b) by the Incorporated Law Society, in lieu of their Preliminary Examinations. It also exempts candidates for admission to the Royal Military College from the Preliminary Test, except in Geometrical Drawing. And it is among those Examinations of which some one must be passed (1) by every Medical Student on commencing his professional studies; and (2) by every person entering upon Articles of Clerkship to a Solicitor,—any such person who may have Matriculated in the Honours or in the first division being entitled to exemption from one year's service.

[This and all other Examinations of the University, together with the Prizes, Exhibitions, Scholarships, and Medals depending upon them, are open to Women upon exactly the same conditions as to Men.]

THERE shall be two Examinations for MATRICULATION in each year; one commencing on the second Monday in January, and the other on the third Monday in June. (a)

No candidate shall be admitted to the MATRICULATION EXAMINATION unless he have produced a Certificate showing that he has completed his sixteenth year. (b) This Certificate shall be transmitted to the Registrar at least one calendar month before the commencement of the Examination.

A fee of two pounds shall be paid at Matriculation. No candidate shall be admitted to the Examination unless he have previously paid this fee to the Registrar. (c) If, after payment of his fee, a candidate withdraws his name, or fails to present himself at the Examination, or fails to pass it, the fee shall not be returned to him, but he shall be allowed to enter for any subsequent MATRICULATION EXAMINATION upon payment, at every such entry, of an additional fee of one pound, provided that he give notice to the Registrar at least one calendar month before the commencement of the Examination.

The Examination shall be conducted by means of printed papers; but the Examiners shall not be precluded from putting, for the purpose of ascertaining the competence of the candidates to pass, vivâ voce questions to any candidate in the subjects in which they are appointed to examine.

Candidates shall not be approved by the Examiners unless they have shown competent knowledge in each of the following subjects, according to the details specified under the several heads:—

1. Latin;
2. Any two (d) of the following languages;—(1) Greek, (2) French, (3) German, and (4) either Sanskrit or Arabic (e);
3. The English Language, English History, and Modern Geography;
4. Mathematics;
5. Natural Philosphy;
6. Chemistry.

The following are the particulars of the foregoing subjects of Examination:—

(a) These Examinations may be held not only at the University of London, but also under special arrangement (See Appendix I), in other parts of the United Kingdom, or in the Colonies.

(b) A Certificate from the Registrar General in London or from the Superintendent Registrar of the District, or a certified copy of the Baptismal Register, is required in every case in which it can possibly be obtained. In other cases a Declaration of the Candidate's age and that he is unable to procure his certificate of Birth or Baptism, made before a Magistrate by his parent or guardian, or by himself if of full age, will be accepted.—Every such document will be returned to the candidate on or before Registration (see Note (c).)

(c) Fees must be paid when candidates inscribe their names on the Register of the University, and should not be sent in advance Information respecting the time and place of Registration will be sent to Candidates with the acknowledgment of their Certificates of Age or their Notices.

(d) No credit will be given for more than two of these Languages.

(e) Candidates desiring to be examined in either Sanskrit or Arabic must give at least two calendar months' notice to the Registrar, and must mention the other optional Language which they select.

APPENDIX.

I.

PROVINCIAL EXAMINATIONS.

THESE Examinations are appointed by the Senate from time to time, upon the application of any City, Institution, or College desiring to be named as a local centre for one or more Examinations; and are carried on simultaneously with the Examinations in London, under the supervision of Sub-Examiners also appointed by the Senate.

Candidates wishing to be examined at any Provincial centre must give notice of entry (naming the centre they select, and inclosing their certificates) to the Registrar of the University of London, who will make all necessary arrangements.

A Fee usually varying from £1 to £2 is charged by the local authorities in addition to the University Fee.

Both fees are payable on Registration, which takes place at the Provincial centres at a time of which due notice will be sent to Candidates.

The Answers of the Candidates at the Provincial Examinations are reviewed by the Examiners at the same time with the Answers of the Candidates examined in London; and a List of the Candidates who have passed at each Provincial Examination is published, at the time fixed by the Regulations, at the place where such Examination has been held.

---

* The places of Candidates in the Honours Division are determined by their respective degrees of proficiency in the subjects of the Examination taken collectively.

† Certificates are generally ready for issue about a month after the publication of the Classified Pass-List of each Examination, and, in the absence of any request to the contrary, they will be posted to the addresses given by the Candidates on their Schedules of Entry.

‡ By the term "Academical Year" is ordinarily meant the period intervening between any Examination and an Examination of a higher grade in the following year; which period may be either more or less than a Calendar year. Thus the interval between the Intermediate Examinations in Arts, Science, and Medicine, and the Degree Examinations of the next year in those Faculties respectively, is about sixteen months; whilst the interval between the B.A. Examination and the M.A. Examination of the next year, or between the B.Sc. Examination and the D.Sc. Examination of the next year, is less than eight months. Nevertheless, each of these intervals is counted as an "Academical Year."

INSTRUCTIONS TO CANDIDATES FOR MATRICULATION.

All applications for admission to the Examination must be made by letter only. No special form of application is necessary. Care must be taken to give a correct postal address, and the Candidate's name must be written in full.

Every application, if made for the first time, must be supported by the requisite document giving proof of age. No Candidate, whatever his age, is admitted to the Examination on his first application without the production of such a document.

Candidates who have previously presented themselves at the Examination must state that fact upon again applying for admission, but need not produce their Certificates of Age a second time.

[Note.—The Gilchrist and other Scholarships announced in this Appendix are awarded by the respective Educational Bodies upon the result of the University Examinations; but the University has otherwise no control over, and is not responsible for, such award.]

Application should not be made earlier than eight weeks, and must not be made later than a month, before the commencement of the Examination.

The age of a Candidate with regard to entry is reckoned up to and inclusive of the first day of the several Examinations, that day being computed to fall as late as the Regulations will possibly allow. The two dates, in the case of the Matriculation Examinations, are January 14th and June 21st. Only those Candidates therefore who shall have completed their sixteenth year on or before either of those dates will be admissible to the January or the June Examination, as the case may be; and not those who shall complete such age after those dates.

Fees must be paid on Registration, and not before.

The full marks obtainable at the Matriculation Examination are 2,800. Of these 2,000 qualify for a Prize, 1,800 for Honours, and 1,400 for the First Division. There is no regulation fixing the number of marks required for a pass. No further details as to the marking at this or other Examinations can be furnished.

The Alphabetical Pass List is sent, when ready, to every College or School from which any Candidate (whether successful or not) has immediately proceeded to the Matriculation Examination.

The Classified List is sent, when ready, to every College or School from which a successful Candidate has immediately proceeded. It is also widely circulated among the leading newspapers of the United Kingdom.

Lists cannot be supplied to individual Candidates or their friends.

The Examination Papers of past Examinations are not published separately; but the Papers of the previous academical year are printed in the University Calendar of the current year; which is issued annually at the beginning of April, and is to be obtained (price 4*s.*) of the publishers, Messrs Taylor and Francis, Red Lion Court, Fleet Street, E.C.

[First publication.]

The 3rd December 1886.

No. 1186.—Notification.—The following revised rules framed under the provisions of section 14 (1) clause (a) of the Punjab Courts Act, 1884, to regulate the preparation of a transcript record in appeals admitted to a Division Bench of the Chief Court of the Punjab, where the amount or value of the subject-matter of the suit is Rs. 5,000 or upwards, have been sanctioned by the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor, and are published for general information in supersession of the rules published in Notification No. 818, dated the 28th October 1885 :—

AMENDED DRAFT RULES.

1. Whenever, after the date when these rules come into force, an appeal from a decree is admitted to hearing before a Bench, with notice to respondent, and the amount or value of the subject-matter of the suit is Rs. 5,000 or upwards, the Deputy Registrar shall apply to the Court for an order whether the usual paper-book shall be prepared, or a printed English record, under these rules.

2. If the Court orders the preparation of a printed English record, the Registrar shall, as soon as may be, give the appellant notice in writing and require him to deposit within fourteen days such sum on account of the expenses of preparing the record in the manner hereinafter prescribed as may, under the circumstances of the case, appear reasonable and probable with regard to the rates prescribed in the schedule hereunto annexed :

Provided that upon the application of the appellant, if made within nine days from the receipt of such notice and accompanied by a fee of Rs. 16, an estimate of the amount required to defray the expense of translating, transcribing, indexing and printing the copy of the record of the suit shall be prepared under the orders of the Registrar within fourteen days of such application and delivered to the appellant. The amount so estimated shall be deposited within fourteen days of the delivery of the estimate.

3. Upon the required deposit being made, a detailed list of documents in the form prescribed in Rule 4, shall be prepared under the orders of the Registrar within fourteen days from the date of the deposit. In cases of doubt the Registrar shall determine what particular portion of the record constitutes a separate document.

4. The list shall enumerate consecutively all the documents in the record, except those in File B, and shall consist of two parts, with a column for showing, as to each document, whether it is to be transcribed or omitted. Part I. shall comprise every document of any of the descriptions mentioned in the Schedule B hereunto annexed, and every such document shall be entered as to be transcribed. Part II. shall comprise all the remaining documents in File A, and every such document shall be entered as to be omitted.

5. A copy of the list shall be forwarded to the appellant and to the respondent, with a notice in writing calling attention to these Rules, and intimating that the arguments at the hearing of the appeal will be restricted to the documents comprised in the printed record.

6. It shall be competent to either party, within fourteen days of receipt of the copy above mentioned, to indicate, either on the copy supplied, or otherwise in writing (such copy or writing to be delivered to the Registrar)—

(a) any document in Part I. of the list which he desires to be omitted ; and

(b) any document in Part II. of the list, or in File B, which he desires to be transcribed.

7. If the parties concur as to the additional documents to be transcribed, their agreement shall be accepted; but no document in Part II. of the list, or in File B, shall by consent of parties be added, and no document in Part I. of the list shall be omitted, except by an order of the Court.

8. When any document, other than those described in Schedule B, is added at the request of one party only to the documents to be transcribed, it shall be competent to the Court to direct that such party shall deposit within a specified time the amount required to defray the additional expenses to be incurred in consequence of such addition, and such expenses may by the final order on the appeal be excluded from costs of the appeal.

9. If the deposit required under Rule 2, or Rule 8, prove insufficient to cover the expenses at the rates prescribed in Schedule A, the Registrar may, by a notice in writing, require that such further deposit, as seems to him necessary, shall be made within the time specified in such notice.

10. All documents to be transcribed which are not originally in the English language and which have not already been translated for the use of the Lower Court or of the Chief Court shall be translated under the orders of the Registrar, and all such translations shall be revised and authenticated by the Head Translator, or such other person as the Registrar may appoint. When this has been completed, a transcript record will be prepared under the orders of the Registrar at the rates for the time being in force not exceeding those specified in Schedule A. hereunto annexed.

11. As soon as the transcript record is complete, it shall be reduced, subject to Rule 12, to chronological order (so far as is possible), and a complete chronological index of all the papers in File A of the record, and of the documents, if any, transcribed from File B, shall be prepared with a column showing which papers of File A have been omitted from the transcript record.

12. Either party may apply that the papers composing the transcript record shall be arranged in some other than chronological order. If both parties agree to the order proposed, the papers shall be so arranged, and if they do not agree the question shall be referred to the Court.

13. If the appellant fails to make within the time allowed the original or supplementary deposit required by Rule 2 or Rule 9, the matter shall be referred for the orders of the Court, with notice to the appellant, and the Court may postpone the hearing of the appeal sine die, or pass such other order as the Court deems proper. If either party fail to make within the time allowed the original or supplementary deposit ordered or required under Rule 8 or Rule 9, the matter shall be similarly referred with notice to the party concerned, and the Court may order that the document or documents in respect of which the default has been made shall be omitted from the transcript record, or may pass such other order as the Court deems proper.

14. The period fixed by these rules for the doing by a party of any act towards the preparation of the transcript record, may, on cause being shown, be enlarged by an order of Court, either before or after the period so fixed has expired. The period for the preparation of the transcript record in its various stages shall be fixed and may be enlarged from time to time by order of the Registrar.

15. Ten copies of the paper-book shall be printed in the cases provided for above, but in special cases the number of copies may be increased by order of a judge.

16. The appellant and respondent may each obtain a single copy of the printed paper-book free of charge, and additional copies, if available, may be purchased at 3 annas per page of printed matter.

17. On the cover of every paper-book in respect of which a fee has been levied shall be noted the amount levied and the party from whom levied, and such amount shall be included in the costs of the case, subject to the provisions of Rule 8, unless the Divisional Bench hearing the case shall otherwise direct.

18. When the printed record is complete, either party may obtain by order of the Registrar a statement of the expenses incurred on his account and a refund of the balance, if any, of the amount which he has deposited under these rules.

19. In case of doubt or dispute, the manner of applying these rules in any particular to several appellants or several respondents shall be determined by order of the Court.

20. The Registrar may in his discretion, and, if so required by either party by petition duly stamped, shall refer to the Court any matter not herein expressly required to be referred, and may also under orders of the Court depute any of the duties which devolve on him under these rules to the Deputy Registrar or other officer of the Court.

21. For all purposes of these rules, when an order of the Court is required, the order of one judge shall be sufficient, and such order subject for reconsideration shall be conclusive.

22. All costs incurred by either party under these rules will be liable to be dealt with as costs of the appeal in the final order of the Court upon the appeal.

23. The foregoing rules shall apply, so far as may be, to every appeal of the value specified in Rule 1 which is pending in the Chief Court when these rules come into force, whether it be a first appeal or not, subject to the following provisions, viz.:—

(a) that the date fixed for the hearing of the appeal when these rules come into force is not less than 6 months distant;

(b) that no postponement of the hearing is necessary in order to prepare the record in the manner prescribed in these rules;

(c) that no document already translated or printed at the date last mentioned shall be again translated or printed;

(d) that in case of second or further appeals the list made under Rule 3 of the documents in the record of the lower appellate court shall include in Part I the following documents in addition to any documents of the kinds described in Schedule B., viz.:—

(1). Grounds of appeal to the lower appellate court.

(2). Returns to orders of remands.

JUDICIAL.

The 3rd December 1886.

No. 1186.—Notification.—The following revised rules framed under the provisions of Section 14 (1), clause (a), of the Punjab Courts Act, 1884, to regulate the preparation of a transcript record in appeals admitted to a Division Bench of the Chief Court of the Punjab, where the amount or value of the subject-matter of the suit is Rs. 5,000 or upwards, have been sanctioned by the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor, and are published for general information in supersession of the rules published in Notification No. 818, dated the 28th October 1885 :—

AMENDED DRAFT RULES.

1. Whenever, after the date when these rules come into force, an appeal from a decree is admitted to hearing before a Bench, with notice to respondent, and the amount or value of the subject-matter of the suit is Rs. 5,000 or upwards, the Deputy Registrar shall apply to the Court for an order whether the usual paper-book shall be prepared, or a printed English record, under these rules.

2. If the Court orders the preparation of a printed English record, the Registrar shall, as soon as may be, give the appellant notice in writing and require him to deposit within fourteen days such sum on account of the expenses of preparing the record in the manner hereinafter prescribed as may, under the circumstances of the case, appear reasonable and probable with regard to the rates prescribed in the schedule hereunto annexed :

Provided that upon the application of the appellant, if made within nine days from the receipt of such notice and accompanied by a fee of Rs. 16, an estimate of the amount required to defray the expense of translating, transcribing, indexing and printing the copy of the record of the suit shall be prepared under the orders of the Registrar within fourteen days of such application and delivered to the appellant. The amount so estimated shall be deposited within fourteen days of the delivery of the estimate.

3. Upon the required deposit being made, a detailed list of documents in the form prescribed in Rule 4 shall be prepared under the orders of the Registrar within fourteen days from the date of the deposit. In cases of doubt the Registrar shall determine what particular portion of the record constitutes a separate document.

4. The list shall enumerate consecutively all the documents in the record except those in File B, and shall consist of two parts, with a column for showing, as to each document, whether it is to be transcribed or omitted. Part I. shall comprise every document of any of the descriptions mentioned in the Schedule B hereunto annexed, and every such document shall be entered as to be transcribed. Part II. shall comprise all the remaining documents in File A, and every such document shall be entered as to be omitted.

5. A copy of the list shall be forwarded to the appellant and to the respondent, with a notice in writing calling attention to these rules, and intimating that the arguments at the hearing of the appeal will be restricted to the documents comprised in the printed record.

6. It shall be competent to either party, within fourteen days of receipt of the copy above mentioned, to indicate, either on the copy supplied, or otherwise in writing (such copy or writing to be delivered to the Registrar)—

(a) any document in Part I. of the list which he desires to be omitted ; and

(b) any document in Part II. of the list, or in File B, which he desires to be transcribed.

7. If the parties concur as to the additional documents to be transcribed, their agreement shall be accepted; but no document in Part II. of the list, or in File B, shall by consent of parties be added, and no document in Part I. of the list shall be omitted, except by an order of the Court.

8. When any document other than those described in Schedule B is added at the request of one party only to the documents to be transcribed, it shall be competent to the Court to direct that such party shall deposit within a specified time the amount required to defray the additional expenses to be incurred in consequence of such addition, and such expenses may by the final order on the appeal be excluded from costs of the appeal.

9. If the deposit required under Rule 2 or Rule 8 prove insufficient to cover the expenses at the rates prescribed in Schedule A, the Registrar may, by a notice in writing, require that such further deposit, as seems to him necessary, shall be made within the time specified in such notice.

10. All documents to be transcribed which are not originally in the English language and which have not already been translated for the use of the Lower Court or of the Chief Court shall be translated under the orders of the Registrar, and all such translations shall be revised and authenticated by the Head Translator, or such other person as the Registrar may appoint. When this has been completed, a transcript record will be prepared under the orders of the Registrar at the rates for the time being in force not exceeding those specified in Schedule A hereunto annexed.

11. As soon as the transcript record is complete, it shall be reduced, subject to Rule 12, to chronological order (so far as is possible), and a complete chronological index of all the papers in File A of the record, and of the documents, if any, transcribed from File B, shall be prepared with a column showing which papers of File A have been omitted from the transcript record.

12. Either party may apply that the papers composing the transcript record shall be arranged in some other than chronological order. If both parties agree to the order proposed, the papers shall be so arranged, and if they do not agree the question shall be referred to the Court.

13. If the appellant fails to make within the time allowed the original or supplementary deposit required by Rule 2 or Rule 9, the matter shall be referred for the orders of the Court, with notice to the appellant, and the Court may postpone the hearing of the appeal sine die, or pass such other order as the Court deems proper. If either party fail to make within the time allowed the original or supplementary deposit ordered or required under Rule 8 or Rule 9, the matter shall be similarly referred with notice to the party concerned, and the Court may order that the document or documents in respect of which the default has been made shall be omitted from the transcript record, or may pass such other order as the Court deems proper.

14. The period fixed by these rules for the doing by a party of any act towards the preparation of the transcript record may, on cause being shown, be enlarged by an order of Court, either before or after the period so fixed has expired. The period for the preparation of the transcript record in its various stages shall be fixed and may be enlarged from time to time by order of the Registrar.

15. Ten copies of the paper-book shall be printed in the cases provided for above, but in special cases the number of copies may be increased by order of a Judge.

16. The appellant and respondent may each obtain a single copy of the printed paper-book free of charge, and additional copies, if available, may be purchased at 3 annas per page of printed matter.

17. On the cover of every paper-book in respect of which a fee has been levied shall be noted the amount levied and the party from whom levied, and such amount shall be included in the costs of the case, subject to the provisions of Rule 8, unless the Divisional Bench hearing the case shall otherwise direct.

18. When the printed record is complete, either party may obtain by order of the Registrar a statement of the expenses incurred on his account and a refund of the balance, if any, of the amount which he has deposited under these rules.

19. In case of doubt or dispute, the manner of applying these rules in any particular to several appellants or several respondents shall be determined by order of the Court.

20. The Registrar may in his discretion, and, if so required by either party by petition duly stamped, shall, refer to the Court any matter not herein expressly required to be referred, and may also under orders of the Court depute any of the duties which devolve on him under these rules to the Deputy Registrar or other officer of the Court.

21. For all purposes of these rules, when an order of the Court is required, the order of one Judge shall be sufficient, and such order subject for reconsideration shall be conclusive.

22. All costs incurred by either party under these rules will be liable to be dealt with as costs of the appeal in the final order of the Court upon the appeal.

23. The foregoing rules shall apply, so far as may be, to every appeal of the value specified in Rule 1 which is pending in the Chief Court when these rules come into force, whether it be a first appeal or not, subject to the following provisions, viz.—

(a) that the date fixed for the hearing of the appeal when these rules come into force is not less than 6 months distant;

(b) that no postponement of the hearing is necessary in order to prepare the record in the manner prescribed in these rules;

(c) that no document already translated or printed at the date last mentioned shall be again translated or printed;

(d) that in case of second or further appeals the list made under Rule 3 of the documents in the record of the lower appellate court shall include in Part I. the following documents in addition to any documents of the kinds described in Schedule B., viz.—

(1). Grounds of appeal to the lower appellate court.

(2). Returns to orders of remands.

SCHEDULE A.
